The manufacturers of Fungus Elixir created the product in accordance with a "holy recipe" from the realm of natural medicine. According to the company, anybody may now use this mixture to remove foot and toenail fungus "forever."

Fungus Elixir is offered only via FungusElixir.com and costs between $49 and $69 each bottle. Included with qualifying orders are three additional eBooks, free delivery, and other benefits.

How does the Fungus Elixir function?

Fungus Elixir is a combination of 25 substances that attack foot and toenail fungus in various ways. Included among the components are vitamins, minerals, herbs, and plants. Other additives include extracts of superfood fruits and vegetables, spices, amino acids, and mushroom extracts.

By taking two capsules of Fungus Elixir, you may allegedly benefit from a "holy recipe that eradicates it forever," therefore eliminating your toenail fungus permanently.

The majority of the components in Fungus Elixir address underlying causes of toenail fungus, such as immunological dysfunction and inflammation. Fungus Elixir promises to eliminate even the most severe toenail fungus infections by attacking the underlying causes of illness — without the side effects or expense of conventional toenail fungus treatments.

Fungus Elixir Ingredients

The Fungus Elixir was formulated using five substances advised by a Japanese physician. This Japanese doctor advised Karen to consume a five-ingredient tea to eliminate her toenail infection.

Karen and her colleagues added three more Japanese-inspired components to the anti-fungal recipe to improve its efficacy. These three additional components are shiitake, reishi, and maitake mushroom extracts, which are described as a "fungal nuking trifecta" that starves the infection to death.

Here are some of the most essential elements and how they operate in Fungus Elixir:

Mushroom Extracts: Maitake, Shiitake, and Reishi mushroom extracts are included in Fungus Elixir. These mushroom extracts possess antifungal effects. They starve the illness by absorbing sugar entering the body, draining it out before it may do more damage to your health. Fungus Elixir also includes beta glucans, which are active substances found in various kinds of mushrooms that are associated with health and wellbeing. In a research referenced by Karen Holly, the same trio of mushroom extracts was demonstrated to boost the immune system.

Fungus Elixir includes vitamins C and E, two of nature's most effective antioxidants. These antioxidants promote a healthy inflammatory response across the whole body. These vitamins are abundant in fruits and vegetables, which is one reason why diets high in fruits and vegetables are so popular. Each serving of Fungus Elixir provides 50% of the daily value for vitamin C and 100% of the daily value for vitamin E.

Graviola Leaf Powder: By weight, the most abundant component in Fungus Elixir is graviola leaf powder. Graviola, which has been used in traditional medicine for generations, is recognized for being high in antioxidants, which may improve immunity and detoxification.

Fungus Elixir includes raspberry fruit powder, which is abundant in vitamin C and other natural antioxidants. You might consume daily handfuls of raspberries. Alternatively, you might consume a single dose of Fungus Elixir.

Green Tea: Green tea is one of the most popular drinks in the world, and many individuals use it everyday due to its positive benefits on health, inflammation, and immunity. As one of the most abundant components of Fungus Elixir, green tea extract may provide your body with the anti-inflammatory benefits required to promote health and wellness.

In the last decade, turmeric has gained popularity for its positive impacts on health and wellbeing. Curcumin, an active molecule found in turmeric, has antitoxin and anti-inflammatory properties. The Fungus Elixir includes 100mg of turmeric rhizome powder per dose.

Fungus Elixir also includes minor amounts of grape seed extract, pine bark, quercetin, lycopene, garlic, cat's claw bark powder, beta glucans, arabinogalactan, olive leaf extract, and other plants, herbs, and spices.

Fungus Elixir vs Prescription Medications and Physician-Recommended Treatments

The manufacturers of Fungus Elixir market the supplement as an alternative to anti-fungal medications, physician-recommended therapy, and prescription pharmaceuticals.

Doctors may offer prescription medications, surgical procedures, and other treatments for foot fungus. Alternatively, the manufacturers of Fungus Elixir assert that a single dietary supplement is adequate for permanently eliminating an infection.

According to the company, Fungus Elixir provides the following benefits over standard treatments for toenail fungus:

You must treat toenail fungus, regardless of whether you choose for Fungus Elixir or physician-recommended remedies. It does not go away on its own, and it may progress to life-threatening septicemia if it penetrates the body over time.

According to the creators of Fungus Elixir, standard toenail fungus treatment will cost $1,800.

The manufacturers of Fungus Elixir also seem to discourage the use of traditional toenail medications such as Lamisil or Sporanox since "your liver, kidneys, and heart will pay the ultimate price" owing to the negative effects of these medications.

The adverse effects of toenail medication According to the manufacturers of Fungus Elixir, a fungal infection "can keep you in a hospital bed for months and cost you tens of thousands of dollars to manage," and these expenses may not be reimbursed by insurance.

Drugs for toenail fungus do not protect against subsequent outbreaks.

According to the maker, Fungus Elixir is "100% natural and safe to use" and will save you money, time, health, and immunity by functioning as a natural toenail fungus treatment.

The manufacturers of Fungus Elixir tend to promote their solution above doctor-recommended and doctor-prescribed treatments for toenail fungus for all of these reasons.
