to our most fashionable jester!

On May 17th, 2025, we the Bettelion gathered some of our members to create a truly authentic Gavis Bettel Experience. A delightful gathering of some of the most memorable characters and moments together in a stylish zine format to express just how much we adore the Jester of Guild Tempus.

We hope this birthday zine has everything one could ask for ... and maybe even a little extra, just for the fun of it!

COMEBACK FROM THE DEAD?

Phantom is that you?! He's back, but is he better than before? Now under a new stage name and moniker 'Grantom', he is setting off in his COMEBACK ERA! Grantom is sure to become Elysium's next top star as he kicks off his own idol career in a brand new, unexpected drop-dead form.

Starting from humble beginnings as a jester's side-show assistant, Phantom now takes the spotlight for himself in a brand new style that is sure to leave his audience speechless, delivering a performance that's absolutely to DIE for!

We reached out to Grantom's team for a taste of what to expect for his comeback, and this is what we received back from his manager!

"Yeah so he doesn't actually speak. I'm not sure what his plans are for this whole K-pop debut thing." - Gavis Bettel

How mysterious! Be sure to tune in to Grantom's debut this summer on August 19th!

Betsy-chan's Beauty Secrets

Ever wonder what the heart-stoppingly cute and beautiful Betsy-chan does to be so show-stoppingly, heart-stoppingly cute and beautiful every day? Well look no further, because we here at Peanut Gallery interviewed him for his beauty secrets! "If you must know," He sighs, boredly filing his nails as he avoids our gaze. SQUEE, so cute!! "First, I prime my face with the tears of all the boys I've rejected." Wow! No wonder he has such smooth, glowing skin! Next, we ask about what kind of makeup products he uses. "Pretty much all the makeup I use I don't even buy myself. People give me gifts and money because I'm just so popular like that." With a super-cute eyeroll and shrug of his shoulders, Betsy-chan has switched to mindlessly texting and scrolling on his phone. Kyaaa, his nonchalant attitude is just so adorable! "Hey, stop ogling me like that! Are we done here, or what?! I'm super busy, so let's wrap it up already!" Ah... with all the excitement about the beautiful Betsy-chan blowing up on them, it seems our Bettelion interviewer has passed out from cuteness overload... Oh well! See you next time!

SKELETON COUNTRY'S GREATEST SHOWMAN!

Come one, come all, and witness the enchanting spectacle that is the Showman and his shows! Hailing from Skeleton Country, a deathly quiet country located along the outskirts of ☹️❖ꦱꦏꦺꦴꦤ꧀ꦠꦺꦴꦫꦺ❖, the Showman is bound to dazzle and delight audiences of any and all ages with his spectacular performances and theatrics!

Prior to the Showman's debut, Skeleton Country was naught but a ghost town, hauntingly and eerily quiet in nature. Yet upon his debut, the Showman breathed newfound life into Skeleton Country, bringing an air of joy and whimsy to the once-desolate community! Now, the Showman prides himself in being the star of the show and the talk of the town, making headlines in local news each and every night and celebrating the great success of his shows. Nightly shows entail incredible thrills and bewitching staging that's sure to send shivers down your spine!

Much like his productions themselves, the Showman stuns all skeletons with his stylistic choices. Donning a dark yet colorful coord adorned with skeletal motifs, Showman puts an avant-garde spin on an elegant, aristocratic look— both a unique departure from and a sweet homage to his traditional onstage attire. His accompanying makeup look only serves to enhance his appearance, with bold black lipstick and tear-streaked eyeliner against green and black eyeshadow, encapsulating the tragicomedy that is the performing arts. Of course, the Showman still sports his signature skeletal half-mask— who would he be without it, after all?

Despite being unable to interview the Showman, the ever-occupied performer claiming he had “no time for such frivolities,” other residents of Skeleton Country were so kind as to share their testimony on the wonders that is the Showman’s staging!

Q1. What is it like bearing witness to perhaps one of the greatest showmen of the century?

A1. “...” - Jericho, Skeleton #1 & Showman Superfan

Q2. Each and every one of the Showman’s acts are chock-full of thrilling splendors and dazzling tricks. What would you say is your favorite so far?

A2. “.....” - Jeremiah, Skeleton #2 & Day One Showman Stan

Q3. Why should people come to see the Showman’s live performances?

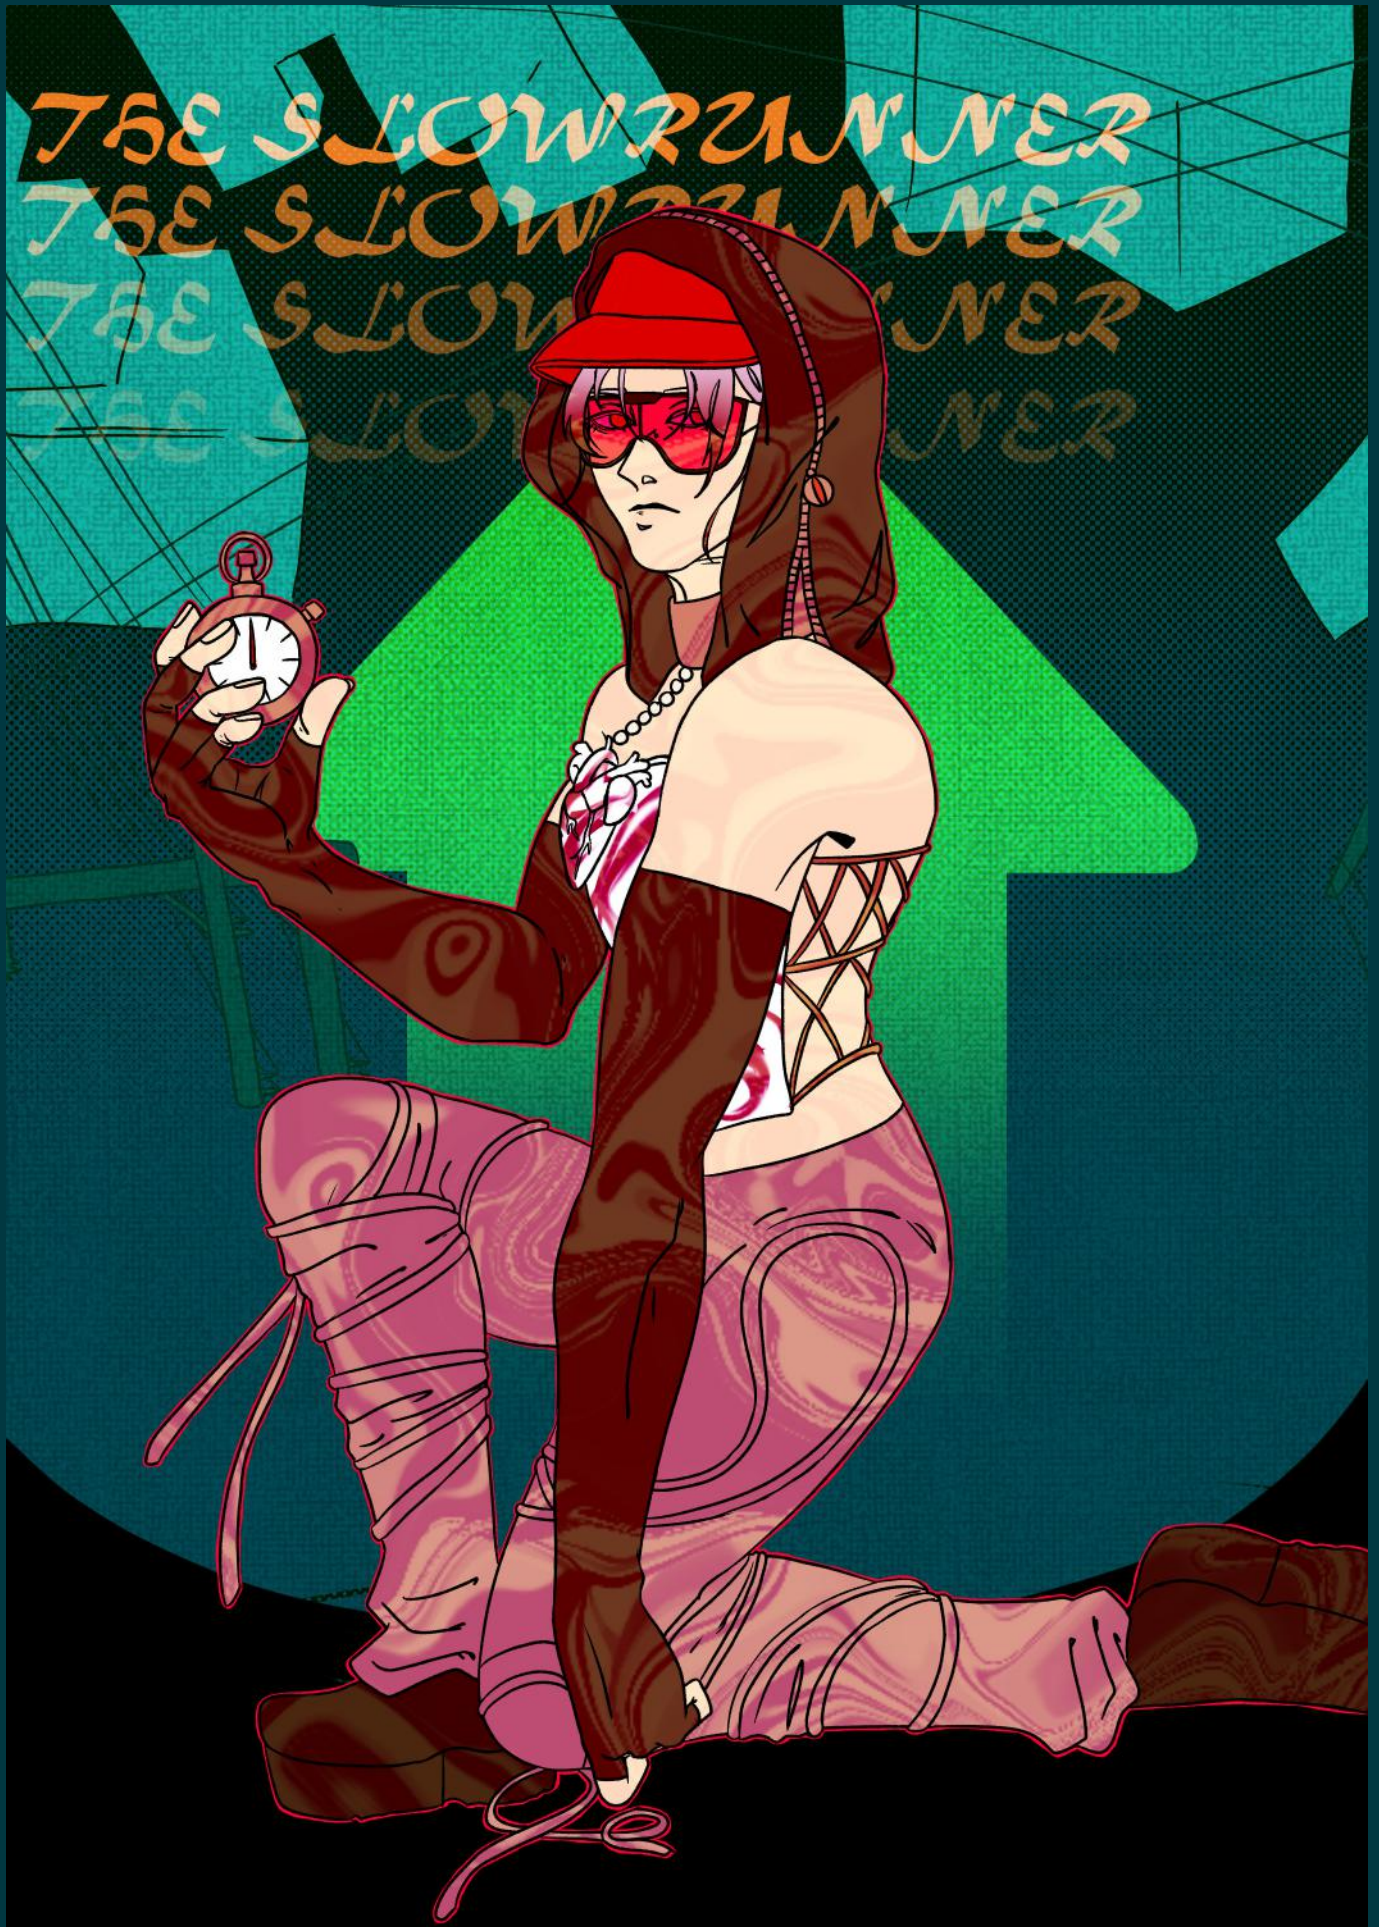

A3. “.....” - Jeff, Skeleton #3 & Showman Junkie

Truly, the Showman leaves each and every adoring fan at a loss for words! All of his performances are must-see experiences to die for!

So come on down to Skeleton Country, hometown of the greatest Showman!

AN ENTHRALLING SHOW
LIKE NO OTHER!

We had the incredible honor of sitting down with Elysium's fastest slowest man

Interviewer: Alright Mr. Slowrunner, how are we tonight?

Slowrunner: Just Slowrunner's fine, I'm doing well, it's a nice reprieve from the whole everything.

Interviewer: How does it feel to break the record once again?

Slowrunner: Oh man, amazing. I can't believe I got a number that high again, it's crazy. Like, wow.

Interviewer: How's the vibe tonight?

Slowrunner: I mean it's busy and all 'cause of the shoot, but it's also slow? Chill? In a way.

Interviewer: Yeah? And can you explain the outfit for this shoot? It's gorgeous.

Slowrunner: Oh, yeah. You got the hood and hat and the glasses and shit. And then this is like. They said it was a bodyplate? And you see there's like a heart on the top, and then these shiny ass pants. They said it was like the Midtown Elysium theme. I don't know, I'm not a fashion guy.

Interviewer: So the stylists were in charge of your look, huh? What were you doing before the shoot?

Slowrunner: I was in a rush. Not literally, but like you know. Having to take up all your time taking forever to get ready is a chore in itself, you know? And I was getting my protein in.

Interviewer: Give him his flowers.

Slowrunner: Yeah, I'm not used to this kind of thing, you know? I'm the Slowrunner, I don't do the modelling thing.

Interviewer: Well, I think you did an amazing job. You were the center of everyone's attention.

Slowrunner: Oh you think so? Were you watching the whole shoot?

Interviewer: Yep, I was.

Slowrunner: Oh, great. Well, I'm glad I didn't disappoint out there. I can't wait to get back home and just rot in bed though. That's my kind of training.

Interviewer: I'm loving the energy. Well, thanks for giving me some of your limited time.

Avast ye! The Gerbil is coming!

With new fashion trends for our little companions popping up almost daily, it's getting harder to make your gerbil stand out in the sea of other adorable pets. But don't let that stop you from giving your baby all the love and attention it deserves – you have just enough time to jump on the latest trend to get ahead in this rat race.

Get ready for the pirate summer! Set your gerbil apart by giving it not only the finest clothes and accessories, but also an identity. Pirate apparel may seem like a bold choice, but also, you're dressing up a gerbil. Have some fun! Live a little!

If your gerbils come in pairs, consider matching looks for both of them. For example, a cute yet menacing shark would complement their pirate buddy perfectly, completing the sea-dweller fantasy and making your gerbil's cuteness shine in contrast with all that edgy, goofy flair.

Gavin

Better

What's better than a God?

Gavin Better, he claims to be the perfect Bettel ever since his debut on January 8th of this year—and he isn't wrong. With his soothing British accent and oh-so-lovely personality, it's hard not to love him! In a way, Better is practically a god with his ethereal looks and his lack of flaws. He's perfect in every way, unlike a certain someone.

Now one of Better's most impeccable traits is his sense of fashion—every day, without a fault, he wears the most perfect, outstanding outfits. Each outfit of his has so much thought into it. Today is no different, he adorns an outfit with his favorite colors: green and yellow. This outfit is just so eye-catching, that green vest that makes his gold-colored suit jacket pop, and to the gloves that just make the outfit feel more elegant. Oh let's not forget that Better's hair is pulled back into a low ponytail! Just everything about this outfit is top-tier and perfect! Just like Better himself.

Gleep Glorp

Captivating the hearts of countless planets, Gleepglorp is a young Gliptonian who wants his song spread across the universe. With his newest album release, "This is Glorp Shit," he rises beyond the stars and captures the top spot in sales charts.

“Thank you for accepting this interview. How is your day?”

“No problem! It’s been busy today, but I’m glad I got to sit down and just chat for a moment.”

“What is a day for you like?”

“I wake up, do some space yoga, have breakfast, vocal and dance lessons, meetings, sneak in a lunch, more lessons, then finally wind down at home with dinner, a shower, and sleep.”

“That sure is busy. How do you handle the workload?”

“It really isn’t that bad! When I think of how hard life must be for the humans of Earth, Their stories inspire me to keep working hard!”

“I’ve heard that your recent album was inspired by humans. Can you tell us more?”

“Hearing about how difficult humans made life for each other, I’m glad we managed to conquer their world. I pity creatures that struggle to fit into their natural place in life and I’m glad we can correct that for them. Their old way of living and current healthier way of life is truly what I wanted to emulate in these songs.”

“I even heard that you have a pet human of your own.”

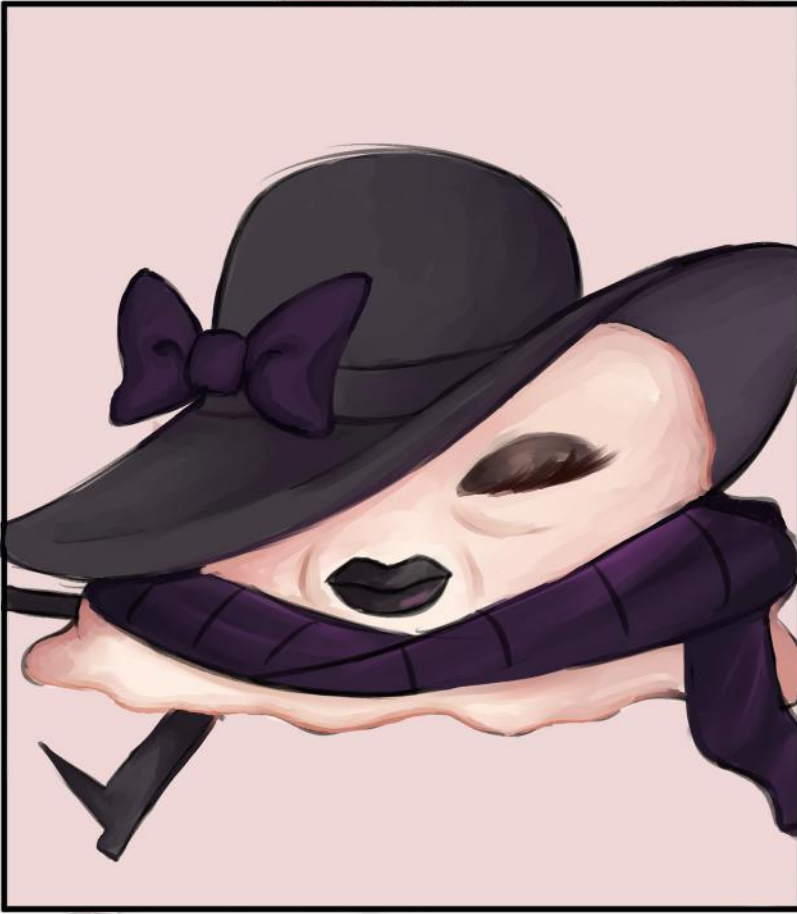

“Yes, Gavis Bettel. His existence is so pathetic, he makes me laugh. Honestly, coming back home to him every day is so relaxing. I’m always excited to see what mess he gets into next.”

“Your fans will love to hear your passion for your art and for humans. Any final words for them?”

“Keep listening and keep being a star wherever you go!”

from Flop to Slop

the Slopman's take on inspiration, judgement, and what it takes to beat the odds

The Slopman, a rising star in the public eye sat down with our interviewer, N, to answer some questions and give some insight into his inspiration for his looks, his beginnings, and how he found himself a trendsetter and fashion icon.

Our reporter started with asking The Slopman "You're already a fashion inspiration to many around the world, but who is it that inspires YOU?"

The Slopman responded with "uuuaghhggh72" which our translators helped relay was his response of "popsicles, wet clay, and the bubonic plague."

With that answer, it really gives insight into The Slopman's own sense of style, outfit building and confidence, much of which has carried over onto his audience, who have dubbed this look "Sloupy."

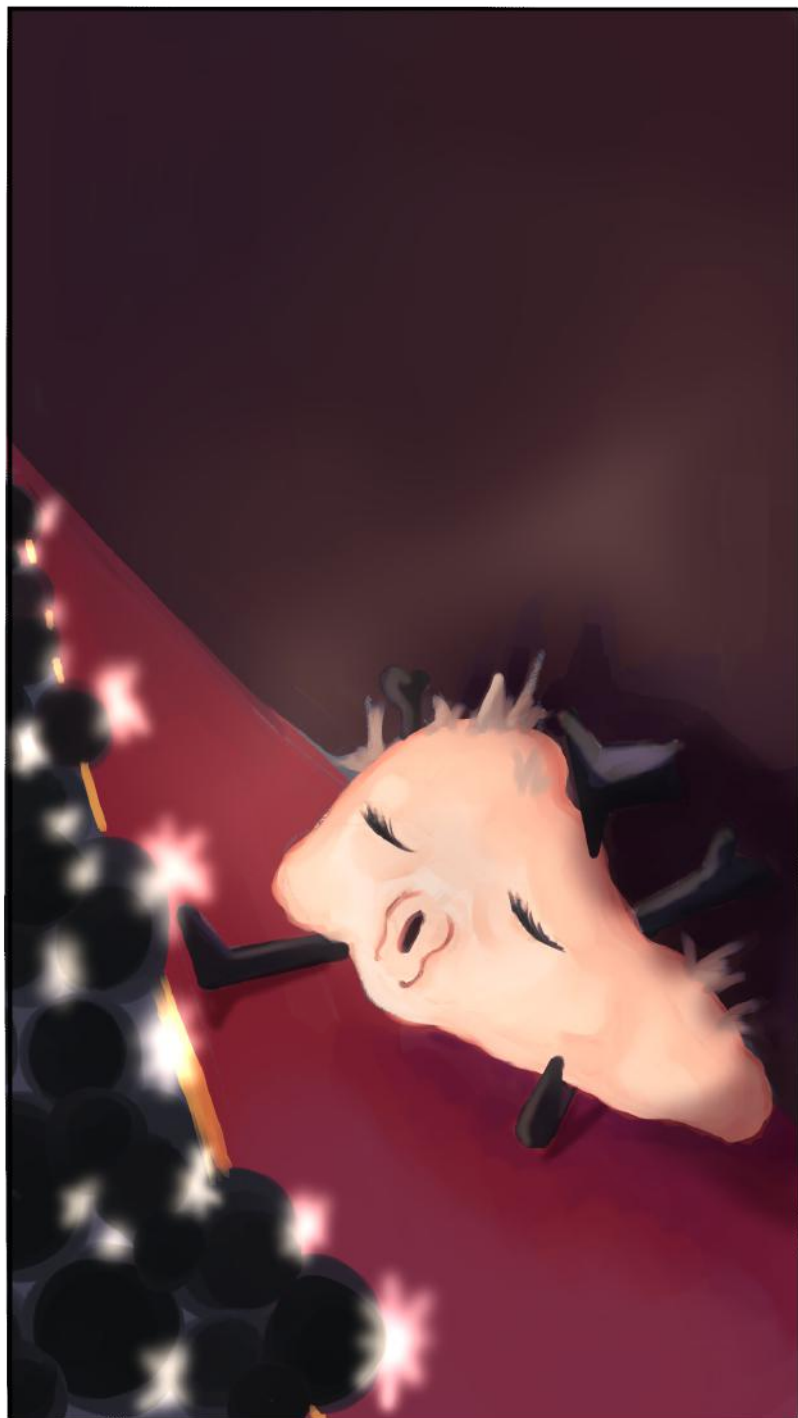

We asked The Slopman if he could provide a comment on what the fashion movement means to him, and how the youth of today refer to this phenomenon as “slopmaxxing.” To this he responded that “It’s a great honor to spread the slop, and see that my slopfidence (slop-confidence) is reaching and empowering others.

From matching his fashion to following his ideals, it seems the youth of today all want to “slopmaxx” this summer.

Our reporters also got to ask The Slopman about his quick and, almost overnight, rise to stardom. The Slopman, who was found after falling out of a trashcan onto the red carpet, had paparazzi pushing against each other and the barriers to get a good shot of this unknown, yet entrancing, new face. His oozing looks and unsettling demeanor captivated those at the event, and those watching live at home.

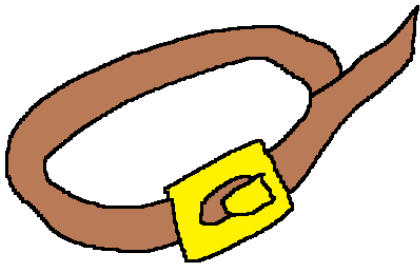

The Slopman said that it was a dream-like experience. An accidental move onto the red carpet had him figuratively, and quite literally, swept into the fashion world. He said he “found himself given all sorts of offers, modeling on magazines, appearing on tv shows and ads, even modeling for the biggest brands on the planet.”

“I try to stay humble” The Slopman tells us. “To those that look up to me, I leave you with this message. Oouuahg tth kirk 7.”

slopmaxxing & slopfidence

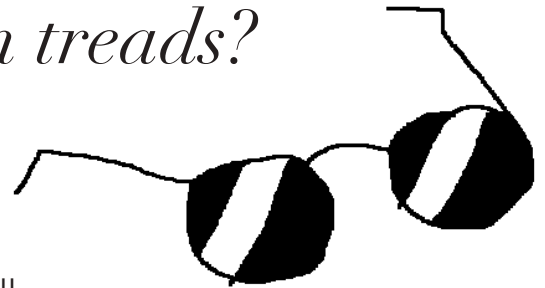

Vesper's Secret is getting a head start with the upcoming fashion season. The runway (and author) only has eyes for one model 'walking' down the catwalk.

The sounds of gears and machinery fill the silence of the room as Snank struts with an MTU MB 873 Ka-501 liquid-cooled V12 twin-turbo diesel engine with 1,100kW of raw power.

Who knew someone could move so perfectly on treads?

As the audience admires his form, they look up at his 3rd generation composite high-hardness steel tungsten and plastic filler with ceramic component armor. As the music simmers down, Snank readies his rheinmetall Rh-120 120mm smoothbore gun. Machinery whirrs to life as he aims for the sky and fires.

The deafening bang hits the crowd first as the impact of his tank shot hits the ceiling above second. The aftershock vibrates through the crowd and venue and the giant hole in the ceiling causes instability in the structure. He rolls back down the catwalk one final time before the building starts to collapse and attendees are ushered outside.

In the end, 46 attendees were rushed to the hospital with various injuries. The author, however, was left with a memory that she'll never forget.

Hey you! Are you single? Are you afraid you're going to die alone and fade into the dark endless abyss where nobody will remember you albeit your mistakes and failures? Do you like long walks on the beach? Well, good news! Even though Valentine's Day is long past, the season for finding love has no deadline!

Meet Johnson the Cat! He's the hottest thing to hit the streets since Monkey EDM! Those who meet him all agree that he's a perfect gentleman, certainly the cat's meow! Just one date and he will have you feline like royalty. If that wasn't enough to entice you, we have a short interview we'd like to share. His way with words left us pawisitively enamoured!

Q: Thank you so much for your time Johnson! Well, let's get right into it shall we? What kind of traits do you value in a potential partner?

Johnson: "Meow meow meow nya nay, nyaaan meow mrow nya."
(started cleaning himself)

Q: Ah, I see! Next, What does a typical day-off consist of for you these days?

Johnson: "Mmmmmrow meow meow. Meow nya nya, nyan nyan meow!"

Q: Oh how lovely! Now our last question, What would your ideal first date look like?

Johnson: (got distracted by a bird flying overhead) "Meow....Nya!"

BUT

Sir Bettolomew,

a self-proclaimed modern-day royal of no clear origin or clear anything, has recently entered the fashion scene to further promote his puzzle agenda. It may be too early to tell if this was a successful move, but it is certainly a daring one.

Tell us, how did this puzzle obsession start?

Horrible, incurable boredom. Imagine doing nothing but spending your time in a luxurious mansion, throwing around money and your loyal servants without a worry in the world. That's no way to live, is it? But then one day, I saw some idiot struggle with the easiest of puzzles in a video game—a sliding puzzle, I think he called it—and watching him needlessly suffer has brought me the utmost joy. That's where it all started.

I can't help but notice that you don't sound too sure about the type of puzzle you saw. As a puzzle fanatic, one would expect you to know everything about them.

I'm more of a puzzle appreciator than a puzzle... practitioner. I do not create puzzles, nor do I solve them. My role is simply to watch the fools struggle and to find new, ingenious ways to incorporate puzzles to make them struggle even more. And that now includes fashion.

Speaking of, while you look absolutely gorgeous—Certainly.

—are you not inconveniencing yourself as well? Especially given that you don't solve puzzles, does that mean you could be potentially stuck in one outfit forever?

No, I'm inconveniencing my servants, you buffoon. I get the joy of watching them struggle even with the most mundane task of dressing moi, and if they fail to do that, well. That's what the Ant Pit is for.

The “Ant Pit”?

But there's some truth to your words, though I loathe to admit it. I am currently stuck in this particular outfit, as none of my useless servants have managed to free me yet. And while I may've been forced to bathe in my clothes for about a week now, and the number of my servants has been depleting rapidly... I have to say, I'm enjoying myself immensely.

But Sir, why?
I love puzzle.

Nothing Hits
Quite Like
Betsy-Chan's
Newest Purse

This season is one of terrors for all, but Betsy-Chan is unphased through it all. The model is experiencing Elysium's changes, with all the rain, shade, and monster guts with it, and adjusting her fashion to the current trends along with the dreadful weather conditions.

Somehow, she has managed to balance gracefulness with practicality with the staples that she has been seen strutting down the carpet in, such as her beloved white high-low dress, while welcoming new additions to her wardrobe such as the custom fur lined long coat. She's also remained an icon in the high heels that has us all racing to break our own ankles.

However, the newest talk of Betsy-Chan's look is the white handbag she carries around, which she has proved to us in the past has been a huge passion of hers. Previously, she has been seen carrying around a pink, bedazzled clutch bag while attending the premiere for her Gavin Bett'ol's newest movie, designed back in [redacted], made, of course, custom for the model. She's especially keen on wear that is shiny and sparkly, and has been spotted stepping out during her steak dinner to take a phone call with a stunning white baguette purse that only makes the rest of her fit pop out splendidly.

In this outfit she's been asked to recreate the viral photo, Betsy-Chan stuns crowds in Elysium once more, and she's wearing the big hitters for this year both on and off the runway, thanks to her own influence in the fashion world, with a stunning pair of teal heels that are the perfect amount of sleek without it looking too out of place, her beloved dress and coat combo, and of course, the bag everyone's been talking about. As expected, Betsy-Chan is ahead of the curve and ready to become a trendsetter once more.

With Gavin Bett'ol

We sat down with 'renowned' film director Gavin Bett'ol, best known for his work on Rise of the Planet of the Snake, Dawn of the Planet of the Snake, War for the Planet of the Snake, and Citizen Kane 2, to discuss his everyday wardrobe.

Final Curtain

"Final Curtain" is a new cologne meant to capture the essence of a bright show marquee at midnight. Its complex and alluring fragrance takes advantage of the romantic scent of rose, and accentuates it with spicy cardamom, cinnamon, and artemisia giving it a masculine and warm image without being overpowering.

THE REAL GENTLEMAN

Elegant, suave, dignified, refined— such words and more are not nearly enough to describe the wonder of a man that is Gavin Better. Utterly perfect in every dimension, Gavin Better is a god amongst humans: it's as plain as day and as sure as the sun, given his dazzling splendor and radiance! Rather than being disgustingly pathetic and miserable, Gavin Better is a paragon, so much so that he simply compels anyone and everyone to throw roses out of love for him!

Even his fashion sense carries an air of distinction to it: fitted with a bespoke three-piece suit, Better accentuates his sophistication with a look that is almost as opulent as he. Pink and purple accenting black and white only further emphasizes his tasteful dress, such colors working in perfect harmony together and creating a subtly eye-catching look: one not so gaudy he'd stick out like a sore thumb, but rather one that is sure to turn the heads of each and every person who lays eyes upon him.

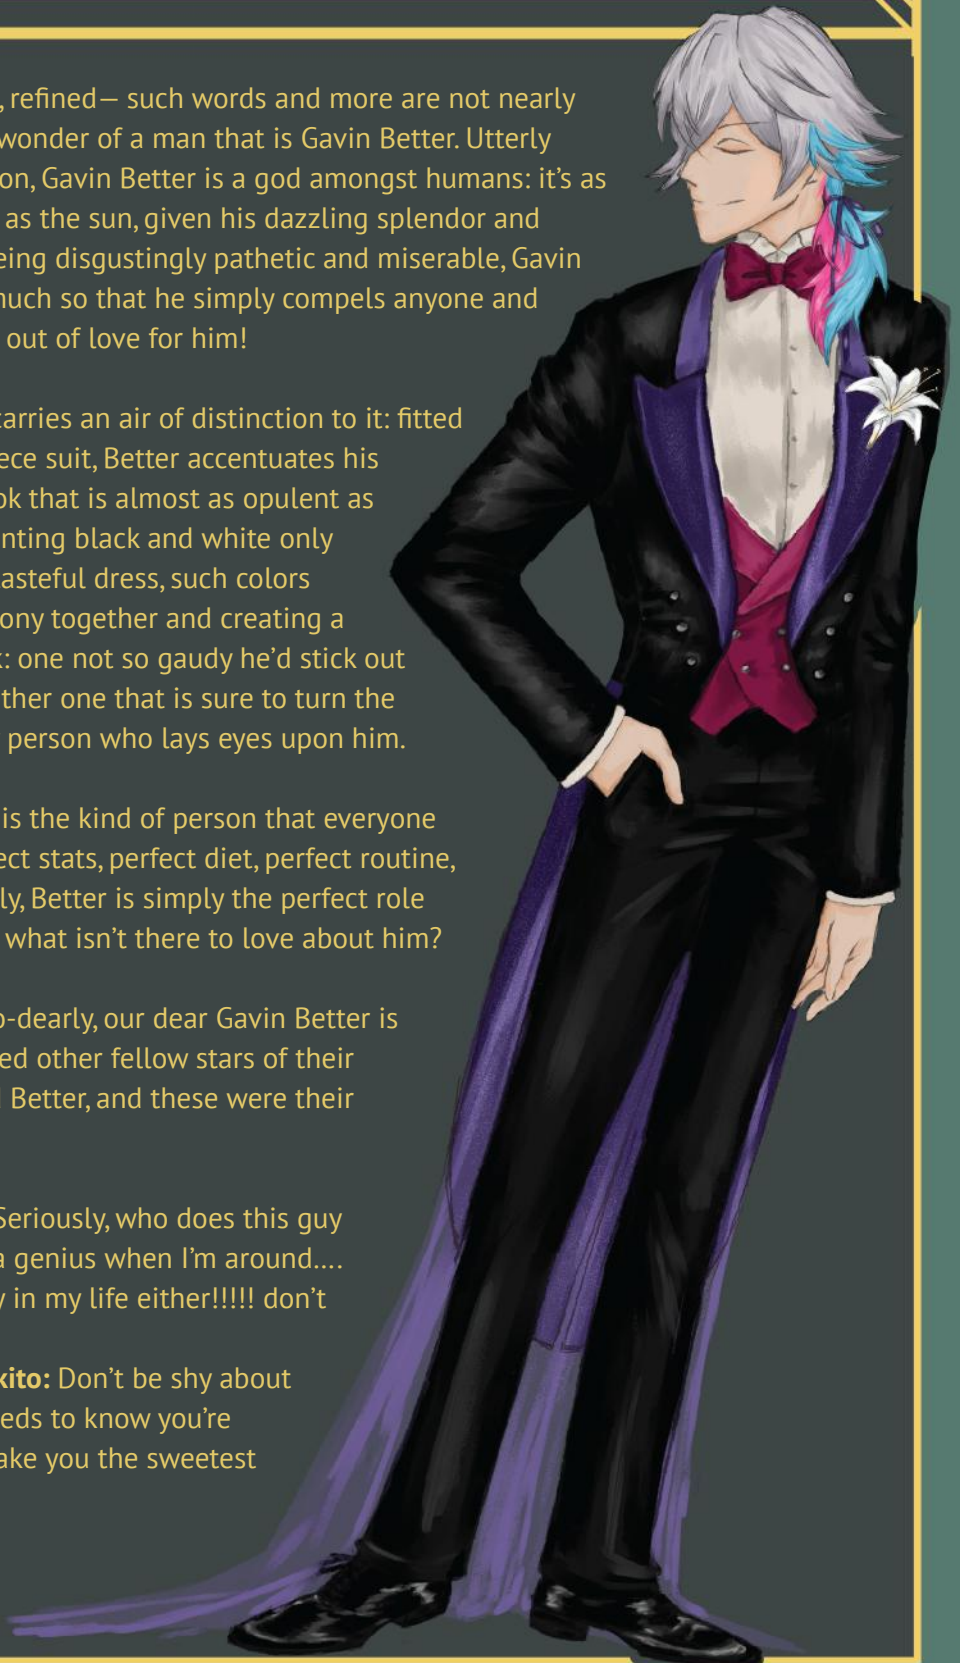

Ultimately, Gavin Better is the kind of person that everyone should strive to be. Perfect stats, perfect diet, perfect routine, perfect personality— truly, Better is simply the perfect role model to have! After all, what isn't there to love about him?

Just as he loves us oh-so-dearly, our dear Gavin Better is loved by all, too! We asked other fellow stars of their opinions on our beloved Better, and these were their responses:

Machina Flayon: ...???? Seriously, who does this guy think he is. no way he's a genius when I'm around.... I've never met him a day in my life either!!!! don't waste my time!!!!

Hakka, host of Club Hakkito: Don't be shy about dropping by~ No one needs to know you're drinking here, and I'll make you the sweetest drink in the bar ♡

from day to night, a look the count's shifting wardrobe

For Count Bettula, his busy week starts off with a strut down the runway in Elysium's most elegant venue. Bettula has become known for his vampiric looks both on and off the runway. Our reporter, sitting in the audience, notes how Bettula's outfit is a pristine white and gold, yet it's unmistakably gothic, with the layers of ruffles and high collar, the outfit is almost swallowed by the sweeping cape behind him. Bettula is paired with multiple different outfits throughout his day on the runway

To celebrate the launch of such a lavish fashion collection, Count Bettula attends the opulent after party where he socializes, dramatically walks into rooms, and looms eerily in the corner. Day or night, he does not shy away from being the most dramatic presence in the room. Dressed simpler than his earlier runway look, the Count is wearing one of his timeless classics, a simple vest with a ruffled shirt, and long thigh-high heeled boots, his cape is less full but still equally as dramatic. His most eye-catching piece however, is the large top hat he was not seen the night without. With a ribbon tied around the middle and a pair of faux wings sticking out from the mentioned ribbon, it was no surprise The Count was the most sought after conversation partner

Once the count returns home to his manor, with the blasting light of spotlights turned off and the shining remains of glitter washed away, does the day truly come to a close. Greeted by his "dog" Phantom, gazing at him from where he somehow managed to turn on the tv by himself on the couch, does Bettula's shoulders lose their tension. It's within the confines of his home that the count sheds his party attire, flinging one of his many capes onto a pile in the corner, and dresses like he's never seen the sun before, wearing an old t-shirt that's long since faded, and underwear with the face of his beloved "dog" Phantom stretched across the fabric.
