The Mariner 1975
Dedicated to —
Reuben R. Welch

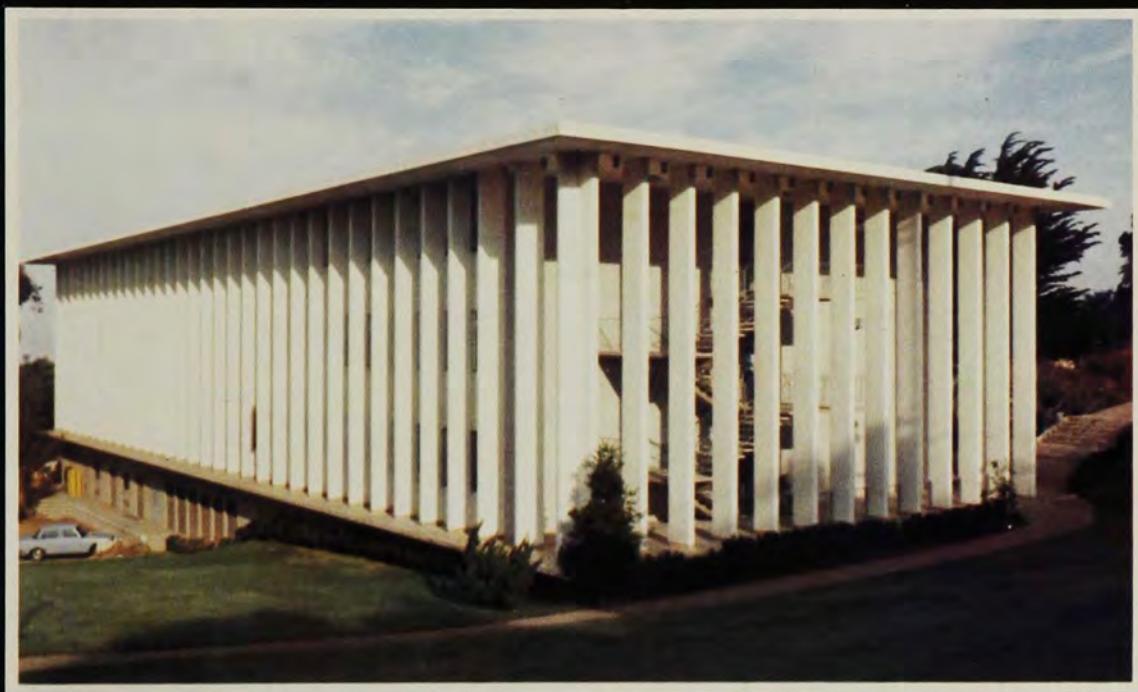

Chaplain Reuben Welch helps us to learn that, "We really do need each other"

The theme of this year's Mariner — "Relationships" — points specifically to a dedicatee who has helped us to learn that, "We really do need each other," Chaplain Reuben Welch. His genuine love and concern for others, coupled with his sanctified humor and wit, portray a man who knows how to enjoy life and enjoy people. Despite a full and exhaustive schedule, Rev. Welch remains approachable and willing to take time to advise, counsel, and share with students. Perhaps his greatest quality in his ministry to others, is that of empathy. Reuben Welch understands . . . Therefore students feel free to open up and share their burdens and hassles. Disappointment and discouragement are met with hope and encouragement within the walls of the Chaplain's office. He rejoices with those who rejoice and weeps with those who weep. Chaplain Welch offers students his friendship, valuing them as unique persons in God's family, and affirming their importance in the Christian Community. Therefore, we thank God for the blessings of Reuben R. Welch, as our Chaplain and friend.

There was a girl once
Who wanted more than anything
To be happy

She got into many different things,
Searching for that which would satisfy.
Everything failed . . .

She finally concluded that
Love was the Answer;
She tried love . . .

A guy came along and to him she gave her whole self —
Her secrets,
Her trust,
Her deepest love.

And he ripped her off,
And it hurt . . .

She turned to other friends
She thought she could trust
With her inner thoughts and needs.
Again and Again
She was betrayed.

She gave up on love
and decided to live in a shell, never to expose herself.

For years she lived like this —
Lost,
Lonely, Afraid, Miserable.

One day she died
and went to hell.
It wasn't much different . . .

George Gordon

Never lose an opportunity of seeing anything that is beautiful; for beauty is God's handwriting — a wayside sacrament. Welcome it in every fair face, in every fair sky, . . . , and thank God for it as a cup of blessing.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

You came into my life and loved me and somehow I became me. My friend shall forever be my friend and reflect a ray of God in me. The greatest gift one can give to another person is a deep understanding of life and the ability to love and believe in Self.

Chantal

There is no friend like an old friend . . . no greeting like his welcome, no homage like his praise . . .

Oliver Wendell Holmes

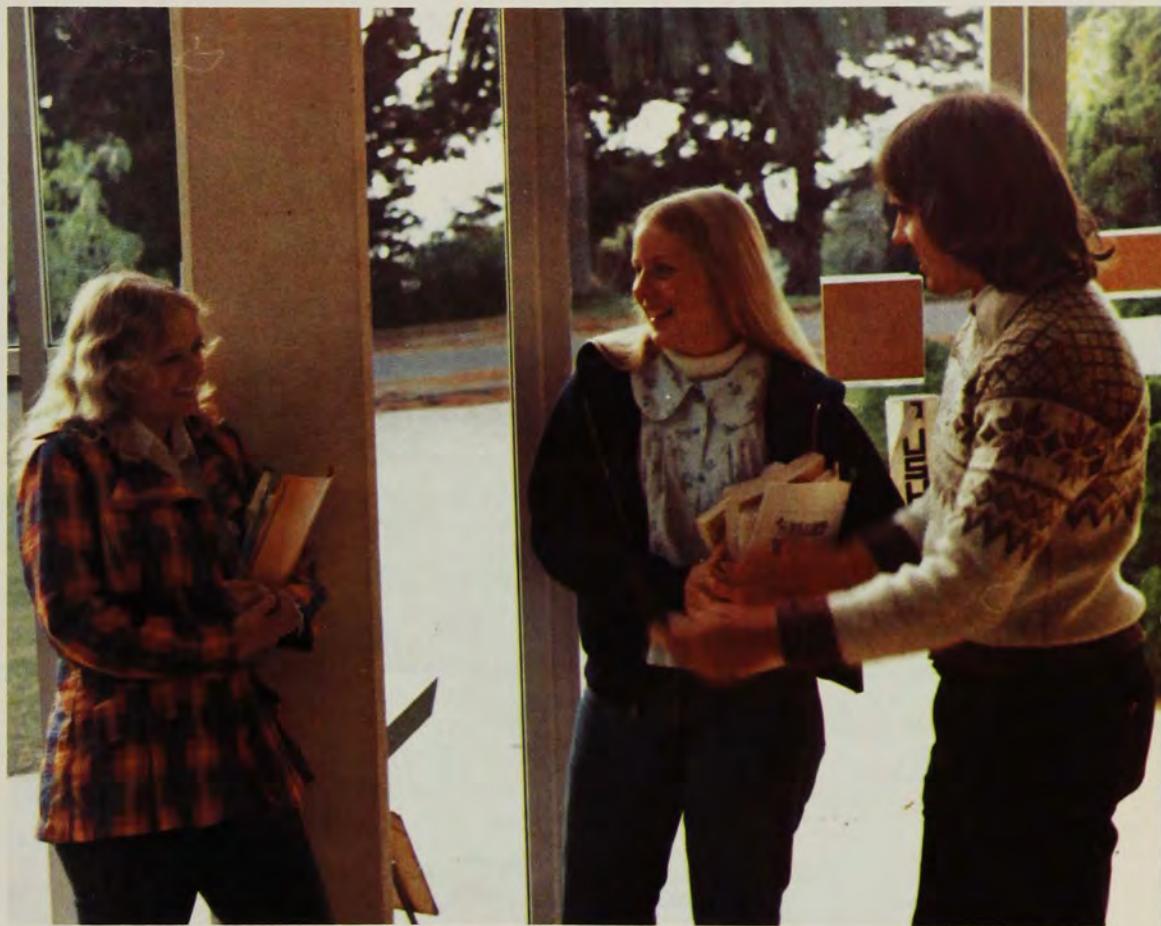

A true friend shares freely, advises justly, assists readily, takes all patiently, and continues a friend unchangeably.

In the art of loving you become real,
cease to be a part of the uncreated clay . . .

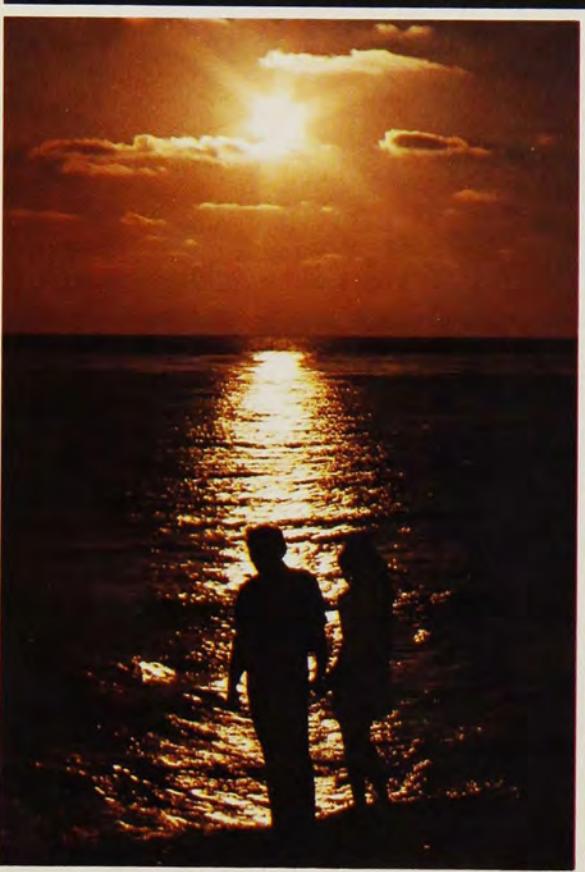

The most I can do for my friend is simply be his friend . . .

Real friends are those who, when you've made a fool of yourself, don't feel that you've done a permanent job.

Marriage . . . That relation between man and woman in which the independence is equal, the dependence mutual, and the obligation reciprocal.

L. K. Anspacher

Thou shouldst eat to live, not live to eat.

Dorm Life

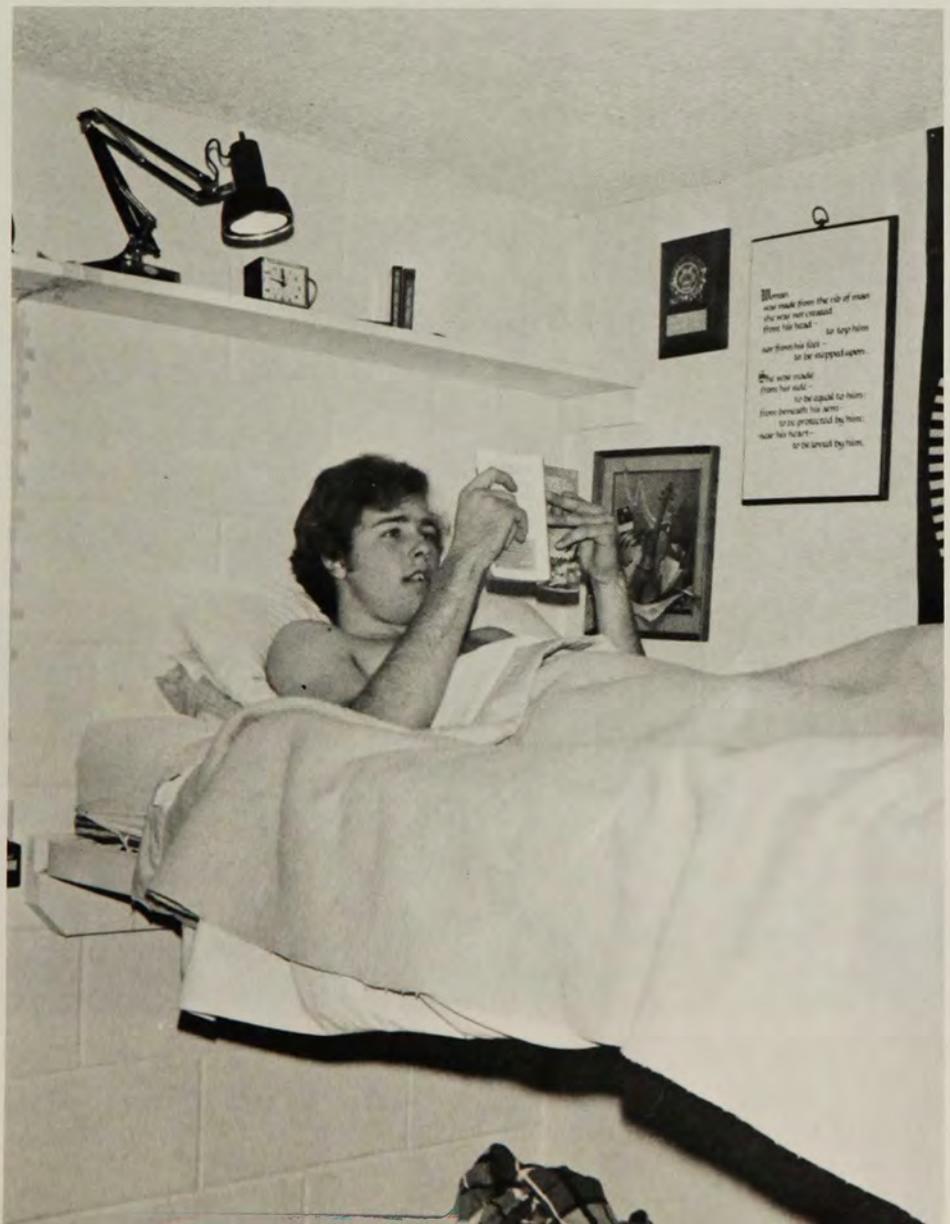

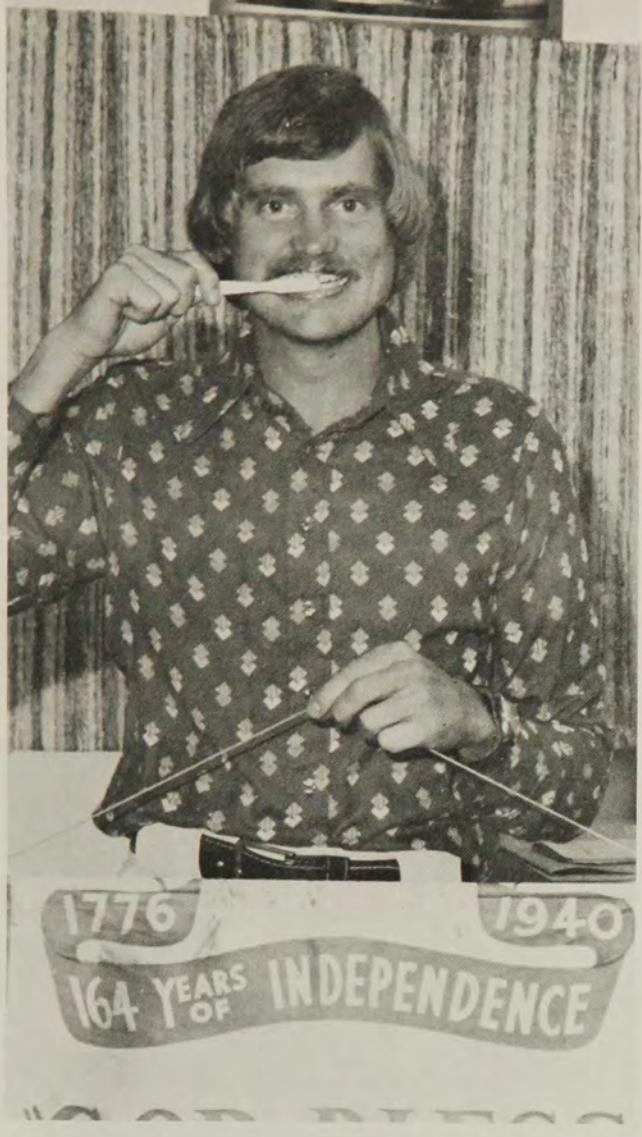

A friend is someone who leaves you with all your freedom intact but obliges you to be fully what you are.

No man will get along with people until he resolves to do so and back that resolution with sufficient determination to keep everlasting at the job.

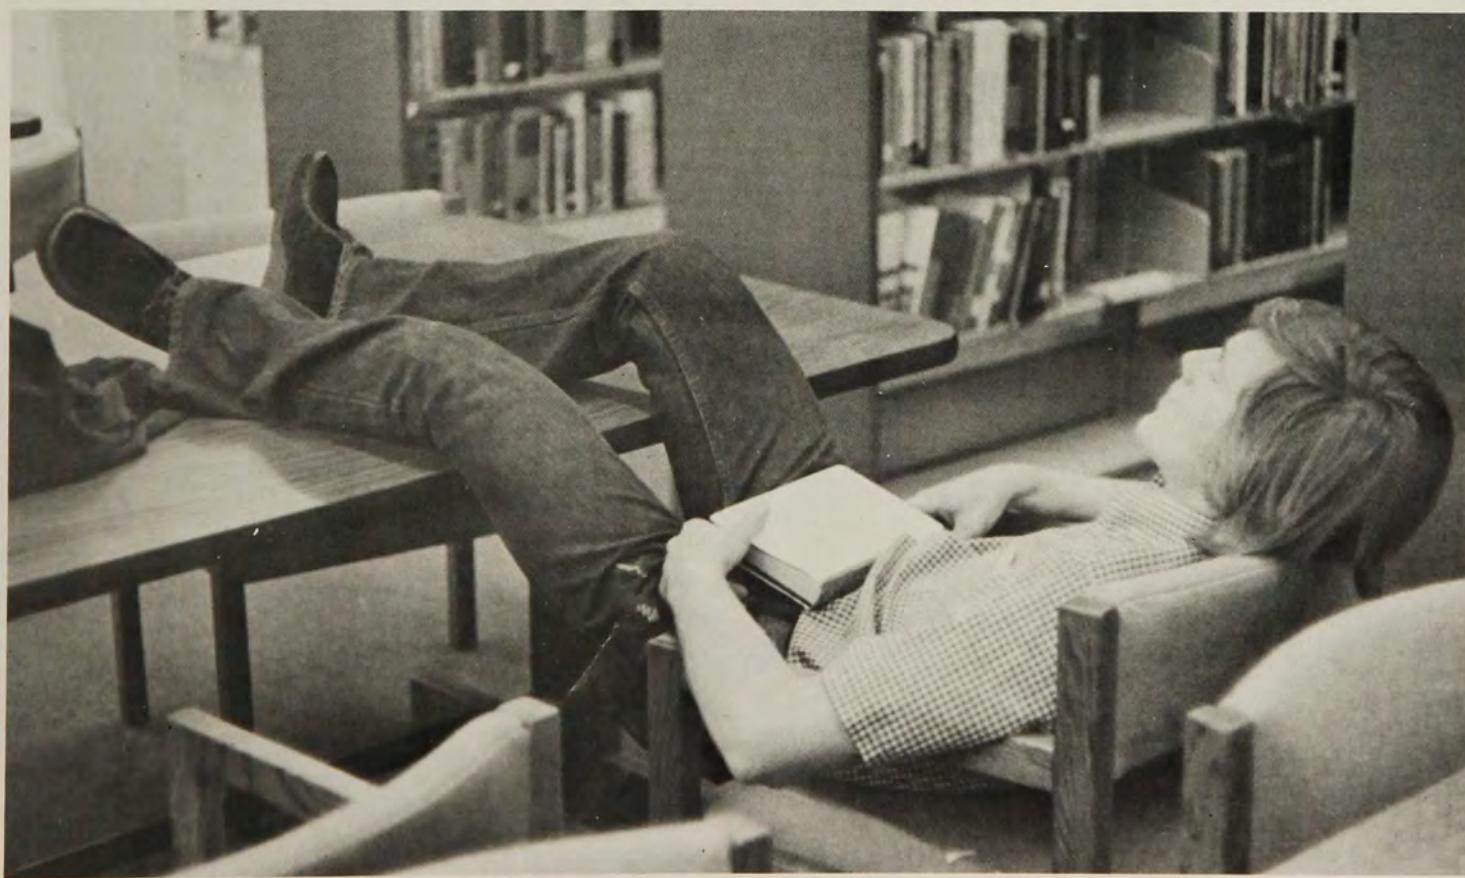

He that revels in a well – chosen library, has

Rev. George Dawson, 1866

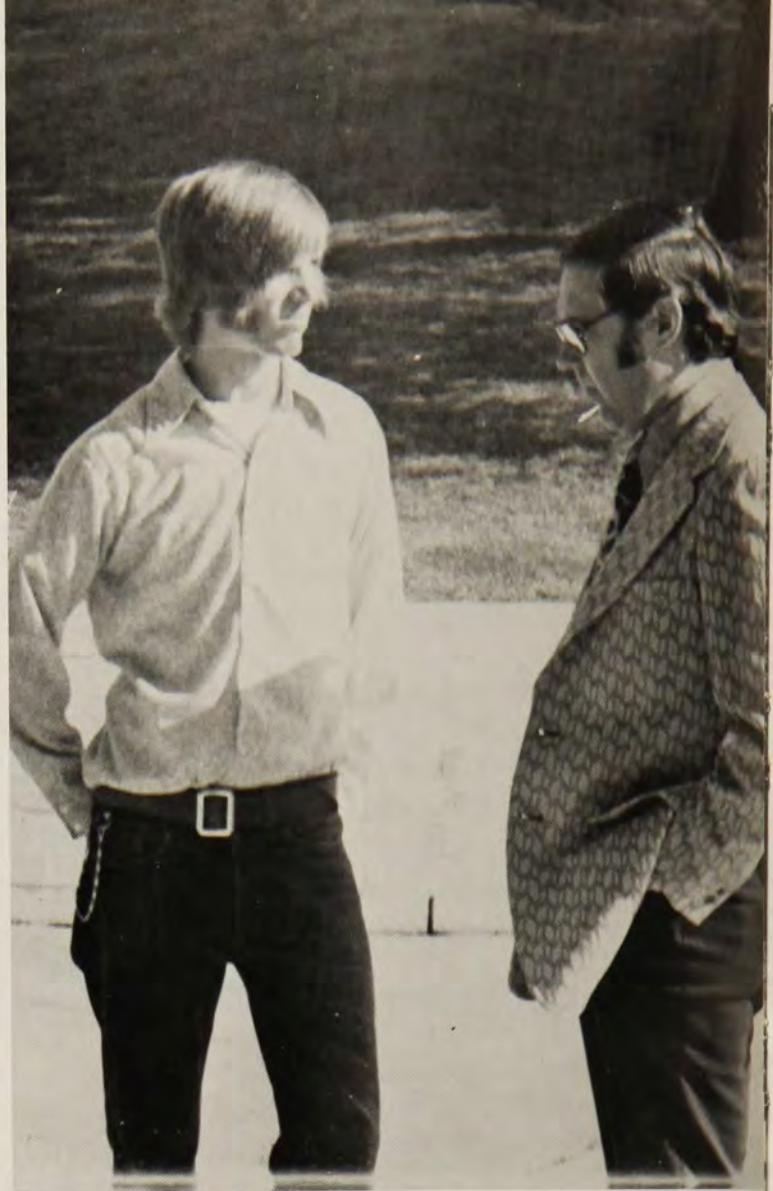

Social life makes self-expression and growth work hand in hand.

A college education . . . A capacity to explore, to question, to perceive relationships, between fields of knowledge and experience.

A. Whitney Griswold

Education is not to teach men facts . . . It is to unsettle their minds, widen their horizons, inflame their intellect, teach them to think straight, if possible, but to think nevertheless.

Robert Maynard Hutchins

Beautiful it is to understand and know that a thought did never yet die; that as thou, the origination thereof, has gathered it and created it from the whole past, so thou wilt transmit to the whole future.

Carlyle

A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops.

Henry Adams

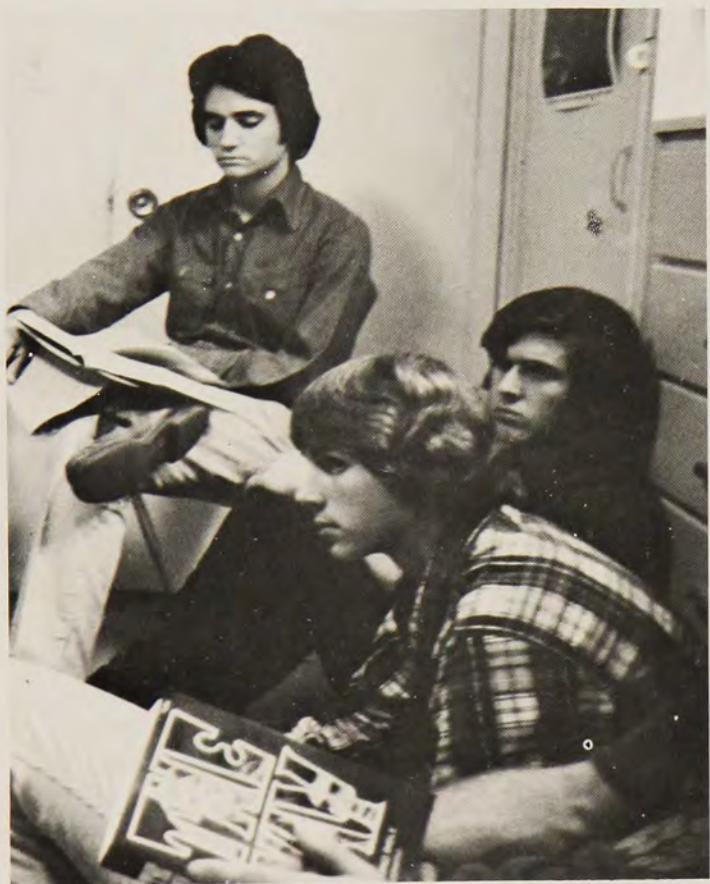

Relationships . . . giving . . . sharing . . . in simplicity and trust . . . together in the journey of living.

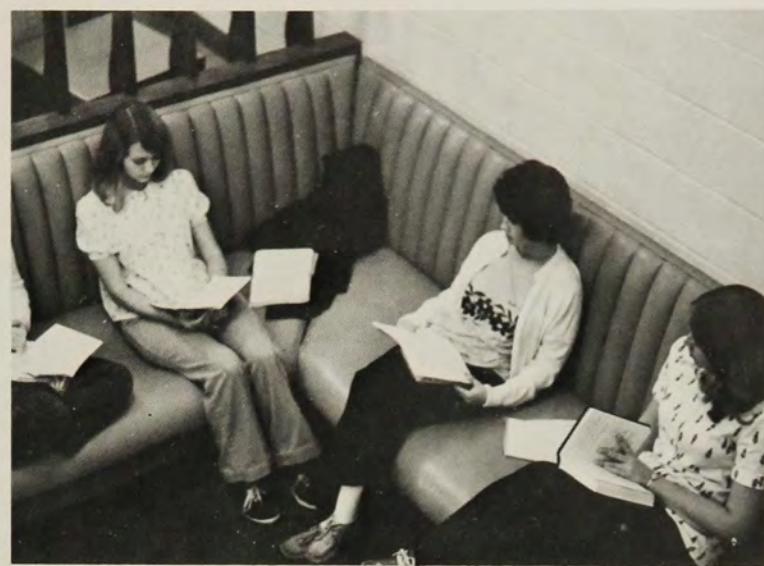

Prayer is the peace of our spirit, the stillness of our thoughts, the evenness of our recollection, the sea of our meditation, the rest of our cares, and the calm of our tempest.

Jeremy Taylor

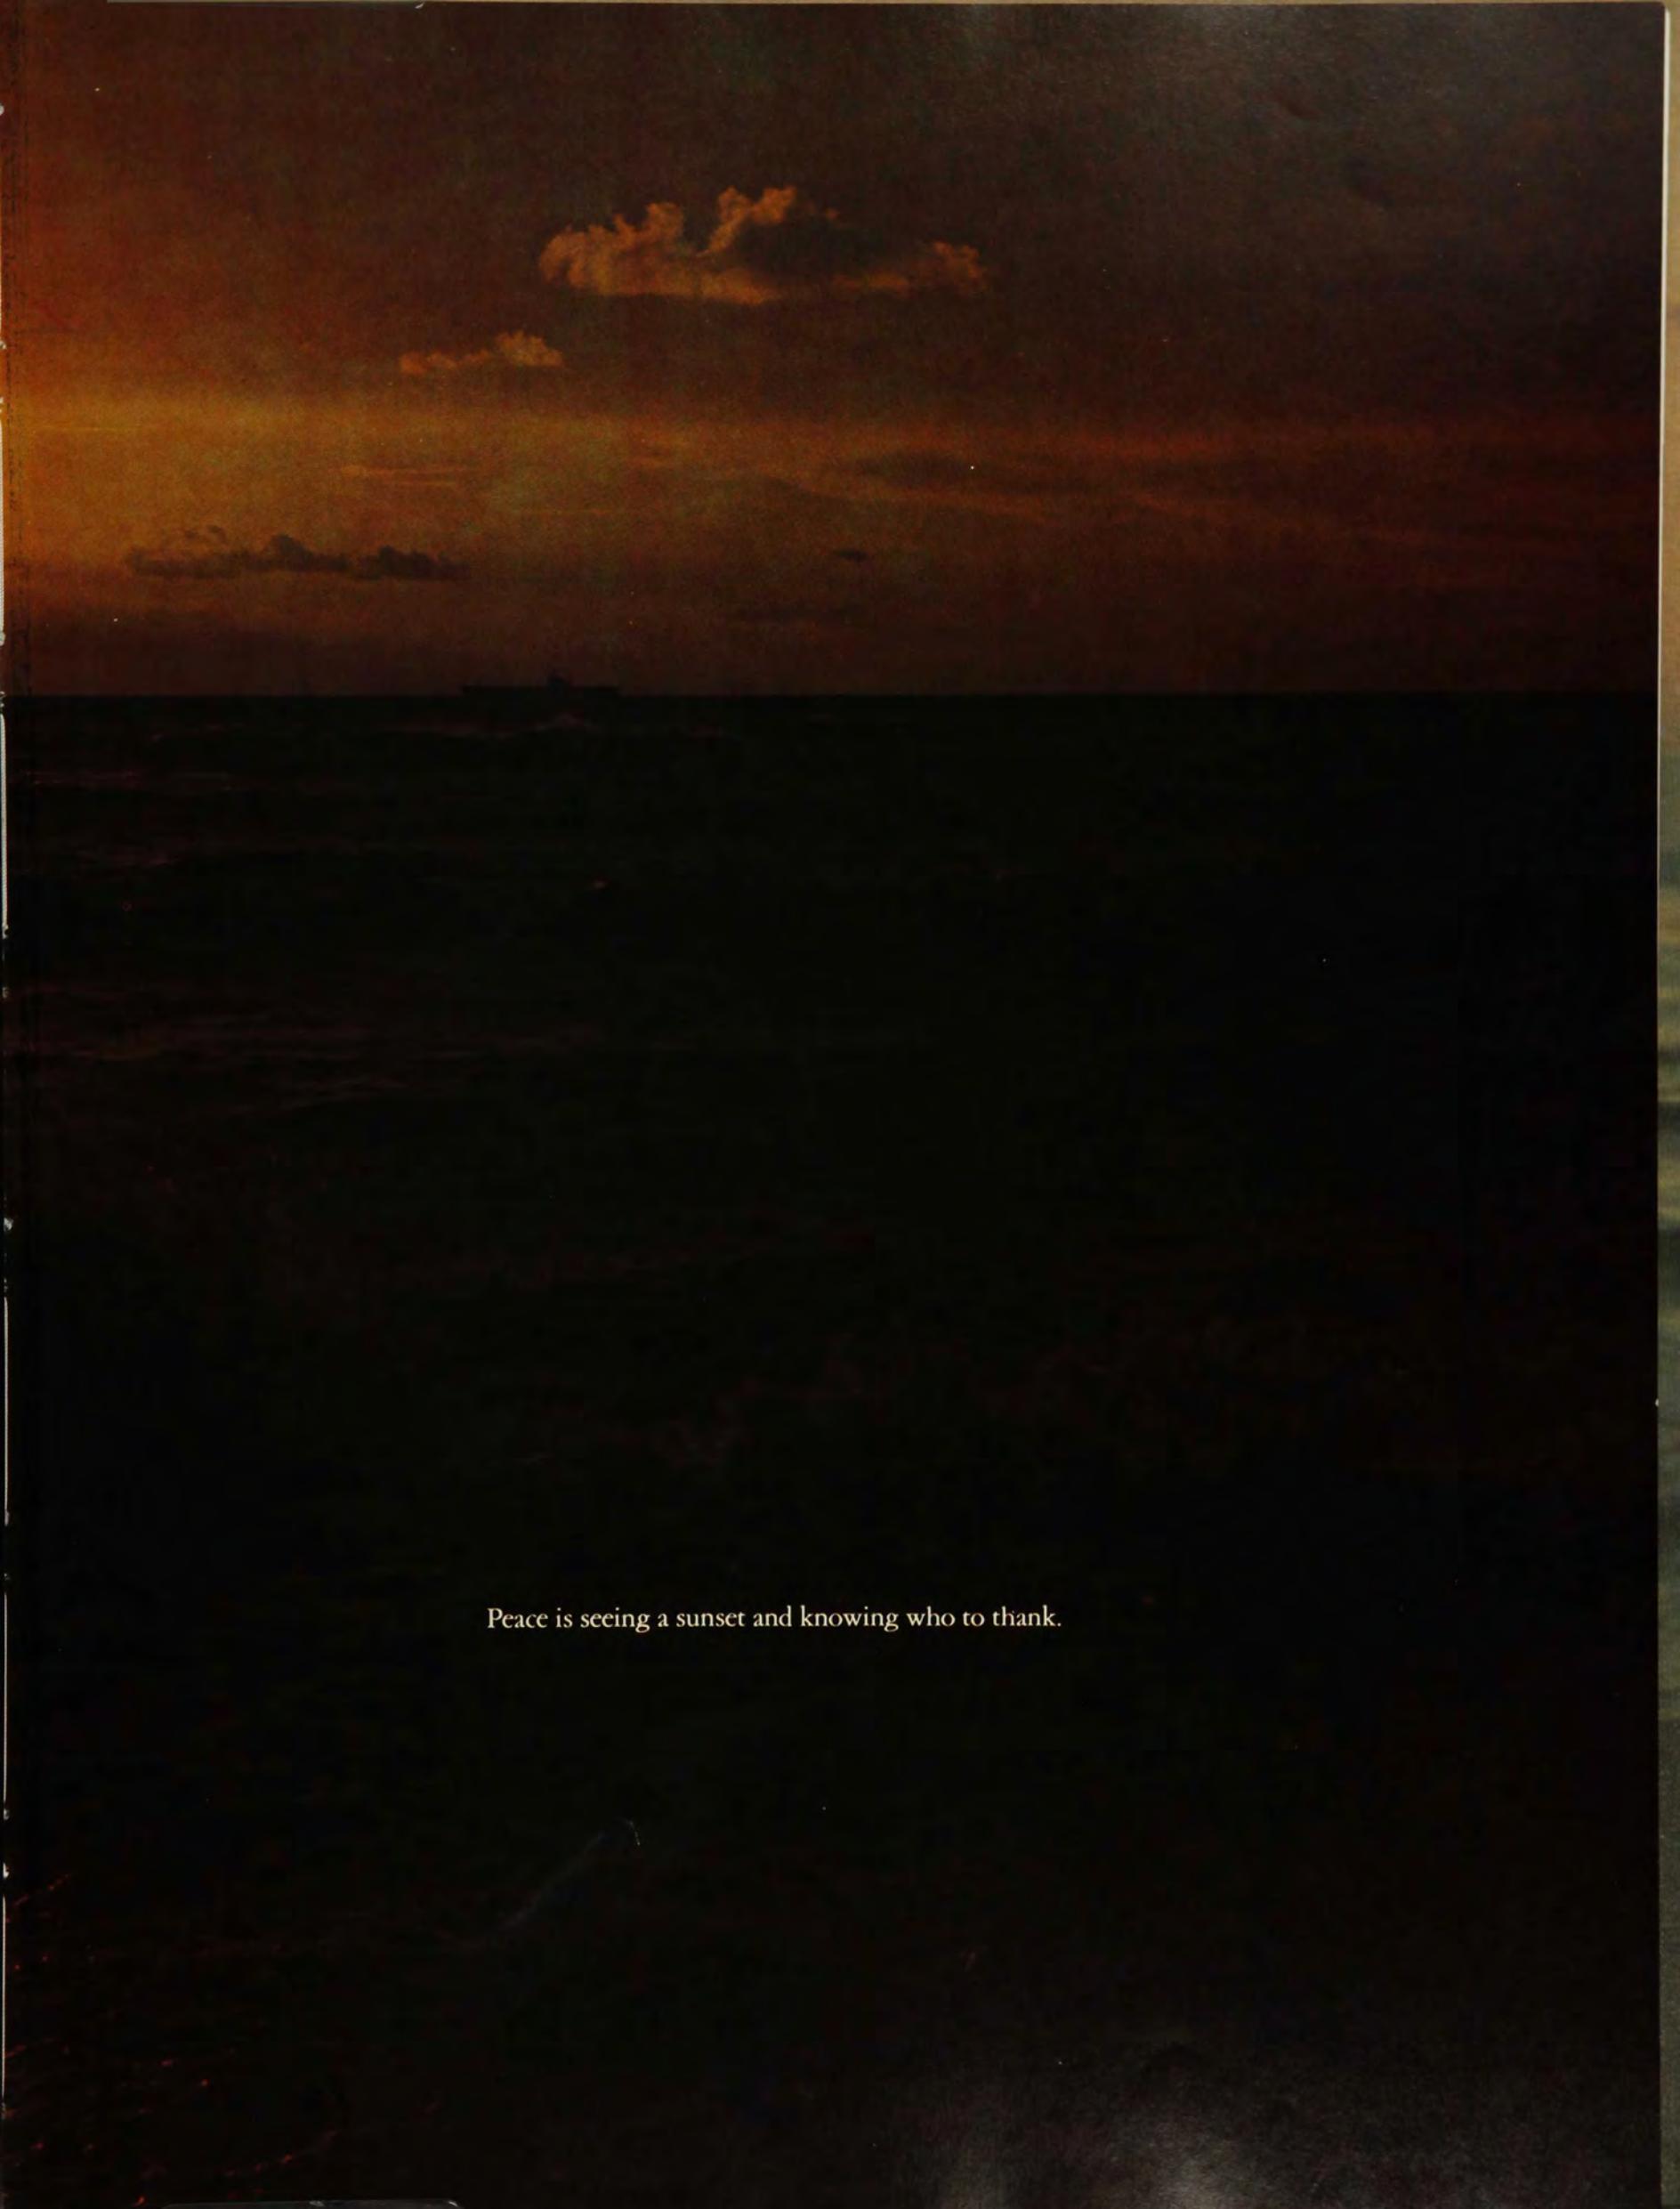

There's a big difference between the books that men make and the BOOK that makes men.

A dark, atmospheric sunset or sunrise. The sky is filled with heavy, dark clouds, with patches of orange, yellow, and red light filtering through, creating a dramatic and moody atmosphere.

Peace is seeing a sunset and knowing who to thank.

You can get anything — anything you ask for in prayer — if you believe.

Matthew 21:22

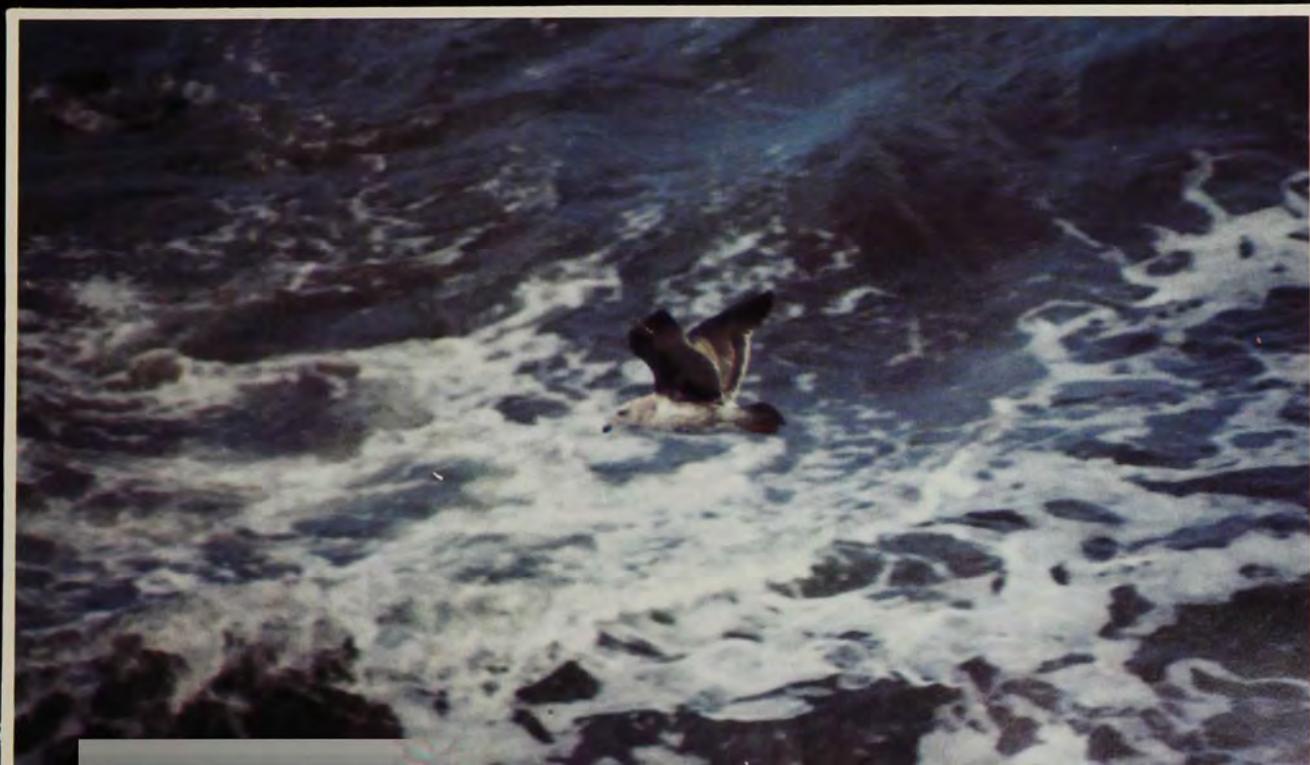

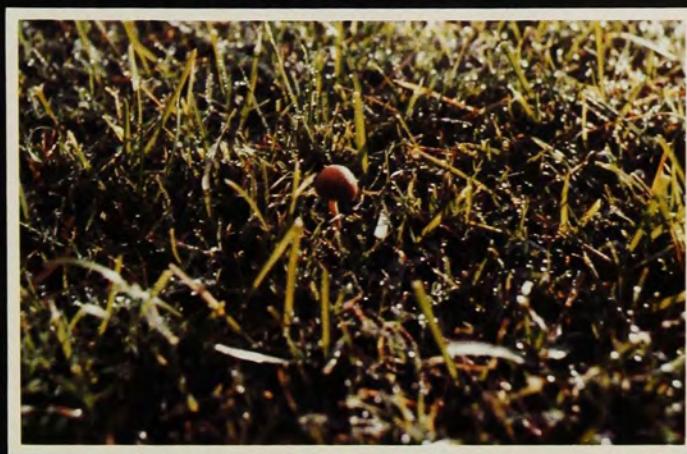

Prayer should be the key to day and the lock at night.

Give us open eyes, our Father, to see the beauty all around us and to see it in Thy handiwork. Let all lovely things fill us with gladness and let them lift our hearts in true worship.

Peter Marshall

We are all parts of one body, we have been called to the same glorious future. For us there is only one Lord, one faith, and one baptism.

Ephesians 4:4-5

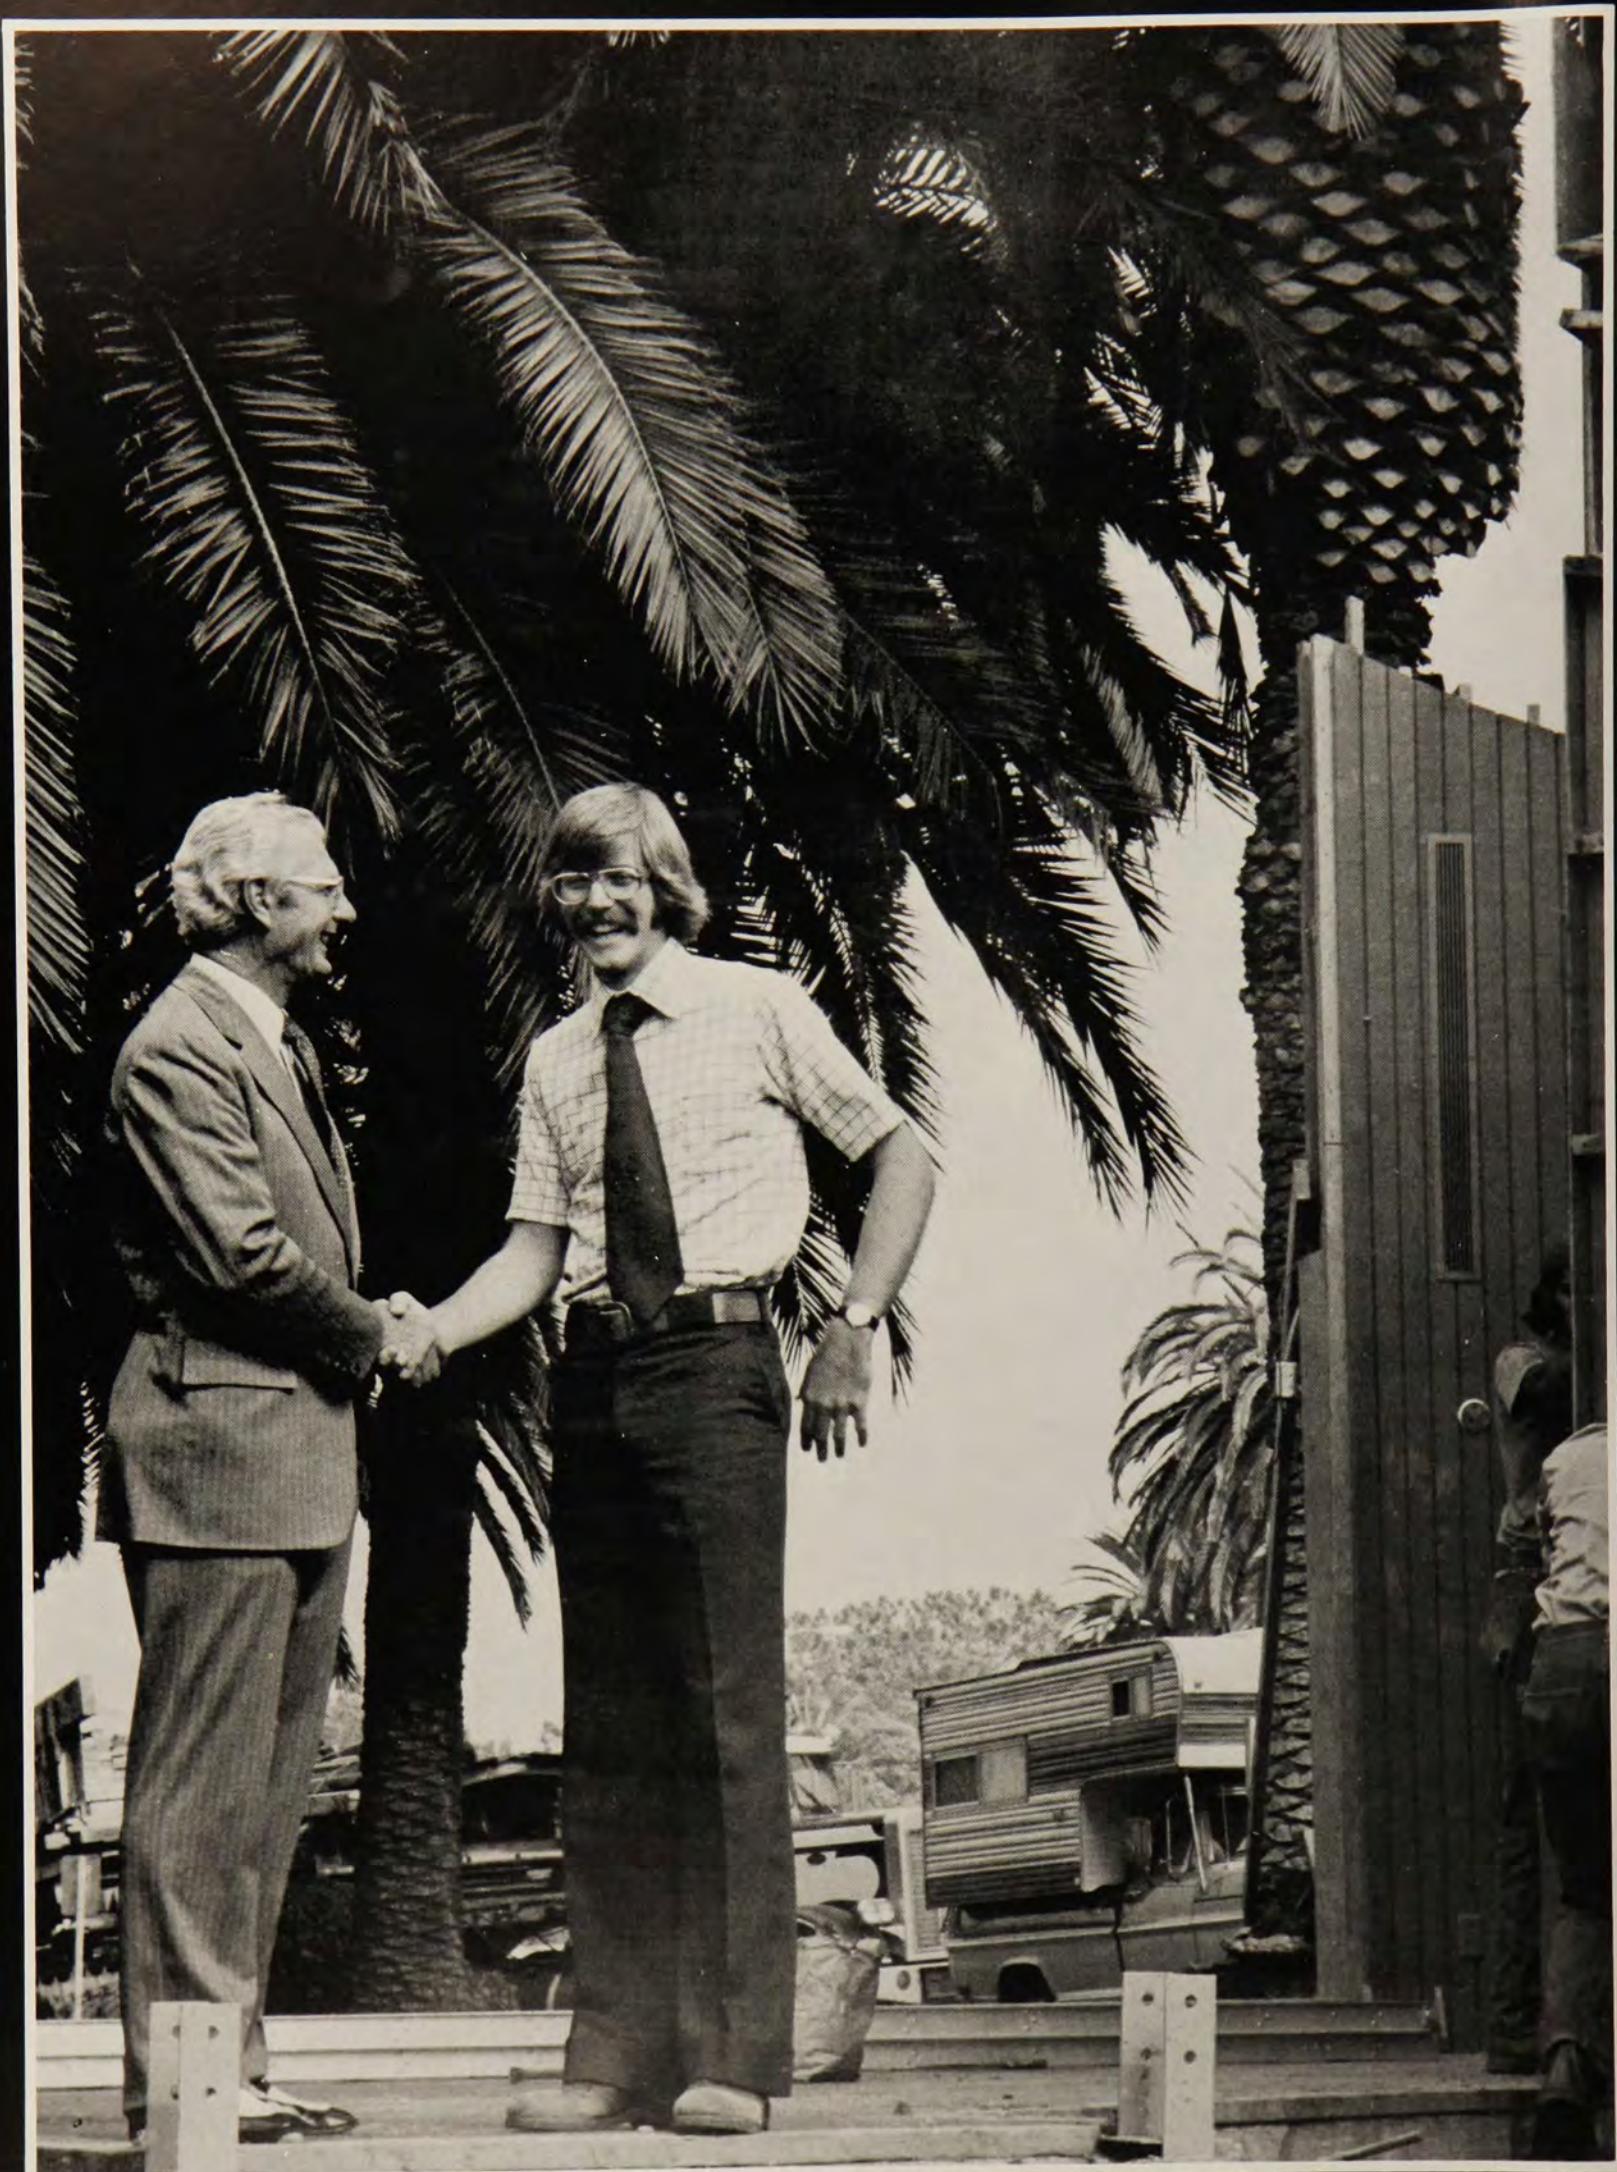

You should be like one big, happy family, full of sympathy toward each other, loving one another with tender hearts and humble minds.

I Peter 3:8

This is only the beginning . . .

I am a person — You are a person Without You I am not a person. for only through you is language made possible, and only through language is thought made possible, and only through thought is humanness made possible . . . You have made me important.

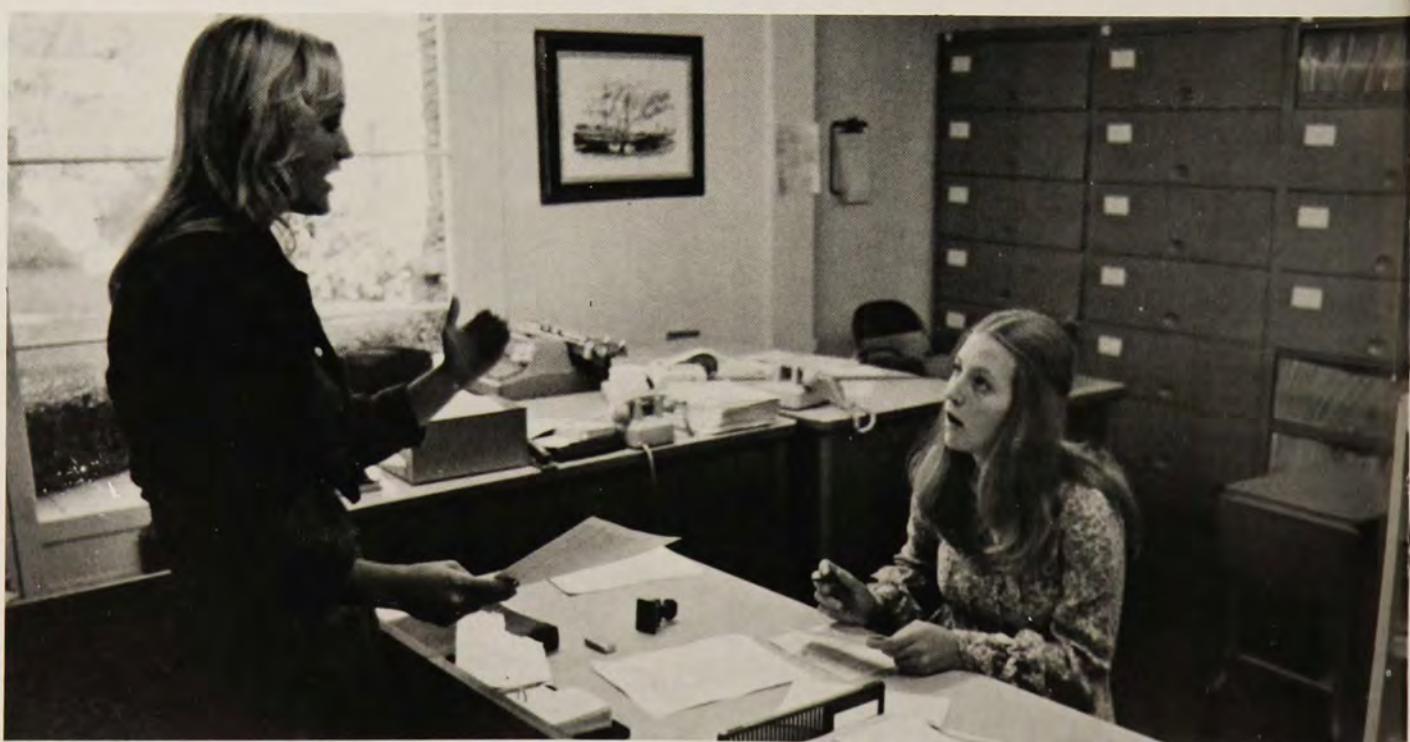

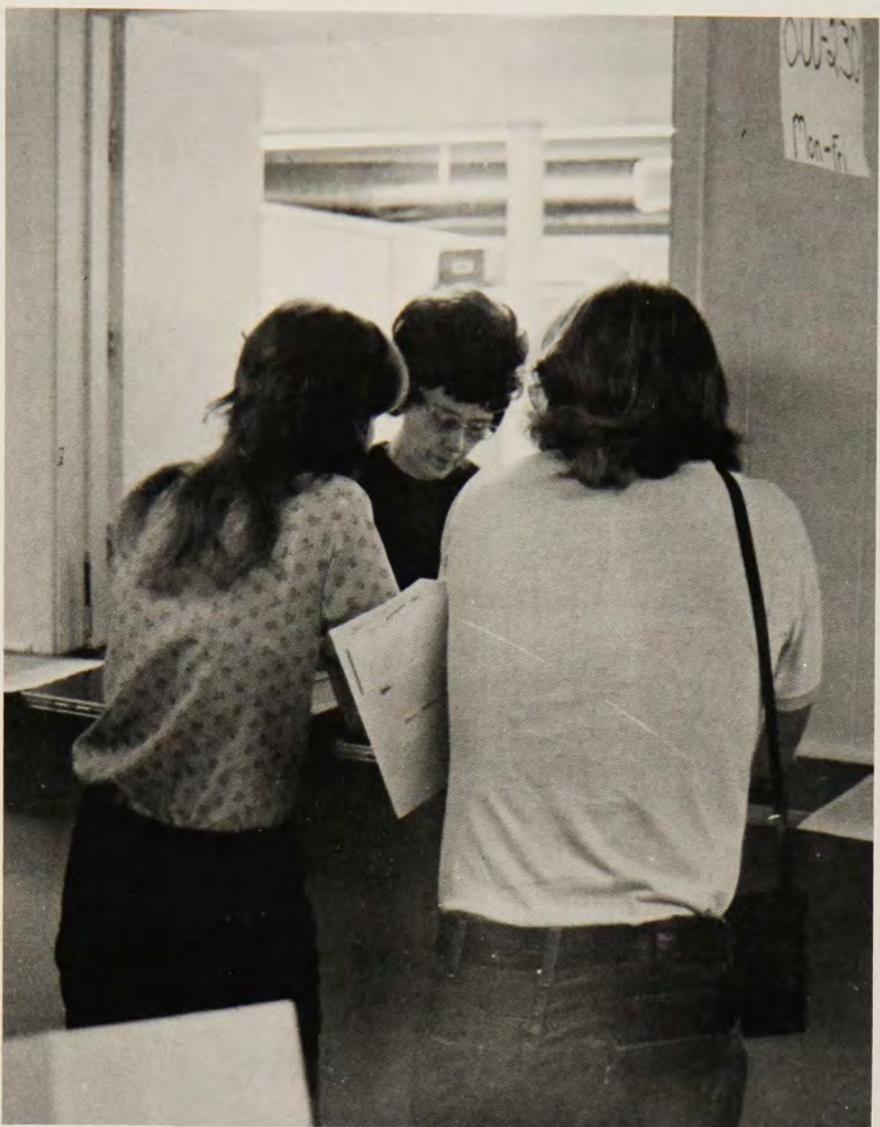

You never know when a little word,
May open up the windows of a mind that seeks the light.

O Lord, help my words to be gracious and tender today, for tomorrow I may have to eat them.

The pleasure of life is according to the man that lives it, and not according to the work or place.
Emerson

Blessed is the man who has the gift of making friends; for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but above all, the power of going out of one's self, and seeing and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another.

The Adventures Of Nancy And Melvin

By Michael J. Christensen

Reprinted from the POINT February 28, 1975

"Like to go for a walk, Nancy?" said Melvin Manual III to his girl-friend, Nancy Nazarene, as they met on the campus of Point Loma College. She nodded cheerfully and they began to stroll.

Melvin was a clean cut, handsome lad of 19, he had neatly styled hair and wore a blue school sweatshirt, double-knit flares and wallabies. Nancy, a lovely, fresh-looking girl of 18, had long, neat hair and dressed with christian simplicity that becomes holiness. Together they looked like two, plain, average, ordinary, Nazarene College students.

"What a fine day it is," said Melvin. "And what a grand school this is, and how lucky we both are to be here. Golly!"

"Melvin, must you use profanity?" said Nancy.

"Forgive me," said Melvin.

"Oh, look," said Nancy, "there go some security guards."

"How tall and strong they look," said Melvin. "What a great bunch of fellows."

"They send a tingle of pride up and down my spine," said Nancy.

"I doubt if anyone on campus is more beloved by the student body than they are," said Melvin as a tear of joy crept out of his eye. He quickly brushed it away.

"Oh, say, Nancy," said Melvin, "would you like to go to a er a movie with me tonight?"

"Now Mel, you know that movies are against the rules. What would our parents think?"

"Oh, but Nancy, it's a Walt Disney film. I'm sure it won't hurt, just this once."

"Think of the weaker brother," cautioned Nancy. "What if someone with a tender conscience saw us going into a movie theater? Why, that person might stumble and lose his faith!"

"You're right Nancy, I'm sorry I even considered it . . . well what would you like to do tonight?"

"I really must study this weekend, Mel. I'd better not go out with you."

"You're still upset about last night, aren't you Nancy? I didn't mean to do what I did."

"It's not that I didn't want you to kiss me," said Nancy. "And I realize that there are girls on this campus who do kiss. It's just that I'm saving my kisses for Mr. Right."

At that very moment along came the Dean.

"Hello kids," said the Dean. "Great day isn't it?"

"Yes it is," said Nancy.

"By the way," said Melvin. "I've been meaning to talk to you about moving off-campus next year. I kind of would like to get the experience of, you know, being on my own."

"What year are you, son?" asked the Dean.

"Sophomore," admitted Melvin, "but I'll be a junior next year." he added hopefully.

"I'm sorry Mel, said the Dean, "Our policy requires that students may not live off campus until their senior year, and then, only by petition."

"Well, I guess another year in the dorm won't hurt me," said Melvin.

"It's for your own good," added the Dean as he went on his way.

"Won't you reconsider Nancy," asked Melvin, "and join me for a coke at the Crusader Club?"

"OK Melvin," consented Nancy, "but only as friends." Time quickly passed and as the 11th hour approached, Nancy exclaimed, "I've got to get back to the dorm or I'll be fined and restricted."

"I'll run you back," offered Melvin.

"OK Mel, said Nancy, "and thanks for a really exciting time."

"Pshaw," said Melvin, "this is what college is all about."

Our President and First Lady

Dr. and Mrs. W. Shelburne Brown

Personal greetings to you from the President! The yearbook is just what the name implies — the record of a year of living on the Point Loma College campus. The pictures and accounts in this volume will contain meaningful memories for you. Each year that passes will make it of greater value as you recall people and events that went into the record for this academic year.

Our commencement season will mark the conclusion of the second full year on the Point Loma Campus. What seemed like such a traumatic step of faith two years ago, now appears as the evident direction of God for a significant institution of higher learning.

Your year has been made up of classes and study hours; of meals and probably dormitory rooms; of walking to classes and conversations here and there on the campus. The full impact of what this year has meant in your life will not be apparent until you have gone into your chosen field of service. I suppose every college student asks the question along the way, "Am I learning anything?" The answer to that is, "You are." How well and how much you are learning is largely dependent on your own initiative and discipline. It is the confidence of the faculty and the administration of the college, that you will find yourself well prepared and able to cope with the world in which you live.

So cherish your yearbook. It records an important year of your travel on the way to maturity and significant service. Above all, it is my profound hope that you have grown spiritually in the knowledge of Christ as you have increased your fund of knowledge and your social relations.

Yours in Christ,

W. Shelburne Brown

It has received wider recognition and acceptance from the San Diego community than has been previously experienced. Point Loma College is now known not only just as a Christian College but a college that offers a high quality music education.

A self study has been made of its curriculum, updating the offerings, making it more contemporary to today's needs. During the Spring, a new venture began in a combined effort of choirs and orchestra of the Grossmont and Point Loma Colleges for the production of Elijah. Also during the Fall and Spring quarters was the display and sale of student art work.

Division of Letters

The Division of Letters has sixteen professors, seven of whom have earned doctorates. Typical student activities in the division are drama, forensics, speech porpourri, and Spanish "En Accion" (In Action) programs in Tijuana.

A major revision in curriculum for the Division of Letters has been undertaken this year. The English major has been renamed the Literature major. A new Literature-Speech Communications major has also been established.

The Spanish major has been phased out, with the purpose of the program being to prepare bi-lingual students to work with Spanish-speaking people after graduation.

Natural Sciences Division

The Natural Sciences Division is offering a new major drawing heavily from biology and chemistry — including some physics and mathematics. It is developed primarily for pre-medical and pre-dental students and others interested in an interdisciplinary preparation such as biochemistry or cell biology.

The competency of faculty has been strengthened by the achievement of Ph.D.'s by all its members.

A certificate in computer sciences is now offered which would augment any other major.

Also new this year is an NMRC (Nuclear Magnetic Resonance), an unusual piece of equipment for a private college such as ours.

Social Science Division

The Division of the Social Sciences provides insights on local, national and world societies; using historical, comparative, analytical, and problem-solving approaches. It identifies and tests assumptions about society's past and how these relate to present trends and problems. This contributes to the development of rational criteria for evaluation and judgement on social issues. It further suggests potentialities for the preservation and improvement of society.

Ismael Amaya, Religion

The Department of Religion offers concentrated undergraduate study in Biblical Literature, Theology, Church History, Pastoral Ministry and Christian Education and further study for Master's degrees in Theology and Christian Education. Recently a program has been instituted by which a student can earn a certificate in Youth Ministries — regardless of his major.

In the summer of 1974 the Summer Ministries Program put students into churches to gain some first-hand experience. Students were able to apply previous learning and earn college credit.

The Department of Philosophy seeks to relate to its students a search for a meaningful life with the critical analysis of experience and language. There is a major emphasis on the history of Philosophy dealing with significant problems and personalities.

To be thankful for even the smallest of our blessing is to know the joy of life.

Jacque Gipe

I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good, therefore, that I can do or any kindness I can show to any fellow human being let me do it now. Let me not defer nor neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.

Stephen Grellet

John Foster

As far as some are concerned education doesn't mean intelligence, generosity, goodness and understanding, but only acquiring facts from books. If your hearts stay dry, selfish, rancorous and fossilized what you've acquired means nothing.

Henry Charriere

Steve Hawthorne

Not that I have obtained it or have already become perfect but I press on, harder that I may lay hold of that which also I was laid hold of by Christ Jesus.

Philippians 3:12

Sherrie Baker

I am not interested so much in what I do with my hands or words as what I do with my feelings. I want to live from the inside out, not the outside in.

Barbara Hansen

" . . . This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you. Greater love has no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. . . . We love because He first loved us."

Melva Pagan

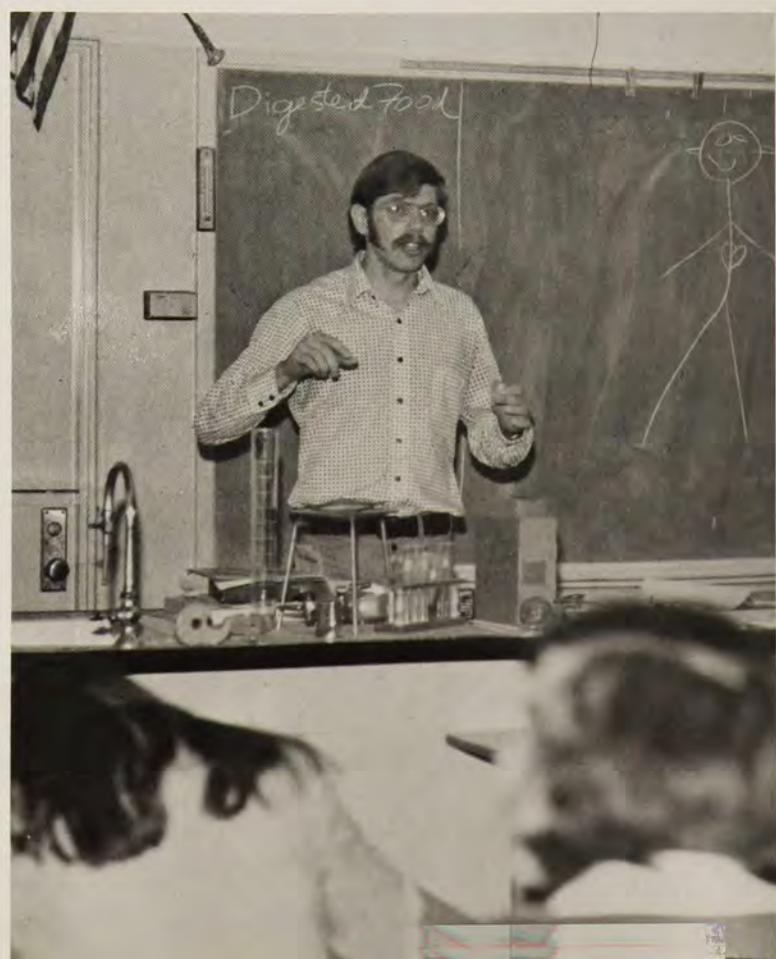

"I am as it were wind chimes awaiting His breath to sing whatever melody He chooses.

Radel Rice

Rich Robertson

"Would you rather see a school develop a happy street-sweeper or a neurotic scholar?"

The Young Sage

Melinda Griffith

This I know, that God is for me.
In God, whose word I praise,
In the Lord, whose word I praise,
In God I have put my trust, I shall not be afraid.
What can man do to me?
Thy vows are binding upon me, O God;
I will render thank offerings to Thee.
For Thou hast delivered my soul from death.
Indeed my feet from stumbling,
So that I may walk before God
In the light of the living.

Psalms 56:9-13

Cliff Fisher

"Beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

Romans 12:1
King James Version

Ken Neet

I, therefore, the prisoner of Christ, entreat you to walk in a manner worthy of the calling with which you have been called, with all humility and gentleness, with patience showing forbearance to one another in love, being diligent to preserve the unity of spirit in the bond of peace.

Paul's word to the Ephesians
(NAS)

Chris Griffith

Sad will be the day of any man when he becomes absolutely contented with the life he is living, with the thought he is thinking, with the deeds he is doing; when there is not forever beating at the door of his soul some great desire to do something larger which he knows he was meant and made to do, because he is a child of God.

Phillip Brooks

Joel Miller

When life itself seems lunatic, who knows where madness lies?
Perhaps to be practical is madness.
To surrender dreams — this may be madness. To seek treasure where there is only trash. Too much sanity may be madness. And maddest of all, to see life as it is and not as it should be.

Joe Darion
"Man of La Mancha"

Mark Pitcher

"If you have any encouragement from being united with Christ, if any comfort from his love, if any fellowship with the spirit, if any tenderness and compassion, then make my joy complete by being like-minded, having the same love, being one in spirit and purpose. Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in humility consider others better than yourself. Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others. Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus."

Most Inspirational to Seniors

Clifford S. Fisher

The life of Dr. Fisher inspires those who know him, both as a dedicated teacher and a personal friend. The principles he communicates in his lectures are practically applied in the classroom. He does not require students to merely learn facts but challenges them to incorporate knowledge into a moving ministry. Dr. Fisher injects himself into his lectures and somehow the class molds together as a "body." When he gives time to a lecture he pours himself into his students more than anything else. To those who know him particularly in Youth Ministries class, his openness and sincere attention to individual moment concerns is always appreciated. He directs insights for his students and what is just as important, becomes flexible, giving, and sensitive to the needs of those around him. We, as seniors, wish to express a heart-felt thanks to Dr. Clifford Fisher.

Varsity Basketball

Bruce jumps for the tip off.

Tom Shaw shows good shooting form.

Rick's trademark — a sure shot for two points.

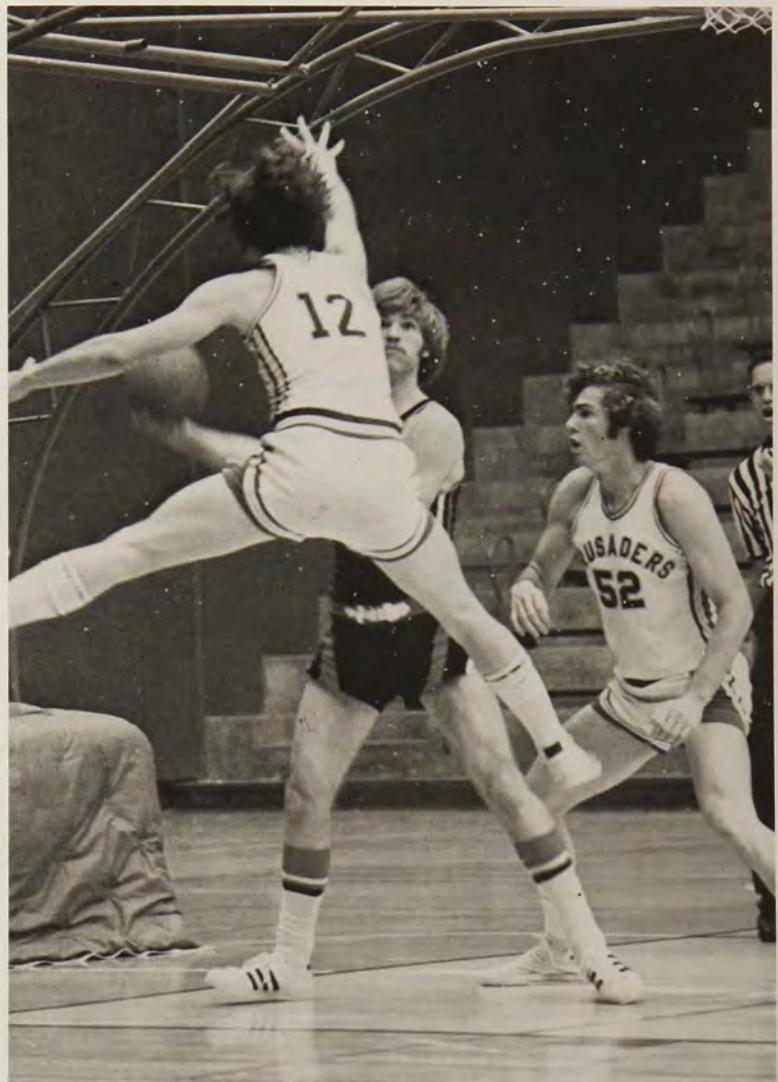

Ron and Steve move to recapture the ball.

The 1974-75 season was a time of transition for P.L.C.'s Varsity basketball team. Coming new into the position of Varsity Coach was Ben Foster, previously Asst. Coach for the Crusaders. Making up the core of the squad were six returning lettermen — Foster, Mallicoat, McCormack, Owens, Shaw and Wilson — ably assisted by several members from the 73-74 Junior Varsity team and a group of talented freshmen.

Although the team finished with a 13-18 record for the year, they maintained a second place position in the league with their win over Azusa. This position sent them to the playoff where they smashed Redlands and Southern California College before losing to Biola at their season's end.

This year's Cross Country team displayed considerable hard work and promise as they finished twelfth out of twenty teams for the season. The Crusaders best finish was second place at their first meet. Dale Hansen (Most Outstanding Runner) and Alvin Gunderson (Most Inspirational) were the most consistent runners. Harry Wiese won the team's Most Improved Award.

Baseball

With Fall quarter competition in the winter league, the baseball team began preparing for its regular season and a chance at the 1975 NAIA District title. All-district performers Pitcher Kerry Morris and First Baseman Dane Ilertsen in addition to returning lettermen Terry Walling, Mike Leffel, Mike McQuilliams, Randy Benefiel, and Pat Herrell, made up the core of the team.

The Crusader Baseball Team achieved an outstanding season as they came away winners of the Southern Division, and broke several P.L.C. records in the process. The team accumulated twenty-three wins over a previous record of twenty. A team batting average of .284 was established, and a season total of thirty-five bases were stolen by Mike Leffel (a second place record on the district). Team totals were led by Dane Ilertson with a batting average of .359 and Kerry Morris with .350. The team showed an impressive position as they entered the 1975 District III Championship playoffs.

Track

Representing Point Loma College in field events, sprints, and distance running was the 1975 track team. The team demonstrated exceptional athletic ability at their first home meet as they came away with a new school record in the pole vault, and several top positions in the remaining events. High hopes were set for some outstanding performances during the remainder of the season.

Under the direction of player-coach Jan Hethcock PLC's first soccer team was formed. For their first year the team did quite well as the PLC defense contended for 1st in the league. The team encountered misfortune when high scorer Gary Gebremedhin broke his leg in their game against Grossmont. With soccer an ever-increasingly popular sport at PLC, the young team showed great promise for the future.

The 1975 tennis team appeared to be the best in recent years. In the past, PLC had been strong in one spot though weak in other areas. This year, we appeared to be strong at each position. The team's schedule was the heaviest in years, with several matches against major universities.

Steve Tennis and Mike Corle gave the Crusaders solid strength at the #1 and #2 positions. Both are veteran players, and in doubles contended for the District title. The remainder of the team was composed primarily of Freshmen, each having an outstanding high school career.

Golf

Exceptional achievement characterized the 1975 Crusader Golf Team. At the Southern California Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, in which they were pitted against such teams as USC and UCLA, PLC placed 16th out of 30 teams. The Crusaders came away with a second place position at the District III Tournament. Greg Brown (second best scorer on the district) and Jim Williams both made the seven man all district team. The Crusaders position at the district tournament awarded them the possibility of participation in the National Tournament at Ft. Worth, Texas. The team coached by Ben Foster was composed of members Tom Alexander, Greg Brown, Bob Corbin, Al Elo, Ken Hodge, Chris Kubiak, Dave Street, Steve Tame, and Jim Williams.

Intramurals

Intramurals boasted a full schedule this year as many students became involved in the activities provided. Football for both men and women opened the year with basketball and baseball played later in the season.

Board of Directors Stimulate New Ideas

The ASPLC Board of Directors were instrumental in the formation of the Faculty Review Committee. The committee's function was student review of faculty members and was both lauded and criticized for its existence and function. Other innovations included the ASPLC Activity Hour, featured every Thursday with top entertainment performers and political and social speakers. This year's board was also responsible for the completion of the chapel move from the Pasadena campus. Student, faculty and community interest was revived with fundraising. The Christian Resource Center, a facility for students containing religious books and media was established through the Director of Spiritual Life. Further efforts were directed toward interest and membership in a student lobby active in the Sacramento legislature.

ASPLC Committees Provided Campus Leadership

The ASPLC committees provided the leadership for many campus activities and enabled the smooth function of student government. The Board of Review acted in a judiciary capacity concerning school regulations and matter of conduct in behalf of the students. One of the most active committees on campus was the Spiritual Life Committee and its affiliate the Coffee House Staff. Some of the programs included World Impact, which provided student participation in community outreach, Bible Studies and the New Life Lecture Series. Working through the Coffee House Staff, a Christian Resource Center was organized as was the initiation of Springboard a religious newsletter. Other programs were the Evangelistic Crusaders and Missions in Action. During the Spring Quarter mini-courses were offered as enrichment seminars for students with cooperation by the Religion Department. A new committee joining the others was the Faculty Review Committee, which was initiated amidst much controversy.

AMS Held Successful Samedi Gras

The Associated Men Students were represented through the efforts of the AMS Council which planned activities throughout the year. Notable among the events they planned was Samedi Gras an all school carnival complete with game booths, balloons and clowns. The festivities provided students the opportunity for an exciting evening and also enabled other clubs on campus to participate in a fund raising capacity. Other events which rounded out the year included a soap bar derby, fishing trips and parties for new students.

AWS Council Promoted Better Relationships

Associated Women Students were represented by a council whose purpose was to provide activities for women students and promote better relations among them. This was achieved with the Big Sister program which helped freshmen and transfer students adjust to a new campus and environment. The recurring sweatshirt sales provided funds for the council to use. Other activities held was the Get-Acquainted Party in October and the year's highlight, the Christmas Banquet. Later, Sadie Hawkins Day encouraged women students to treat the men to a night on the town. The AWS council provided several memorable events which contributed to student life in 1975.

Hard work, fun, deadlines, and laughter characterized the yearbook staff as they combined their energies to put together the 1974-75 Mariner. Experienced and new members contributed fresh ideas to give the book a new outlook.

Some of the duties the staff encountered involved scheduling and re-scheduling of pictures, photography, acquiring advertisements, layouts, copy and much organizational work. Despite the responsibilities involved especially in time spent, the staff was cooperative and worked in a cohesive, united effort. Also a new darkroom assisted in better photography production.

Pointed Issues Characterized Student Paper

Above: Co-editors Donna Baxley and Mike Christensen reviewed articles and copy for an upcoming issue.

The Point staff was characterized by change and controversial subjects. Serving as co-editors during the fall quarter were Donna Baxley and Carol Foster. Foster's resignation at the close of the quarter necessitated the selecting of a new co-editor in the personage of Mike Christensen. Christensen was not the only new addition to the staff for several new writers also joined, with Neal Putnam assuming the position of business manager. The paper covered several important and polemical issues which revived interest and increased readership. The staff not only covered campus news but initiated student investigations and interviews with faculty and administrators. Provocative and seasonal features were also included in each edition. Further, weekly staff meetings contributed to a more cohesive production. The paper served as an open forum for student expression of suggestions and opinions.

ABS Planned Active Year

The Associated Business Students proved to be one of the most active clubs on campus. The club strove to cultivate valuable student-businessman relations by bringing business executives on campus in an atmosphere of sharing. The Speaker's Forum brought some of San Diego's top executives in contact with students on a once a month basis. Later, the Harbor Island Sheraton was the setting of this year's Christian Businessmen Breakfast and attracted many students and local businessmen. The highlight of the year came in April with the Executive Student Dinner. This special event gave members an opportunity to learn various formulas to success. The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program, better known as VITA allowed members of the entire student body to lend the communities' underprivileged a hand in the complexities of tax preparation. These activities provided the ABS a very full and rewarding year.

High Achievers Composed Sigma Phi Mu

Though not an active club, Sigma Phi Mu served as a means of scholastic recognition for academically qualifying students. Membership is open to students who maintain a cumulative grade average of at least 3.3 for their college work. The purpose of the organization is to promote intellectual and scholastic achievement of well-rounded Christian character.

Children Benefited From Kappa Delta Epsilon

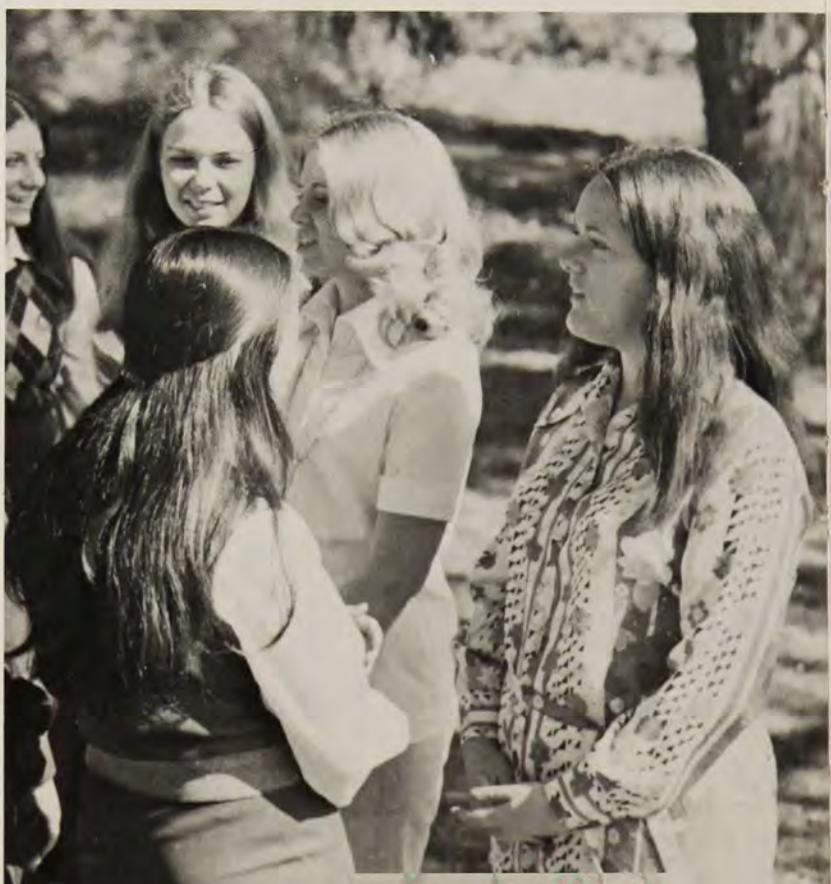

Kappa Delta Epsilon was the PLC affiliate of a national education sorority. The thirty member group held activities that included initiation, mischief, and a get acquainted party for new students. The club participated in Samedi Gras with a fund raising "Ye Old Fashioned Candy Shoppe." Christmas time brought the annual toy drive for disadvantaged children. Other worthwhile events were a library project for an orphanage located in Ensenada and an Easter project related to education.

Circle K Dedicated To Service

Circle K, in their endeavor to be of service, assisted both the college and community. Notable contributions included a drive for blood donors, fund raising for the Multiple Sclerosis Society and the twenty mile Walk for Mankind in which Multiple Dystrophy patients were pushed in wheelchairs the full distance. Highlights on campus included the annual Blue Byou dinner as well as an interesting speaker's forum throughout the year. Circle K members were often called upon to assist in ushering at activities of fund raising events, which caused them to be appreciated for their helpful efforts.

Members of Circle K were: Front row, Ron Berry, David Joe, Jim Rummell, Mark Pitcher, Joe McCoy, Kim Nichols, Jack Rodriguez, Rick Ragle, Jim Seaton. One of the education clubs on campus, Kappa Phi Kappa, did not plan many events geared for other students, but held several meetings throughout the year for their own members.

Those all-campus activities they were involved in included the Fall Buffet Dinner and the Samedi Gras festivities. The remainder of the year saw a lecture forum throughout April on the issue of terrorism in the nation.

The eagerly awaited Donkey Basketball game which pits faculty and administrators against students was also planned for the spring.

Student Teachers Assessed Dismal Job Market

Student California Teachers Association started the year off with a hamburger and hotdog dinner in October to acquaint education students with the club. In November, Ernie McCray the principal of Muir Alternative School spoke at the monthly meeting. The winter quarter found John Stevens, the CTA Student Consultant, speak on relations between students and faculty. Other speakers covered topics such as the prospective teacher's interview and what to expect in the teacher job market. During the spring quarter SCTA held a picnic with a softball game between students and the education faculty and their families.

Student Nurses Sought After Training Experience

In October a potluck dinner was held for all SNAC members and faculty. Later that year in November, a panel discussion for prospective freshman and sophomore nursing majors, enabled them to learn more about the program. A luncheon for the SNAC members and the National League for Nursing accreditation team was featured in January. This activity was extremely important for the accreditation team had requested time to meet with the students and evaluate the programs. Further, making the lecture circuit were Air Force, Navy, and Army nurses and officers who came and spoke on services and programs.

Sigma Delta Chi Was Elite Biology Group

With a goal of encouraging scholarly attainment in the field of biology, Sigma Delta Chi also worked toward improvements in the life sciences curricula and expanded scientific investigation. Membership was restricted by requiring a 2.75 grade average and resulted in a core group of highly motivated and academical students. Different speakers were featured at meetings held each quarter on topics such as creation. The year was culminated with a field trip to Mount Palomar on a weekend in spring.

Gamma Pi Epsilon Encouraged Fellowship

Gamma Pi Epsilon was an association of religion majors and prospective Christian service workers. The club provides fellowship among these students and several activities during the course of the year. Students organized study cells to improve their skills in Greek and Hebrew and became involved in internship programs serving as youth directors at local congregations.

Clio and TTTA Newly Organized

Two newly organized clubs this year were Clio, an organization of political science, prelaw and history majors; and TTTA a Greek anacronym meaning the children of apostles, or in this case missionaries. The purpose of TTTA is to encourage fellowship among members and study foreign mission fields while also representing missions on campus. Clio has scheduled trips to hear Senator Sam Irvin and Senator James Buckley. The opening social to start the quarter was a Steak Fry with other field trips to interact with political speakers scheduled.

Future Homemakers Composed Phi Omicron

Phi Omicron Club was affiliated with the national association of home economics and child development majors. Primary thrusts were in the areas of career and campus service. Funds were collected from the very profitable pizza booth at Samedi Gras. Omicroners also sponsored several open houses and hosted the Homecoming reception for alumni.

Since the inception of the Point Loma Dive Club in 1974, its members have explored the crevices and canyons off shore. Current president, Shirley Joiner, encouraged several dive trips to enable further exploration. Starting with five the club has increased its membership to thirty-five. Out of these members, twenty-five were certified scuba divers. All members enjoyed a discount in diving equipment rental, certification classes, and diving excursions. The explorations sponsored by the club not only yielded abalone and lobster but also knowledge of the San Diego marine life.

We have tried to show in our book the center and most important part of college life, "relationships". I praise and thank the Lord for the experiences we have shared, both in regards to actual production of the Mariner and the friendships we have developed. The 1975 Mariner was certainly a unifying effort with each member of the staff giving of their time and talents, that involved many hours of hard work. I especially thank the staff for their continuous support from beginning to end.

Special thanks to Dale Clifton for the fine management of the Mariner's finances and advertising and for caring enough to be interested in every problem and joy of producing this book.

Thanks to Tim Dabner for his excellent quality of pictures and for the many hours of printing and developing and for seeing that there was coverage of whatever type of picture I needed. Also assisting him in many hours of photography was Dean Helm, Brad Oliver, John Cheng, Karla Ogden, Tim Burton, Dave Adams and thanks also to Mike Banka for his help in the darkroom.

My warmest thanks to Mike Christensen and Frieda Pittam for their love and support during trying times, especially at deadlines.

To Mike for his photography and dependability and for always being willing to take pictures at even a last minute notice and also to work in the darkroom when it was needed, and helping write some of the copy.

To Frieda for helping in mechanical work in almost every section that wasn't much fun but very important. Also for believing in me, giving advice, and giving encouragement whenever it was needed. Also for being an understanding listener.

Thanks to Rick Cole who capably handled the Activities section with the help of Colette Irwin and Sam Fraser, combining their efforts to adequately express the main events of the year, promptly and without much supervision.

Many thanks to Jerry Hablitzel who faced many trials in editing the Faculty and Administration section, yet worked hard in trying to please everyone and had patience when times got hectic. Thanks also to Marcia Simpson for assisting Jerry by typing, writing copy, layouts, etc.

Thanks to Bev Potter who creatively developed the Sports Section with the help of Ruth Dillman and Brad Roberts who are also to be commended. Thanks to Bobbie Sells for heading the Classes section, taking over the job late in the quarter. Also thanks to Denise Householder who edited the Junior section and Donna Sandys on the Freshman section.

Thanks to Calvin Slater and Sue Martin for supervising the Organizations section with a new look by including more candids, making it more appealing. Also to Kim Honda, Mike McCaferty, and Pam Keyes who also worked on the Ad section, for helping on this section.

Thanks to Mike McCaferty for financing and arranging the boat cruise the staff took this year.

Thanks to others who deserve special recognition: Barbara Cypert, Gwen Hay, Wiley Richards, Kathy McManus, Kris Keim, Adam Carrillo, Patti Moore, Lois Roberts, Cindy Crandell, David Alexander and JoAnne McGinty.

Thanks to Robert Flatley for the pictures he provided and for his cooperation throughout the year.

Thanks to Sharon Cypert for helping me to learn about my job before the actual process and planning of the book and for supporting me all the way through. Also for caring enough to come in from out of town to help during the last deadline which was the major one.

Also special thanks to Noel Fitch for her continued faith in me, for her objective advice, and for her friendship and continued interest.

This year has been a mixture of events but most important, it's been a time of sharing, creating and completing what we set out to express, "relationships". As we expressed it we also began to apply it to our own lives and with each other. My job has been one of my most fondest memories and one of which I have learned a lot about myself and how important every effort I make, both in creativity as well as in relationships is for my peaceful existence. I've had a chance to share with my staff and share with you by being editor and for that I'm grateful.
