Disposable Vaping Ban In Detail

Disposable Vaping Ban: What You Need to Know

The Government has announced from 1st June 2025, it will become illegal for businesses to sell or supply all single-use vapes across England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. From this date, products will only be compliant if they are Refillable and Rechargeable.

Being a vape industry leader, Supreme PLC offers a variety of new and compliant products from all our best-selling brands. The following guide focuses on what will be compliant post 1st June 2025 and to help you understand what to stock next.

For more legislation details, please visit www.gov.uk/guidance/single-use-vapes-ban to understand what these changes mean for your business.

No single-use disposable vape will be legal to sell in any retailer or wholesaler from 1st June 2025 in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

Test 1: Is it a Refillable Vape?

A vape needs to pass one of two criteria to be considered refillable:

Criteria 1: Includes a single-use container which is separately available and can be replaced by an individual user in the normal course of use. [Regulation 3(2)(a)]

Criteria 2: Includes a container which can be refilled by an individual user in the normal course of use [Regulation 3(2)(b)]

Test 2: Is it a Rechargeable Vape?

A vape needs to pass both below criteria to be considered rechargeable:

Criteria 1: Contains a battery that can be recharged [Regulation 3(3)(a)]

Criteria 2: Contains a coil which is separately available and intended to be replaced by an individual user in the normal course of use, including any coil which is contained in a single-use cartridge or pod which is separately available and can be replaced by an individual user in the normal course of use.
[Regulation 3(2)(b)]
