The Great Debate

AI's place in the Art World.

"The Great Debate" is a collection which sets out to openly discuss the intensifying and ongoing debate over the validity of AI generated imagery in the art scene, it's place in art culture and its potential impact on other forms of artistic medium and expression.

What is art? Does the method of its creation affect the way it resonates with an audience, and should that matter if it connects with someone?

With poetry and literature considered fine contributors to the arts, surely a passage or text string used to create vivid landscapes or larger than life creatures is in itself, an artistic, poetic endeavour?

SPOTLIGHT

"AI//ART?"

What is the true "art" of AI image generation? Is it the fantastical end result, or is it the artist's own magic words planting the seeds for creation?

From Painter to Playwright, Artist to Author...

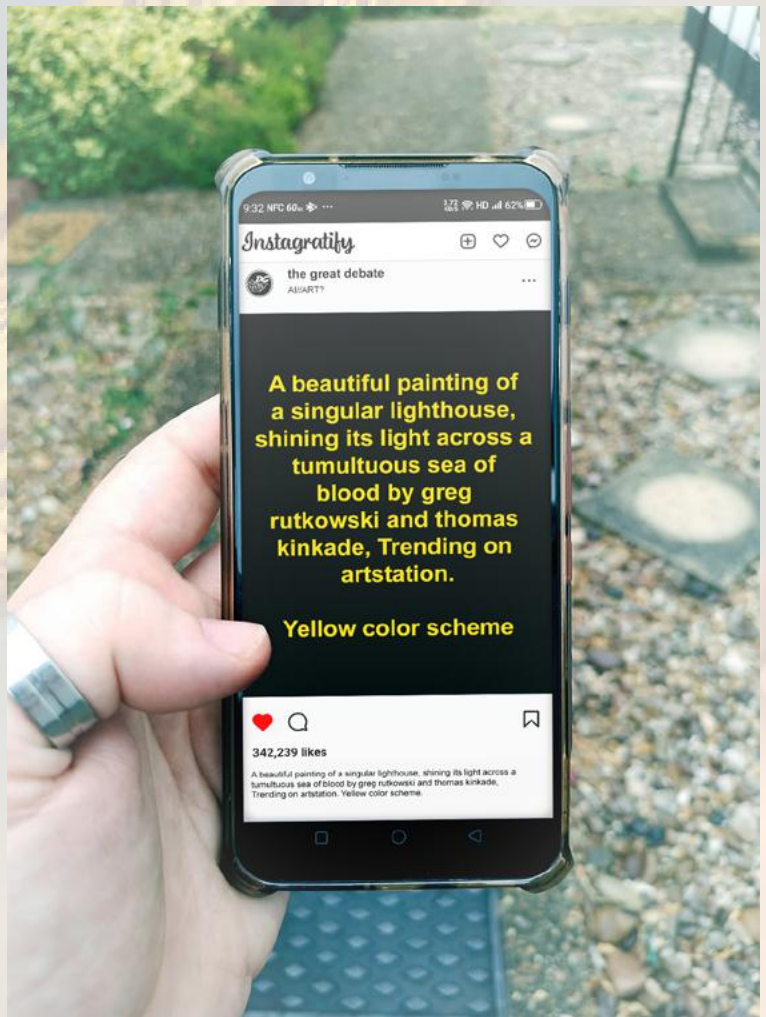

With the rapid rise and evolution of generative adversarial networks, are we truly entering a new phase of art and design?

The level of detail & realism of AI-generated work that advanced systems like DALL-E 2, Midjourney and Stable Diffusion are capable of achieving is truly awe-inspiring. The expanse of artistic expression is determined by the level of the creator's imagination, and the silver tongue of their prompts.

Whilst it may divide the room, AI art provides an avenue & opportunity for creators to realise their artistic endeavours without the walled boundaries and limitations of more established, traditional media.
