CHAPTER 2

Halal Food in Tainan

“O Allah, suffice me with Your lawful against Your prohibited, and make me independent of all those besides You (Allāhummakfinī biḥalālīka `an ḥarāmīka, wa aghninī bi faḍlīka `amman siwāka” [Tirmidzi no. 3563 and Ahmad 1: 153]

➔ WHAT IS HALAL FOOD?

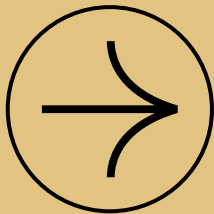

The criteria for halal food and drinks in Islam are divided into three main categories:

1. Halal in essence (Lidzatihi): The ingredients must come from lawful sources, such as permissible animals or plants.
2. Halal in acquisition (Lighairihi): The method of acquiring the food must be ethical, not involving theft, fraud, or exploitation.
3. Halal in processing: The food must be prepared and processed using halal equipment, avoiding contamination with haram substances like alcohol or pork.

Muslims around the world practice the religion of Islam, which includes observing dietary laws derived from Islamic teachings. Islamic dietary laws define foods that are Halal (lawful or permitted) and those that are Haram (not permitted). While many foods are clearly categorized as either Halal or Haram, some can be difficult to classify due to their ingredients. It's important to check for Halal certification or read food labels carefully when purchasing products, as manufacturers may change ingredients without notice.

For meat and poultry to be considered Halal, they must be slaughtered according to Islamic dietary laws (Zabihah). It's also encouraged to serve appropriate vegetarian or plant-based foods. However, considering the possibility of contamination in factories, it's better to consume products that are clearly labeled as Halal instead of those labeled as "Muslim friendly". It's also important to note that vegetarian products are not always "Muslim-friendly". Additionally, the status of certain items, such as those derived from fermentation processes like vinegar or soy sauce, may differ in terms of Halal and Haram rulings in different countries.

WHY WE EAT

HALAL?

THE IMPACT OF HALAL FOOD ON ANSWERING PRAYER

O people, Allah is Good and He therefore, accepts only that which is good. And Allah commanded the believers as He commanded the Messengers by saying: "O Messengers, eat of the good things, and do good deeds; verily I am aware of what you do". And He said: "O those who believe, eat of the good things that We gave you" (ii. 172). He then made a mention of a person who travels widely, his hair disheveled and covered with dust. He lifts his hand towards the sky (and thus makes the supplication): "O Lord, O Lord," whereas his diet is unlawful, his drink is unlawful, and his clothes are unlawful and his nourishment is unlawful. How can then his supplication be accepted? [Sahih Muslim 1015]

HALAL
CONSUMPTION AND
OUR SPIRITUAL HEALTH

O messengers! Eat from what is good and lawful, and act righteously. Indeed, I fully know what you do. [QS. Al Mu'minun: 51]

HALAL FOOD CAN
PREVENT AND CURE DISEASES

Give women 'you wed' their due dowries graciously. But if they waive some of it willingly, then you may enjoy it freely with a clear conscience. [An Nisa': 4]

O humanity! Eat from what is lawful and good on the earth and do not follow Satan's footsteps. He is truly your sworn enemy.
(QS. Al-Baqarah:168)

MSA Activities & LINE Groups

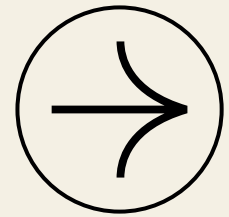

The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said, "Do not envy one another, and do not inflate prices for one another, and do not hate one another, and do not turn away from one another, and do not undercut one another in trade, but [rather] be slaves of Allah and brothers [amongst yourselves]."

A Muslim is the brother of a Muslim: he does not oppress him, nor does he fail him, nor does he lie to him, nor does he hold him in contempt. Taqwa (piety) is right here [and he pointed to his chest three times]. It is evil enough for a man to hold his brother Muslim in contempt. The whole of a Muslim is inviolable for another Muslim: his blood, his property, and his honour."
