Inside this Issue:

A new year has begun for the Virginia Society.

To kick off this year's edition of the Voice of Virginia, our editors have mastered the skill of time-turning and are taking you back to March and the grand finale to the Spies of the Revolution administration. This issue will also feature Virginia members and their experience at National Convention in Washington, D.C. in April. As we continue to turn the pages through Spring, you'll find fantastic reports from members across the Commonwealth who participated in wreath layings, held installation ceremonies for society officers, and hit the ground running with society outings and programs. This issue will also introduce you to the State and National Projects, as well as a few of your new State Officers.

REVOLUTIONARY VALOR

State President's Messsage

Hello VSCAR!

It is such an honor to serve as your 2025-2026 Virginia State President and I am so excited for the year ahead as we learn about The Diplomatic World of James Madison. This year we are focusing on how two men worked together and used diplomacy to unite countries. James Madison and the Marquis de Lafayette, both natural diplomats, used Spanish influence and each other's wisdom to save the American economy from crashing in the 1800s. Their friendship was and is a wonderful example of respecting others and setting aside differences to change society for the better.

This year we are partnering with James Madison's Montpelier to help renovate and restore two cottages in Constitutional Village. We will also be partnering with The Lafayette Trail to help lay a plaque along Lafayette's Farewell Tour route in Yorktown. Additionally, we will be helping with the filming and production of an historic video.

Thank you all for the opportunity to serve as your president. I'm so excited for what this year has to offer as we step into the Wizarding World!

Virginia State Confernce

V.S.C.A.R.'s annual State Conference is a great opportunity to meet fellow C.A.R. members.Between the business meetings, the service projects, the fun activities, and the banquet on the last night, everyone gets a chance to meet one another. It's hard to pick a favorite part of the conference because there are so many different aspects to it. During the business meetings, the incoming officers get to show the members how they qualify for the position they are running for as they all vote. There are also speeches from various society presidents and chairman, to show how hard they worked to make each year a great one for their society.

In the afternoon on the second day, there is also a service project or a presentation that occurs. That night, the president hosts a banquet with delicious food, various gift presentations, and occasionally a guest speaker or two that represents the state project.Last year, the guest speaker was James Armestead Lafayette himself, to represent the project "001776: Spies of the American Revolution". Following the banquet, the members get a chance to show off their amazing dance moves at the dance party. The next morning on the very last day, there is a memorial service and sometimes a lunch that follows. The State Conference is a great way to spend your weekend with your C.A.R. friends and family, and get recognition for the hard work each member does throughout the whole year.

2025-2026 State Project

This year Virginia is hosting a Triwizard Tournament. Our three "schools" are France, America, and Spain. Throughout the year we will be focusing on how all three countries helped each other, especially economically, and two key figures who spearheaded the country's progress. James Madison and the Marquis de Lafayette both were natural diplomats and worked together to change France and America's economies.

They were able to turn around their economies by using Spanish influences. This year, Virginia will be partnering with James Madison's Montpelier. We will be raising money to help renovate and refurbish two houses in Constitutional Village. We will also be partnering with The Lafayette Trail. All donations will go toward placing a plaque in Yorktown, which is along Lafayette's Farewell Tour, and also help fund the creation of a historic, informational video.

National Convention

National Conference Review
By Drew Wajciechowski, V.S.C.A.R. 2nd VP

National Conference was a very fun experience, and I learned a lot in supporting Emerson's National project, "Courage, Service, Honor" and the organization Tunnels to Towers. Starting off the weekend, on Friday morning where I, as National Chairman of the Tomb of the Unknown American Revolutionary War Soldier, and Sarah Terpenning, then Virginia State President, had the honor of placing a wreath at the Tomb at the Old Presbyterian Meeting House in Alexandria. On Friday Night after the meeting, I had a very fun time at the Candidates' party meeting new people and seeing old friends. On Saturday, it was interesting to hear the state president's projects and on Saturday Night, I was excited to play for the C.A.R. Fife and Drum Corps at the banquet. As per usual, we took the Virginia Photo on the steps at the Renaissance Capitol View Hotel, attached. Overall, it was a very fun experience that taught me more about history, as well as giving the opportunity of making new friends from different states.

2025-2026 National Project

Each year, the National President creates a National Project and Theme in support of educational programs. Led by the National President and Senior National President, the National Officers, State Presidents, and National Chairmen promote the project and theme throughout the country.

This year, the National Project will support the Dr. Joseph Warren Foundation (DJWF). The DJWF is a 501 (c)(3) organization dedicated to honoring and celebrating the legacy of 'America's Founding Martyr', Dr. Joseph Warren. Funds raised from the National Project will go to support the creation of a Dr. Joseph Warren Documentary film, highlighting and honoring his sacrifices and contributions during the beginning of the American Revolutionary War This year, the National Project will support the Dr. Joseph Warren Foundation (DJWF). Funds raised from the National Project will go to support the creation of a Dr. Joseph Warren Documentary film, highlighting and honoring his sacrifices and contributions during the beginning of the American Revolutionary War.

Dr. Joseph Warren exemplifies values of respect, service and, integrity and a commitment to freedom – values we strive to embody every day in C.A.R.! This project allows N.S.C.A.R. to engage with an essential chapter of our nation's history as we celebrate its active 250th anniversary celebrations.

Around the Commonwealth

On April 19, State Registrar William M. marched with the Colonial Williamsburg Fifes & Drums Sr Corps at both of the 250th Lexington & Concord parades. Around 6 miles all together. Being a few spots back from the front, he got to enjoy the ceremony and battery salutes at Minuteman Park. It was an awesome experience. He then rushed back home to Williamsburg where he was able to join his sister, Evangeline M (George Wythe Society Secretary), and the Colonial Williamsburg Fifes & Drums Jr Corps on April 21, where he participated in the Colonial Williamsburg 250th Gunpowder Incident Performance. (see below)

(Right) In April, V.S.C.A.R. was thrilled to be a part of the 250th anniversary and commemoration of the Gunpowder Incident, a conflict early in the American Revolutionary War between Lord Dunmore, the Royal Governor of the Colony of Virginia, and militia led by Patrick Henry.

The NSSAR, NSDAR, Signers of the Declaration, Order of Founders and Patriots of America, and VSCAR officers (William M. & Jocelynn W.) joined together in Colonial Williamsburg this past weekend, inspiring a sense of community and patriotism

Moore House Society members Lauren (Vice President) and Megan (Chaplain) delivered a basket of coffee, goodies, thank you cards/coloring sheets and toy firetrucks to the Newport News Fire station on April 28. Moore House chose this location because a former member now serves there.
The members chose this project for the national April CAR Day of Service in keeping with the 2024-2025 National Project

Moore House spent the month of April coloring, writing cards, collecting coffee donations, shopping for snacks and eventually met in Yorktown to put it all together and enjoy some fellowship and friendship.

(Below)Reverend John Marks Society and Providence Society joined in the excitement of the Stars and Stripes Honor Flight that arrived at Dulles Airport on Saturday, June 21.

Colonel William Grayson Society was proud to participate in the marking of the grave ofMajor William Lindsay, an officer in the 1st Continental Light Dragoon Regiment during the American Revolution. Major Lindsay and his wife, Ann are buried in the family burial plot in Laurel Hill, Virginia. Vince Brown brought greetings to the many CAR, DAR, SAR, and guests present.

Also, Kudos to Vince Brown and his sister Emily for becoming Eagle Scouts. Emily also received awards for Markmanship, expert qualifier for Riflery, Varsity Athlete Award, the General Douglas MacArthur and George C. Marshall Leadership Awards and selected for JROTC Battalion Commander for 2025-2026 school year. Emily is also on her school's tennis team .

(Left) State President, Meredith Hopkins, and members of the William Byrd Society started their Memorial Day weekend by helping place close to 300 flags on veterans graves in an unclaimed African American cemetery.

Col. Alexander Spotswood Society Meeting & Installation
By Drew Wajciechowski, CASS 1st VP & Chaplain

We were honored to host Meredith Hopkins, State President, at our April 27th meeting and we were grateful that she installed our new officers. Congratulations especially to Madison, our new Society President. We enjoyed learning about the national, state and society projects and had a fun time playing a game of Candy Land, which was converted to a history lesson that had us laughing a lot!

Moore House Society had a super and busy summer with the installation of its new officers in May, presided over by our new State President Meredith Hopkins, fun times in the Independence Day parade in Yorktown (joined by CAR friends from other local societies), and member and State Veterans Chairman Brendan G. performed with the C.A.R. Fifes and Drums Corps at the Mid-Southern conference in Williamsburg.

The Society wrapped up its summer with fun learning at its August meeting in historic Yorktown where they and prospective member William O. “worked” in a Colonial kitchen, and toured the historic herb garden at the Custom House (planted by Moore House to celebrate the U.S. Bicentennial). They then walked the town looking for clues of lesser known patriots, and went to a local confectionery for yummy ice cream. See you in September!!

Thanking Our Veterans

By Jorjica S., Surgeon Lawrence Brooke Society

In April, the Surgeon Lawrence Brooke Society was notified that an Honor Flight would arrive at The National Museum of the Marine Corps. Honor Flight is a nonprofit group whose goal is to bring as many veterans as possible to the national monuments and museums in D.C. that honor their service. I was lucky enough to be able to go to this Honor Flight tour with my brother, also a member of C.A.R. and my mom, who is in DAR. One of the many great things about living in Virginia is all the historical monuments and museums that are nearby. I get to explore and learn about history whenever I want!

We arrived at the museum around 9:00am, excited to greet the arriving veterans. Members of my society held up posters, banners, and flags as the buses arrived. It was windy and slightly rainy, which made it difficult to keep my banner from flying out of my hands. There were a few other groups there, including Blue Star Moms and The American Legion, but C.A.R. was the only children's group at the front entrance to the museum

I thanked our veterans as they walked into the museum one by one. Many of the veterans wore hats, which announced what war they participated in. Many older veterans were also sitting in wheelchairs and were accompanied by kind volunteers.

While I was holding my banner, I noticed a Vietnam veteran come up and sit behind us. He was really kind and asked who we were. My mom told him all about C.A.R. and he was intrigued. He had never heard about C.A.R. and wanted to learn more. He was really grateful to see kids, young and old, support the people who sacrificed so much for America.

There were a total of five buses that morning, each packed with veterans, all with their own unique stories. I was really grateful for this opportunity to thank our veterans for their sacrifice to give kids like me a chance to live in this great country.

I love The National Museum of the Marine Corps and have visited three times in the last year. If you ever have the opportunity, I highly recommend visiting my favorite museum. There are rooms and displays telling the story of each war fought by our military, including the American Revolution. It really makes you appreciate the sacrifice that men and women had to make so we can live freely. If you're lucky, you will also have the opportunity to thank our veterans when you visit.

A Reflection on Robotics and AI — and the Connections to C.A.R.

by MacPhearson S., Reverend John Marks Society

When I'm not busy working on fun C.A.R. activities, I spend time tinkering with robotics and coding. Last year, my robotics team made it all the way to the World Championship in Houston. The event was held at an enormous convention center with nail-biting matches taking place over multiple days. Intense competition, music, light shows, and celebrity appearances made the event feel like a professional Superbowl!

The camaraderie in robotics reminds me of the friendships I've made in C.A.R. In fact, while on the surface, robotics and C.A.R. may not seem to have much in common, I see many similarities. First of all, both pursuits prepare young people for the future by providing opportunities to learn and grow both as individuals and as team members. Whereas robotics aims to inspire excellence in STEM, C.A.R. aims to inspire an appreciation for history and a recognition of our responsibilities as good citizens. Both organizations encourage productive community service. Furthermore, I've learned a lot about the importance of preparation from both robotics and C.A.R. You have to plan and practice before every robotics meet, just as you have to do plenty of advance preparation for successful C.A.R. programs. Finally, by participating in both groups, I've made wonderful friends from all over the world who are eager to make a positive difference in their communities.

I'm lucky that my C.A.R. friends patiently indulge my passion for talking about all things tech, and some of our recent conversations about AI have been especially thought-provoking. C.A.R.'s emphasis on history does help one consider technological developments in a broader framework. AI will increasingly take robotics to new levels that mimic human intelligence and problem-solving skills. However, we have an obligation to consider the implications and pros/cons of various applications.

At the recent Regional Mid-Southern workshop, I had the opportunity to consider how AI could both help and hinder our understanding of history. Specifically, we had the opportunity to work with the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation to transcribe historical documents on the From the Page platform. Working in a large ballroom on our laptops as individuals or in small teams, it was so much fun and rewarding to help decipher the grammar, spelling, typeset and handwriting from old newspapers and recipe books. We had a lot of laughs as we called out to each other what we were reading from the past or asked a friend to double-check what we thought someone's handwriting meant. Our transcriptions were, in real time, helping digitize stories and experiences from the past. As this may in turn help researchers and historians look for patterns, it is easy to see the advantages of technology.

However, knowing that AI will become more adept at handling such transcriptions in the future, I wondered what we might lose as humans. Directly transcribing documents for ourselves was like reaching across the centuries to hear what people in the past considered important, impressive, or even tasty. It's important that we use AI and technological advancements to enhance our humanity rather than just letting technology experience the past for us.

Building Relationships with Parent Organizations
Ella G., Surgeon Lawrence Brooke Society

As the C.A.R./DAR/SAR/S.R. Relations Chair for the Virginia Society, I am lucky to have so many wonderful opportunities to meet with our parent organizations. I recently attended a meeting of the Washington-Lewis Chapter, NSDAR located in Fredericksburg, Virginia. The meeting was held at Historic Kenmore, the home of Fielding Lewis and his wife, Betty Washington Lewis, George Washington's sister. The purpose of the meeting was to install incoming officers and to recognize those whose term just ended.

During this meeting I had the great honor of being introduced to the 2025-2028 NSDAR President General, Ginnie Sebastian Storage, who is a former member of the Surgeon Lawrence Brooke Society, the same society of which I am a member. I was quite excited when she agreed to take a photo with me.

Ginnie Sebastian Storage was installed on June 30th 2025 as the 47th President General, during the 134th Continental Congress. Continental Congress is held at DAR Constitution Hall in Washington, D.C. The President General's theme is "Illuminate Our Legacy" and this theme is focused around honoring our past and looking into the future. I highly encourage all C.A.R. members to visit the President General's blog and learn more about the Storage Administration's Project and goals.
