

2023-2024 ANNUAL REPORT

A year of unity and Resilience

A MESSAGE FROM OUR LEADERSHIP

Dear Hillel at Stanford friends and family,

Since 2021, Hillel at Stanford has been guided by a strategic plan that begins:

“To successfully navigate the 21st century, the Jewish people need the strength, wisdom, resourcefulness, and creativity of every individual who wants to participate in this next iteration of our 4,000-year-old experiment. At our Hillel, each person matters, and every person who says “we are connected” belongs. Our Jewish home will be a place of menschlekeit (kindness) and joy, a refuge when necessary, and always a beacon of learning. Like our host university, we are rooted in a deep tradition but oriented towards the future. We value exploration and experimentation – forging new and unexpected connections between people, practices, and ideas. We are committed to a culture of co-creation between staff and students to build a campus Jewish community that feels exciting and relevant to each of us. We believe that if we are able to nurture our students to find their own meaning in the aspects of Jewish civilization that speak to each of them, incredible opportunities and innovations will occur for all of us.”

Our board, staff, and student leadership wrote these words in a world dominated by the Covid-19 pandemic. We did not know what the next few years might look like, but we knew who we were and that we wanted to face whatever might come with courage, kindness, and faith in two core ideas: we are part of an ancient project with a bright future and in the infinite value of our each of our students.

These values guided us through the incredible challenges of the 2023-24 academic year. Grappling with October 7 and its fallout on our campus and around the world, supporting our Israeli students navigating trauma, addressing misinformation and disinformation about Israel, Jews, and Hillel, dealing with increasing antisemitism and feelings of isolation on our campus, and the surge of interest, support, and critique about campus Jewish life — none of these were on our bingo card for last year, but they became the substance of our days.

“It is not your responsibility to finish the work, but neither are you free to desist from it.” Pirkei Avot, 2:16

These challenges shook all of us, but also reminded us that what we do matters. Vibrant Jewish life on campus, and the ability of all Jewish students, faculty, and staff to participate fully at Stanford as part of a diverse campus community, is essential not just to our individual thriving, but to Stanford University's ability to fulfill its own mission and live up to its values.

Standing on the cusp of a new year, with a team of new and vibrant staff and students at Hillel at Stanford, we again can't know all that it will hold for us. But we face the future with cheerful resolution to ensure Jewish students and Jewish life at Stanford continue to thrive, come what may. We are able to do this because you've added your strength to ours, and for this we are truly grateful.

With prayers for the safe return of our hostages, a return to safety and normalcy for all civilians, and peace in all the places we call home.

L'shalom,

Rabbi Jessica Kirschner

A message from our Board of Directors

This year at Hillel at Stanford was marked by resilience and unity in the face of significant challenges. Despite hardships, we take immense pride in how Jewish students have come together, demonstrating honor and bravery amid adversity. Their perseverance is a testament to the enduring spirit of our community.

Looking ahead, Hillel's commitment to providing a strong Jewish community filled with joyous celebrations and meaningful connections remains steadfast.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to the Board's leadership, Hillel's dedicated staff, our volunteers, incredible Jewish students, and you. Your unwavering support and tireless efforts have guided us this year.

Adi Bittan

Board Chair

STUDENT

“Hillel's support has been instrumental in the unification of the Jewish community at Stanford. It's been a difficult year for all of us to navigate, and it was nice to know Hillel was always here to help.”

Joby, MBA '24 Jewish Business Student Association co-president

“Hillel is truly the best place on campus and the best thing about the Stanford community. Hillel has been an amazing source of support throughout my PhD, and notably in this past very difficult year. Hillel at Stanford and the Grad@Hillel program brings people together.”

Emily, PhD Candidate '24

“Through its communal celebrations, mentorship, advice and providing a place for Jewish students to proudly and safely be themselves, Hillel has served a vital role on campus and ensured that there will always be a home for Jewish students at Stanford.”

Martin, Stanford Law '25

VOICES

“In many ways, leading an Alternative Spring Break trip with Hillel and planning a follow up Shabbat dinner helped me affirm my Persian-Jewish identity, and I'm so glad that Hillel supported my mission in diversifying the Stanford community's understanding of Jewish people.”

Ryan, '25

“For the three of us, the Jewish experience has formed the core of our time at Stanford. Building a strong community and culture can feel like a fundamentally amorphous task. When you create the conditions for people to spend time together as a community, deep connections form almost immediately.”

Benji, '27, Stella, '25, and Sophia, '27

“Being a part of the Jewish Learning Fellowship, as well as the Hillel community at large, allowed us to immediately feel a sense of familiarity and comfort after days that often felt overwhelming. Ultimately, JLF brought us a sense of community, Jewish learning, and support — a key stabilizer in a year that often felt chaotic.”

Alex, '27 and Elan, '27

WELCOME TO OUR NEW TEAM MEMBERS

Rabbi Avram Ellner

Rabbi and Director of Jewish Learning

After graduating from the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies in May, I am thrilled to be joining the Hillel at Stanford team as Rabbi and Director of Jewish Learning. I was deeply impacted by my experiences at Tufts Hillel, and I strive to be a rabbi who empowers students to cultivate authentic relationships with their Judaism while supporting the blossoming of Hillel at Stanford's vibrant, diverse Jewish community. I am excited to forge long-lasting relationships with students and to curate experiences that inspire students to immerse themselves in Jewish tradition.

Rabbi Eli Weinbach

Rabbi and Director of Student Well-Being

I will be joining Hillel at Stanford after graduating from Modern Orthodox Yeshivat Chovevei Torah. When I decided to become a rabbi, I brought with me a deep commitment to pluralism, a love of Jewish text, and an unshakable belief that people who care can fundamentally change the world.

I'm excited to continue building Jewish pride and cultivating wonder with one of the most important populations there is: bright-souled students who are about to go out into the world and leave their indelible mark on it. I hope to provide pastoral guidance to students who need support in seeing their own light.

Juliana Goldfarb

Innovation Springboard Fellow

As a recent graduate from UC Berkeley, I have firsthand experience with the struggles of being Jewish on campus during the 2023/2024 academic year. Torn between my culture, community, religion, and the often misinformed beliefs of those around me, my campus Hillel was a crucial support system. I am excited to work as a full-time Hillel professional, giving back to the community that has meant so much to me and continuing my own Jewish journey as a young adult.

Gil Werta

Israel Fellow

Before coming to Hillel, I served as Program Coordinator for Onward Israel, meeting Jewish college students from all over the country when they came to Israel for a two-month summer internship. As an Israeli with a B.A. in politics from Tel Aviv University and experience working with American college students, I am excited to help even more students connect with their Jewish Identity and Israel!

Tamar Darom Bendror

Graduate Student Life Associate

I grew up in Northern Israel and moved to the Bay Area as a teenager. I graduated from UCLA with a bachelor's degree in Psychology and a minor in Film, Television, and Digital Media. I love spending time with my family, friends, and two dogs. In my free time, I enjoys reading, creative writing, watching movies, painting, and hiking. I am excited to support the student community at Stanford, and look forward to getting to know everyone!

HILLEL AT STANFORD

2023-2024 HONOR ROLL

The students and staff of Hillel at Stanford wish to thank all those who have pledged their support to our Jewish community. These gifts make our mission's work possible.

You can ensure the vibrancy of Jewish life at Stanford for years to come through a bequest, an IRA gift, by including us as an insurance beneficiary, or with a charitable annuity.

Commitment to such a gift benefitting Hillel at Stanford also includes membership in Hillel International's 1923 Society, which honors all donors making legacy commitments to affiliates of the Hillel movement. For more information contact Amit Metzl Raz, Director of Development.
