Quality Standards

Production and packaging of our products are thoroughly controlled through the official quality assurance system based on the requirements of ISO 9001. GMP's (Good manufacturing Procedures) based on the requirements of ISO 22716, are implemented at all stages of production process.

We have a fully equipped and manned in-house R&D laboratory and excellent know-how in developing solid and liquid soap formulations.

Papoutsanis pursues in quality investment throughout all stages of production and backs its commitment through strong and internationally accredited certifications.

Quality Standards

ISO 9001 is defined as the international standard that specifies requirements for a quality management system (QMS). Organizations use the standard to demonstrate the ability to consistently provide products and services that meet customer and regulatory requirements. It is the most popular standard in the ISO 9000 series and the only standard in the series to which organizations can certify. ISO 9001:2015 applies to any organization, regardless of size or industry. More than one million organizations from more than 160 countries have applied the ISO 9001 standard requirements to their quality management systems.

Organizations of all types and sizes find that using the ISO 9001 standard helps them:

- Organize processes
- Improve the efficiency of processes
- Continually improve

All organizations that use ISO 9001 are encouraged to transition to ISO 9001:2015 as soon as possible. This includes not only organizations that are certified to ISO 9001:2008, but also any organizations involved in training or certifying others. As of September 14, 2018 organizations that are currently registered to ISO 9001:2008 should have transitioned to the 2015 standard.

Quality Standards

ISO 22716:2007 is the international standard for the Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) for cosmetics.

ISO 22716 provides guidance to documenting and regulating the production, control, storage, and shipment of cosmetic products. The standard's guidelines will provide your organization with practical methods for managing the many factors that can affect product quality.

The European Union's Regulation (EC) No 1223/2000 requires cosmetic products to be manufactured according to Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP). GMPs create the practical development of quality assurance through the description of the activities that are based on sound scientific judgement and risk assessments. GMP guidelines were written to define the activities that enable you to obtain a product that meets defined characteristics. GMPs are critical to organisations looking to reduce the risk and liability of their products. Your organization can demonstrate compliance with GMP by implementing ISO 22716.

Benefits of ISO 22716 certification for your organization:

- Improves quality management systems
- Demonstrates commitment to the safety of cosmetic products
- Ensures your compliance to international guidelines

Intertek brings in-depth knowledge of the manufacturing processes and GMP codes to cosmetics manufacturers. Intertek's cosmetics testing services include clinical studies, safety assessments, quality control, in vitro testing, product claims verification, screening for restricted substances, and suppliers' audits. With our global network of auditors, we provide a full compliance solution for ISO 22716 including auditing and certification*, training, and e-learning tools.

By partnering with Intertek, you'll gain a knowledgeable business partner dedicated to helping you meet objectives, minimize risk, and optimize your supply chain. We can also combine a Cosmetics GMP audit with other standards such as ISO 9001 and ISO 14001, reducing interruptions and saving you valuable time and money.
