ARE YOU STAYING ON BUDGET?

01 Hunny Check Your Total

Start with a spending cap—how much can you actually spend? Pooh says, don't let the honey overflow!

02 Bear Necessities First

Prioritize the essentials: venue, food, and entertainment. Make sure your honey pot isn't empty before the fun stuff!

03 DIY or Buy?

Decide where you can DIY decorations or favors to save costs, just like Pooh would make his own honey (or would he?)

04 Piglet-Sized Portions

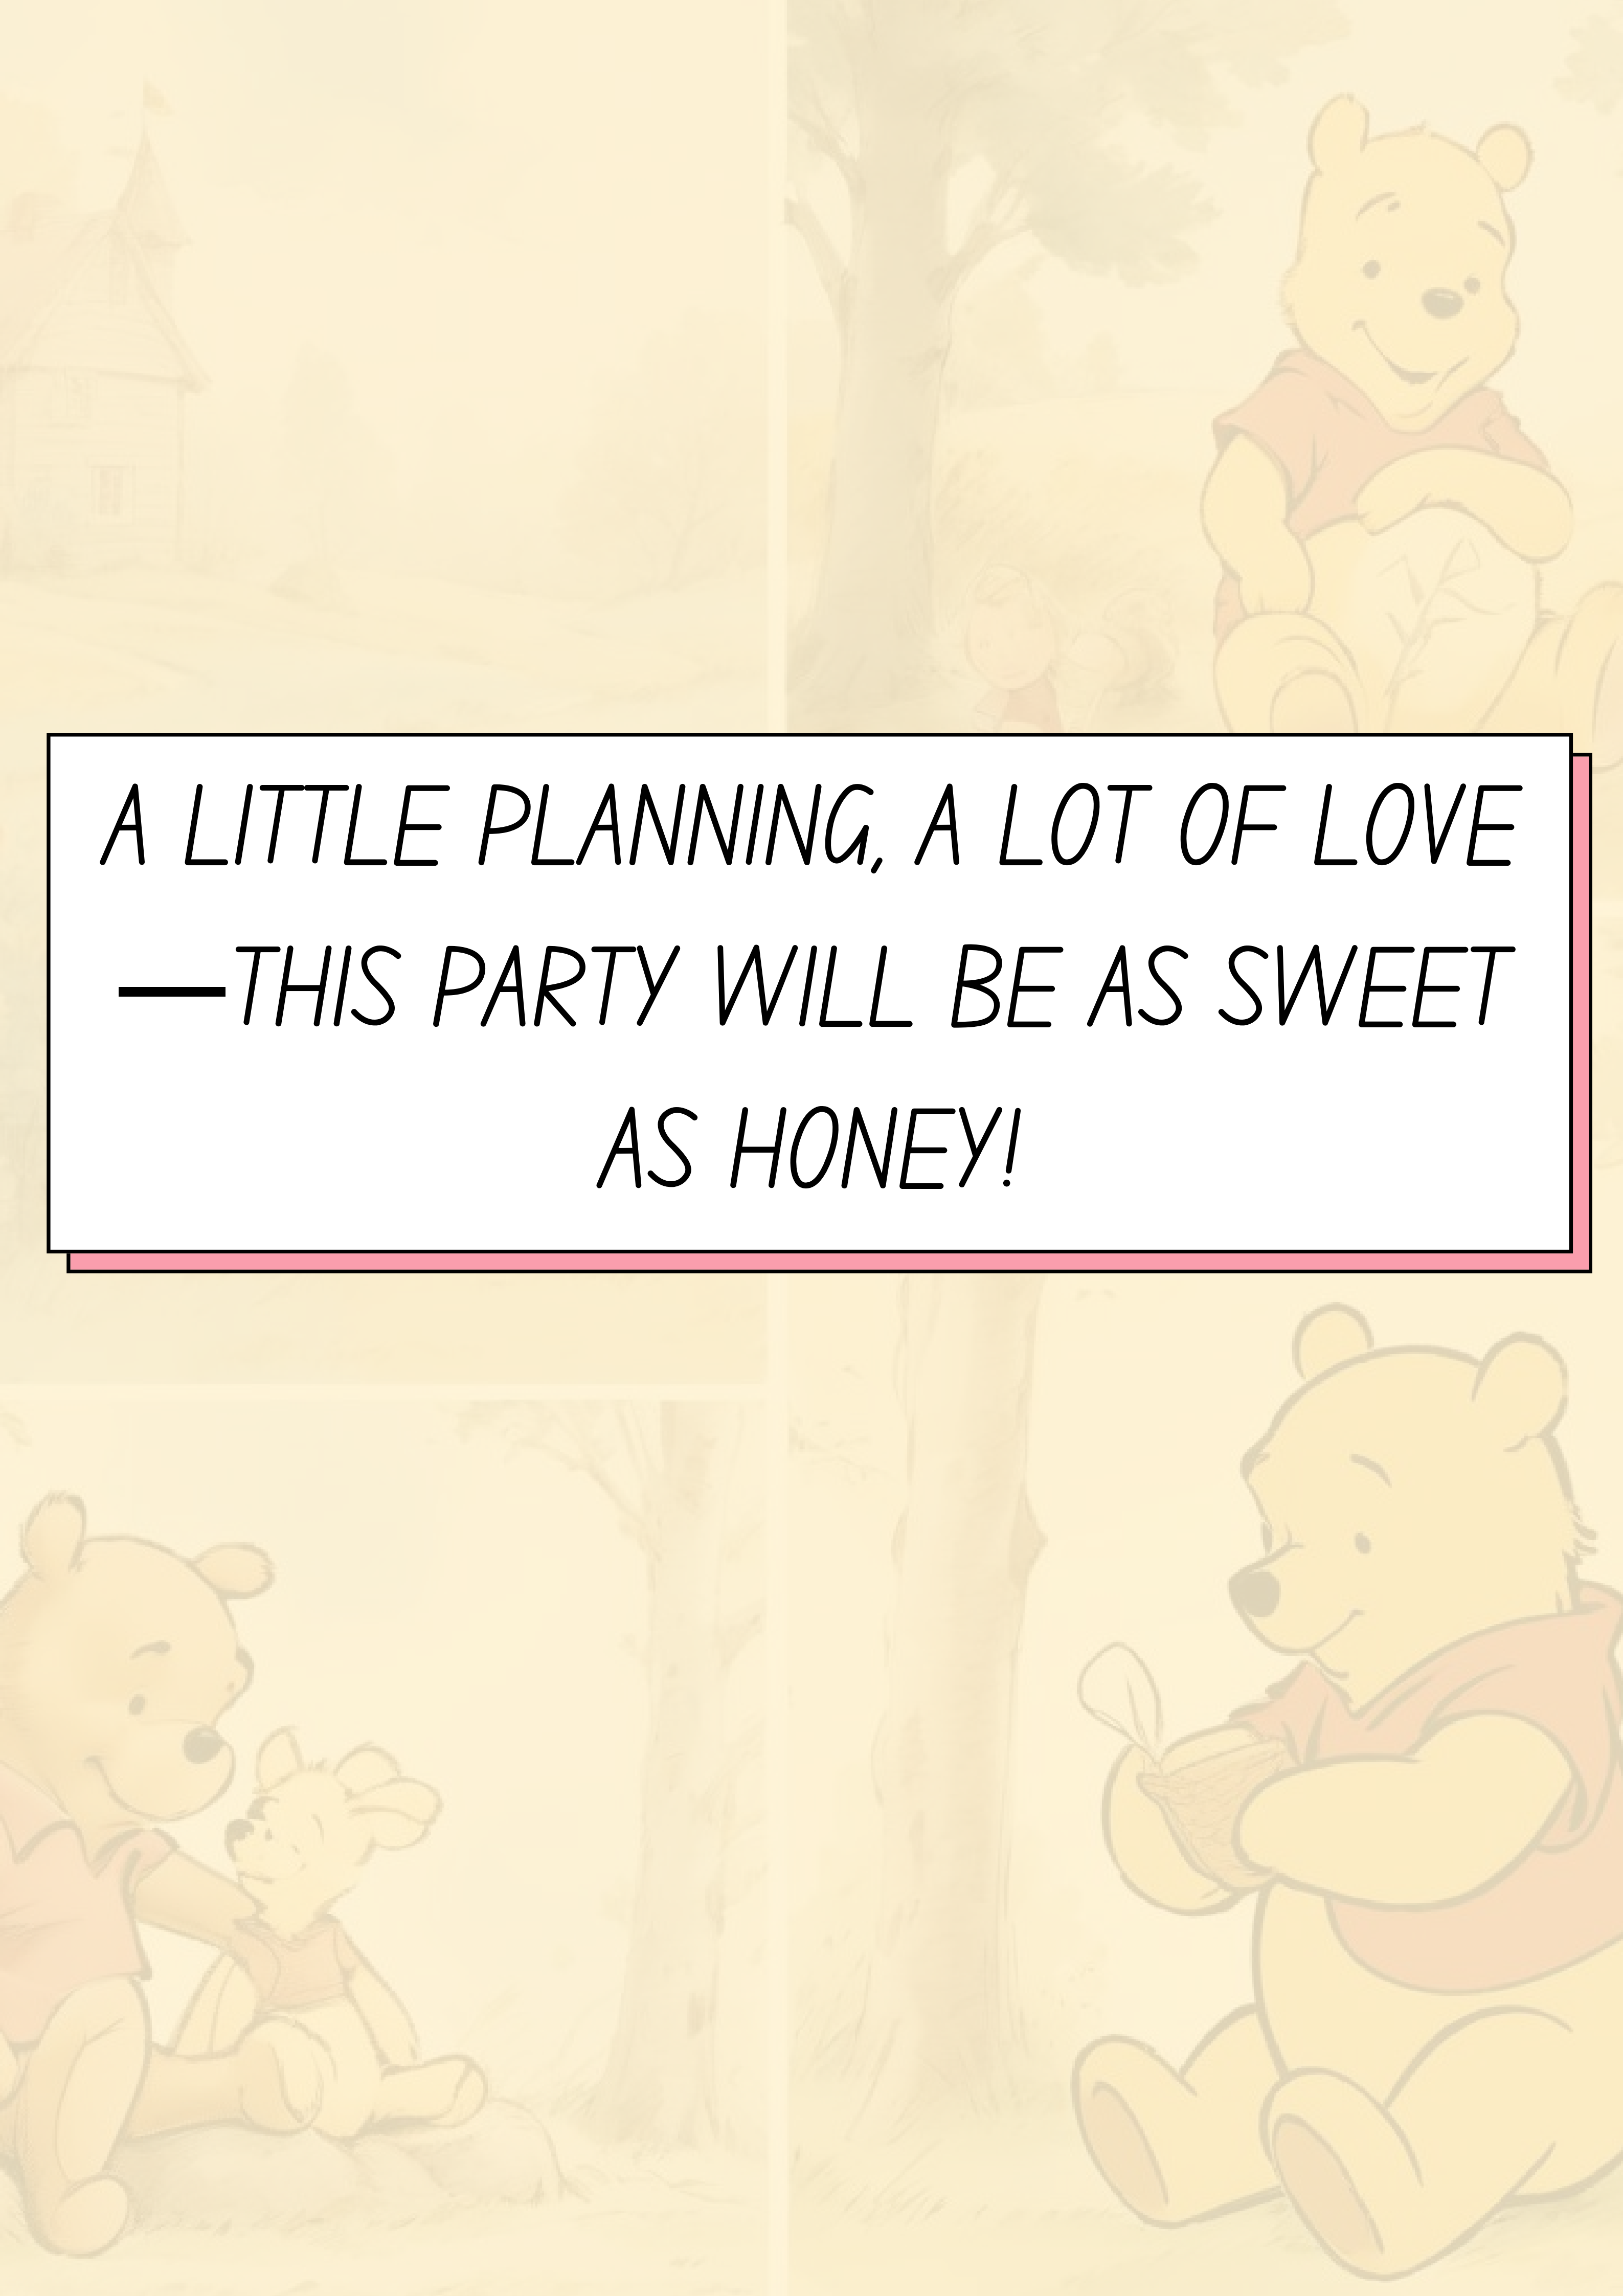

Keep your guest list manageable. More guests = more food, more cake, more money—oh bother!

05 Tigger's Bounce-Back Fund

Always set aside an extra 10% for those unexpected bounces (extra honey or last-minute party items).

06 Eeyore's Advice: Stay Cheerful

Don't stress about spending. A thoughtful, budget-friendly party will still make memories as sweet as honey!

The background is a soft, yellow-toned illustration of a forest. On the left, a small house with a chimney is visible. In the center, a large tree trunk stands. On the right, Winnie the Pooh is depicted sitting and holding a honey pot. The overall style is whimsical and nostalgic.

*A LITTLE PLANNING, A LOT OF LOVE
—THIS PARTY WILL BE AS SWEET AS HONEY!*

MENTAL HEALTH CHECK IN

01

Have you found your honey today?

What little joy or sweet moment have you experienced while planning?

02

Are you bouncing like Tigger or feeling stuck like Eeyore?

How's your energy level? Feeling excited or a bit overwhelmed?

03

Is your honey pot full or running low?

How's your budget looking? Do you need to adjust any spending?

04

Have you taken a quiet moment in your Hundred Acre Wood?

Have you taken time to relax and clear your mind today?

05

Is your party vision as clear as a sunny day in the Hundred Acre Wood?

How confident are you feeling about your overall plan?

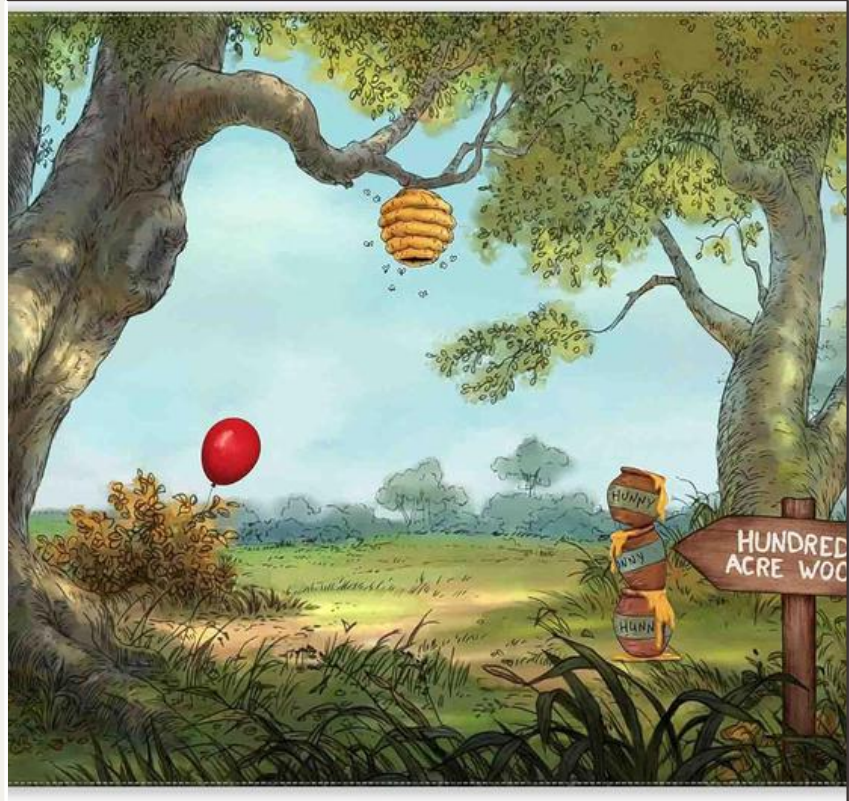

06

Are you remembering to stop for a smackerel of something sweet?

Have you taken a break or treated yourself during all this planning?
