BHASKAR RAO BAKHLE

The Man, His Music & Mission

Bhaskarbuwa Bakhale was a rare genius, excelling in both music and dance, and creating a rich tradition in these fields. Born on October 17, 1869, in Baroda, he left a lasting impact. In 1969, exactly a hundred years later, Pracheen Kala Kendra named its festival after him – the "Bhaskar Rao Nritya and Sangeet Sammelan." This annual event has become one of the biggest classical music and dance festivals in India.

The fourth child in his family, BhaskarRao received his primary education in Baroda. Realizing that most classical music and dance texts were in Sanskrit, he learned the language to understand these important works. It was in Baroda that he met the renowned Dhrupad Guru Vishnu Pingle, who recognized his talent and took him as a disciple. Under Pingle's guidance, BhaskarRao made remarkable progress in Ragas, Talas, and Mridangam, even accompanying his Guru on various occasions. He performed at the birthday celebrations of Prince Fateh Singh of Baroda, impressing the royal family, who arranged for his further training at the Maulabux School of Music.

At 15, BhaskarRao joined the Kirloskar Natak Mandali, where he learned from Balkoba Natekar, a renowned Been and Sitar player. After Anna Sahib Kirloskar's death, he became the disciple of Bande Ali Khan. However, tragedy struck when he lost his voice just as recognition seemed within reach. With the Mandali no longer able to use his voice, BhaskarRao shifted to classical dance, which turned out to be a blessing. This new path helped him explore Laya and Tala more deeply.

Seeking more knowledge of classical music, he studied under Khayal singer Faiz Mohammed Khan. Despite his damaged voice, Khan helped him regain its richness, and BhaskarRao mastered Khayal gayaki through hard work and Khan's guidance. During this time, he met several great musicians, including Appara Kolhatkar, Ustad Haider Khan, Ustad Alladiya Khan, and Ustad Nathan Khan, learning about Karnatak music and Mysore and Dharwar compositions.

By now, BhaskarRao had become a celebrity in both South and North India, introduced by Pandit Vishnu Digambar Paluskar. His performance at the Harivallabh Sangeet Sammelan in Jalandhar marked another milestone. Paluskar hailed him as "Dev Gandharva," praising his incomparable brilliance in music.

BhaskarRao's greatest contribution to Indian classical music was developing a soulful style that stayed true to traditional principles. His efforts not only restored the prestige of classical music but also ensured its continued popularity. Many of today's classical music luminaries owe their success to the foundation BhaskarRao established, particularly in Northern India.

PRACHEEN KALA KENDRA

A Brief Profile

Pracheen Kala Kendra, headquartered in Chandigarh with regional offices in Mohali, Kolkata, Bhubaneswar, Patna, Jorhat, and New Delhi, is one of India's oldest and most prominent organizations dedicated to the promotion, preservation, and dissemination of Indian Classical Arts. Established in 1956, it offers quality education and training in Indian Classical Music, Dance (Kathak, Bharatnatyam, Odissi), and Fine Arts (Painting) under the Guru-Shishya Parampara. With about 3800 affiliated centers globally, including in the USA, UK, Canada, and more, it serves over 3 lakh students, making it one of the largest organizations of its kind.

The Kendra conducts examinations in Indian Classical Music (vocal and instrumental), Classical Dances, and Fine Arts, awarding certificates such as Prarambhik, Bhushan, Visharad, Bhaskar, and Churamani. These are recognized by various State Governments, Education Boards, and Universities for employment and higher education purposes. It also organizes cultural events, festivals, seminars, workshops, and painting exhibitions across India in collaboration with affiliated centers, as well as with government support.

Founded by late Sh. M.L. Koser and Kathak artist Dr. Smt. Shobha Koser, the Kendra started as a small initiative to promote arts education. Over time, it has grown into an internationally acclaimed institution, working towards becoming an Open University in the fields of Classical Music, Dance, and Fine Arts. The Kendra's examinations are recognized by several authorities, and it provides training through a syllabus crafted by renowned scholars and artists, in line with university standards.

The Pracheen Kala Kendra is deeply committed to promoting Indian classical arts through a variety of cultural activities and educational initiatives. It organizes numerous music and dance festivals, inviting both internationally acclaimed artists and young, emerging talents. These cultural events are held across the country, with the All India BhaskarRao Nritya & Sangeet Sammelan, which has been held for over 53 years, being a flagship event. The Kendra also hosts monthly baithaks, continuing for more than 25 years, and since 2013, has organized Quarterly Baithaks titled "Legends of Tomorrow" in New Delhi to support upcoming artists.

In addition to these, the Kendra has been organizing the annual M.L. Koser Festival of Music and Dance in New Delhi for the past 12 years. To honor eminent artists, it established the "Guru M.L. Koser Award" in 2005, presented annually to legendary artists who have made significant contributions to Indian classical music and dance. The Kendra also hosts seminars, symposiums, and workshops to foster education and research in classical and visual arts, bridging scholars, intellectuals, students, and artists. These events are held both at the Kendra's premises and across India, often in collaboration with government bodies.

Further, the Kendra provides regular training, hobby classes, and scholarships to talented but underprivileged students. It also supports its affiliated centers through medical aid and grants. For over 48 years, the Kendra has held convocation ceremonies for successful students from the Eastern region in Kolkata, with dignitaries, including Governors of West Bengal, presiding over the events. Convocations are also conducted in other states such as Odisha, Bihar, and Chandigarh, where students of Visharad and Bhaskar programs are awarded diplomas by distinguished personalities.

The Kendra operates a well-equipped library and audio-video archive, housing live performances of eminent maestros, benefiting students in their studies. It provides spacious classrooms, hostel facilities, and a guest house at Chandigarh and Mohali for both domestic and international students. The Kendra's infrastructure also includes fully equipped auditoriums at Chandigarh and Mohali, and an art gallery for exhibitions, competitions, and workshops.

As a recognized institution by the Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR), the Kendra offers education and certification in classical music and dance to foreign students under ICCR Scholarship Schemes. Recently, the Kendra has launched a new initiative called “Vidhivat Taleem” at its Mohali complex, following the “Guru Shishya Parampara.” This program, which began in October 2022, offers intensive classical arts training, with students from various countries participating through scholarships.

As a non-profit NGO, Pracheen Kala Kendra's mission is to universalize arts education, contributing to the eradication of poverty and creating employment opportunities through the production of talented artists in performing and visual arts. With its modest fees and numerous cultural events, it benefits middle and lower-middle-class students, fostering skill development in the arts.

In summary, Pracheen Kala Kendra has played a pivotal role globally in the promotion, preservation, and dissemination of Indian classical arts for over six decades, offering educational opportunities, cultural events, and support to artists, thereby attaining the status of a respected institution of national importance.

OBITUARY

The ways of destiny are mysterious, and life's fragility remains beyond our understanding. Yet, while mortal existence may come to an end, the legacy of those who have graced this world with their art and dedication endures forever. This year, we bid farewell to several towering figures in music, dance, and fine arts—visionaries whose brilliance illuminated our world and whose contributions will continue to inspire generations to come.

With profound sorrow yet immense admiration, Pracheen Kala Kendra pays homage to these legendary artists who have left for their heavenly abode in the past year. Their artistry was more than just a display of skill—it was an expression of their soul, a gift to the world that touched countless lives and shaped the cultural landscape. Though they are no longer with us, their spirit lives on through their timeless works, invaluable teachings, and the many disciples they nurtured. While their absence leaves an irreplaceable void, their influence will forever guide and inspire the artists and art lovers of the future. While this tribute may not encompass all, our heartfelt remembrance extends to each and every one.

We also extend our heartfelt homage to the esteemed centre holders and associates who were integral to Pracheen Kala Kendra's journey. Their unwavering dedication to promoting and preserving art will always be remembered with gratitude. Their support and commitment have left an indelible mark on the Kendra, and we remain forever obliged.

With profound grief, we also remember Mrs. S. Naik, our esteemed Additional Registrar, who was one of the strongest pillars of Pracheen Kala Kendra. She dedicated over four decades of unwavering service to the institution. As the overall in-charge of examinations, she played a pivotal role in upholding the credibility and smooth functioning of the Kendra's academic structure. Her meticulous approach, dedication, and vast experience made her an irreplaceable force, ensuring the highest standards in every aspect of the examination process. Deeply connected to every centre holder, she nurtured strong bonds of trust and respect across the Kendra's vast network, offering guidance and support with warmth and commitment. Her leadership, discipline, and devotion to the institution were unmatched, and her absence leaves an unfillable void. A mentor, a guide, and a beacon of strength, Mrs. Naik's legacy will continue to inspire us for years to come.

We also remember Pracheen Kala Kendra's Governing Body members who left us this year - Sh. N.S. Rattan (IAS Retd. & Vice Chairman), Sh. Chaman Lal Sharma (Executive Board), and Sh. T. C. Gupta (Executive Board). Their visionary leadership, selfless service, and invaluable contributions played an important role in shaping the Kendra's legacy. Their absence leaves a deep void, but their work and passion for the arts will continue to inspire and guide us.

May all the noble souls find eternal peace and solace in the divine embrace.

Om Shanti, Om Shanti, Om Shanti.
