Mission: World of Headmasters Report

Mr D. Robinson

The Matrics of 2006 are currently writing the second last set of exams based on the "old" curriculum. The NSC will begin in 2008. All parents must be reassured that the teachers and management of the school are totally committed to end the current system with the best possible results and I am confident that we will achieve a 93% exemption pass which will be the best ever at Bryanston High and one of the highest in the country. All teachers have completed training for the new curriculum and we have made two presentations to parents. There are a few uncertainties - one being the nature and content of the final matric exam, and the other the reaction tertiary institutions will have and how this will affect admissions to these institutions. I am convinced that Bryanston students will be top achievers in the new system and will be considered by these institutions to have been well taught at their school.

Whatever curriculum the education department and the politicians impose on the school I am convinced the future success of the school depends on our ability to implement the "hidden" curriculum, most of which is based on the traditions and ethos of the school. An example is simple courtesy to greet everyone from teachers to visitors. It creates a sense of community and belonging and it shows respect. Invariably a greeting is accompanied by a smile and will receive a positive response. It is amazing how this creates a positive atmosphere in the school.

Another example of the "hidden" curriculum is the importance of commitment. No family or organization can function successfully without commitment. We all have a responsibility to do what we have promised to do - from homework to attending a rugby match on a Saturday, you must be on time and be ready to perform. Too often students do not turn up for a match or a function when they have promised to do so and have given the understanding that they will. The school, teachers and the other team members are embarrassed and it makes a poor impression on the opposition. Would this lack of commitment happen when the individual has a commitment to the family or a partner or friend? Our lives are dominated by meeting commitments and this is the very building block of our integrity and success in all we try to achieve.

I would include sportsmanship, spiritual growth, emotional growth, a healthy life style and leadership skills as just a few examples of other values we constantly strive to instil in our students. Simple manners is also an important example It gives the school a soul, a heart and a purpose.

The challenge of maintaining Bryanston as a top school in Johannesburg is becoming more and more challenging. Costs are rising and the support from the government is dwindling. The school depends on the payment of school fees. If parents want to have smaller classes, a high standard of teaching, quality facilities, a safe environment, computer-centred education and a wide extra-mural programme, they are accountable financially. School fees are increasing to achieve these demands and parents must please support the Governing Body's efforts to collect the money and support Bryanston High's focus of being achievement-orientated. There are ways within educational legislation for parents to gain a reduction in the payment of fees and if parents choose that road they must be very aware of the negative consequences for the long term well-being of the school. As the School Governing Body always says - "we will support the parents who legitimately can't pay, but we will prosecute those parents who deliberately will not pay".

The success of the collection of school fees has a direct impact on the quality of teachers employed at the school. We live in times of a growing teacher shortage and the

Mission: World of Governing Body

Mr P. Azzie

Governing Body elections were held in the middle of the year and the newly elected body's term of office is for the next two years. What was disturbing was the inability of our school to achieve a quorum to vote for the new governing body. The lack of commitment of parents to elect a governing body that will decide the financial state of the school, as well as the appointment of educators, is of great concern. I believe that most schools in the Johannesburg region did find it difficult to get a quorum. What would possibly be a better system would be if parents were allowed to vote over a whole day when it is convenient to them and not the current system where voters have to be in the hall at a designated time. I am sure we would then have had well over a 60% turn-out of voters.

Having said the above, we have an able, and skilled elected Governing Body. We say thank you to Mr Moskowitz, Mr Squier and Mr Martin for their hard work over the years. We welcome Mr Kapito, Mr Bell, Mrs Flemmer, Mr Davidson and Mr Esteves onto the newly elected body. I believe the members of our governing body are highly skilled and very able to run all the affairs of the school within the framework of the law and yet maintain the quality of education we are striving to achieve.

The issues facing the governing body are huge. The GDE and the National Department of Education are still challenging the right of governing bodies to supplement the salaries of teachers. Much progress has been made. We are however, still concerned about our ability to retain and attract good teachers in an environment of growing teacher shortages. Our participation in the Governing Body Foundation has been successful and has given governing bodies the leverage to negotiate issues with the Department of Education.

Changes in legislation concerning the appointment of teachers and school fee exemption criteria have also become contentious issues. The Department of Education has the right now to change the appointment of teachers recommended by the Governing Body. The change in exemption criteria is going to add to the financial burden of all schools.

We have spent a considerable sum of money in maintaining the facilities at the school. The school is a government asset and we believe that they should be more supportive in maintaining the grounds and the buildings. The governing body however is paying for the painting, the renovations and upgrading of all our facilities. The big concern we had through 2006 was our rapidly growing water bill and it took extensive research to find the leak. We are grateful to the municipality for not charging the full amount for the wastage of water. All leaks have now been repaired.

Safety and security of our students and staff is a worrying issue. The fence has been a fundamental improvement to our safety at the school. We have also installed thirteen CCTV close circuit surveillance cameras to monitor certain areas of the school and these have already been used as evidence in cases against students. We intend upgrading them even more in 2007.

On behalf of the Governing Body, I would like to extend my sincerest thanks to the staff of Bryanston High School, ably led by Mr Robinson. They work extremely hard, often under challenging circumstances, to achieve outstanding results. The matric results over the past few years are testimony to the high quality of education at Bryanston High. I would also like to thank parents for their support and encourage them to pay school fees in order to assist us in maintaining these high standards.

Lastly, I would like to thank the governing body members for their, dedication, commitment and support during the previous term of office we look forward to a successful term of office over the next couple of years.

unrealistic demands on the profession means that fewer and fewer teachers are making teaching a career. Bryanston High also faces the constant risk of losing teachers to private schools. This is the case in 2006 and will continue to be the case as we develop new teachers who are then offered other jobs because Bryanston High has a reputation of good in-service teacher development, and is a good school. There are also teachers who are moving overseas to earn better salaries. To employ additional teachers and to supplement the salaries of GDE appointed staff, is becoming more and more expensive. In addition, if students and parents do not co-operate with teachers, they will leave and go to schools where their expertise is appreciated. In other words, the success of Bryanston is in the hands of all students and their families, to support the school and not to see the school as the enemy and an unfortunate sacrifice. We offer life skills that are fundamental to the success of all our students in the future.

We are proud of our achievements this year. Bryanston was rated as one of the top matric performers in Gauteng. Our sports teams excelled in all disciplines and levels of participation were excellent. Numbers participating in the Olympiads and Eisteddfods have grown. Leadership programmes are bearing fruit in all levels of the school. We are constantly upgrading the facilities and the fence and security cameras have helped our security. The planning for the two overseas tours next year is going very well and they are tremendous advertisements for the success of the school. Our computer facilities are the best available. I believe that the management of the school is in good hands, and strategies will keep Bryanston at the forefront of education in the country.

Governing Body elections were held this year. I would like to thank Mr Martin, Mr Squier and Mr Moskowitz for their many hours of hard work. We welcome Mr Kapito, Mr Esteves, Mr Bell, Mr Davidson and Mrs Flemmer to the SGB. We thank Mr Azzie for his wonderful leadership of the school as he has been elected for a third term as Chairman and he has been superbly supported by Mr Brown. The financial success of the school is due to the leadership and the meticulous accounting of Mr Hutton, our Treasurer.

Our admin team are a special group of ladies. It is a happy and productive experience to work with them under the leadership of Mrs De Villiers and Mrs Peacock. There is always a smiling face and willingness to help a teacher, student or parent.

The ground staff, managed by Mr Wessels, is very hardworking. Our men built the fence. They are always willing to do a job, even at very late notice. They are supportive and cooperative of the educational process at the school, for which I am very grateful.

The teachers of Bryanston High are an amazing group of people who work tirelessly in challenging times to give our students the best opportunities. Training for the new curriculum is vital however, the methods used by the education department have been cumbersome and have not differentiated between the various abilities of the teachers. The result is that many of our teachers have to sit through long lectures that could have been covered in a quarter of the time. We have been fortunate to have a few experts on the staff who have trained us all to meet the demands of the new syllabi, but I doubt the ability of most schools in the country to deliver the complexities of the new educational system to their students. Credit must go to all our teachers who have been patient and supportive of the Gauteng Education Department and have offered valuable assistance in the training of teachers from other schools. The spirit in the staffroom has always been happy, supportive and very professional. All teachers deserve a long Christmas break because the challenges in 2007 are going to be awesome.

The School Management Team, Mrs Webb, Mr Skelton, Mrs Weir, Mrs Deacon, Mr Crighton, Mrs Fulcher, Mrs Armstrong, Mrs Schumann, Mr Lawrence and Ms Standl have been superb in directing the various strategies and policies of the school. I would also like to give recognition to the Grade Controllers. They are at the "coal face" of school management dealing with problems of discipline, student personal problems and a whole range of academic issues. Theirs is a stressful, but vital job in the running of the school. I would particularly like to thank Mrs Winson and Mr Gillespie on doing a fine job with the matrics.

I trust everyone has a safe and happy end of year holiday!

Girl: This award goes to a young lady who has, in the course of her three years at Bryanston High School, uncompromisingly upheld the Bryanstonian values of enthusiasm, commitment, participation and dedication. Notwithstanding her diffident disposition and gentle manner, which have only served to endear her to both her teachers and peers alike, she has shown resilience and determination in striving towards attaining her personal and academic goals. In addition, she is always respectful, courteous and polite and displays honesty, maturity and integrity in her every word and deed. Furthermore, she has proven her leadership ability and organisational skills in being elected class captain for two consecutive years - a task which she has undertaken with noteworthy zeal and thoroughness. It therefore gives me great pleasure to call upon Menna Duyver as the most worthy recipient of this award.

Grade Controller's Award

Girl:

This award goes to a young lady who embodies everything that Bryanston High tries to instill in its learners: all round excellence, unwavering morals, manners and dedication as well as leadership.

This young lady is in our academic top 20, has been elected to the RCL for 2006 by her peers, participated in Netball, came in the top 5 for Miss Pizzaz and involved herself in many other areas of school life. She has unquestionable integrity and incredible maturity which have earned her the respect of both her peers and teachers. I have no doubt that she will be a future leader in our school, and possibly even our country.

The Grade Controller's award goes to Mmathoto Manong.

Boy:

This young man epitomizes the spirit of a true Bryanstonian. He excelled in academics, achieving a Top 20 place, and performed outstandingly in the sports arena in Cricket, Rugby, Swimming and Athletics. He is the first boy to offer assistance when it is needed and is a natural leader who leads by example and never backs down from a challenge. It is a pleasure to give this award to Calvin Vanderwagen

A circular profile for Grant Wilesmith, Starfleet President. The profile includes a central portrait of a young man with a blue 'B' logo. The text 'Starfleet Presidents' is written in a white arc above the portrait. Below the portrait is the name 'Grant Wilesmith'. The profile is surrounded by a grid of icons representing various sports and activities, including tennis, basketball, soccer, and track. At the bottom of the profile are several award icons for RCL (2006), and other years (2004, 2005, 2003, 2003) along with family and community icons.

The years of high school have come so swiftly to an end. The 5 years spent at Bryanston High School have prepared me for life ahead as well as provided me with unforgettable memories which are irreplaceable.

I arrived at Bryanston High School not having a clue as to what to expect! I was guided and inspired by my head prefect, Daniel Augur and Sarah Harding. They gave me vision and pride for my school. I hope a similar mark will be left to everyone in 2006.

Through my years of high school I have been lucky enough to have had the most awesome group of friends and peer group. Great friendships and the quality of interaction, meeting new people is what it is all about in the end. (Apart from school work of course!)

A large part of Bryanston is the extra mural programme. My advice is to get as involved as possible.

Have pride in your school and respect your elders as you wish to be respected one day!

I leave Bryanston with mixed emotions. I hope Bryanstonians who follow will leave with as much pride and honour as I do in 2006. I hope Bryanstonians who follow leave their mark as they wish to be remembered. But most of all I hope they realise what they actually have being a part of Bryanston High School's family, and always remember "never to look down on anybody unless you are helping them up!"

As I look back at my time at Bryanston High School, nothing could make me more proud than knowing I have made it through these 5 years, however, nothing could make me sadder than having to say goodbye.

Unity was the goal at the beginning of the 2006 year. Bryanston you have definitely taken a huge step towards this goal. And this has shown through the courage and determination shown in all the aspects of the school from: netball, hockey, chess, debating, rugby, swimming, drama, academics and definitely in the winning of the Spirit Trophy at the Inter-High Athletics. However, it is clear that this school still has so much potential and I believe if the following four values are followed the school will be able to reach its unified goal.

Involvement: Let's face it, no-one enjoys waking up every morning, putting on their school uniform and coming to school, but the reality is that we have to get an education in order to be someone in today's world. So why not make the most of school while you have to be here.

Respect: Respect your teachers: they are the people who supply you with the education you will use to make something of your life after school. Respect your seniors, as they have respected their seniors before them. And respect your peers – as they are the people who will create the unforgettable memories that will make your high school days the best years of your life.

Opportunity: During these brief 5 years of your life, opportunities are thrown at you from every direction; it is up to you to have the right attitude and to take these opportunities.

Morals: Remember school will set the path you will walk on for the rest of your life – so think carefully of which morals you want to leave with Bryanston High School.

To end: My fellow Matrics, thank you for allowing me the privilege of leading our amazing school – I gave my all. Even though today is not the day that we blow out our candles, today is the day that we walk out of the chapter we have created here and onto a new page in the world. The memories we have made as a group will stay with me forever. Good luck for the future.

I would also just like to thank all the members of staff, my fellow councillors, friends, my boyfriend and most importantly my family for helping me through this demanding year.

Thank you Bryanston High School, good luck, give of your best and remember that the only people who never fail, are those who never try.

Goodbye...

Mission: World of RCL Executives

Bryanston High – the family we have come to love. We all leave here with heavy hearts as our days at Bryanston draw to a close. These past 5 years have been truly happy and extremely memorable. We have walked the corridors with extreme pride to be a part of this exceptional school. During these years, we have come to know the teachers who have taken a personal interest in the students and their achievements within the school as well as activities participated outside of it.

It is with pride that we have participated in all of our sporting activities – the only thing that mattered was that of Bryanston's achievement – not that of the individual – that is what makes Bryanston High School the renowned school it is.

There has been incredible camaraderie amongst the students not only within each grade, but throughout the school, where a special bond is created within and outside these school walls. Bryanston students will forever share this bond of pride – that is what makes us all different and special from every other school. These are the things that bring past students back to the school, just to feel the Bryanston High School flame once again burning warmly inside their hearts.

To the matrics of 2006 – thank you for all you have meant in my life and in that of this school's – I will remember each and every one of you!

And, to the rest of the school - walk proud in that blue blazer of yours, for it's one of a kind!

To sum up five years in one speech is impossible, yet I can still share with you, some of the lessons I have learnt and what Bryanston High School has done for me. Through the leadership of the teachers and pupils before me I have become the person I am today. Principles of pride and loyalty have been instilled into my life through Bryanston High School.

If each and every one of you realise the potential within you and give your all to Bryanston then you will receive it in return in fortitude. I have seen this year the great potential that lies within each of you. Each of you has the capacity to fulfil your aspirations and goals. Within Bryanston anything is possible if you set your mind to it.

This year has been a year of firsts, lasts, great successes and some failures, but through all of this one thing is clear, as long as Bryanston stands united then any obstacle can be overcome and any dream can be reached. Even if next year is only half as great as 2006, then Bryanston will still be a great force to be reckoned with, with a strong future.

Personally I owe many thanks to: Ms Duganzich you have been the greatest role model. Ms Webb the greatest woman and school mother. Mr Gillespie, for all your guidance. To Ms Winson, for your care. The entire staff for teaching me. Mr Robinson for guiding me through this year. Finally, to each and every single pupil for letting me lead you. I thank you all for your support and commitment.

Your can achieve anything, so just do it!

Mission: World of RCL Executives

"What we call the beginning is often the end. And to make an end is to make a beginning. The end is where we start from."

Over the last five years here at Bryanston High School, I have definitely been well educated, which was – of course – the reason for my being here. However, the education I have received has not been confined to books, but has extended into valuable life lessons that are destined to remain with me forever.

I have learnt that there is nothing permanent in life except change, that without perseverance, failure is inevitable and that unless you offer the best of yourself, you cannot expect to get the best out of others. I know that during your five years here as a Bryanstonian, these are lessons that each of you will come to learn as I have.

It has once been said that education is the period during which you are being instructed by somebody you do not know, about something you do not want to know. There have been times when I have agreed fully with this sentiment, and I am sure you have too, but it is a phase that must be outgrown, as the motivation to succeed and to be educated is the key to prosperity. As Elbert Hubbard once said: "You can lead a boy to college, but you cannot make him think."

My deepest gratitude goes to Mr Robinson, Mrs Webb, Ms Winson, Mr Gillespie, the staff, my fellow matrixes and the rest of the school – it has been an honour to be associated with each and every one of you.

Mission: World of Grade 8 Camp

Some remarks from the Grade 8 pupils who went on camp:

Wow! It was fantastic and much more than I expected but it wouldn't have been the same without the Councillors!

- Ciara Edwards

Grade 8 camp was fantastic and we should do it again – they taught us a lot of things –

- Jennifer Kwanjana

Camp was wonderful, fascinating and fun. It was totally the best –

- Ponatshego Moleko

The camp was fun and I learned a lot of lessons. But it was so tiring, messy and dirty. It would have been nice if the place was clean and the rooms a bit bigger. And also sleep early and wake up a bit later –

- Eun Hye Rlee

I really enjoyed the camp. It was the best camp ever. If I could turn time back I would. Thanks to all the teachers -

- Kayla Stamboul

I was scared of the crazy ice-cream man story that the Councillors told me and a few other people. It was a lot of fun. Thank you -

- Sean Stanford

The Grade 8 camp was fun! I enjoyed most of it because of the Councillors, friends and most of the people I was around. The part I didn't really enjoy was the running in the morning. Overall I had a blast

- Thabi Litlhakanyane

The Grade 8 camp was the best especially trying to hit the Councillors with claylat

- Calum Fyffe

The trip was fun because when we went on the game drive we saw lots of animals and it started to rain and we were all soaking wet and we gained fitness by running. At the night if we made a lot of noise we would run and the breakfast was nice -

- Michael Holmes

It was fun hanging out with friends without parents there. It was awesome except the running and the night walk was fun but in some ways it felt like military camp

- Alicia Govender

The camp was strongly a bootcamp, which could sometimes be frightening but the activities were great fun

- Natasha Flemmer

The best camp I have ever been on. The food was lovely but the early mornings were "over board" and the running really hurt my feet, but yet the best ever -

- Vaughn Buys

REPORT BY CAPTAIN --- Raymond Amm

Cross Country is a sport of the individual which requires endurance and determination. It was an honour for me to captain the 2006 squad and I hope I managed to communicate this effectively.

If anything, I would like to leave this message for future runners of Bryanston High School: Always keep your eyes on the road ahead; always be aware of the ground you leave behind, and the more pain you endure the more you can endure.

To any athlete who wishes to achieve highly, it will require you to train hard, in a way which goes above the time spent at school training or with friends. In the end the best runners simply enjoy putting one foot in front of the other.

The 2006 season showed us that there is great potential amongst the runners but for this potential to translate into achievement it will come down to determination.

THANKS

Sincere appreciation goes to all the Cross Country coaches, athletes and captains for their commitment and dedication.

Mission: World of Midmar

So there we were... packed, trained, fit (or so we thought) and ready to conquer the biggest long distance race in the world. In our minds, Midmar Mile seemed like an easily achievable goal – I mean it's only 1600m, so, about 64 lengths of the schools' swimming pool. Hmm... that's not so far, is it?

Our journey began: we departed from school, only to find that we would be taking a detour on the trip. A major accident at Van Reenen's Pass to thank for that – only a 10 hour drive down to Durbs! Luckily we had DJ James on board to pump up some good music. I must say we were quite worried about our heavy load – 50 passengers and 3, well very "big boned" men. Mr Mollema, Van der Merwe and Mr Tew – now that's a lot of weight!

Eventually we arrived at Illovo Beach on the South Coast. Our rooms were cosy, with a beautiful view of the ocean. The teachers were strategically positioned right next to the door of both the matric girls' and boys' rooms. We went straight to the set of Vetkoek Paleis... I mean the dinner hall, where Kirsten Bredahl was – not surprisingly – the first to dive into the dessert. After dinner – FREE TIME - the entire night.

The next morning, we set off on our annual field trip to the Gateway Shopping Centre at Umhlanga Rocks. Shopping, wave boarding, a good pizza lunch at Mimmos and back we were at the beach. After a crazy, but awesome afternoon at the beach, we reluctantly left the sand and sea behind and made our way back up to our "penthouses" to pack and prepare for the big day.

We realized that playtime was over and now we had to face one more small obstacle - 1,6km across the Midmar dam. Some of us were brave enough to tackle the swim with only one or two hours of sleep, making the most of our time at the coast.

We awoke before the sun, at 4:30, on Sunday morning, after what seemed like a minute's sleep. The bus left a half hour late, thanks to the Matric boys misplacing their room key, which mysteriously disappeared into thin air.

Time on the bus to Midmar was spent catching up on some valuable sleep, lost over the previous two nights. After our arrival, we made for the food stalls, stocking up for the big race later that morning. Back at the bus we were met by Mrs Mollema, who had just finished her swim – warning us that the conditions on the dam were anything but perfect.

Soon the crazy rush to the start began: caps and numbers were handed out, black bags for the Grade 11 girls came out and the traditional permanent marker pens made Bryanston public news. The girls swam first, followed by the boys, but at the finish everybody was there to congratulate one another. Exhausted, but cheerful, we returned to the bus with our medals, ready for the long trip home.

We would like to thank all the pupils who participated in the Midmar Mile this year. We also say thank you to Mr Mollema for all your organization and to Mr Robinson for joining us. Our thanks extend to a group of committed teachers who attended Midmar: Mr Van der Merwe, Mr Tew, Mr Plaatjies, Mrs Mollema, Miss Keth, Miss Van Rooyen, Miss Thompson and Mrs Louw.

Thank you for making Midmar 2006 a memorable one!

Mission: World of "A" Swimming

The swimming season started with a bang, with the Inter-House Gala, won by Jupiter. The day was made special by the spirit shown by all those willing to swim for their houses. Thank you!

The biggest obstacle to our success this season was the weather. Our greatest admiration goes to all those early-morning swimmers who braved the cold and rainy conditions.

Although the Bryanston team swam like stars with many achieving personal best times, we were not able to stay up in the A-League. It was, however, a memorable day in the history of Bryanston – Fourways relations. The two schools were united in support of their teams --- “Bryanways” and “Fournston” were born!

A huge thank you to our captains --- Sean Westoby, Jillian Williamson, James Farnell and Cara Hickson and our dedicated coaches. Kurt Lalin, what would we have done without you?

Mission: World of "B" Swimming

It is wonderful that in these times when many schools no longer have swimming teams we can field a full "B" team.

We faced the challenge of being in Division 1 and swimming against "A" teams with courage and great spirit. The swimmers performed extremely well at the Inter-High gala at Sahiti and the point difference was minimal.

The beauty of the "B" Team is that there are many wonderful swimming styles, dives and turns that the entertainment value is tremendous!

Thank you to everyone who swam in the "B" Team, the captains: Jacqui Penhaligon, Ayrton Dos Santos, Taryn Cumming and Mark Dabbs, also my manager, Matthew Scott for a most enjoyable season.

Mission: World of Cricket

Coaches: Mr S. Quinn; Mr C. Louw
Team Manager & MC of Cricket: Mr A. Crighton

1st Team: Grant Wilesmith (Captain); Mark Dabbs (Vice Captain) Dean Gahagan, Prishen Ramsamy; Michael Fonda; Wouter Jacobs; Matthew Nielson; Donovan Scholtz; Michael McLean; Brad Speechly and Andrew Stafford.

The 2005/6 season got off on an enjoyable note with our participation in the annual Chubb Challenge knockout. Bryanston High School narrowly lost out on qualifying for the finals at the Wanderers.

The first part of the season was fairly successful. After an early stutter against Roosevelt, Bryanston had wins over Greenside, Alex Youth Club, Randpark and a nail-biting 6 run win over Trinity.

The New Year brought very inclement weather. The season was severely disrupted by rains with many games being affected or washed out.

We started off with a tough fixture against Monument Hoer Skool from Krugersdorp. They had a good opening stand which led to their achieving a score of over 300 for the 50 overs. If it were not for our dropping some crucial catches ("The Red Roof Incident") we could have restricted them to a reasonable score. The Monument coach complimented us on the fact that this was the lowest score they had achieved this season.

In the first round of the Johnny Waite Knockout Competition we drew against St. Stithians. After being bowled out for a low score we had them very worried at 30 for 6. Unfortunately a good 7th wicket stand saw them through to the 2nd round.

We were again bowled out for a low score against St. Benedicts. As the clouds built up and the rain started falling so did St. Benedicts wickets. The match was called off with their score on 10 for 3. It would have been an interesting finish.

The match against Allen Glen was a spectacle for all sorts of reasons. Due to some "interesting" organization on their part we had to play the first team match on an astro pitch. This resulted in a low scoring game which we managed to win easily. The highlight of this match and the season was Michael Fonda's brilliant come-back of 7 wickets for 26 runs including a hat-trick.

Other highlights of the season:

- Grant Wilesmith's batting during the season including a 44 against Greenside and 46 against Heronbridge
- Prishen Ramsamy 29 not out against Monument for the last wicket, while being "sledged" by the opponents
- Mark Dabbs 4 for 24 against Trinity and 4 for 21 against Alex Youth Club
- Brad Speechly's improvement in his batting - 39 runs and 4 wickets for 33 against Alex Youth Club as well as a 40 against Northcliff.
- Mathew Nielson's batting during the season and improvement behind the stumps - 46 against Heronbridge.
- Wouter Jacobs - 3 wickets for 4 runs against Randpark.

We look forward to next season. The team loses three matrics so we have a core of young and experienced players for the new season.

The U14 and U15 teams have had successful seasons this year as well and we look forward to these talented players playing for the Bryanston 1st XI one day.

Thank you to Mr Quinn and Mr Louw who spent long hours at the practice nets during the week and in the middle umpiring every weekend.

Mission: World of Mr Bryanston

The highlight of the year: Young boys, or should I say "hunks" entertaining a packed hall of screaming girls. The evening finally arrived --- 15th March 2006.

The junior boys very quickly learnt how to "parade" on the ramp and had the girls screaming, holding banners in support of the boys. It seemed to be the "in" thing to take off their shirts, which the girls certainly approved of! Then came the moment .... the senior boys ... need I say more.

Fifteen junior and senior finalists were chosen. Each finalist received a Playboy bag filled with the Playboy range of deodorants and cosmetics - an amazing prize.

Many thanks must go to Sarah Mason-Gordon for her outstanding leadership and organisation of Mr Bryanston 2006.

A difficult task faced the judges in choosing the top three boys in each category and the winners were:

Junior Boys

- 3rd Anthony Ward
- 2nd Dexter Schelin
- 1st Jonathan Philpot

Senior Boys

- 3rd Terrence Louw
- 2nd Allerdyce Fulton
- 1st Dylah O'Gorman

MISS PIZAZZ

A record number of entrants! Monday 13th March – 140 nervous young girls waiting to do their sequence. The hall was packed to capacity and the atmosphere was amazing. The judges certainly had a difficult task in choosing the top twenty-five girls to go through to the finals.

MISS ELEGANCE

An evening of glitter and glamour.

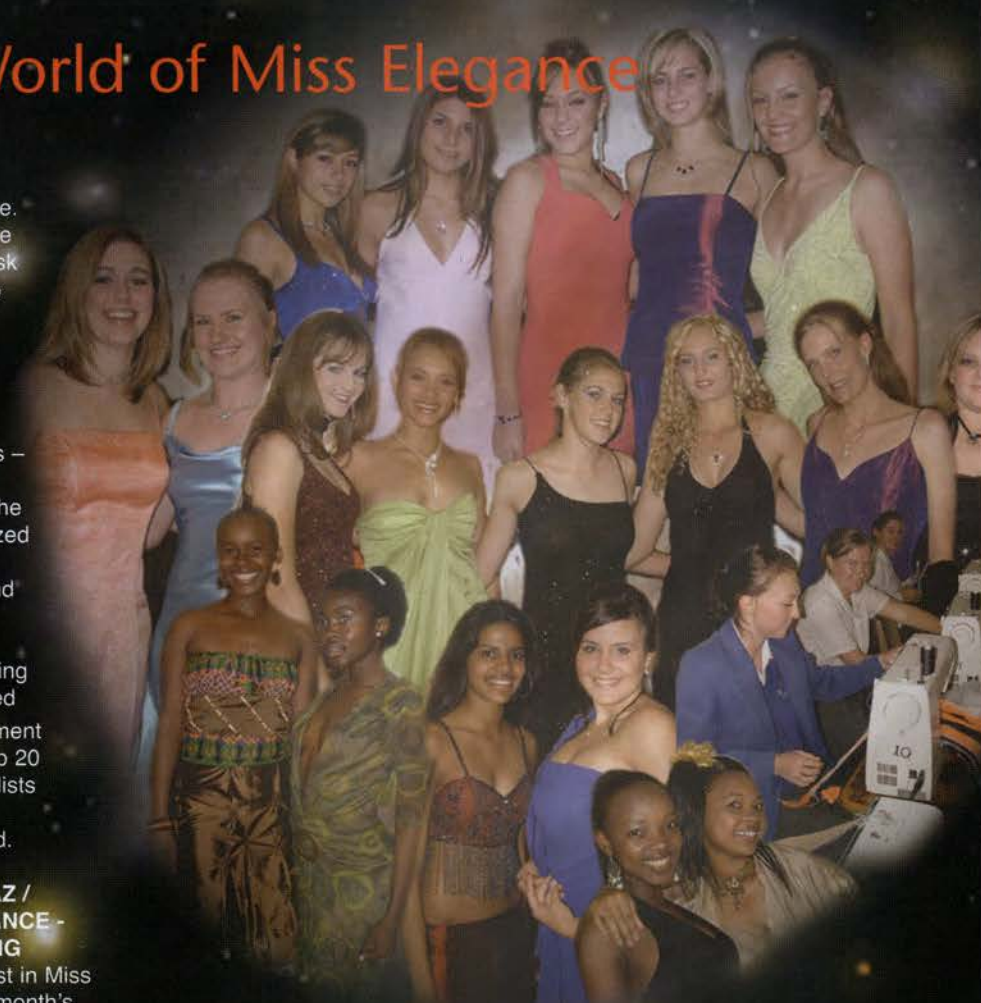

Admirable contestants, well known judges and wonderful compères – this is what that Tuesday in March was all about. The 78 entrants epitomized natural beauty, confidence and above all elegance. The evening culminated in excitement as the top 20 semi-finalists were announced.

MISS PIZAZZ / MISS ELEGANCE - FINAL EVENING

Every semi-finalist in Miss Pizazz received a month's modelling contract from "Figures" and an "Attitude" facial product hamper.

Miss Elegance semi-finalists were overjoyed with their "Playgirl" hamper.

All wondered who would win the title of Miss Pizazz and Miss Elegance? The tension mounted as the winners were announced:

MISS PIZAZZ
2nd Princess
1st Princess
Miss Pizazz

Jenna Fulcher
 Geraldine Southern
 Mmathato Manong

MISS ELEGANCE
2nd Princess
1st-Princess
Miss Elegance

Ntabiseng Mokoena
 Chintzia Torrente
 Tarren de Beer

Special thanks to the GMS members who worked so hard to ensure the success of all three evenings.

Mission: World of Boys' Squash

Captaining the first squad, Grant Wilesmith, together with Tyrone Wessels, managed to lead our first team consisting of Mark Dabbs, Sean van der Spuy and Matthew Shields, through a successful season of boys squash. The Under 16A team which played in the Super League had a superb season losing only one match and finishing at the top of their league.

Bryanston High School is proud to have played eight teams in the Gauteng Boys Squash leagues. Five days a week of practices and matches paid large dividends, clearly displaying an improvement in the ability levels of our players as the season progressed.

James Laughton, one of our Old Boys, was a valuable member of our coaching team and his enthusiasm, expertise and leadership were instrumental in uplifting our game in the Under 16 age group.

Jeff Davidson, a BHS father and a veteran player, with excellent experience and talent, kindly took to the court at our 6:00am session on a Thursday morning to coach our top four players in the Open and U16 squads. He soon established who was top of the squad and assisted in upping all our players' games.

Squash is a labour intensive sport and without the likes of Ms van Rooyen, Mr Adam and Mrs Weir our teams would not have been able to participate to the extent to which they did.

We salute all our players, especially Tyrone Wessels who was selected to play in the U19 Gauteng B team which participated in Cape Town. Full colours were awarded to Grant Wilesmith and Tyrone Wessels and Team Colours to Mark Dabbs, Sean van der Spuy and Matthew Shields.

Mission: World of Girls' Squash

Our girls squash players did exceptionally well considering the schools and the league we participated in. The final result was our coming 4th overall out of the 8 or 9 schools who participated – many of these schools have their own squash courts.

Well done to all the squash players for their commitment to the season.

Thanks need to go to Ms van Rooyen and Mr Grobler for their expertise and coaching.

Mission: World of Mothers and Daughters Breakfast

Memories are made of very special occasions and the 29th of July was one of these days. As many as three generations of moms, daughters and granddaughters shared in this magical experience.

Our car stopped in the car park of Bryanston High School at 4:45 am, filled with hot food, prizes and an air of anticipation and excitement.

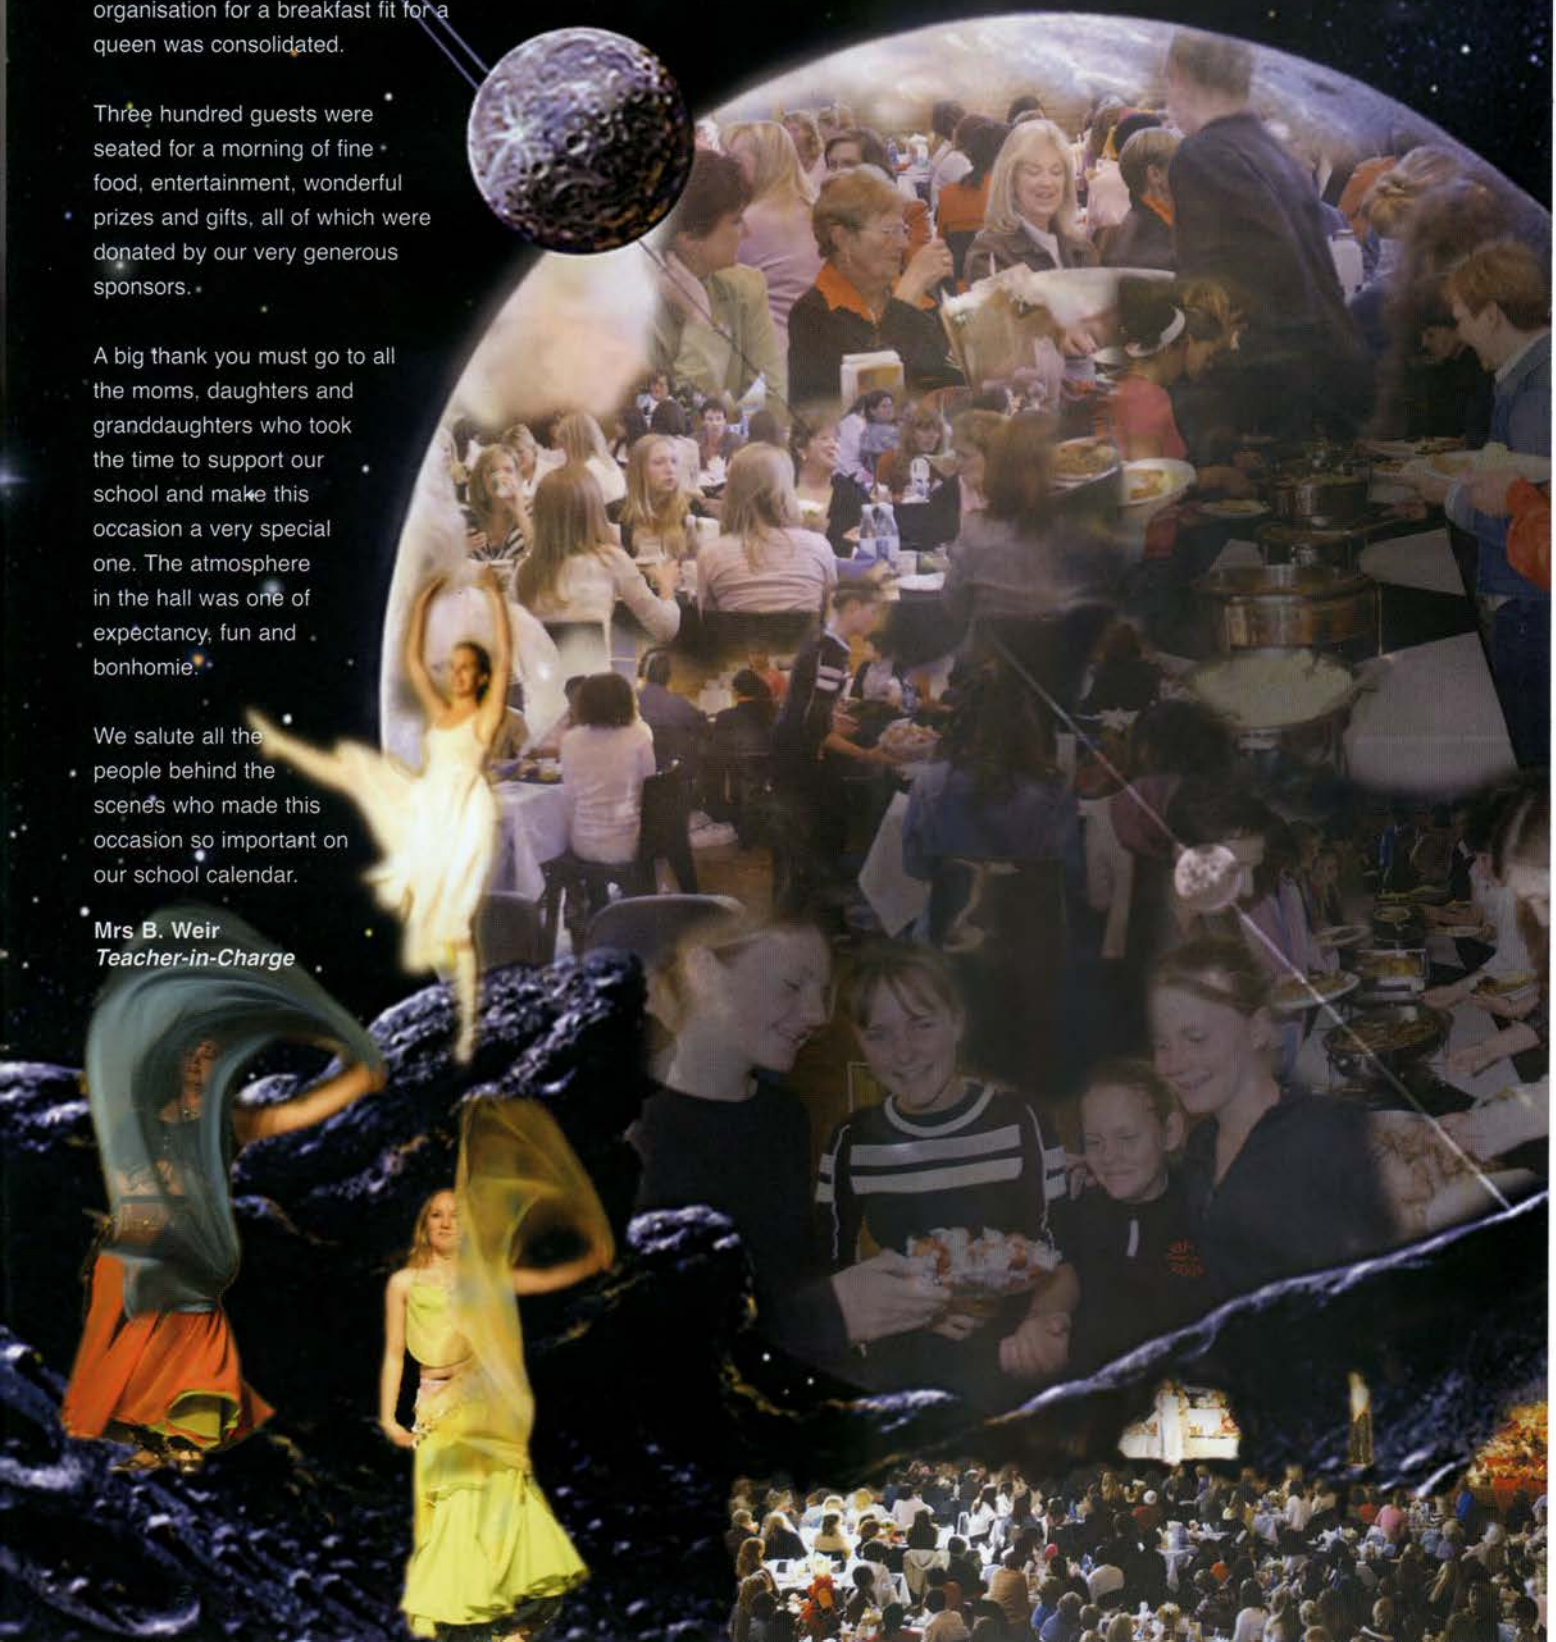

By 5:00 am, still dark outside, there was a full team of workers at their shift – champagne and orange juice tables were laid, fruit platters constructed, buffet tables set up and the organisation for a breakfast fit for a queen was consolidated.

Three hundred guests were seated for a morning of fine food, entertainment, wonderful prizes and gifts, all of which were donated by our very generous sponsors.

A big thank you must go to all the moms, daughters and granddaughters who took the time to support our school and make this occasion a very special one. The atmosphere in the hall was one of expectancy, fun and bonhomie.

We salute all the people behind the scenes who made this occasion so important on our school calendar.

Mission: World of English Olympiad

Single-sex schools, co-ed schools, boys dorms, girls dorms – and what happens in and around them. The topic for this year's English Olympiad was "An Educational Point of View". We, as a group of eighteen people, studied a variety of literature, ranging from novel extracts, diary entries, essays to short stories. The underlying theme was about how the individual characters cope in different schooling environments, in different time periods. We spent about six weeks prior to the exam preparing and basically going to class. But we did not just sit and listen to lectures – we, as the students prepared and presented and discussed them. It was an enriching experience to open our minds to other literature and to interpret it ourselves.

The day came to write the 3 hour exam. It consisted of 2 essays, one longer than the other. Once it had ended, and the writer's cramp had slowly dissipated, we were pleased it was over and felt accomplished having done an external examination on different literature. It was all in all a great experience with an "Educational Point of View".

Mission: World of Girls Hockey

Plenty of effort was put in by the girls to make this an exceptional season. Trials were held at the beginning of February to choose two Open and one U16 side to go on tour to Port Elizabeth in the March/April holidays. Open practices i.e. any who could make it, were held for part of January and February. Here, under the able guidance of Mrs. Marescia, skills were the order of the day. Age-group practices were started in March immediately after the Inter-High Swimming Gala.

The tour to Port Elizabeth was a roaring success and certainly helped the girls to be prepared for the season.

Towards the end of February, trials were held for the overseas tour to take place in 2007 and here 80% of the teams were chosen. Throughout the season, the full complement was selected. There is a waiting list of players wishing to become part of this tremendous experience.

Hockey-wise the teams did extremely well. The 2nd Team was the team of the year with outstanding results. We continue to play in the upper section of the D9 League which means we are competing with the private schools who have their own Astro turf fields and are able to train their players on this from Grade 1. As many of our players only start hockey in Grade 7 or 8, it is extremely tough at the U14 and U15 level to be competitive.

enthusiastic, very competent coach of the U16s and U15s and the manager of the group was Mrs. Hall.

Mrs Marescia is our top coach and her work with the Open Team was phenomenal. She expects a lot from the girls but

Grade 9D

Nevertheless we held our own and we are very proud of our teams. The spirit in which our girls play and the sportsmanship shown by them is really admirable and long may it last!

Hockey is a fantastic game and it is sad to see that girls are not committing themselves to any sports but rather involving themselves in social activities which do not offer exercise. A chance to be part of a team, to perhaps go on tour, to have the fun of developing a skill and perhaps a chance to go to the Olympics one day, should inspire more to get involved.

We were extremely fortunate to have excellent coaches and thus development of this sport has gone a long way. Our thanks go to Marsha Marescia who started the U14's and then due to pressure of work and her National commitments, organised for Kirsten Hartnady to take this on. Both of them were excellent coaches and gave our juniors a fantastic start. Jen Cheketri was the offers so much, they will always give of their best for her. To all go our very sincere appreciation for their effort and dedication. Mr Robinson was fantastic too, in the way he came out every Tuesday, in the freezing cold sometimes, and umpired the 1st and 2nd Team games. We are really lucky to have him and to him goes a very big thank you.

Early on in the year we entered a team in the 8-a-side competition held by the Southern Seniors and this was an effective way to develop players. From October two sides will be involved in a similar league. Many of the girls have also been exposed to Indoor Hockey and have really enjoyed this experience.

To all, I say: enjoy this fabulous game, develop your skills and aim for the stars!

Mission: World of Boys Hockey

Bryanston Boys Hockey always prides itself on never shying away from playing the top schools in Gauteng. The competition is very tough, since we play all the boys schools such as, St Johns, King Edwards, St Stithians and St Davids. We are in the A section of the Aitken Cup which means we are in the top 16 schools in the whole of Gauteng.

The results of the 1st Team this season were: played 22, won 6 drew 5 and lost 11. The team performed well under the superb leadership of Grant Wilesmith and Mark Dabbs. Other senior players such as Jonathan Welman, Jabu Silomo and Ayrton Dos Santos had an excellent season, and will be sorely missed. Jason Holmes fulfilled the immense potential he showed last year and played brilliant hockey. Jason and junior players such as Craig Wiid and Tyrone Hammond will play an important role in next year's team.

The season had many highlights even though we did not play to our full potential in the Aitken Cup. We had good wins against Sandringham, Sutherland and the St John's 2nd team, where we came back from 3-1 down with 5 minutes to play, to win 4-3. This game was played a day after the disappointment of the Aitken Cup, and thus illustrated the character of the team. This year we renewed our rivalry against Pinetown Boys and Hillcrest in the KWA-ZULU NATAL FESTIVAL. Bryanston beat Pinetown 2-0 and Hillcrest 3-0 on home soil, and we are looking forward to the return leg next year when we go to Durban.

Our U16s did very well in the Boden Tournament where they missed the semi-finals by 0.2 of a point. We have lots of talent in the Grade 10 group of 2006, with players such as Jeraldo Govender, Michael McKowen and Brett Hynes.

The U15's had an enjoyable season with a good 3-0 win against Northcliff, a 6-0 against Hyde Park and a 4-1 win against Sandringham, with Michael Schlebusch, Sibu Shabangu and Alessandro Pauselli playing very well. The U15 team had good team spirit and they played well together. The under 14 team had a tough introduction to High School Hockey, but had a few good wins, such as a 4-2 victory against Sutherland. The talent is there and they will definitely improve in their Grade 9 year.

The 2006 season was a success as a result of the effort of every single one of the boys and the coaches of the school. We had an enjoyable season and we will see you in 2007.

1st Team: Grant Wilesmith (Captain), Mark Dabbs (Vice-Captain), Ayrton Dos Santos, Francois Du Plooy, Tyrone Hammond, Jason Holmes, Brett Hynes, Michael McKowen, Jared O'Brien, Prishen Ramsamy, Sam Rolland, Jabu Silomo, Jonathan Welman, Craig Wiid, Kyle Young and Carl Chen.

The 2006 Boys Hockey season at Bryanston High School was a great success, the highlight being the big win we had at the Stellenbosch Hockey Tournament, beating 15 other top hockey schools from all over the country. This was totally unexpected, as we did not take our regular 1st Team Hockey Players, as some of them have to save money for our Hockey Tour to Singapore and New Zealand next year.

The Team comprised of 15 Matric boys, who went out to enjoy their last tour at Bryanston High School, and therefore they had no expectations with regard to winning the tournament. When we managed to get through the play-off rounds and the boys realised that they were still in the hunt for the title, they switched into another gear and played brilliant Hockey to beat the defending champions, Hoërskool Waterkloof from Pretoria, in the final. It was the first time in the history of Bryanston Hockey (girls and boys) that we managed to win this Tournament.

The 2006 Boys Hockey Tour to Cape Town and Stellenbosch also had many highlights off the field. A visit to Robben Island via the ferry proved to be a great experience for the boys, and they learned a lot about the history of our country. Other fun activities included playing touch rugby at Camps Bay and a visit to V & A Waterfront with all the girls from the ladies section of the tour.

It was with much trepidation that Mrs Byrne and I took over the reins of coordinating the Bryanston High School 2006 netball season from Miss Vermaak, who had relocated to France.

Our concerns were laid to rest with the support of our hard-working and enthusiastic coaches:

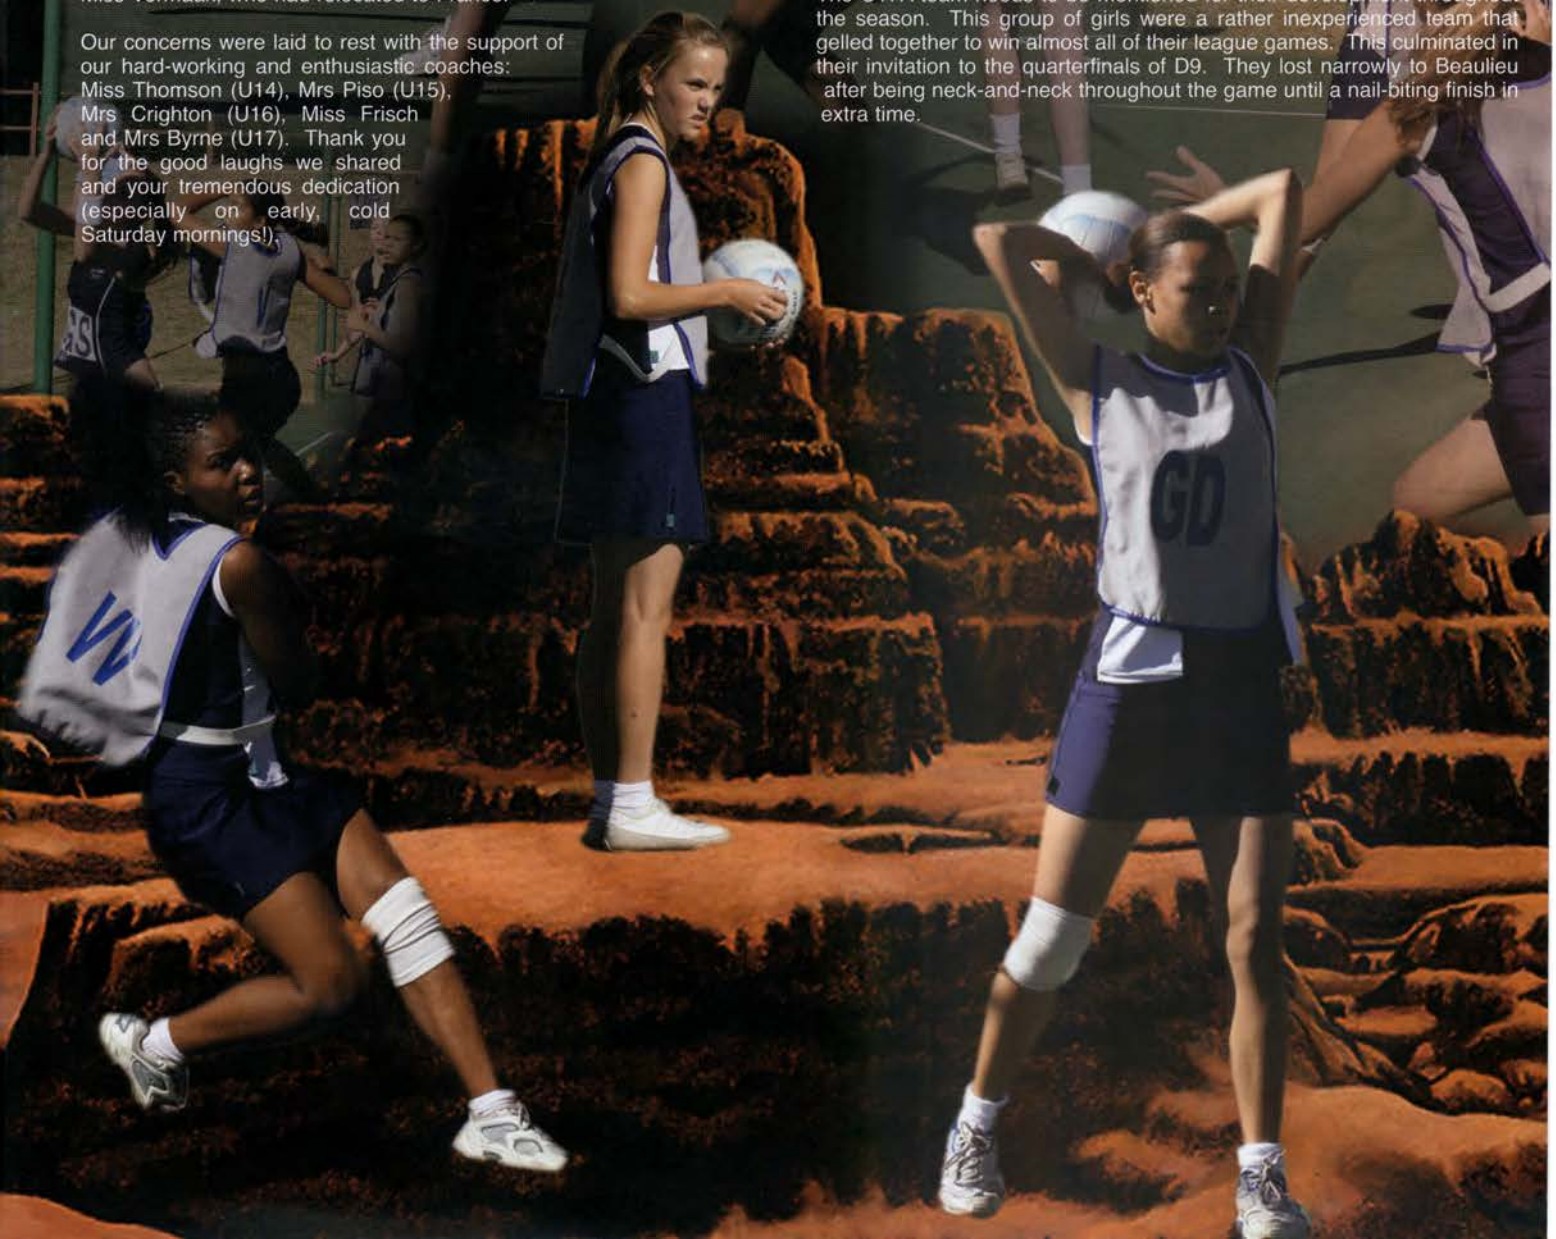

Miss Thomson (U14), Mrs Piso (U15), Mrs Crighton (U16), Miss Frisch and Mrs Byrne (U17). Thank you for the good laughs we shared and your tremendous dedication (especially on early, cold Saturday mornings!).

As for the Open girls, I had a fantastic time coaching these girls! Their incredible skill, natural talent and determination were noted throughout the season and for this the following girls need to be commended:

The 1st team had one of the most successful seasons in Bryanston's history. We were the winners in our cluster by beating: Wendywood, Waverley, Sandown, Helpmekaar, Hydepark and Crawford Sandton. This meant that we went through to the District 9 play-offs where we beat Beaulieu (in a nail-biting quarter-final that went to extra time) and Alex Eastbank (in a convincing semi-final). The league final was extremely competitive with a re-match against Helpmekaar (whom we had beaten earlier in the season). Unfortunately the girls lost narrowly in the dying minutes of the game but must be complimented on the spirit that they showed during the pressure-filled match. As a result the Bryanston 1st team became the runner-up in the D9 league and was then to play at the Gauteng play-offs over the Youth day weekend. The girls won three of the five matches played. It was an interesting day as the nine courts at Avion Park had games played on them non-stop! It was special to have been recognized by one of the provincial umpires as the 'new kids on the block' pitted against the likes of Hoërskool Waterkloof and Kempton Park. It was for this reason that the first eight players received their full colours for Netball.

As always you cannot have a successful 1st team without a committed and talented 2nd team who bridge the gap between the two teams. Some players moved up from this team into the 1st team after proving themselves during the season but all of them gained experience which they can use to their advantage next season. The 2nd team also enjoyed a successful season and lost only one match in the league to Helpmekaar. Congratulations girls!

The U17A team needs to be mentioned for their development throughout the season. This group of girls were a rather inexperienced team that gelled together to win almost all of their league games. This culminated in their invitation to the quarterfinals of D9. They lost narrowly to Beaulieu after being neck-and-neck throughout the game until a nail-biting finish in extra time.

A sad farewell to our matriculants: Nthabiseng Mokoena, Candice Crockett, Gillian Johnston, Sherri Abrahams, Samantha Rattenbury, Chintzia Torrente, Pauline Manaka, Kholofelo Masenya, Nontobeko Ngozo, Pamela Gege and Megan Jeffery who played an intricate part in the leadership of the 2006 season. You will be missed, but you have left your mark on an unforgettable season!

Thanks must go to those who contributed to the success of the netball season. In particular, to Mrs Gerrard who organized refreshments. Her catering efforts were much appreciated by the girls and staff (particularly as there was always enough for everyone)! Our supportive moms and dads from the Open age group also need to be thanked for cheering from the sidelines – in particular our regular support crew: the Johnstons, and the Crocketts and Mrs Prentice.

Mission: World of Netball Tour

On Sunday the 2nd of April the netball touring squad left on the bus to a very hot Brits. The squad consisted of the U15, U16 and Open teams. When we arrived it was incredibly hot and the girls were so excited to see a swimming pool in the distance. Their excitement subsided however when they saw dead rats floating on the surface of the water! The pool was ironically named "P J se gat".

At the opening ceremony we were greeted with the words "Hoe lyk it, hoe lyk it, hoe lyk it?" to which we had to reply "Oh so nice". It was then that we knew the Bryanston ladies may struggle to fit in. After two hours of training, in Afrikaans, the girls went to dinner where they had to pray in Afrikaans! This was followed by the evening's entertainment, led by Oom Buffel and his son – karaoke in Afrikaans! The song-birds in our team included Nthabiseng Mokoena, Kholofelo Masenya, Lee Peckover, Lusanda Mafuna and Latoya Nyembe.

The next day we trained from 9am to 1pm and then played matches in the afternoon. The 1st team won both their matches. After a long day of Netball we were exhausted.

On the third day we trained for four hours and went to lunch where Kholofelo Masenya said grace in Sotho. Nthabiseng Mokoena was also recognized as being a Miss Teen entrant. After lunch some of the girls decided to take advantage of the warm weather and cold water to soothe their aching muscles and went tubing down the Crocodile River. It was funny when after going over some rapids we seemed to be missing one of our team mates. We turned around to see Jenna Mulock-Bentley stuck on a rock, kicking and screaming trying to set herself free.

We then played another set of matches and the History students were rather disgruntled to realize we would be playing against a school called D F Malan – named after the instigator of Apartheid!

At the prize-giving Robyn Phillips won an award for being one of the most promising players of the tournament.

The girls had a good night's rest and seemed to have misunderstood that breakfast would be half an hour earlier on the final day of training. After the final session, the juniors had to carry the seniors' bags to the bus and poor Robin Loffler had to carry all five of Nthabiseng's bags!

We arrived back at school exhausted but having learnt a great deal about netball and Afrikaans! The Netball girls would like to thank Miss Swemmer, Miss Frisch, Miss Thomson and Mrs Piso for making the tour such an enjoyable one.

Mission: World of Rugby

Bryanston High School had a very successful 2006 rugby season. The participation level was high and all the teams performed admirably.

One of the biggest frustration BHS faces is the lack of depth in the schools we compete against. Although Bryanston fields three teams per age group it is not always easy to find fixtures for our C teams.

The U14s were crowned "team of the year" after a superb season. They will certainly be a force to be reckoned with in years to come. After a disastrous season last year, the U15s showed tremendous growth and determination this year, and under the fiery coaching of Mr. Wessels will still produce pleasing results.

Our U16s certainly made a name for themselves as a "running try scoring machine" and had the opposition outclassed in most of the games in which they played.

Our Open age group had a high level of participation and had good results. Our "blue monsters", the third team, played entertaining rugby and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Our Second Team showed a lot of class and very good results.

Our First XV, led by Sean Westoby, Terence Louw and Mike "the machine" McLean had a season of contrasts. Losing narrowly to the local rivals, they came close to beating Saints and had a resounding victory against Pinetown Boys – certainly the most physical side we played this year.

The season, marked by niggling injuries to our top players, saw gutsy performances by our First Team and certainly laid the foundation of the 28 boys who will be touring to the RWC in France next year.

MARGATE RUGBY TOUR

As far as tours are concerned, the Margate Rugby tour is always an eagerly awaited event for the Open and Under 16 rugby players in the school.

This year was no exception. Scheduled to take place over the Easter Holidays, it is an event that gives each player the opportunity to go to the coast and play against schools that many have never heard of before.

Although the smell of coconut oil lingers in the air whenever the players are grouped together, it is still understood by all that we are there to play rugby first and foremost. The coaches have long believed that this tour sets the tone for each respective team's performance during the year. We, the coaches, are able to use this tour to turn the team into a more cohesive unit, we are able to experiment with positional changes and able to blood young or inexperienced players without that 'win at all costs' attitude that tends to prevail before many of the local derby matches back at home.

This year we played some tough opposition, and despite some hiccups, the Open touring squad was able to win one and narrowly lost two games. The Under 16 team played unbelievably well, but weren't able to secure positive results. All the games were closely contested, but the end result was one draw, and two losses.

Although the results did not reflect it, it was a very successful tour. The players bonded as a team and we returned a better team, a team that went on to have a very satisfactory season.

Thank you to all the teachers involved in this tour.

Mission: World of Grade 8 Plays

The annual grade 8 plays is always an interesting evening. Organising seven classes and getting every Grade 8 to participate in a play is a daunting task. However Group 1 of the GMS made sure that the evening would be entertaining and a great success.

Rehearsals, rehearsals and more rehearsals! Scripts were changed to accommodate the humour that each class added to their play. Many friendships developed, as the classmates got to know one another during these rehearsals.

The 23rd February arrived and many nervous Grade 8s took to the stage to entertain their parents, friends and families. It was wonderful to have such a supportive audience, and to finally see how each class had bonded and managed to remember their words, dances and songs.

A special thank you must go to Laura Schlebusch for her excellent management and co-ordination in organising the plays.

Mission: World of Plays Festival

This year we hosted two successful evenings of plays at the annual One Act Plays Festival. Directed by students, these plays require hard work, leadership skills and organizational abilities. All the directors, new and experienced, did a brilliant job.

The Junior Plays always bring great entertainment and introduce new faces to the stage. We look forward to nurturing some of the awesome talent we saw and anticipate a great future for Bryanston's Drama department.

The Senior Plays were arguably the best ever seen at Bryanston. Three British comedies were performed, each offering something interesting and unique to the audience. It is with great sadness that we have to say good-bye to so many of our stalwart Thespians and we look forward to seeing their names up in lights on billboards all around the world.

Well done to all and especially to the new people who got involved.

Mission: World of Grahamstown

INSPIRED --- MOTIVATED --- INVOLVED – the catch words that constituted the 2006 Standard bank National Schools Festival, in the one and only ... Grahamstown! This tiny town is a hub of activity, embedded in history and bubbling over with cultural life. This was not just any arts festival. With over 50 art events and dramatic productions, all jam-packed into 4 days, it was a soul-enriching, entirely enlightening experience.

We teamed up with three boys from Northcliff High, two of whom became the comic relief for a while – or rather, their names did ... One was Bruce and the other Lee! True, not a joke.

The tour included colourful stage productions and festival workshops. These challenged us not only to push our creative minds to the absolute limit, but we were stimulated to think, feel, act and react more than any drama workshop ever before. Our spirits began to soar amongst the whirlwind of artistic movement and scintillating drama.

What's more, is we managed to get a taste of the student life in terms of our accommodation. On any day, res life can definitely rock!

Perhaps the only thing we did not particularly miss about this once in a lifetime tour, is the fried chips we ate – with-every-single-meal! "So guys, what's for breakf....? Er, egg and chips!" "What's on the menu for lunch? ... chicken and chips!" "Hey, how's supper looking? ... well, there's fried potatoes!"

Being in Grahamstown, was like being suspended in the most exquisite state of limbo. We were cocooned inside a bubble, oblivious to the outside world that just continued to exist far, far away from us. We were "rapt with awe" as Shakespeare, the genius of drama and the arts himself, would put it.

World of Open Day

Mission: World of Equestrian

Our small team (ten members only) started the year with great enthusiasm and motivation. Being selected as Captain this year was an honour and a pleasure to work with Vice-Captain, Sally-Ann Lee beside me.

Our main aim this year was to work together, and make every rider in the team as strong as the other. We were delighted to have three new riders join our equestrian team; two in Grade 8 – Savannah Solomon and Samantha Hammond and Kirsten Bowyer in Grade 10.

The Open Day at Bryanston High School came upon us and Maxine Oosthuizen, Nadia Packham-Thjessen and I took the challenge of bringing out horses for an excursion to the school. I must say that it was an excellent attraction when we presented our musical kur. It gave goose bumps to feel our team work together on perfecting the presentation.

The season consisted of four shows and then the finals. The final was an extremely exciting show with our riders in top form. Competitive riding should be classical riding at its best. We had four of our riders represent the district team on the day – Erin Temblett, Nadia Packham-Thiessen, Kirsten Denyer and Maxine Oosthuizen.

The results for the finals were as follows:

Showing 2nd

Erin Temblett, Fae Adams and Samantha Hammond

Equitation 2nd

Kirsten Denyer, Maxine Oosthuizen and Nadia Packham-Thiessen

Show Jumping 1st:

Kirsten Bowyer, Nadia Packham-Thiessen and Andria Hammond

Overall Bryanston High School came first against at least thirty other schools – this result was outstanding.

From the finals the Gauteng Team was made up and the following were selected: Erin Temblett (A), Kirsten Bowyer (A), Kirsten Denyer (A), Maxine Oosthuizen (A), Nadia Packham-Thiessen (B), Fae Adams (C) and Samantha Hammond (D) – well done girls you have made us proud.

The end results were as follows:

Savannah Solomon -- Team Colours and a bronze Hoopoe Award

Samantha Hammond -- Team Colours and a silver Hoopoe Award

Maxine Oosthuizen -- Team Colours, Junior Full Colours, District Colours and Gauteng Colours

Nadia Packham-Thiessen -- Team Colours, Junior Full Colours, District Colours and Gauteng Colours

It is wonderful to know that each and every one of our team riders, named above, received awards. These awards prove that all team riders rode to their full potential, but we could not have done it without the best Chef-d'Equip of all schools, namely Mrs Muller. Without her time, help, organisation and dedication, none of this would have been possible.

A huge thanks must also go to Mrs Mollema for her positive encouragement, as well as to our parents. We look forward to the same exciting season next year.

Never thank yourself;
always thank the horses for the joy we experience through them.

Mission: World of Footloose

Major Production rolled around again and this year we were accosted by the fear of what mysteries lay ahead and what was already known.

Those who had worked with Mrs Vermaak before were ready to impress and anxious to start. As we sat at our first pre-rehearsal pep-talk we realised how special this was going to be. With numerous rehearsals dedicated to only the first sequence and opening song it became clear that this was no ordinary musical production. The new arrivals, ready for direction, soon found out that Footloose was to be more than just a few hours after school.

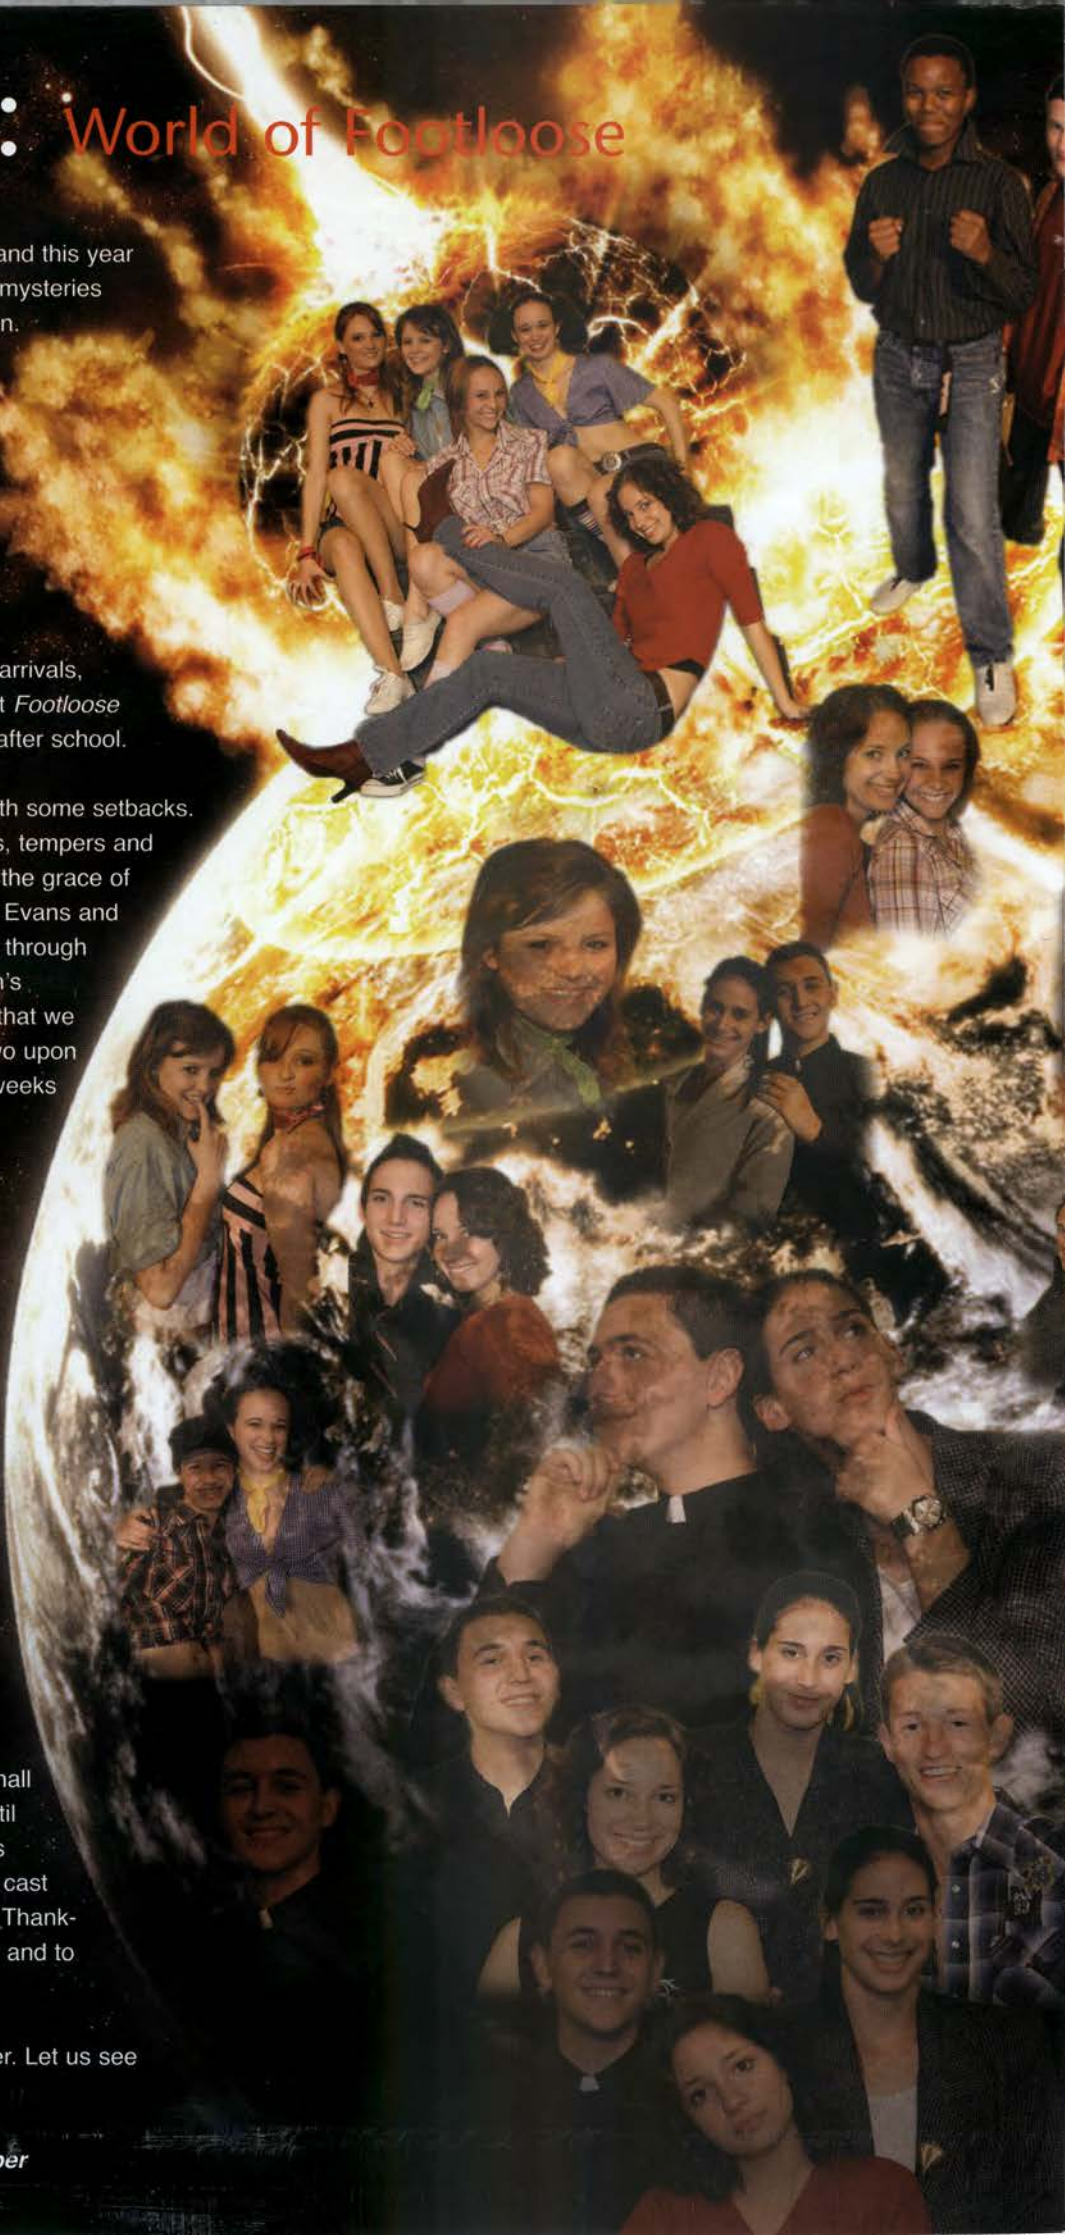

Of course, the production was filled with some setbacks. When Mrs Vermaak became ill, nerves, tempers and friendships were tested. But thanks to the grace of Mr Basson, Mrs Turvey, Mrs Cook, Mr Evans and Megan Maddocks we managed to pull through (with many muscle strains from Megan's gruelling training sessions). So it was that we were ready to begin rehearsing Act Two upon Mrs Vermaak's return - with only two weeks to opening night. Without any more obstacles we dived straight into rehearsals with renewed vigour and pace.

Finally the week of production came into focus. After many months of vocal training and James Evans' constant shouts of "Sing" and Mrs Turvey's all "seeing eye" we were at last ready to hit that stage as never seen before. On opening night the boys could be seen running around trying to get make-up applied, to the great enjoyment of the girls. Finally the one big family known as Footloose prepared itself to entertain all who watched.

On the 22nd of May 2006 at 7pm the hall came alive with Footloose, and ran until the 26th. Thanks to everyone who was involved and in particular to the whole cast for their enthusiasm and commitment. Thank-you to the directors for their hard work and to everyone who came and watched us.

Footloose shall be remembered forever. Let us see what you can do next year Bryanston!

Mission: World of Rhetoric

At the beginning of 2006, many eager pupils attended the first rhetoric meeting for the year. It was at this meeting that I realised that 2005 had signalled the last time I would stand up and debate against the usual rivals. Unfortunately, the seniors no longer had a league.

However, Miss Duganzich did not allow the fact that the senior league no longer existed to interfere with the success of the Rhetoric Society. We began by having Monday workshops every fortnight and these workshops actually ensured that the Rhetoric Society met more regularly.

It was wonderful to see so many juniors participate this year because over the years the society had more seniors than juniors. Debating teaches important life skills because it equips you with the ability to speak confidently amongst people and teaches you to think on your feet.

The juniors, who participate in another league, were also not involved in any league debates. But the skills they learnt at the Monday workshops, outweigh all they could have learnt from inter-school debates. It was therefore decided that an internal debate competition would be held in order to put all the skills that had been taught into practice. The second round of this internal competition was more challenging because the seniors were unprepared, having only one hour to prepare. Besides having to have winners of the competition, fun was had by all and the true nature of inter-school debates was experienced, more to the benefit of the juniors.

This competition was a wonderful way to end the debating season, possibly the most successful debating season BHS has had in a long time. The participation from all the grades ensured this success. I can only encourage other students to join the Rhetoric society and I can only hope that the Society continues to grow. Maybe one day we will see another "dream team".

A big thank goes to Miss Duganzich for all her organisation, more importantly, her passion. Through sacrificing her afternoons, the Rhetoric Society was able to prosper. Thank you also has to go to each and every single member of the Rhetoric Society because without you, this fantastic season would not have been possible.

Kholofelo Masenya
Vice-Chair

The Rhetoric Society this year has been an interesting and challenging organisation. At the onset of 2006 we were extremely pleased to see many new faces arriving to join us. With so many eager juniors and even more talented seniors ready to impress it seemed as if 2006 would be a great year. It was decided to have training workshops for the juniors. After many first speeches and debates we entered our internal debating competition to find our junior and senior champions. The results were as follows:

Best Junior Speakers: J. Fulcher and S. Ristovic
Most Promising Junior Speaker: K. Tsemame
Best Junior Team: S. Ristovic; B. Rantao and L. Khatle
Best Senior Speakers: L. Masenya and L. Schlebusch
Best Senior Team: J. Cooper; C. Watts and T. Cosway

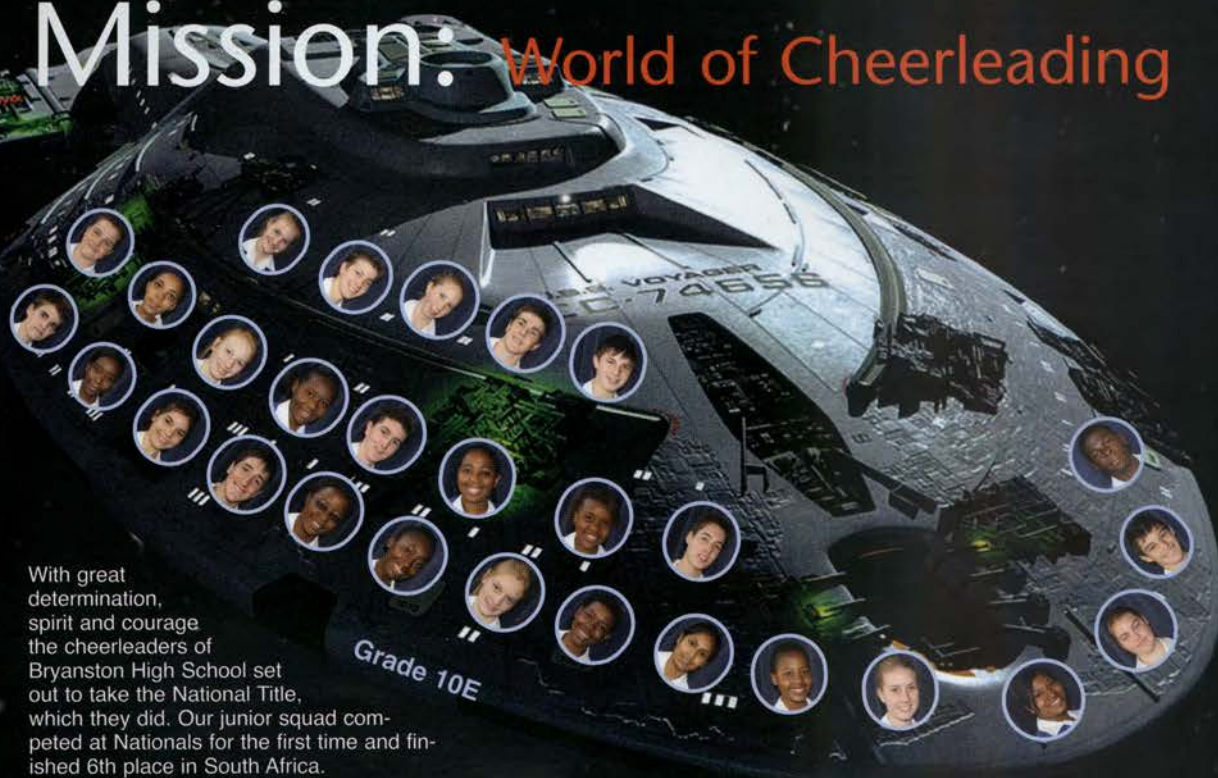

After a richly successful internal debating competition, we realised how rewarding 2006 had been. Rhetoric has a future and is going strong. Only one question remains. When will you join?

Jonathan Cooper

That time of year had rolled around again; it was time for Public Speaking. We knuckled down for some hard graft to work all our speeches around wonderful, creative and insightful topics. Thus after weeks of practice and brainstorming it came time to show what Bryanston High School was made of. Each team and solo speaker competed against very competent speakers from other schools with each receiving great results.

Mission: World of Cheerleading

With great determination, spirit and courage the cheerleaders of Bryanston High School set out to take the National Title, which they did. Our junior squad competed at Nationals for the first time and finished 6th place in South Africa.

A huge thank you must go to our hard working and committed coaches: Mr Cooper, Mrs Davidson, Ms Nash and Mrs Marnewick.

Good luck to the team of 2007, we know you have the potential to defend our title.

The highlight of our cheerleading must be the winning of the National Championships in July in Pretoria. The senior team received a standing ovation.

Also a highlight was performing before the Cats vs Western Force at Ellis Park.

Mission: World of Boys Leadership Camp

Day 1

Excitement was in the air. All the boys could not wait to get on the bus. We left Bryanston High School at around 10h00 on the Thursday morning. The bus was full of testosterone and when people started to take out their 'special' lunch ingredients that they were going to use for that afternoon, we knew the camp was going to be tough weekend.

On the way to Sediba Kwela a 'fight' broke out between 'Batista' (Abdul Al-Jelayati) and 'Mark Henry' (Zamo Zwane). The argument started when there was a disagreement on who has the better wrestling skills. The 'demonstration' lasted for a few minutes, and it ended with an unfortunate accident where 'Batista' gave 'Mark Henry' a swollen eyebrow, and therefore 'Batista' was declared the winner.

Arriving at Sediba Kwela we were issued with our horrible smelling overalls. Loyiso's overall was so light and small, that he looked like a giant chocolate muffin. We received instructions on how to march in our platoon from Mr Louw. It took us a full two days with lots of practice in the hot sun, but we were ready when Mr Robinson arrived for the final parade. We were very proud of what we achieved in that aspect of the camp.

The camp was divided into different tasks that each of our groups had to complete. After we completed our lunch task for Mr Molléma, we proceeded to Bush Camp. Delta arrived first at camp, and that started a trend where they basically dominated most of the tasks at the camp.

We had pap and wors for supper that night, and later that night we had a very good talk with our teachers, about all kinds of different issues that sparked some heated debate. It was one of the highlights of the camp. We went to sleep that night, thinking that we deserved our beauty sleep after an exciting and tiring first day. At around 2 am we were woken up to complete a task that involved searching for objects in the bush. It was very tough for Foxtrot as they apparently were chased by a Hyena.

We slept well that night in the bush, and instead of hearing Mr Louw's whistle, we heard lions roaring and Zamo talking in his sleep.

Day 2

The next morning we had a quick 'warm up' session with Mr Louw and then proceeded to walk back to Base Camp. Our extra group members (logs) started to become a real pain. Loyiso and Moeketsi (Mr Pie) however enjoyed the company of their 'girlfriends' for all four days of the camp.

The room inspection that morning was very tough, but also very funny. It was very difficult to please Mr Skelton. The activities the groups had to do when dirty socks, papers or filthy cutlery were found in their rooms, ensured that the rooms would be spotless for the rest of the camp. Kenny and Nhlanhla became our resident Navy Seals, as they tested the temperature of the water in the river on a regular basis. Rudi had to drive an imaginary car around camp and Cuan did a horrendous impersonation of Superman Returns.

We kept on waiting for the promised 'free' time that the teachers said was just around the corner. It never materialized. The whole day was filled with interesting activities, that tested our physical as well as mental capabilities. The paintball, camouflage and ambush tasks were just some of the highlights. The day ended with the arrival of the other teachers, a parade and a night march. Each group was issued with a radio, from where we received instructions on the direction and location of the different teachers that were stationed in the bush.

Day 3

Our morning 'wake up' session was followed by breakfast and inspection. We played a game called 'Star Power' which taught us about leadership positions and how not to abuse power. After the Final Parade for Mr Robinson, we had lunch. Our biggest task that afternoon was the grueling 4 hour obstacle course through the bush. It was very tough, but the boys enjoyed it immensely. The river crossing task as well as the 'klei lat' was some of the interesting components in the obstacle course.

After we cleaned ourselves up and had some supper, Mr Robinson did a presentation about what is expected of us as seniors of the school, and Matrics of 2007. The Head Councillors of 2006 had a very good session with our group, during which we solved some of our issues and began to unify as a group.

We were waiting for the midnight wake up call from Mr Louw's whistle, but luckily that never materialized.

Day 4

After breakfast and inspection, we had our final group rotations with the different teachers, that included various tasks. Delta was declared the winners of the task section of the camp, but all the learners came out winners in the end.

We packed the bus and arrived back home feeling tired but also with a feeling of great accomplishment.

The Gr 11 group of 2006 would like to thank all the teachers, especially Mr Skelton and our 'Daddy', Mr Louw, for the unforgettable camp.

New friendships was made, old friendships strengthened and our group came together ready to face the tremendous challenges awaiting us in 2007

Mission: World of Girls Leadership Camp

...have decided that this year we are going to be unafraid and not bore you with day-to-day report-back of our Grade 11 camp, but instead, focus on the major highlights of our camp. One of the things we learnt about was the importance of communication, so we decided to approach the task of sharing our exciting experience with you, by summing our experience up through words that not only were what the camp was about but also represented our self-empowerment.

Power, fear, courage - Finding the power to overcome fears and having the courage to get over obstacles in life is what these words meant to us. Obstacles? Yes, the physical tasks we were faced with are represented by these words. Having to do a challenging obstacle course in the middle of nowhere in the hot sun was something us Sandton girls are not really used to. It took lots of courage, teamwork, support, power and a fearless attitude to accomplish this task. From climbing high walls, to jumping through tyres, crawling under barbed wire and swimming in muddy water there was enough to put us off. What did most of us get out of it? Well apart from broken nails, gorgeous tans, wet hair that now needed to be blow-dried and of course our facials for the day, we learnt about how to work together and how amazing the girls in our grade really are.

When there was the Litera course, We all worked together to complete the logical tasks at hand as a team. We built unsteady bridges, lifted tyres, climbed poles and of course tried to balance seven girls on a thin cable, which was very complicated; surely was a sight to see!

Inspiration - There were many things on this camp that inspired us. The girls were very lucky for having been given the opportunity of receiving advice and insight on certain topics that would help us in the future. Mrs. Fulcher advised us on conflict and how to deal with it through different ways of approaching it and making it easier for us to deal with conflict in everyday life.

Then there was our discussion with Mrs Armstrong. Now let me tell you beforehand, boys, Mrs Armstrong is not a lady, to mess with! With karate moves like hers, the animals in the 'bush were scared!' Mrs Armstrong advised us on the various types of criticism and how criticism should be dealt with. By the way, karate is not one of the ways!

The Grade 11 Goddesses were very fortunate to also have the councillors Dominique Griève, Gillian Johnston, Rebecca Francis-Pope and Gill Williamson visit us and give us a talk on councillorship. We were given the opportunity to ask questions, raise valid points and find out exactly what being a councillor was about. And for that we are truly grateful. We also received a lecture from Mr. Robinson on leadership, and we gained insight and knowledge on the topic, something all of us girls needed and were very fortunate to have.

The last factor where inspiration played a role was when the girls were given an activity to draw our feet on paper and stick them on the wall. Wow, some of us girls have real cute feet! Let's just say small feet are common amongst the Grade 11 girls! The girls were all given the opportunity to fill in inspirational quotes and messages to encourage each other and make us all feel good about ourselves. At the end of the camp it was amazing to see that everyone's feet were full of little messages, full of love and inspiration.

Trust - This was probably the most important thing we learnt on camp. One of our activities involved us playing games which was a really interesting experience, because having to put your trust in someone you do not know can be really tough. One of the games involved us standing on a high tractor tyre and falling backwards into the hands of our team mates and relying on them to catch us. For some of the girls this was a challenging task, but together we overcame it and at the end of the day we learnt that if you are prepared to trust somebody they will trust you.

Some of the other activities that were the highlight of the weekend were the ice breakers, food displays, presentations and of course the "foefie" slide...

In ice-breakers we were all given the opportunity to bond with girls in our grade whom we never had the chance to get to know before. It involved sitting down and finding out about that person and what they stood for. It was a chance to open up and let other people find out about us. At the end of the game we came to the conclusion that you shouldn't judge people according to their appearance... what they look like or what they wear, because we are all different and we can learn from each other. Something that we all have to ...allse.

...and there were the food displays. A fun activity for all of us girls. In this activity we were split up into our Goddess Groups and given instructions to make a dessert based on the motto that we thought would "help keep the school together". We were then told to name the dessert, explain the significance of this dessert and say what our motto was. After hearing Jenna Mulock-Bentley's speech on how the condensed milk represented the river of knowledge in our school and how the cracks in the biscuits (which represented the school) were filled by the river of knowledge, we can definitely say we have a unique bunch of Grade 11 girls!

Then came the "foefie" slide - which for most of us was such a thrill, only until we hit the ice-cold water and then realised our bikinis were covering the wrong parts, which caused a few raised eyebrows from one of our instructors, Barny, who was something like a big, purple dinosaur although he was very friendly.

With the "foefie" slide came the next important words, trust and compassion. Why? Because just seeing the girls being so supportive of one another was amazing. The compassion the girls showed one another helped us to get over the obstacles - the physically challenging ones and the emotional ones.

Oya, Artemis, Athena, Kuan Yin, Hecate, Isis, Minerva... These must sound pretty strange but to us they were anything but that. These are the names of the mythological goddesses that represented our groups. On the last night we were given the opportunity to do presentations on our goddesses. We all learnt so much about these amazing women and their powers and individuality which led to the empowerment of the Grade 11 girls and left us with lifelong lessons having been learnt.

We can definitely say that the Grade 11 Self-Empowerment Camp was an experience that will stay with us forever and we are very grateful for being given the opportunity to work together, help one another and grow as individuals. It can also be said that we have an amazing group of Grade 11 girls who truly shone on this camp.

The Self-Empowerment Camp of 2006 would not have come together if it were not for the people who took a weekend of their time to help make our enjoyable. For that we would like to thank Mrs Fulcher, Mrs Cook, Mrs Armstrong, Mrs Hughes, Mrs Hall, Mrs Deacon, Mrs Webb, Mr Robinson, Ms Winson, Mrs Schumann, Mrs Weir, the Councillors who joined us and a special thanks to a lady who has taught us amazing lessons and values and who has been an incredible role model and second mother to us: Miss Duganzich - we hope to make you proud as the Matrics of 2007.

The girls of Grade 11-2006

Mission: World of Catering

Catering is often not recognised as vital in the extra-mural activity programme within the school environment, but we as the Catering Committee of Bryanston High School provide an invaluable service. Working behind the scenes with Mrs Weir the catering moms, dads and teachers, we provide the visitors, parents, coaches and sportsmen and women with much needed refreshments during and after the sporting and cultural activities.

Catering is open to everyone in the school and joining up is easy. One has to come to a catering course (The Basics of Catering), complete a test (under the eye of an executive member) and complete 3 hours of service before one can be officially included. Thereafter the caterers can sign up to cater for sporting or cultural events as well as catering for dinners, meetings and breakfasts.

After many hours of service, we all need to be rewarded and the requirements for catering colours are similar to any extra curricular activity: 40 hours, half colours: service hours, qualifications, 45 hours expertise and initiative. The catering team consists of about 20 students and is managed by 5 executive members: Lara de Villiers (Chairlady), Katherine Naude (Vice Chairlady), Amy Milne (Secretary), Carolyn Page (Cultural Executive), Nolwandle Duma (Sports Executive) and Mrs Weir who runs the team.

I would like to thank everyone involved in catering for a very successful year and I would like to encourage more people to get involved as this is the life-blood of our school – it teaches you life skills, gets you involved at many levels and gives you recognition for your school spirit and enthusiasm.

Mission: World of Gardens and SFC

"Where have all our Gardeners gone, long time passing"

This year marks the end of an era. Heather Moskowitz is synonymous with the Bryanston High School's gardens. Often over the past eight years you may have seen Heather in her gardening clothes with cutters in her hand, hat on head and William Khena in the background. It is because of her energy and relentless enthusiasm that, together with Linda Catto and William, they have quietly transformed our gardens into the park that it has become. We will sorely miss Heather Moskowitz and hope she will continue to offer her expertise over the next few years.

Our SFC meets the first Tuesday of each month and it is this team of dedicated parents who feed the hungry masses, cater for the sports events and other functions, hand out your children's reports and assist with marketing in whichever way possible. Without these volunteers our hospitality would be sadly lacking and we thank all the team for their year of hard work.

Sadly, this year we bid farewell to Moms who have contributed enormously to our well-being. Caroline Williamson, Brenda Amm and Trish Reimer – many thanks for your contributions over the years, may you all retire and enjoy the rest you deserve.

We look forward to welcoming new parents who will join our team in the New Year. This is not an exclusive group and we encourage both old and new parents to get involved.

Mission: World of Girls' Tennis

"Rain, rain go away, come again some other day!"

Dark skies, rain clouds and down-pours marred our summer tennis season of 2006, some of our matches we attempted to play three times, but to no avail. Weather notwithstanding, we enjoyed a season of tennis with four full teams plus a team of enthusiastic, willing reserves. Bryanston High School is proud to have learners who show responsibility, enthusiasm and sportsmanship the way our tennis players did this past year. Captained by Heather Angus and Lana Odendaal our first squad of twelve players enjoyed strong opposition and contended for one of the top positions in their league.

Our first team, all of whom received team colours, Samantha White, Heather Angus, Kirsten Bredahl, Desiree Spolander, Kelsey Skinner and Kirsten Weir, showed leadership and consistency throughout the season.

One of the greatest features of this year's tennis was the depth with regard to reserves. Mrs Anderson has been a pillar of the social tennis at Bryanston. Many learners have been able to improve their tennis skills thanks to the professional coaching offered together with the Bryanston learner coaches. Service Awards went to Kirsten Bredahl, Sean van der Spuy, David Lawrence and Kirsten Weir for their effort in the coaching programme.

Full colours were awarded to Heather Angus, Samantha White and Kirsten Bredahl; half-colours went to Desiree Spolander and Certificates of Commitment and Dedication were awarded to Kelsey Skinner and Kirsten Weir.

Junior Summer League, played in the last part of the year, was played by a squad of twelve up-and-coming players all of whom we hope will participate in the season of 2007.

Tennis at Bryanston High would never run as smoothly without the assistance of Mrs Carstens, Mrs Marescia, Gaynor Harris our professional tennis coach, Mrs Anderson and Mrs Weir.

A special presentation dinner was hosted by the 'managing directors' of each class and a cheque for R3000 was handed over to the Directors of Meals-on-Wheels.

Although this is meant to be a fun, teambuilding event for each class, it was impressive to see the commitment and incredible organisation that these young people displayed. Thank you to the winning managing directors: Kelly-Jo Uren, Jenna Fulcher and Sina Moyane! Also a huge thank you to the Grade Controllers, Mrs Cook and Mr van der Merwe who attended every Spur evening.

GENTLE TOUCH

Darkness falls and the moon switches on
The eerie pale light outlines him coming home
Reeking of alcohol, toying with a gun
Intoxicated with anger, both drunken and numb.

Job gone, no money, no one left to blame.
Engrossed by frustration, inevitable infliction of pain
His endless failure fuels his violent fire
Cracking, hissing, the burning never tires.

Searching for an outlet – make someone feel worse
Being a superior being, to others is a curse
Easier to choose someone that's without a voice
That way they don't complain, not having a choice.

There on the mat, lies his loyal friend
Only one happy to see him, wagging has no end
His plain brown eyes brighten up and smile
So glad Dad's come back, he hasn't eaten for a while.

His skin hangs over his skeleton like a flimsy sheet
So hollow, so hungry, hardly effort left to breathe
Even close to death still he loves his dad
Loves him whether he gets treated good or bad.

Peering at his fading life through eyes caked with infection
You don't need to hate, all it takes is rejection
Dad glares at him with eyes piercingly cold, dead
Poor beast shudders, re-feeling the blows to his head.

Dad's shiny weapon glistens as he staggers
Tired from beating something that never mattered
Damned to silence, speech non-existing
No amount of whimpering stops torture persisting.

The world passes by as blood trickles from his soul
Broken by human-beings, so cruel, so cold.
Fur dyed black from the dried blood of survival
Holding on any longer is his only rival.

Why was a lead pipe the last thing he ever saw?
Why were his last thoughts – No more! No more!
Why do we do this to creatures that love us so much?
Why do we deny them the right to gentle touch?

Does it matter that he was loyal, loving and fair?
Or that he was smaller, less intelligent in compare
Does it matter if he still forgave Dad, no matter what?
No, what matters is he was there, when you needed to kick a mutt!

DON'T ASK AGAIN

If I say I'm fine once,
Don't ask again.
I can't be bothered to tell you,
Or begin to explain.
Just because I'm not smiling
Or saying something smart,
Doesn't mean I'm unhappy
Or nursing a bleeding heart.
I'm just being human
I have feelings too
And smiling and thinking at the same time
Is just something I don't do.
So if you see me staring
With a far look on my face,
Don't ask me if I'm all right,
I'm in my happy place.

Tori Taylor – Grade 9

LIFE

The face is hidden, feelings ignored a new "better" image portrayed and finally the transformation is complete.
The true self lost, under a blanket of lies and confusion.
Just as a chameleon changes colour to suit
his surroundings so too does the insecure human alter his image to fit in.
Just to fit in What for?
For a peer group filled with traitors and liars?
For a partner that does not accept you for what and who you are?
Society pounces with deadly accuracy,
upon us, ready to hurt, if we do not conform
and accept society's views.
What is this?
This is life!
Life that is cruel
and fickle
and hurtful!

Jonathan Cooper - Grade 12

NEW AGE GOD

Did you hear of the new age God?
He resides in a new age heaven
Where spirituality is no more...
Overtaken by money and greed.

Have you read the new age Bible?
The dead-great way to free Iraq
It states: I shall do as I please
And to hell with anyone who doesn't like it.

Who is this self-proclaimed God?
Why does He maintain His grip on the world
So tight that He is suffocating peace
In order to end terrorism.

I am the atheist
I am the protestor of brutal killings of war
But my words fall on deaf ears
As the complainants still vote Him in.

April Gibb - Grade 12

YOUR CANDLE

There are three candles burning, each burning bright.
And each person is represented by a burning light.
The strongest of the flames is me, the middle are the rest.
The littlest of the flames is you and it's being put to the test.
Your little flame is dying, a candle in the rain,
And each and every time it sputters it causes more pain.
Your tiny light is fading, drowning in sorrow.
With every little flicker, I think of tomorrow.
Will our little flame live and burn another night?
Will it flare brightly and fade from sight?
I fear for our candle, for soon it will fade.
Like you, it will go back to where it was made.
So I beg of you candle, please don't go.
I'm afraid of the dark, it's another foe.
I was left in darkness once, when my strongest flame died
"You'll always have a light," they said,
If you go, they lied.

For: Christopher James Taylor

Tori Taylor – Grade 9

THE DARKNESS

There is a darkness that surrounds me,
 Blocking out the light.
 It just creeps in and squeezes me,
 I'm too weak to even fight.
 The darkness is an enemy,
 Although it has no name.
 It's cold and empty, deep and dark
 And it makes me feel insane.
 The dark is washing over me
 My skin just laps it in.
 I struggle deep down inside,
 But I know I can't win
 The blackness snaps invisible manacles
 Around my rubbed raw wrists.
 And my head is throbbing badly
 Like I've been beaten with a fist.
 Now the blackness has me
 It will never let me go.
 I pray the ones I love are safe.
 But now I will never know.

Tori Taylor – Grade 9

GOING, GOING, GONE

I don't know how to feel,
 I don't know how to act.
 I feel like drawing blood
 But without the blood pact.
 My mind races with possibilities,
 I want to pick at random.
 They were handing out "crack" at school today.
 Now I think I should have had some.
 Standing at the front of the class,
 I'm at a loss for words again.
 I would really like to slash my wrists,
 But I'm afraid of pain.
 I should get it over with quickly,
 It shouldn't take too long.
 I see my blood pour out of me,
 Going, Going, Gone...

Tori Taylor – Grade 9

I AM

You stand there cold, your masculine body
 Shadows over me
 You think you have control
 Don't be fooled by my femininity
 I too have the power
 I am not an object of your manly desire
 I am me, proud, a woman
 I am not here to fulfil your expectations
 I am here to go beyond mine
 I am not your slave
 I am here for me
 I am not beneath you
 I am superior in many more ways
 I am,
 Love
 Life
 A woman

Alicia Sella – Grade 11

SLAVERY

We were shackled like pigs by yarn
All our freedom constricted to this barn
We all ran free in land we knew so well
Our pain and suffering to others we can't tell

The whips and chains are a daily routine
Our external scars are left open to be seen
Our lives traded for weapons and ivory gold
Our destinations across the Atlantic were left untold

The blood filled tears run down a branded face
Were treated inferior because of culture and race
Slower work and damage to tools
Degrading our capabilities to mere fools

What did we do to deserve this?
Lost our loves, our lives and our bliss
We are not helpers but are slaves
Getting beaten once is one of our better days

All our worries all our fears
Can not compare to all these tears
Strong men in our once existing tribes
All demoted to serving lives

What did we do to deserve this?
Lost our loves, our lives and our bliss
We are not helpers but are slaves
Getting beaten once is one of our better days

Jessica Fenwick - Grade 10

OCEAN

Why is it that my appearance matters?
Do you see into the depth of my eyes
And see that I have been bruised and battered
And that you could never understand the depth of my pain?
Or do you see what you want?

OR

Are you blind?

I'm different

So you choose to criticise and hurt me

BECAUSE

I have seen reality and you live in fantasy

My life is different

AND

Has been different to yours

BUT

You choose to treat them the same

And that is where you are wrong

Your jumping into a swimming pool

Without knowing

How deep it is

So until you know...

How long, dark and miserable it has been

My question to you is...

"Can you swim?"

Because my friend

This is nothing compared to a swimming pool

It's an OCEAN!

Serenity Dias - Grade 10

THE STRUGGLES WE SURVIVED

They took me from my home,
They took away my life,
They tore me from my children
And they tore me from my wife.

They came, they destroyed and took us back,
They think that we're inferior,
Just because we're black.

They forced us to come, they wouldn't let us free
They beat us and they killed us,
While we were at sea.

They forced us to work for them
Throughout the day, throughout the night
They treated us like animals,
Gave us no pay, gave us no rights.

We rebelled against their rules,
We wouldn't do as they say,
We refused to work,
set farms alight and even ran away.

Geran Moodliar

HISTORY POEM

We have risen from the shackles of pain,
Bound together by chains.
We regain the strength and no longer we
Freedom has come.
For we women who were once slaves,
Our minds are no longer imprisoned
By the people who once stole our souls
Cry not ...

The tears we cried were all in vain
The whips, the chains and the extreme
Pain,
Never again, never again.

Cry no longer my brother for Mendeland
Awaits us.

Home, home

Where our ancestors' spirits lie,

Now that they are free, so are our lives

Never again, never again.

ONE BANK BELIEVES IN YOU.

Student Banking Solutions from Absa

They say your student years are the best of your life. But in between juggling your classes, the latest must-haves on the market and the next gig you're going to hit, you also have to handle the financing of your tertiary education. Absa has a number of student banking solutions that ensure that you make the most of your student years. You'll have access to a nationwide network of helpful student bureaus, offering you a helping hand and in some instances, access to coffee and internet cafes.

WHAT DOES A STUDENT LOAN FROM ABSA DO FOR YOU?

Unfortunately the cost of education is, well, costly. A student loan allows you to borrow money for your studies. Start off by calculating how much money you will need to cover your studies. A consultant at the Absa Student Bureau closest to your campus will gladly offer a hand with these calculations. Make sure that either you or your surety will be able to pay the monthly interest on this amount.

You can apply for funds immediately after receiving your results (matric or the previous academic year). Visit an Absa Student Bureau with your:

- Proof of registration
- Bar-coded ID book
- Academic results and proof of your current residential address

The person acting as surety must bring along:

- Proof of earnings
- Banking details
- Proof of residential address
- A bar-coded ID book
- An income and expenditure statement

Once your loan has been approved the proceeds will then be paid into your Absa Transaction Account.

You could qualify for a lower interest rate based on your academic performance, field of study, or if you make use of other Absa banking products. Remember, it's only after graduation that you start repaying the loan. While you are studying you only have to concern yourself with paying the interest.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF AN ABSA TRANSACTION ACCOUNT?

Absa Student Transaction Accounts help you, as a student bank smartly. You will have access to the largest ATM network where you can withdraw or deposit cash, pay accounts, transfer funds and request balances and statements with your Absa Debit card. While you study you qualify for subsidised banking fees and you can also build a credit record, which will open doors in years to come. If you are a full-time registered student under the age of 30 the Absa Student Transaction Account is yours!

A STUDENT CREDIT CARD FROM ABSA WILL MAKE YOUR LIFE SIMPLER.

A Student Credit Card allows students between the ages of 17 and 30 to live with maturity and independence. You can use your credit card to make cash withdrawals at any ATM or Absa branch and your card can also be presented for payment at any point-of-sale terminal. The Absa Student Credit Card has domestic and international acceptance, making travelling easier.

You also receive benefits like:

- 57 days free interest on purchases
- No annual card fee
- Ability to purchase online
- Free travel insurance

CELLPHONES MADE EASIER

It's hard to remember when people didn't use cellphones to make plans and keep in touch. Unfortunately, cellphones can run up quite a bill. Absa Call is your low-cost insurance cover specifically packaged around the needs and affordability levels of students. You also get benefits like access to cellphone and internet banking.

INSURANCE FOR STUDENTS

Absa also offers a specially designed legal cover for students. Student Rite from Absa provides legal solutions, including legal advice mediation and litigation cover. Not only are you provided with R5 000 to cover litigation costs, but you'll also get legal advice and/or mediation.

Absa knows that your student years are some of the best of your life.

That's why we have a wide range of products to accommodate your lifestyle. Visit an Absa branch or student bureau and make sure that your student years are everything you want them to be!

Bryanston High

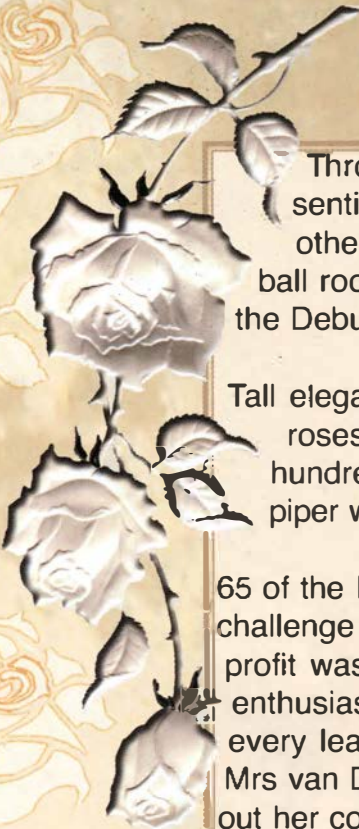

Debutantes

Ball

2006

Through the ages, roses have been used to express feelings, sentiments and emotions that may have been hard to express any other way. On the night of the 2nd of June, white roses graced the ball room of the Indaba Hotel with a scent never to be forgotten by the Debutantes and Squires of 2006.

Tall elegant glass vases gently held posies of sweetly scented white roses amid a softly draped gold crystalline overlay. The twinkling of hundreds of candle lights with elegant music set the scene for the piper who led the guests into the bedecked Injabula room.

65 of the best learners Bryanston High School has to offer took on the challenge to become this year's Debs and Squires. A total of R138 000 profit was raised by these wonderful young people. The energy and enthusiasm of this team was remarkable and almost without exception every learner raised their money by using their entrepreneurial skills. Mrs van Dyk was the main-stay behind the finance collection and without her continued support and liaison with the advertisers and learners this programme would not have run as smoothly as it did.

Mrs Armstrong hosted the show and elegantly introduced our Debs and Squires to the guests of honour while our judges Mrs Stafford and Mrs Spoerk had the opportunity to judge part of our evening's prizes. Once again we owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs Stafford for her wonderful ideas, input and never-ending hard work, without which no Debs Ball would be as big a success.

It was a great honour for me as co-ordinator of this event to work with young people of this calibre. I enjoyed the spirit of kindness, enthusiasm, excitement and warmth shared by this group of people, it was quite unlike anything I have experienced before. The gratitude showed will long be remembered and I salute you all for your maturity, dignity and ability to take up a big challenge. Bryanston High's reputation relies on people like you.
