ABOUT

The mission of the Davis Education Foundation is to remove barriers to learning, provide educational opportunities for all students and create partnerships that connect the community through giving.

Davis Education Foundation is the non-profit fundraising arm of Davis School District. Students and teachers are at the center of everything the Foundation does. Whether it's providing students in crisis with basic essentials and food, or distributing grants to enhance classroom experiences, the Foundation bridges the gap between District resources and needs. All of this is made possible because of generous partners and community members - THANK YOU.

Our gala theme each year is Lights, Camera, Take Action! On behalf of the Davis Education Foundation team and board of directors, we humbly thank you for taking action to help our students. We couldn't have asked for a better cast and crew. You are the real heroes in our story and I applaud you. It's more than a role you play, it's a genuine commitment to assist students and educators in this community. You step up in monumental ways to provide at-risk children with critical resources and essentials, while also supporting teachers in the classroom. Please know that your generosity truly impacts the lives of our students. This production couldn't go on without you. Thank you.

BOARD MESSAGES

The Foundation's mission is to remove barriers to learning so that students can succeed. We have been working hard on many fronts to help eliminate these barriers. With help from the community, the Foundation has built six teen resource centers for students experiencing homelessness and other crisis, as well as five full community food pantries. We also work to foster classroom excellence by providing classroom and school-wide grants, and through teacher appreciation, retention and development programs. It's truly an honor to serve thus far as the board president. It's humbling every day to see the needs of so many students and the generous outreach of so many people and organizations. Still, there is so much more to be done! We all dream of a brighter future for our children. Please help make these dreams come true by investing in our children's education to make that future the brightest it can be.

Brian Slagle
Foundation Board President, Lifetime Products

The mission of the Davis Education Foundation is critical to our success as a school district. The Foundation works in those spaces that are difficult for school districts to navigate and they fill in the gaps so our students don't fall through the cracks.
Dr. Daniel Linford | Davis School District Superintendent

The teen centers are so important to this vulnerable group of young people. It's so critical to remember that there are students who have a hard time just trying to be at school. I love the idea of making their lives a bit easier.

Jeanne Jackson | VCBO Architecture

I have personally watched the sparkle in children's eyes as they have selected a new pair of shoes and clothing at Child Spree events. These children have bright futures, and with support from community members, they will achieve their dreams.

Diana Windley | Goldenwest Credit Union

It would be my greatest wish that others would join in our cause and mentor our young people to help them reach their full potential.

Keri Masson | Moreton & Company

It takes us all working together to help support our children to make sure basic needs are met and to ensure advanced opportunities for learning are available.

Angie Osguthorpe | Davis Chamber of Commerce President

As I go through my day-to-day, I forget about the problems others have and focus on my own. Events like Child Spree help me to realize there are so many needs greater than my own, and I can do so much more to alleviate those needs and lose myself helping someone else.

Oliver Young | Young Automotive Group

Chevron is proud to partner with Davis Education Foundation. Every student deserves to learn, to move through life with dignity and to see their own potential no matter their circumstances. When we lift one, we all rise.

Aarika Von | Chevron

These students are our future. My hope is that we can help each one of them have the necessary tools to be successful and change the world for good.

Jason Smith | Lindquist Mortuaries & Cemeteries

MOVING BARRIERS TO LEARNING

---

Students in Davis School District face a variety of challenges that create barriers to their learning. Food insecurity, housing instability, lack of basic essentials -- these are just a few of the obstacles that students face. Davis Education Foundation strives to eliminate these barriers so that every student has a chance to succeed.

1,621 Students Experience Homelessness
in Davis School District

1 in 6 Students Face Food Insecurity

TEEN RESOURCE CENTERS

A Safe-Haven
For Students
In Need

There are more than 1,621 children who experience homelessness in Davis County, 300 of whom are high school students. These children often experience inadequate and unstable living conditions such as couch surfing or living in cars, abandoned buildings or storage units. Many are on their own, with school acting as the only place they can get food and safety from the elements.

Students experiencing homelessness are:

30% less 2x more
likely to graduate      likely to be absent
than their peers.      from school.

In an effort to keep these students in school and equip them with lifelong skills that prevent chronic homelessness, Davis Education Foundation is constructing centers that address their basic needs. Built inside Davis School District high schools, teen centers provide students in need with a safe place to shower, launder clothing, make a hot meal, access a quiet study area and connect to vital education and community resources.

If services, advocates and resources are available, lives can be changed and futures made possible for the most vulnerable population of students.

Teen Residential Center

COMING SOON

The Teen Residential Center will be a supportive and supervised environment that offers food, shelter, clothing and emotional and mental resources to teens. It will offer temporary housing to displaced students in crisis.

Goal

The goal of the Teen Residential Center is to keep students in school while equipping them with life-long skills as they transition to adulthood. This is an upstream effort to prevent intergenerational poverty and chronic cycles of homelessness. The philosophy of the center is one of opportunity with accountability through self-empowerment.

FAST FACTS

- The center will be operated by a third-party nonprofit organization with Davis School District, Layton City and Davis County acting as coordinating partners in accessing key community resources.
- Funding for the construction and operations of the center will come from public/private partnership, individual and corporate donors and grant funding.
- Secondary students who want to access the center must complete a referral process and meet certain requirements for placement and continued eligibility.
- Students can access various services such as school district student services, Davis County social services, post-secondary and employment preparation, life skills training, basic necessities and student mentors and advocates.

Miller & Huntsman $1 Million Donation

In 2021, the Larry H. & Gail Miller Family Foundation and the Huntsman Foundation made a joint donation of $1 million to help construct five of the teen resource centers in Davis School District. Their generosity provided the momentum needed to quickly expand critical resources to more at-risk students in Davis. The involvement of both the Miller Family Foundation and the Huntsman Foundation also helped push this work to the state level, creating a crucial public/private partnership. Thanks to their support and Representative Steve Eliason, lawmakers approved $3.5 million in funding for teen resource centers in Utah during the 2022 legislative session.

$1,000,000
Donated for Teen Resource Center Construction

- David Huntsman
Huntsman Foundation,

"From the moment I walked through the Clearfield High School Teen Center, I knew it was important for us to be involved in this great work. With investments like the high school teen centers, these students will go on to achieve their dreams, find success and elevate their world and ours by using their perspectives, experiences, leadership and education."

First Generation
High School Graduates

"Every year we hear stories of hardship and triumph as these students strive to break barriers of homelessness and poverty. One such story this year was of a student who was not on track for graduation and had a lot of credit to make up. We paired him with one of our success coaches and teen center coordinators and with their help was able to get him to graduation. He disclosed that he would be a first generation high school graduate! His family was so proud of him that they decided to save all they could for a cap and gown so that they could celebrate his major accomplishment. Once the family was told that his cap and gown was covered by our program they switched their plan and were able to throw him a graduation party with the money. Every year we come across talented, amazing, hard working students that need a little cheering on and guidance to help them get to graduation."

Unified Sports is an inclusive high school sports program facilitated by Special Olympics Utah. The program combines a proportionate number of Special Olympics Utah athletes (individuals with intellectual disabilities) and partners (individuals without intellectual disabilities) on teams for training and competition. Teammates are similar in age and ability to foster meaningful involvement in the game and build friendships that extend beyond the game.

The Foundation partnered with Utah First Lady Abby Cox and her "Show Up" initiative to bring Unified Sports to Davis School District on a larger scale. Davis was the first district in the state to do so, starting in 2021.

CASH FOR CLASSROOMS

Each year teachers can apply for project-based funding through the Cash for Classrooms Grant Program. Our educators truly care about the well-being and progress of their students. With grant assistance, teachers' creativity and effectiveness can shine through without having to pay out of their own pockets.

$125,015 Dispersed To Classrooms

420 Grants Funded

"This grant was such a fantastic experience for my art students! We learned about Romero Britto and practiced patterns. We then spent a week outside where each kid got to fill in a section of the mural with the pattern and colors they chose the week before."

-Ms. Day
Vae View Elementary

Ms. Day used her allotted grant money to purchase paint and supplies for her art students to create an outdoor mural.

Lincoln Elementary was able to purchase 34 new books for their library through Cash for Classrooms.

"Our students are excited to read these new books. Our library's circulation statistics increased by 30 percent.

Thank you!"

-Ms. Lawhead

The S.E.M. advanced class at West Bountiful Elementary used the grant to buy materials for taking apart laptops, building bridges, creating roller coasters, and online materials for in-depth writing.

"This money has allowed me to access materials for lessons that have stretched my student's abilities!

-Ms. Sandberg

Holbrook Elementary added a whole new sport to its P.E. curriculum - pickleball!

"My students were so excited to find out they were going to play pickleball during P.E. Thank you so much for helping us buy the equipment!"

-Ms. McPheters

INNOVATIVE GRANTS

As a way to encourage innovative and creative instructional programs, schools and departments in the district can apply for specific project-based funding up to $5,000. Innovative Grants play a vital role in elevating academic experiences for students while preparing them to compete in a global economy.

$69,063 Awarded By The Foundation

$138,126 Distributed In Total Thanks To Matchings Funds From Schools And The Community

The ornithology program at Farmington High used an innovative grant, along with matching community funds, to set up an aviary for its birds. This school aviary is one of the first of its kind in the country. Its four exhibits house birds such as Fischer Lovebirds, Graskeets, and South American Macaws. Every bird in the aviary is a rescue.

"We like having animals in the classroom. It gives us the best teaching opportunity to have students see them up close and personal."

- Adam Blundell
FHS Science Chair

Meadowbrook Elementary doubled their number of Vex Robotics teams, allowing more students to compete. The school also created an after-school program for students in younger grades to help them prepare to be on robotics teams later on. Additionally, Meadowbrook purchased new robots for all grades to use in computer technology class.

The orchestra program at Legacy Jr. High only had four violins and no small violas for students to rent. The school used an innovative grant to purchase high quality Eastman String instruments so that more students have an opportunity to continue on to higher levels in their orchestra studies, without having to own or purchase their own instrument.

The Catalyst Center Outdoor Concert provided the opportunity for audio and video students to run a live concert with a professional band. Students were able to work with industry professionals and set up the stage, sound equipment and emcee the concert. Students gained valuable professional connections, demonstrated their skill sets, and experienced unparalleled personal growth.

COMMUNITY PARTNERS

WILDCAT WISH WEEK

$100,000 Donated by Derrick & Becky Porter

Woods Cross students participated in their first Wildcat Wish Week, where they raised money for their new teen center. Generous community members, Derrick and Becky Porter, offered to match the students' donation efforts if the kids could raise $50,000.

As the end of the week approached, students had raised $25,000, but still needed an additional $25,000 to receive the match from the Porters. While student government officers were going door-to-door asking people to contribute, one anonymous community member offered to donate the remaining $25,000 to the cause. Thanks to that man, and everyone else who gave, the students hit their $50,000 donation mark.

It gets even better. The Porter's presented their $50,000 match during a Woods Cross talent show assembly. However, they surprised the student body with an additional $50,000 donation to their teen center! This took the Porter's donation to $100,000, making the total amount raised during Wildcat Wish Week $150,000. The donation was given in honor of Derrick's sister, Stefanie Porter Heslop, who passed away unexpectedly the year prior. Stefanie was a Woods Cross High alumni. A special thank you to the Porter's for their kindness and generosity during such a difficult time for their family.
