HEADMASTER'S REVIEW

You never see the old austerity
That was the essence of civility;
Young people hereabouts, unbridled, now
Just want.
Molière (1622-1673)

Over three hundred years later, Molière, the French dramatist's, observation about the youth of his era has a present relevance. The Youth in its expression of the innate adolescent thrust for independence has historically, age succeeding age, attracted the criticism of its exasperated elders. A natural social phenomenon.

Once the phenomenon is accepted as natural and inevitable, one is tempted to accept it as such. A stoical acceptance that adolescents can be difficult and demanding and thus allow them to be unbridled would be a major mistake on behalf of parents and educators in the present South African context. Amidst the turmoil of change a bewildered Youth need the security of clear adult control and direction more than at any time in the twenty-eight years I have been in education.

Jean Cocléau stated that, 'The joy of the young is to disobey - but the trouble is that there are no longer any orders'. Herein lies the greatest threat to the standards of education we have come to cherish. The necessary and commendable focus on human rights, including children's rights, has at this incipient stage of our new society created an illusion amongst pupils that they can virtually do as they want without real consequences. Disciplinary measures, available to assist teachers in ensuring that those pupils who wish to learn (the majority at this stage) can do so in an orderly environment, have been restricted by legislation. Pupils, denied an adult perspective by their lack of worldly experience, cannot grasp the real consequence of their being granted virtual freedom to do what they want - a rapid deterioration of our schools to the level of American inner city schools or some of the British comprehensives.

One may be forgiven for believing that I am presenting a prophecy of educational doom for South Africa and Bryanston High. Actually I am not. I seek rather to focus attention on what I see as a major challenge for educationalists, parents and pupils. My thinking is inspired by an exhortation by Ben Lidsay: 'I do beseech you to direct your efforts more to preparing youth for the path and less to preparing the path for the youth'.

My belief is that we must accept that in the context of national education inequality, injustice and abuse of pupils existed and continues to exist. Measures must be taken to address these defects. Such measures will have ramifications for the entire educational system. At schools such as Bryanston, historically privileged and secure in their high standards, pupils need to be made aware that greater freedom is accompanied by an attendant responsibility to act wisely and with self-restraint. That a deterioration in attitude, conduct or work ethic will seriously diminish the equality of education and school life. That much of what they take for granted is fragile and must be treated with care and respect. That few of the millions of their peers have similar advantages.

Parents need, perhaps, to take time to reflect on their own lives and careers. A common error of parents is to strive to give their children the things that they never had in their youth without stopping to consider the value of what they did have for their children - the values, the work ethic, the sense of achievement in earning something rather than being given it. Bryanston High serves a successful, innovative, hard-working community. The adult community can assist its children to prepare themselves for the path to a meaningful, productive life in the new South African by nurturing in them the attitudes and life skills which brought their parents to our community. What is needed in this time of change is a reaffirmation of what traditionally has proved beneficial - the solid values of home and school rather than the single-minded pursuit of pleasure that preoccupies so many of today's youth.

* * * * *

1996 has been a turbulent year in education. Despite the anxieties of transformation which have shaken the confidence of the general public in the future of education, Bryanston High has had a remarkable year as evidenced by the contents of this magazine. A pragmatic approach has enabled the school to make the adjustments to transformation calmly, without disturbing the routine and focus of our activities. Indeed the school goes from strength to strength, its solidity recognized by an increasing enrolment. The current flight to private education has had no impact on the school which can only be regarded as a gratifying vote of confidence in our ability to sustain our standards.

I wish to record my gratitude to my staff for their unflagging support in what has been the most stressful year for me since I assumed the headmaster's post. While I have grappled with the tasks and crises of the new educational dispensation, the staff have devoted themselves to their daily responsibilities with enthusiasm and dedication. Their positive approach is deeply appreciated in a time when the teaching profession is disillusioned and unsettled. Far from slumping into apathy, they have inspired the pupils to new heights of achievement and have been uncompromising in their desire to enhance the standing of Bryanston High. I am particularly blessed with the calibre of my executive. Few outside the inner circles of the school will be able to comprehend the invaluable services performed on a daily basis by Mr Visser, Mr Cuthbertson, Mrs Webb and Mrs Weir. Without their sheer professional competence to assist me I would have been submerged.

The school and I also have had the benefit of the sage advice and constant support of Jacques Sellschop and his Governing Body in a period of sensitive issues. They, too, have been crucial in ensuring stability and a sense of perspective amidst confusion. Their dedication to the welfare of the school is sincerely valued. Steve Waddell and his merry band of P.A. members have worked hard throughout the year in organising a series of successful fund-raising events in which the primary aim was to get parents involved in the school. Working with them is a real pleasure, their enthusiasm is so uplifting. Thank you all. And let us not neglect to thank the ladies of that Bryanston institution, the Mothers Committee. Jenny Barrow and her Committee have been indefatigable in catering for the ceaseless activities at the school. Theirs is virtually a full-time job and the high standards they maintain are part of the Bryanston legend. So, too, are our thanks due to the tuckshop mothers in providing an essential service for all our pupils.

GOVERNING BODY CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

In times of change, often turbulent, Bryanston High has once again demonstrated the resilience we have come to expect of it. The stability, growth and achievements demonstrated by our school throughout 1996 are a fine tribute to the leadership of our Headmaster, Roy Paige, and the outstanding quality of our staff complement. Through their unceasing dedication and commitment, they have not only assisted the pupils to achieve extraordinary heights in the academic, cultural and athletic fields, but they have also managed superbly the processes of transition that have challenged centres of learning across the country and destabilised many.

At Bryanston High, the traditions, the culture and the standards to which we have become accustomed are unimpaired and in the future, when the school attended may well take precedence over the Matric Certificate on any job application, our pupils will be well served in respect of their career aspirations.

The challenges, however, are far from over. Increasingly, the onus for maintaining and growing the standards of education of our children will shift from the State to the parents. Quite simply, what you pay for, you will get. If we are to carry forward into the future those standards which we have held dear in the past, it will be necessary for every parent, not just the dedicated few, to place school fees at the top of the domestic priority list and make whatever sacrifice is necessary to pay school fees in full, up front. Anything less is likely to trigger a demise in the standards of learning and education with which we equip our children to face the challenges, not of tomorrow or next month, but of their lifetimes.

While I wish to record my gratitude to my colleagues on the Governing Body for contributing so selflessly of their time and professional expertise to the common good, I would also, on their behalf, thank the Parents Association, under the leadership of Steve Waddell, for their outstanding contributions to our school throughout the year.

Let us approach 1997 in the spirit of Carpe Diem, despite the fact that the future simply isn't what it used to be.

As 1996 draws to a close our school has yet again had another wonderful year, achieving outstanding results in all academic, cultural and sports events.

Firstly, I would like to thank all the PA members for the 100% contribution that they have given throughout the year. Without their support, we would not have been able to enjoy one of the busiest and most successful years. Thank you.

The year started with the Golf Day at Bryanston Country Club and as this event gains popularity every year, we had a record number of participants. A special thanks must go to Deon Visser who, once again, put together the successful event without a hitch.

A new Fundraiser was the selling of Flower Bulbs. This was a major success which raised sufficient funds for the re-surfacing of the Netball courts. Without the enthusiasm of the staff this would not have been possible.

The Irish Christmas held at the St Peter's Gymnasium was well-attended and turned out to be a great party that relaxed all who attended and allowed parents and staff to interact with each other and enjoy the fun.

Fun-a-Galore, once again, discovered the hidden talents of both parents and staff and was an event that will be spoken about for a long time to come. What with The Beastly Boys, Frankenfurter and Fiesta Macarena the party was on! My thanks must go to all the members of the PA - some of whom exclaimed, "you must be joking!" - and to all the staff members who participated; YOU MADE THE SHOW. To the audience who supported the show for the three nights, your support was Fantastic.

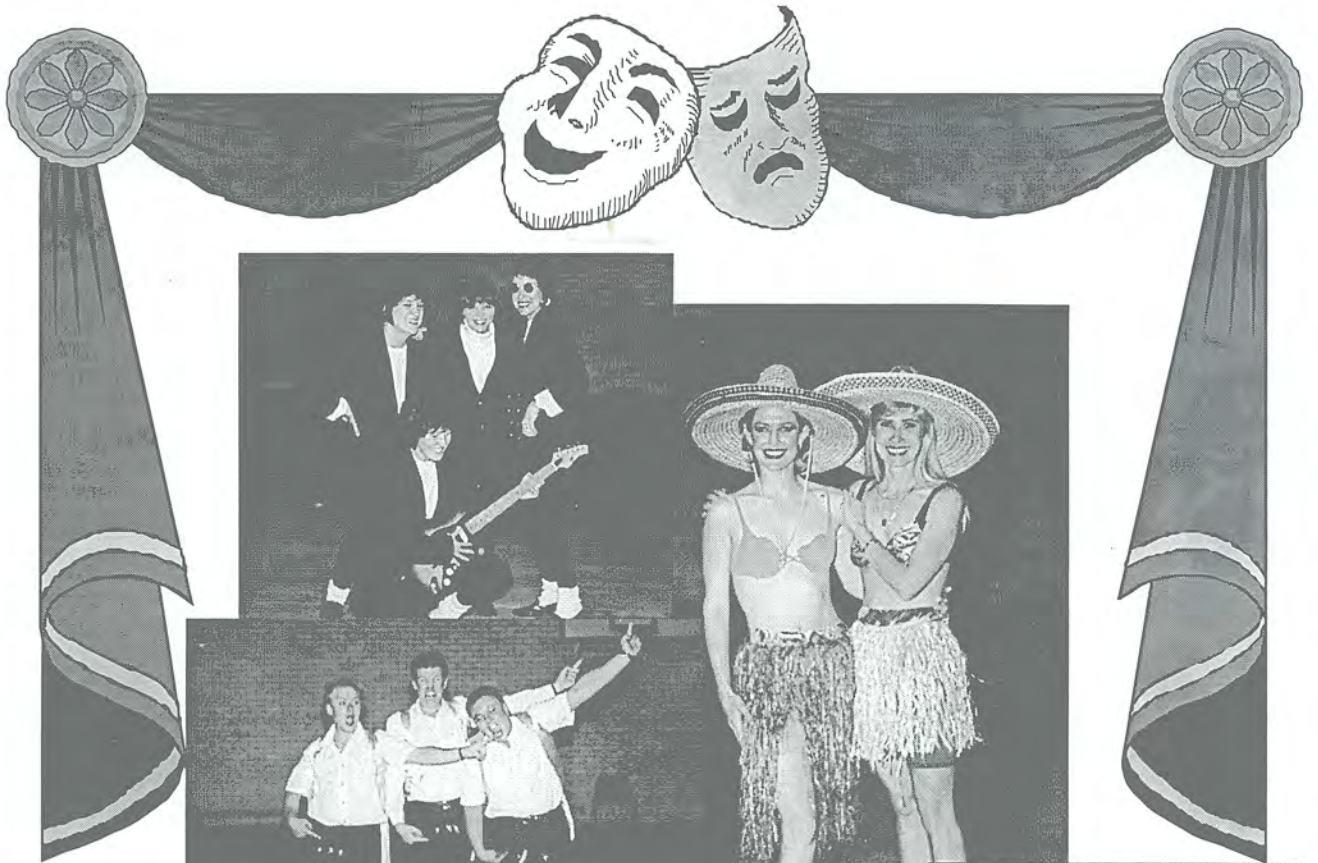

The Parents' Association Dance was held, for the first time, in the Injubula Room at the Indaba Hotel. Although the attendance was not as high as last year, this did not dampen the spirit, as it was most certainly an evening enjoyed by all who did attend.

Many thanks to the Mothers' Committee whose invaluable support and exceptional catering at all PA functions cannot go by unnoticed.

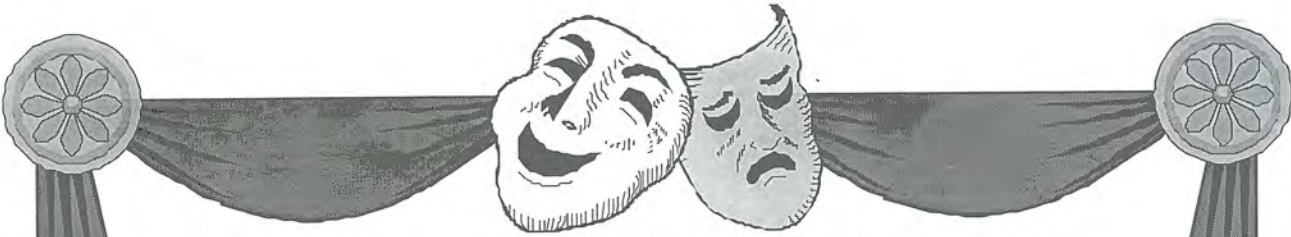

All that is now left to say is that we all look forward to 1997. Let's have fun and make it work for us all!

MOTHERS' COMMITTEE REPORT

Chairlady: Mrs J. Barrow
Vice Chairlady: Mrs K. Liackman
Members: Mrs A. Benfield, Mrs T. Anderson,
 Mrs M. Browne, Mrs B Fischer,
 Mrs L. Irvine-Smith, Mrs K. Gregory,
 Mrs K. Caine, Mrs D. Clarke,
 Mrs J. Cooper, Mrs J. Fish, Mrs S. Frost,

 Mrs A. Siddall, Mrs G. Summers,
 Mrs K. Taylor, Mrs L. Tober

As we reach the end of 1996, the Mothers' Committee can look back on an extremely busy, but very happy, year. We welcomed a number of new members this year and I am confident that they will continue to run the committee efficiently for a number of years to come.

The main function of the Mothers' Committee is to cater for the numerous sporting and cultural functions at Bryanston High School. Innumerable teas, lunches and suppers are prepared during the year and the ladies give an enormous amount of time preparing for these functions. We have worked hard, but had a lot of fun and I thank all my committee members.

At the beginning of 1996 Shirley Frost joined Bryanston High School as Tuckshop Convenor and has done a sterling job this year. The quality of food in the tuckshop is superb and Shirley has introduced many new ideas, such as lunches being available after school. She goes about her day quietly and efficiently and has been a great help to the Mothers' Committee. Our sincere thanks to you Shirley. As I write this report, we are preparing for our final function of the year which is a lunch for all the mothers who give so willingly of their time in the Tuckshop, Swop Shop and Media Centre.

Thanks must also go to Jane Cotton and her ladies for running the Lost Property and Swop Shop. They spend hours sorting through clothes trying to find the owners of unmarked articles.

To our Headmaster, Mr Paige, the administrative staff, Mr Waite and his staff, you have always been available when assistance has been required.

It is with confidence that I hand over to Betty Fisher as Chairlady and Kay Gregory as Vice Chairlady, two competent and highly motivated ladies.

Last but not least, I would like to thank Kim Liackman, my Vice Chairlady, Adele Benfield our secretary and all my committee members - I could not have done it without you.

Best wishes for 1997!

FROM THE STAFFROOM

1996 has once again been a successful year at Bryanston, and nowhere is this more evident than in the constant flurry of activity, despair, elation, tantrums and joys that we see in the staffroom, the real heartbeat of the school.

New blood brings new energy and fresh ideas and we were pleased to welcome several new and good-looking faces to the staff in January. Miss Burger, Mr Winson and Mr Vianello came to run the Physical Education Department, while Miss Davies joined the Geography Department. Miss Ness-Harvey came to teach Home Economics, Miss Crutchley left Cape Town to come and teach Science and Mr Basson joined the Afrikaans Department. Miss Saint is our new mathematician, and Miss Burman our newest historian. Mrs Chiappini came back to the Maths Department after a few months "break". Mr Grobbelaar, Miss Botha and Dr du Plessis joined us during the year, in the Accounting, Maths and Afrikaans departments. Out stalwarts, Ms Saayman, Mrs Andrews and Mrs Porter filled in on numerous occasions when staff went on leave.

We were sad to bid farewell to several colleagues during the course of 1996, and wish them well in their new ventures. Mrs Emery accepted a teaching post elsewhere, Mrs Swart and Mr Bouvron joined the world of commerce, and Mrs Caron has relocated to Durban.

Cupid as always, has been hard at work in the staff room. Miss Bennett became Mrs Richard Letcher in March, Mr Bradshaw donned his kilt and married Joanne, his high school sweetheart in August, and wedding bells rang for Mr Grobbelaar and his bride, Amelia, during the October holidays. Miss Crutchley and her fiancé, Stuart McConnell, will be tying the knot during the Christmas holidays, while Miss Burman will become Mrs Graeme Skeen a week later. We also celebrated the engagements of Miss De Witt, Miss Nunan and Mr Winson this year. Is this some kind of record?

After weddings, of course there are babies. Congratulations go to Mr and Mrs McKeith on the birth of a beautiful daughter, Kayleigh, and to our two ladies-in-waiting, Mrs Meikle and Mrs D. Fulcher.

It is not only the pupils who experience exam stress. Besides hectic teaching schedules, our staff often burn the midnight oil to further their qualifications and to keep abreast of educational developments. We wish Mrs Buchan, Miss Nunan, Mrs Middleton, Mrs Schumann, Mrs von Ludwig, Mrs Felgate, Mrs Weir, Mrs Meikle and Miss Arderne the best of luck as they pursue their studies.

We excelled on the sporting front too. Miss De Witt was chosen to represent South Africa and won a bronze medal in the team kumite at the JKA World Karate Championships in August, in Japan. Mr Rogers competed in the Africa Sumo Wrestling Championships in April, and Mr Smith is ranked number one in the South African Over 35 Tennis squad, and was recently chosen as their captain.

Hard work, dedication and perseverance have ensured that the 1996 staff have enjoyed a rewarding and fruitful year.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

The girls in the Home Economics Department have excelled themselves this year with beautiful garments and other practical handcrafts. The Embroidery displayed at our annual home economics display evoked enormous praise as did the many other special articles on display. Setting standards and marking work of this nature is extremely difficult and while each mother and student feels her work is worth an A symbol we are obliged to set strict standards and mark according to a memorandum. We are always happy with work that has been done entirely by the young students and encourage them to strive for perfection within their limitations. Because they are young students we should never lose sight of the fact that practice makes perfect!

The following pupils were rewarded with Merit Certificates for their outstanding performances in home economics this year:

|--|--|------------------|
| Best Overall Student: | Standard 6 | - Inger Plaskitt |
| | Standard 7 | - Emily Davis |
| | Standard 8 | - Nalani Mulder |

| Highly Commended Embroidery | - Vicky Barrow, Kerri-Lee MacMillan, Tammy Timmers | |
| Best Overall Presented and Modelled Garments: | Standard 8 | - Anita Mayne |
| | Standard 9 | - Tammy Timmers |
| | Standard 10 | - Melanie Da Luz |

Matric Final Practical Cookery Exams were moderated this year by an external examiner, who praised the students on their excellent skill and dexterity - a fine compliment to the young home economists of Bryanston High.

Well done all of you!

MEDIA CENTRE NEWS

Media Centre Prefects: Gugu Bhengu, Carla Simoes, Nick Hart, Marc Robbs, Thamié Bhengu, Jason Huang, Lorna Steele, Kerry Joyce, Tracey Hatherell, Tessa Blane, Tammy Norris, Jenny Chen, Juliana Andrici, Inge Plaskitt, Kirsty Welch, Phetheni Mokoatleng, Sarah Robbs, Kerry Martin, Tim Brinton, Monique McCarroll, Busi Dlamini

The man who does not read good books has no advantage over the man who can't read them. Mark Twain

Our Media Centre is filled with good books and we are constantly adding to our shelves, in both the fiction and the non-fiction sections. As we continue with the computerisation of our books onto the new system, we have been weeding outdated non-fiction books and acquiring those with particular reference to assignments set in the school. Teachers of the various subjects have been very supportive of us by setting projects and self-study worksheets related to the syllabus and bringing their classes into the Library section for research periods.

A past criticism from some of our pupils has been that our fiction books catered more for the Junior pupils. This year we have begun to rectify this situation and have been purchasing novels more suited to the Senior pupils. In keeping with the change in South Africa, we have also focused on South African literature and can boast of many prize-winners.

Our Auditorium remains fully-booked and the school has organised the hire of a further three video machines to accommodate more classes.

A hive of activity, the Media Centre is busy at break and after school. We have hosted many conferences of educational advisors and various subject supervisors, Debates and Public Speaking competitions, Wildlife meetings and Drama workshops and even Play rehearsals! Sports fans have watched re-broadcasts of the Olympics and are at present enjoying the Cricket. The Chess Club set up their boards on Wednesdays and individual members used every spare moment to come back and practise. Our English Enrichment programme took place every afternoon and has expanded to include a Literacy course. What has been heartening to me is the growing interest in the daily newspaper and periodicals on subscription.

No Media Centre would function without the dedication of those who give up their time to assist with the administration we all take for granted. The Media Centre Prefects take care of the issuing of books, filing, shelving, repairing, covering, cataloguing, computerising and tidying up. Lindy Stalker has completed her third year with us, giving up her Mondays to prepare the books for the computer. Kay Gregory has taken stock of the Teachers' Resources for a second year. Mrs Middleton, Mrs Frost, Miss Saint and Miss Nunan have manned the centre in the afternoons, with help from Mrs Schumann and Mrs Webb.

You can help us too: send your child along to pick up a good book!

ENGLISH CREATIVE WRITING COMPETITION

The English Creative Writing Competition was a phenomenal success this year. This annual competition seems to be going from strength to strength, with over 600 pieces of writing entered this year. This means that over half the school wrote poems and / or prose, to gain a place in the creative annuals!

Congratulations must go to the following:

Senior Poetry Winner:	Simon Searra
Senior Poetry Runner-up:	Sue Houghton
Senior Prose Winner:	Jenny Childs
Senior Prose Runner-up:	Preston Rogers
Junior Poetry Winner:	Kerry Gilfillan
Junior Poetry Runner-up:	Veronica Koller

ENGLISH ENRICHMENT

The English Department offers extensive extra-curricular assistance to pupils of Bryanston High School. There are staff on duty each afternoon to supervise the Reading Laboratory which caters for both the weaker and the top pupils who wish to improve their performance levels. The Reading Laboratory develops the pupils' reading ability and speed, while testing and correcting possible grammar weaknesses. The pupils work at their own levels and at their own pace, thus striving to improve their own results, rather than being in a competitive peer-pressure environment. In many cases pupils have improved their results in class by 10% or more. In addition, there is a remedial programme organised by trained remedial teachers.

YOUNG HISTORIANS CONFERENCE

Staff Responsible: Miss W. De Witt (in charge),
Miss J. Burman, Mrs T. Letcher
Participants: S. Searra, C. Laidlaw, K. Muller,
P. Rogers, O. Vermaak, C. Smith,
S. Louw, V. Louw

The Young Historians Conference is much like many of the other extra-curricular activities which are offered in a great spectrum of diversity by Bryanston High. It is an opportunity to temper one's education and intellect with the excitement and enjoyment of the pursuit of higher learning and self-betterment.

The competition itself is co-ordinated within South Africa on a national level. This mammoth task alternates annually from province to province. The conference consists of four basic rounds. Firstly, the speakers whose talks must range from 10 - 15 minutes on pre-prescribed topics are evaluated within their schools. Those whose speeches are judged to be of the highest standard are then entered in a Provincial Qualification round. From this round the top entrants are forwarded to the Provincial Finals. The top two performers from each province are then sent to the National Finals, which, this year, were held at Renish High School for Girls in Stellenbosch.

The Young Historians Conference is an incredible opportunity, not only to better oneself academically and intellectually, but is also a chance for one to become better acquainted with our cultural heritage. I highly recommend participating in this event, and would like to thank all those who made it possible.

INTER-CLASS DANCE COMPETITION

Staff Responsible: Mrs L. Felgate and Miss D. Burger

The Inter-Class Dance Competition held on the 26th of June was once again a successful evening.

The various groups performed sequences based on themes given to each standard and displayed some innovative and colourful ideas. In the process of producing the sequences many of the objectives of the exercise were met: creative thinking, co-operation and participation.

Our Juniors (Standard 6 and 7) were particularly impressive in the preliminary rounds held during school on consecutive Fridays. After a difficult decision, the adjudicators chose 6B, 7B, 7D, 6H, 6A and 7C to go through to the final evening.

On the final evening the sequences were adjudicated according to the following criteria:

1. Originality
2. Degree of Difficulty
3. Perfection
4. Audience Appeal
5. Staging

The outcome of the event was the following:

First Place: 8A -Be our guest
Second Place: 7C -Lightening strikes 1000 times per second
Third Place: 7B -One fine day

Thanks must also go to Sandy Gardyne, Stacy Strang, Caryn Rodrigues and Charise Redshaw for the display dance, Business Women.

SYNCHRONISED SWIMMING COMPETITION

Staff Responsible: Mrs L. Felgate and Miss D. Burger

This has been a regular event for the past four years involving the Standard Eight girls.

Each class creates a sequence based on techniques learnt in lessons and performs the sequence for the girls in the school.

Although they are taught basic movements only, the girls managed to create some very beautiful sequences.

The winners of this year's competition were the girls of 8F.

ENGLISH OLYMPIAD

Mrs H. Middleton and Mrs C. Ludik

The 1996 Olympiad encouraged the candidate to study different types of humour based on the works of Herman Charles Bosman.

We were fortunate to see Bosman's work come to life in a performance by Patrick Mynhardt. His portrayal of the stories and their narrator, the character Schalk Lourens, provided insight into the setting and time in which Bosman was writing, and needless to say, was enjoyed by all.

Once again the candidates did us proud. We received 22 merits, 31 honours, 1 honours plus and 2 highest honours. Two of our pupils, Alex Liackman and Nicola Long made it into the top 120 candidates. Nicola Long brought further honour to the school by being placed in the top 20 candidates. Congratulations to all who took part and fared so well.

AFRIKAANS OLYMPIAD

This year our pupils once again achieved outstanding results in the Afrikaans Olympiad.

There were 6086 pupils from 305 schools who participated in the Olympiad.

Two Standard Nine pupils, Matthew Vassard and Alta van Zyl, got within the top six of the Olympiad, attaining an average of 91%.

Thirty three Bryanston High pupils participated and achieved a group average of 73%.

Congratulations to all participants!

READING ENHANCEMENT PROGRAMME

Staff Responsible: Miss L. Nunan and Mrs L. Felgate

Reading enhancement sessions have been held in the Media Centre after school. Based on a "Literacy Alive" programme, these sessions are designed to enhance reading ability which increases vocabulary knowledge and comprehension skills, and raises motivation levels.

The results of this programme can be measured in the improved academic performances of those pupils who attended the sessions. These sessions are run in conjunction with the Reading Laboratory sessions which are also held in the afternoons.

As a result of this programme we have instituted a reading assistance system where older pupils are used as tutors. This year a number of Standard Nine pupils, not only assisted with reading, but also taught a number of sessions very competently. We look forward to their valuable contribution next year!

This year twenty enthusiastic pupils put their skills into practice and participated in the Mathematics Olympiad. For some the task proved a difficult one, while others, perhaps more mathematically inclined, rose to the occasion. Alex Kuehnast went through to the second round of the Junior competition, while Justin Gregory, Peter Wang and Gary Huang did so in the Senior section. A special mention must be made of Gary Huang, who was successful enough to go through to round three, thus being placed in the top 100 of the participants. Well done to all those who entered!

COMPUTERS

Staff responsible: Mr W. Rogers, Mr S. Bradshaw, Ms E. Pretorius, Mr J. Breytenbach and Mrs L. Felgate

This year we have made leaps and bounds in computerising the school and allowing the pupil to become more computer literate.

Our main Sergo Computer Room has had wordperfect installed and the pupils of standard 6 and 7 are being taught the programme as well as becoming literate.

We have installed the Internet into the school, building a home page @ WWW.sprint.co.2A/^NBryhigh allowing all information about the school to be accessed via the internet. We also have an Email address, Bryhigh @ sprintlink.co.2#. where we can communicate around the world.

Our Marks Room has been networked with a second computer, allowing much more time availability to input results and thus taking the pressure off at the end of each term.

We have installed a multimedia computer in the Teachers Centre which is now being used with much gusto.

During 1997 we have the following plans:

- To purchase 2 new multimedia computers.
- To further upgrade our current 286 computers.
- To install a windows based operating system onto our network.
- To network the administration blocks.
- To install a dedicated internet phone line.
- To upgrade the Media Centre computer equipment.

ART TEACHER EXCHANGE: SOUTH AFRICA AND SCOTLAND

During the July break, I went over to Edinburgh, Scotland, to visit a fellow art teacher, Mrs Laurie-Ann Carr. She is one of four Art teachers at Dean's Community High School in Livingston, near Edinburgh.

I taught a drawing lesson on Abstract Art to Class 3F. Although the pupils are in the age group of Standard Sevens, they are actually on level with Standard Eight, as they start school at the age of five.

I found the pupils to be very enthusiastic about the task I set them, with most of them completing it successfully.

During their school holidays at the end of July, Mrs Carr paid a visit to Bryanston. She taught an unusual and interesting sculpture lesson to 6A. Out of a single piece of wire they were to make a face; preferably their own.

I found this type of exchange very interesting and can only encourage other teachers to try the same. Not only was it interesting to teach a lesson in another country, but I also found out about their system of discipline, encouragement and the day-to-day running of a school more than 9 000 km away!

LEADERSHIP

PREFECTS' REPORT

The 1996 Prefect body's aim this year was to leave Bryanston on a high, to improve upon the standards previously set and to uphold over twenty five years of tradition. Feedback suggests that it was admirably accomplished.

Besides improving our "people" skills, prefectship has taught us the importance of unity and of strength. Most prefects have almost lived at the school, and the job has taken a lot out of us. But we have loved it! This has been a most special and enjoyable year because of the pupils whom we led and the friends who led with us.

Sandy Gardyne

PREFECTS' CAMP

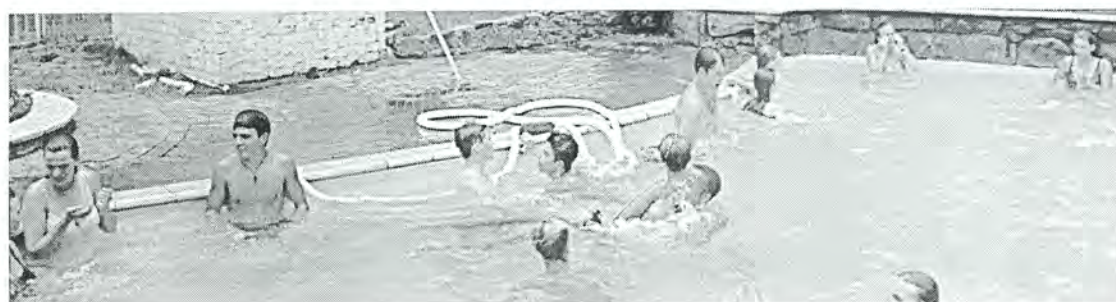

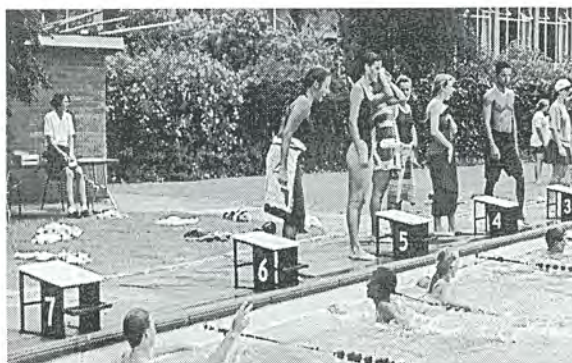

Prefects' Camp started off with the girls sticking together on one end and the guys sticking together on the other end. Little did we know that by the end of the camp we would all be sticking together. One of the things that helped unite us was the obstacle course which left us drenched, muddy and gasping for breath. As usual we made our mark by breaking the prefects' record time in the obstacle course. The Prefects' song took a lot of voice co-ordination which most of us did not have, but the results were impressive. By the end of the camp we had had a lot of fun, learnt about ourselves and each other and become motivated and determined to lead Bryanston through an unforgettable year.

ORIENTATION

What a great start to the 1996 year! Five years ago, we had to prove ourselves worthy of the school during the first week of our Standard Six year and now it was our turn to look on, and we could not help but laugh. The Standard Sixes were enthusiastic and some were even too willing to do as we said. Following a strict schedule of athletics, swimming and activities aimed at fitting in with Bryanston tradition, the new pupils showed a lot of spirit and proved to have much potential for future years.

Diane Freeman

A strapping introduction for Craig Fincham

FINAL ASSEMBLY ADDRESS

Good morning Mr Paige, staff and for the last time, Bryanston. An anonymous writer once said, "Don't be so cocky. Evert Eskimo's on top of the world too." But today we are on top of the world - we have been through twelve years of gruelling school and we are finally leaving - eat your hearts out!

The Matric class of '96 is blossoming. We entered this school, some of us as buds, some just as twigs, but we have grown through our experiences over the last five years into something whole, something beautiful, ready to show our faces to the world. We were also once little Standard Sixes with nametags and blazers we swam in and although when you look at people like Michelle Randston today it is hard to believe, we were once self conscious too. But we changed, as you will. No one looked at a certain thug, the naughtiest guy in 1992, and thought he would be a Prefect or a Rugby captain in his year. No one thought Neil Browner would grow, but he is almost my height now. We were also terrified of Mr Paige - okay, so some things do not change - but we have become who we are going to be for the rest of our lives (let us hope we like ourselves!). This school has helped mould those personalities. Matrics, the people sitting next to you are all part of you, as they are of me, because for the last five years, those friends created us. Something so formative and so special does not come along again too often.

To the younger standards, you are still moulding yourselves and your friends - take advantage of it and like how you have influenced people and who you are when the time comes to leave.

So today we are sitting on top of the world - only problem is, if you look at the world from the other side, we are at the bottom of it. The excitement lies in going into a new situation and working towards the top - that I look forward to and will gladly start at the bottom. But if I could leave this school without feeling as sad as I do, I would gladly do that too. It is not easy saying goodbye to Bryanston. To the staff, you have been wonderful and we really got to know you - I mean the personalities behind the inanimate teachers we saw in Standard Six. Thank you for all that you have given us.

To Mr Paige, you certainly evoke awe, and you run an excellent school. Your input this year is particularly appreciated.

Someone who I am sure has touched every Matric's life, particularly Wayne's, is Mrs Fulcher. This year, she has been a great help to me when I was stuck, and she has taken the time to worry about and talk to us individually. The class of '96 says thank you.

If it is not easy to say goodbye to Bryanston, it is almost impossible to say goodbye to the prefects, the matrics, Adrian, Nicky and Sekwa, to my friends. It is very sad to think that I may never know whether I will one day be able to look Neil in the eye with shoes on. Thank you for leading the school, thank you for your support. I have never been so fulfilled, so motivated, so happy as I was this year. I am everything I am because of you.

Before we leave, I would like to leave the school with a message, "He who takes but never gives, may last for years, but never lives." Give back to Bryanston what it gives to you.

Sandy Gardyne

STANDARD NINE BOYS' LEADERSHIP CAMP

Day 1: We set off on a journey on the 1st of May to the Golden Gate Nature Reserve on the Boys and Girls' Leadership camp. During this camp we learnt many different things about each other and we also bonded closer together as a group. After we dropped the girls off at their camp, we headed off to ours, to discover when we got there that we had ten minutes to set up camp. Let me tell you, this is not an easy task for most people who have never set up a tent before! We then went on a three kilometre orientation hike where we had to get to a particular place at the base of a cliff. Thereafter we went to bed and some of us less fortunate individuals discovered that when the teachers said, "Don't let us catch you out of your tents" they were not joking! When they caught a few of us running around at about midnight we had to submerge ourselves for five seconds in an ice cold mountain stream which was at a temperature of about -5 degrees Celsius.

Day 2: We woke up early on the Friday morning and got into cadet uniforms and readied ourselves for inspection. The teachers came around and again a few of us had to "hit the water" - a term which became increasingly known to us. We then had a lecture on leadership and after that prepared ourselves with green and brown paint for the camouflage session. This was great fun, because one group camouflaged themselves and then had to ambush another group. Of course there was the "down" side as I was to discover, because I unknowingly lay down on a patch of thorns and camouflaged myself with a branch full of thorns! That evening we played stalk the lantern and once we were caught we had to measure the distance to the lantern and therefore determine the winning group. Being the bright young people that we are, our group found out the next morning that we were caught only a few meters from the lantern but that we had walked a long way around a little cliff to the lantern, which had practically tripled our distance. The next morning at about 2 am we were woken by our Head Prefects and went for a run. We later discovered to our amazement that it was our bus driver who took us on the run and made us do push-ups and pull-ups.

Day 3: After inspection and the dreaded words "Hit the water", Mr Paige gave us a lecture on leadership. We then set off on a hike which would change everybody's opinions on hiking forever. The hike was to the top of a mountain called Generaals Kop, which is the highest mountain in the Transvaal, Orange Free State and the Cape Province. I remember one of my friends saying when we first saw the mountain, "Imagine if we had to climb that mountain, we would take years to reach the top." To our surprise that was the mountain we had to climb, and after much sweat and many tears and blisters we reached the top and played around in the snow which was left over from the heavy snowfalls a few weeks before.

We certainly had tons of fun and will remember the camp for the rest of our lives. We learnt a lot about leadership, our peers and also learnt a lot more about ourselves. We arrived home on the Sunday afternoon with many stories to tell and hours of sleep to catch up.

CHEERLEADERS

Staff Responsible: Miss D. Burger and Miss A. Botha

Cheerleaders: S. Strang, P. Chenery, N. Edmondson, D. Freeman, C. Redshaw, D. Barrow, C. Hofmann, C. Dell, E. Mc Phee, J. Steyl, L. Fish, W. Cawood, M. Wolfaardt, I. Olivier, G. Spilsbury, S. Madonna, S. Tshabalala, N. Tomic, A. de Haas, A. Karamitas, M. Malakoane, S. Brogan, H. Lomas, D. Wilson

The two highlights involving the 1996 cheerleaders were our Inter-High Swimming and Athletics meetings. Cheerleading is a growing interest in the school and the Standard Nine pupils from the Matric Dance Committee also became involved this year. The success of our swimmers and athletes is partly due to the motivation of the enthusiastic cheerleading squad.

STANDARD NINE GIRLS' LEADERSHIP CAMP

As we stepped onto the buses on Thursday morning not one of us quite knew what the weekend held in store for us. After a rather long journey we arrived at our destination and we all breathed a sigh of relief. Our camp was set in the mountains in the beautiful Golden Gate area.

After a pleasant meal that evening, we were briefed as to what we could look forward to. Everybody took part in three activities and most of us thoroughly enjoyed them all. We buried our fears and dared to abseil, we conquered a challenging orienteering course and we all revelled in the peace and serenity we experienced during a wonderful hike through the mountains.

Mrs Schreuder, Mrs Webb, Mrs Buchan and Mrs Deacon all contributed to our camp. Their lectures were all relevant and gave us something to think about. During our free time we practised our group plays and songs, which provided great entertainment and much hilarity on the final evening. Laughter and singing were prevalent throughout the weekend.

We all learnt much about leadership, ourselves and others during this memorable weekend. The Standard Nine girls came together as one and formed goals which we shall strive to fulfil next year.

Once again Apollo completed a successful year, both in the sporting and cultural spheres. The year was high-lighted by team involvement and spirit, which led us to second place in this year's Inter-House Gala. Congratulations go to Shirley Davidson who won the U14 Trophy for the Most Promising Swimmer, and to Murray Schrieber for winning the boy's U14 Most Promising Swimmer award. Justin Lawrence won this year's Senior Individual Medley and Senior Victor Natationis.

A great deal of hard work, fun and dedication went into this year's Inter-House Plays Festival. Our Junior play, Cupid on the Loose, won the Best Stage Management award and Tony Karamitas was the Best Supporting Actor in our Senior play. Continuing in the cultural field, congratulations must go to Stuart Benfield for winning the ITC Best Speaker Competition in Gauteng against approximately 700 speakers.

In the sports arena Apollo won the Inter-House Netball, came second in the Swimming and Boys' Hockey and third in Athletics. Brandon Sly won the Inter-House 3000 metre event.

Many others have achieved recognition individually: Nicci Ager earned her Transvaal Shooting colours. Dominique Biezanek and Niel Murphy were chosen to play in the Sandton Area Cricket and Michael Lemin was selected as the Southern Transvaal U15 Golf Team captain.

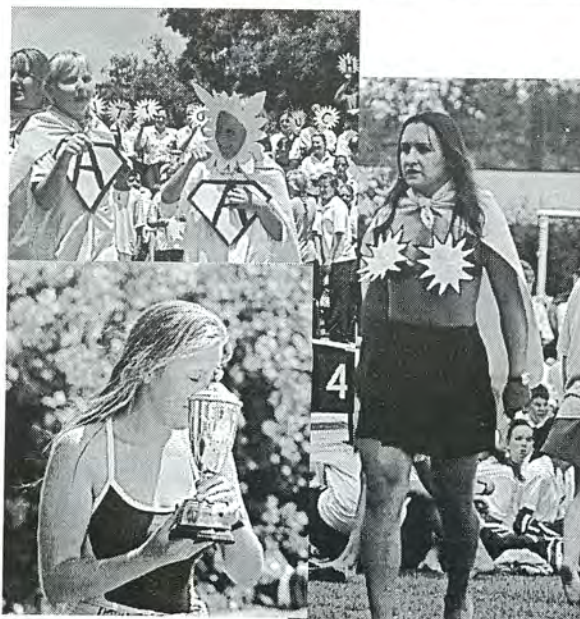

Apollo congratulates David Oshry for winning the Star Newspaper's Willards Sportsman Achiever of the month award for diving.

Our final accomplishment for the year poses a challenge to the other houses: Apollo was rewarded with the election of nine prefects for the 1997 year. May this auger well for next year.

"We'll sink your pride coz'we're the winning side."
 Once again Jupiter managed to get all the blue, green and yellow balls in one pocket.

Jupiter is a unique house with all-round talent that has been displayed throughout the year. On the Cultural side, the Senior House Play came second, walking away with the Best Supporting Actress and Best Actor awards.

At the Inter-House Swimming Gala our swimmers gave of their best, and although we came fourth, if we were not swimming for our house, we were certainly shouting and encouraging our swimmers to do their best. Jupiter made their comeback when the boys convincingly won their Touch Rugby and Inter-House Hockey matches.

All in all, this year has been exciting and challenging and our mission was made possible, along with the help and support from Mr Skelton and Mrs P. Deacon.

Mercury had a highly successful year during 1996, truly stampeding to victory.

Participation and performance were at their best. Every event was perfectly planned and was the usual Mercury success: from House Plays to Netball, Mercury had a very successful and enjoyable year.

Although we held our heads high in the Inter-House Gala, the highlight of the year was the Inter-House Athletics, when Mercury's true talents shone for all to see. Our Athletic team was excellent - achieving first place in the event. The spirit from the stands and on the field was outstanding, making it a memorable morning.

Overall it was a well-rounded, thoroughly enjoyable year. Thank you and congratulations to all involved - the spirit and participation shown is something to be proud of.

RHODES UNIVERSITY

Where leaders learn

Rhodes University in Grahamstown offers a focused, secure and complete educational experience. Its alumni become leaders in their fields way out of proportion to their numbers.

With more lecturers, more sports facilities, more residence rooms and more societies per student than any other similar institution, Rhodes offers its students the best of all worlds - individual academic attention from some of South Africa's finest professors, leadership roles in academic, sport, club and residential activities, and a physically secure environment both on and off campus and in the university residences.

Although geographically far from any urban area, Rhodes is at the cutting edge of technological communication, being the access point for Internet into the whole of South Africa.

There are 4500 students at Rhodes, seven faculties, 38 academic departments and 35 residences. As well as solid grounding courses in all the expected academic degrees, Rhodes offers unique expertise in many fields. Journalism, education, fish and water resource studies, English language, literature and literacy, are just some. Degrees structured to meet new needs (such as science degrees with law subjects) are constantly being developed. In many firms Rhodes students lead the field when it comes to seeking graduates.

Rhodes has a student population which increasingly closely reflects the demographics of South Africa and has made the transition without violence, upheaval or changing of academic standards. In many ways, Rhodes is a microcosm of how things could be everywhere in our new democracy.

If you know anyone who seriously wants to be a leader, we suggest they come to Rhodes.

Neptune began the year on a high note, winning the inter-house swimming trophy in a closely contested gala. The swimmers must be commended one and all for their efforts in the pool. The participation and commitment of the pupils was refreshing to see.

The spirit of commitment and enthusiasm carried on throughout the second term with Neptune shining in the cultural arena, winning both the Junior and Senior house plays. Congratulations to the pupils and staff involved in this event.

Later in the Year Neptune ran a disappointing fourth in the inter-house athletics, but remained committed and enthusiastic throughout the event for which the pupils must be commended.

At present Neptune is running a close second in the inter-house stakes, and hopefully when all results are tallied, will come out tops.

Thank you to a hard working house committee and staff and to all those who participated in the various annual events, for making this year the tremendous success that it has been.

STANDARD TEN GEOGRAPHY AND HISTORY TOUR

We set off on a cold Friday morning in June, full of excitement for the coming adventure. The reason was clear: we were on our way to Golden Gate National Park for the last academic tour of our school careers.

As usual, the bus ride started off at a frantic pace but this soon dwindled to a crawl as our reserves of energy, built up overnight did the same. We soon perked up again, though, as the beautiful countryside of the surrounding area gave us a clue that we were nearing our destination.

We were given a few minutes to find a bed in a semi-luxurious hostel and unpack before we were immediately taken out for our first walk through the awe-inspiring wilderness. The rest of that day and the whole of the next two days were spent in much the same vein with climbs up mountains that would exhaust the fittest, at heights that could scare the bravest. We were even treated to a session of absailing and were left in the dark bush for a while to 'get to know the sound of nature.'

All too soon it was time to leave our new found lives in the arms of Mother Nature and return to the busy schedule of the city. I cannot say any of us were too sad to see our rooms again, but we were all glad that we went and will always have great memories of this wonderful tour.

HIGHVELD FESTIVAL

During the first week of September, a group of Standard Nines attended the Annual Highveld Festival. For three days we were exposed to the cream of the Grahamstown Festival crop. This English festival is exclusively for Standard Nines, and enthusiastic pupils from schools throughout Gauteng entered into the "English" spirit of the Festival.

We were offered so much in so little time that our minds were stretched to their limits. Deon Opperman opened the festival with an inspiring message: "Seize the day!" - and that is exactly what we proceeded to do.

We attended four workshops of our choice, each of which was so diverse and enjoyable. We also chose two lectures: our choices were 'Supernova Networks' and 'Fast Food Shakespeare'. Both were so thought-provoking and stimulating, that there wasn't one bored face throughout either of the one and a half hour lectures. Perhaps the highlight of the festival was the wonderful theatre we experienced. We watched six outstanding plays and most of them had us begging for more. 'Suitcase of Stories' (a different approach to poetry), 'The Lunatic, The Lover and the Poet' (a fantastic look at Shakespeare's famous love relationships), 'Feedback' (an entertaining one-man mime) and the incredible three hour 'Crucible', are plays we shall definitely not forget.

This year thirteen Bryanston High School pupils took advantage of this fabulous opportunity. We encourage anybody who can do so next year, to 'Seize the day'. We thank the teachers who made it possible for us to have such a great and memorable experience. We can hardly wait for Grahamstown!

GRAHAMSTOWN FESTIVAL

Staff Responsible: Mrs C. Buchan and Miss L. Nunan
Participants: S.Gardyne, S. Strang, C. Mc Murdo, L. De Wet, H. Kempen, J. Reed, P. Rogers, N. Veitch, M. Williams, D. Johns, C. Mc Kinley, E. Aldersley, I. Sherwell, Z. Mapisa, T. Matsau, M. Magopa, M. Masubalela, A. Davies Van Es

The experience of a lifetime is an understatement. I have never been so culturally and emotionally stimulated before, and to live in an atmosphere of creative talent and freedom is an unforgettable experience.

We arrived early so as to overlap with the Adult festival, and spent the first day wondering how many mammalian species were resident in some of the dreadlocks we saw - an equally fascinating pastime! The festival itself was fantastic, the highlights being "The Crucible", a marvellous dance display and "kat and the kings". We also saw (some would say we were subjected to a modern version of "Macbeth" and the argumentative lecture this resulted in caused us to view Shakespeare's characters uniquely.

At night the Spur was our saving grace, and Mrs Buchan had a thing or two to show us at the rave held at the monument, which coincided with Heidi's birthday.

All in all, it was a terrific trip - if you can go next year, go!

STANDARD TEN BIOLOGY EXCURSION TO DELTA PARK

On the 16th of May, the Standard Ten Biology pupils spent the day at the Delta Environmental Centre. The Centre offers a "hands on" investigation of Population Dynamics - an integral part of the Standard Ten Syllabus. On arrival, the pupils were given a lecture on the theory behind the various concepts, followed by a slide presentation showing practical examples.

After a short break, the pupils were requested to apply their newly acquired knowledge to various exhibits around the centre. The attempt to determine the "population size" of selected bean seeds, proved to be difficult as the pupils left their "Maths brains" back at Bryanston High and struggled with the calculations involved!

This excursion not only gave the pupils the opportunity to investigate the variations in sizes and diversities of populations practically; it also gave them the benefit of receiving a different input of knowledge and experience, which will aid them in their final examination.

GIRLS' HOCKEY TOUR TO EAST LONDON

*Hi Ho, Hi Ho
Its off to East London we go
With Mimosa first then Embassy
Hi Ho, Hi Ho*

The Hockey Girls set off with an optimistic and enthusiastic approach. We stayed in the Embassy Flats and learnt so much.

*Hi Ho, Hi Ho
We're making meals as we go
With the toast on fire
And the peas on wire
Hi Ho, Hi Ho*

Because the flats were self-catering we never has a dull moment and had to cook our meals successfully or unsuccessfully.

*Hi Ho, Hi Ho
We played the schools we know
Making friends and foes
Hi Ho, Hi Ho*

We played the schools in the area - King Williams Town, Hudson Park, Claredon, Stirling and Queens Town and although we didn't win all our games, we learnt to play as a team and get ready for the season ahead of us.

*Hi Ho, Hi Ho
We're picking up grass as we go
With worms on sticks
And Lauren feeling sick
Hi Ho, Hi Ho*

Unfortunately there were a few injuries and sicknesses, but with the help of Shirley, we all made it through the tour.

*Hi Ho, Hi Ho
We thank the coaches as we go
With a smile and a shake

TRANSVAAL SHOOTING TOUR / NATIONAL TRIALS

This is one tour I will never forget - a whole week of fun and some hard work too! During the October holidays we travelled to Bloemfontein. We arrived on the Monday after a "getting-to-know-you" five and a half hour bus trip, exhausted but happy. We got the rest of the day off, as well as the Tuesday, after we has sighted our rifles in nice and early. Transvaal are the reigning champions and we were treated as such. We got to stay in the university guest houses and we were served home-cooked meals. From Wednesday to Friday, we shot the competition, while playing cards and pool in between, as well as paying Mimosa Mall many visits. Milky Lane became our second home! Friday night was a true test of our shooting skills - laser games. What a night! Saturday was the practice day for the chosen shottists as well as Allegaartjie which, this year, was clay pigeon shooting. This definitely got the team spirit flowing. That evening after prize-giving we had our last stop at Mimosa Mall for some pool before leaving for home the following day. Many of us would not have minded staying at least another week. We may have left on the tour not knowing anyone, but we came back as friends and with many phone numbers to keep in touch.

RUGBY TOUR TO ZIMBABWE

The Zimbabwe Tour was a great experience for all of us! The First Team Squad, which consisted of Matrics, Standard Nines and plenty of Standard Eights became the foundation of the future.

Most of the young, inexperienced - but talented - rugby players will look back at starting their careers at First Team level, with this Zimbabwe Tour.

Meeting at the train Station, the tour had now begun. The twenty four hour journey enabled us to get to know our "little siblings" and find out what great guys they really are! When we got to Zimbabwe we were welcomed by our St Georges opponents and taken to their school. Their magnificent school, now one hundred years old, stood there in pride. Their Centenary Festival consisted of a touring side from Scotland, St Alouiscas, and the ever popular side from Natal, Michael House. Prince Edwards and St Georges were amongst the Zimbabwe schools. The Festival itself was a great success. Each team played extremely well, creating stiff competition.

Our manager, Mr Skelton had a lot to add to our knowledge and kept us in line, in his usual humorous way. We thank him for organising much of the tour and for his guidance. Mr Essex-Clark helped us cope with the opposition. Being the cool, calm and excellent coach he is, he really made the tour worthwhile. Mr Visser was the "brains" behind the scenes. His intellectual talks focussed our minds on the game. Being an excellent support and coach, he taught us a lot for future use.

We now truly know that Bryanston rugby is going places as this learning experience proved to be our greatest advantage.

MIDMAR MILE

The day has finally arrived, this is the weekend that distinguishes between those who can take on the challenge and those who only thought they could.

There's a rush of excitement as people fight over a seat in the bus, and of course the Bryanston hierarchy comes into play, with the matrics claiming the back. After a long and uneventful seven-hour trip, we pull into the City Lodge. We are warmly welcomed and the second fight begins as we all try to stake a claim to a room.

As usual, everyone parties hard for the two days before the big day and most of us will definitely remember our great trek over the whole Durban area, discovering the traditions of the locals.

We stumble down to breakfast in the early hours of Sunday morning, the day of the big race, before we set off for Midmar Dam. Some are only deciding to swim an hour before the race, while others are desperately trying to pull out. The moments before the race are spent nervously huddled together in the rain. The gun goes off and it's a mad chaotic rush as people hurtle themselves towards the water, and what feels like hours of swimming begins. With aching muscles we eventually walk out of the water. At last it's all over and we swear never to put ourselves through that again, at least until next year that is!

CAPRICORN TOUR

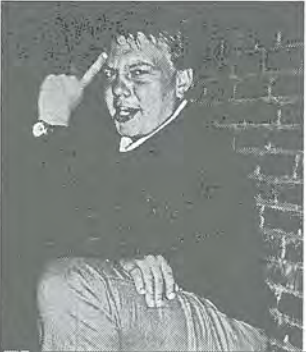

On Friday the 4th May, 429 pupils departed for the annual Bryanston-Capricorn fixture in Pietersburg.

As this is one of the few occasions where Bryanston pupils taking part in a diverse spectrum of activities can represent the school in one fixture, it has gained the support of staff, parents and pupils alike. It also forms part of the pupils' education as they have the chance to support activities as a school, where some of these activities involve smaller numbers and are less familiar to them. The results of the fixture were as follows:

- | | | |
|----------------|---|------|
| First Rugby 15 | - | Lost |
| First Netball | - | Won |
| First Hockey | - | Won |
| First Hockey | - | Won |
| Tennis | - | Won |
| Squash | - | Lost |
| Debating | - | Won |
| Cross Country | - | Won |
| Boys' Hockey | - | Won |

A tradition has developed whereby Bryanston visits Capricorn every two years, and Capricorn visits Bryanston on alternate years. This fixture forms a very important part of the Bryanston Calendar. May it carry on for years to come.

STANDARD NINE BIOLOGY EXCURSION TO THE PRETORIA ZOO

The excursion by the Standard Nine Biology group to the zoo did not only give us the sense of freedom to roam the animal kingdom but it offered a great, fulfilling supplement to our Biology Syllabus. The most exciting and encouraging part of the learning process is self-investigation and discovery, which was most certainly achieved by each and every member of our Biology group.

The "matter" of education is made easier through humour. The most humorous and memorable events include a monkey moved to whaling tears because of Julie Laidlaw; a disgruntled gorilla interested only in head-butting each palm tree, rather than being interested in us; and the huge belch of the gigantic fur seal in direct public which moved us to shock and laughter!

UNDER SIXTEEN RUGBY TOUR TO MARGATE

Having enjoyed a meal together at our local steakhouse the Under Sixteen Rugby Team left for Margate at approximately ten o'clock.

We had a comfortable, but long, drive through the night, stopping regularly to refuel and stretch our legs and we finally arrived at our destination at about eight o'clock the following morning. The rest of the day was spent swimming in the sea and playing rugby on the beach.

Our first match against Middleburgh saw Bryanston playing very well and the end score was 49 - 0 to Bryanston - a good way to start off the tour! This was followed by a coaching session with various coaches and players from different areas.

Our second match was against Jim Fouche. We found these opponents to be much tougher this time, but we eventually managed a victory of 19 - 10. In between matches we attended our coaching sessions, swam in the sea and went on "fitness runs". We played our last game against Kanonkop Second Team. Although we played hard, we lost 20 - 15. After a final "Boniwatele", we left on Tuesday morning at about 5.30 am and arrived back in Bryanston at about 1.30 pm. On behalf of the Under Sixteen touring side we would like to thank everyone who made the tour possible: Mr Paige, all those who provided us with sponsorship and to Mr Skelton, Mr Bradshaw and Mr Crighton for making it a wonderful experience we will never forget.

STANDARD NINE AND TEN ART TOUR

In order to keep up to date with our changing syllabus and to compensate for the lack of printed material relating to the new syllabus, we take our pupils to view the works for themselves and to collect whatever information is available at various exhibitions.

The very friendly staff at the Pretoria Art Gallery took us on a tour showing the pupils some interesting contemporary Art works by Walter Battiss, Penny Stopes and an exhibition of and environmentally friendly art competition.

We then went on to the Open Window Contemporary Art Gallery where an exhibition entitled "Diving, Loving, Purging" was on display. The works of well-known Diane Victor was amongst these. In the words of the Standard Nine pupils, "The art was very different and shocked some of us. It looked at art in a different way but it was still good and opened our eyes to a wider variety of styles."

Ms K. Hofmeyr

STANDARD TEN ART TOUR

This excursion took us to three Art galleries. We started off at the Sandton Art Gallery where four ceramic artists had their work on display. Some very unusual and technically brilliant works were exhibited, showing our pupils that ceramic is no longer merely seen as a craft but fall into the sculpture realm.

We then went to the University of the Witwatersrand for their Annual Students Exhibition which was showing at the Gertrude Posel Gallery. Some very "weird" and wonderful things were on display, including some unusual installations, giving the matrics who are interested in Fine Art the opportunity of seeing just what kind of conceptual work is now the latest trend.

STANDARD SEVEN HISTORY TOUR TO THE MILITARY MUSEUM

During the third term the Standard Seven group visited the South African War Museum. When we arrived, excited and talkative, we were herded into an auditorium where we were shown a documentary on Hitler's life. After this we were split into groups and taken on a guided tour of the museum. It amazed us all just how big and expensive everything was and all the women agreed that if they had been in charge at the time there would not even have been a war! After an informative morning and a hearty lunch we all clambered back onto the buses and headed for home. We all agreed it was a tour to be remembered.

COMBINED BOYS' HOCKEY AND GIRLS' NETBALL TOUR TO THE UNITED KINGDOM AND THE REPUBLIC OF IRELAND

The idea of this overseas tour was initiated during the latter half of 1995 but the fundraising activities only began in January 1996. The aim behind the fundraising was that it should create spirit and be enjoyable rather than purely hard work. Within three months the parents completed the "task" with events such as a Race Day at Turffontein and the very popular and entertaining Ballroom Dancing lessons.

The money raised, tickets booked, thermal underwear bought and large suitcases packed, a group of fourteen excited boys and ten tearful girls - together with their coaches, Mrs Schreuder, Mr Winson, Mrs Deacon as well as Mr Paige and Mr Visser - congregated with their parents at the Johannesburg International Airport on Friday 29th March.

In the Friendly Galas on Thursdays we swam against eleven schools, losing only to Northcliff by a narrow twelve points. This unexpected defeat at the hands of our old rivals sent warning signals to the Bryanston A Team that much hard work was going to be needed to achieve victory in the Inter-High A Gala. As we had feared, Northcliff took an early lead at the Gala, pulling ahead steadily to win by 71 points. The disappointed Bryanston swimmers had to be happy with second place. Congratulations to Grant Ansell, who set a new record in the Boys' under 16 50m Breaststroke event.

Final Results:	First	-	Northcliff	780 points
	Second	-	Bryanston	709 points
	Third	-	Rand Park	624 points
	Fourth	-	Sandringham	465 points
	Fifth	-	Greenside	429 points

B TEAM SWIMMING

Staff Responsible: Mrs G. Fulcher (in charge) and Mrs D. Fulcher
Captains: Amy Evans and Harry Lomas
Vice Captains: Delene St Clair-Mulley and Michael Stevens

The B Team has always been a very dedicated team and 1996 carried this enthusiasm through. Unfortunately our swimmers came up against tougher competition due to a new set of schools having joined the Co-educational Swimming League. These schools are extremely competitive. Our usual opponents consisted of A Swimming Teams from these respective schools.

Galas throughout the term proved exciting, with Bryanston winning on a couple of occasions, when schools from the lower leagues were involved. We got off to a great start to the season when we beat Saheti, Sir Pierre and The Hill.

The B Team's success depends on depth and commitment to the team. All our swimmers improved their times weekly; a testimony to their commitment. We would, however, like to see more boys involved next year!

There were many individual swimmers who excelled during the season and they were often placed first or second. Special mention must be made of Zaine Eblen, Bruce Olivier, Mark Watkins, Dean Evans, Harry Lomas, Taryn Neary, Amy Evans, Claire Lownie and Caroline Kastner, who were frequently placed in top positions. The aim of the B Team for 1997 is to win their league and build up a strong, dedicated team.

Thanks go to the captains Amy and Harry for their superb contribution and for their constant motivation of the team, and to the Vice Captains for their help and support. Bryanston B Team has always been held in great esteem and we look forward to a great season next year!

CROSS COUNTRY

Staff Responsible: Mr J. Breytenbach (in charge),
Mrs J. Frost, Miss R. Davies

1996 was a very successful year for Cross Country at Bryanston High School. We compete in the Northern Districts division and are ranked as one of the top schools. The league season is during the second term. We started running in the first term to prepare our athletes for the league season. An innovation this year has been the introduction of a time trial on the school property. This was very well supported and helped to fine-tune the racing skills of our athletes.

Six of our athletes were selected to represent Northern Districts. They were:

Brandon Sly	-	Senior Boys
Mark Taylor	-	Junior Boys
Kerrin Dawson	-	Junior Girls
Megan Ford	-	Junior Girls
Michelle Williams	-	Senior Girls

Congratulations to Kerrin Dawson who was unbeaten in the league runs and came second in the Final Combined League. Megan Ford managed a Top Ten finish at the same meeting. Brandon Sly performed the best of our boys and also managed a Top Ten finish in the Combined League meeting. We look forward to another great season next year.

And the rain came down ...

This must be the most suitable summary of the 1995/1996 Cricket season. No fewer than five fixtures were cancelled due to rain or unplayable pitches. In light of this, special mention must be made of two teams. The Brisbane Church Grammar School flew to South Africa for a scheduled eight games, but played only one of their fixtures. Our U14C team was undefeated for the simple reason that they never had the opportunity to finish a game due to rain!

Conversely, the U15A team had a remarkable season in that they lost only one match and were thus rewarded with the Team of the Year Award.

No cricket season can ever be successful without the dedication and commitment of the coaches and I would like to thank them all. Many people had to put in extra effort this year, due to the weather. Again Mr Waite and his groundstaff performed wonders with pitches that sometimes looked more suitable for mud wrestling. Mrs Barrow and the Mothers' Committee had to do a lot of re-scheduling of teas and cakes. Mrs Monica McMurdo helped schedule and reschedule fixtures and scorers and supporters followed suit!

Our Annual Cricket Dinner was held on the 7th of March in the Roy Paige Pavilion and the guest speaker was the International West Indian player, Conrad Hunte. Not only did he motivate the boys towards higher goals and leave dads, coaches and players with thoughts about cricket, but also a philosophy of life that I'm sure will be remembered for years to come. I would like to reiterate Mr Hunte's closing words - an extract taken from the works of Rudyard Kipling - as a way of life for sportsmen:

"If you can meet with
Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two
Imposters just the same

Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it
And - which is more-you'll be a Man, my son!"

FIRST TEAM

Staff Responsible: Mr J. Skelton (in charge), Mr W. Rogers
Captain: Alex de Haas
Vice Captain: Sean Brogan
First Team: G. Walker, R. Watkins, W. Cawood, M. Wolfaardt, G. Spilsbury, U. Masanamela, J. O'Meara, A. Cotton, A. Bottome, G. Jones, D. Niebuhr, A. Wildman

The First XI played 14 matches during the 1995/1996 season, winning 7 and drawing 2. The season started with a tour to the South Coast where the side won 2 matches and lost 1. Captained by Alex de Haas, the First XI always showed the highest level of dedication and commitment, and served as an example for the rest of the school and cricket in general. Talented bowlers like Wade Cawood, Sean Brogan and Justin O'Meara could always be trusted to take that crucial wicket and often the team would take the wicket in an exciting last over! Andrew Wildman and Grant Walker had a prolific batting season. Andrew achieved 66 not out in a Johnny Waite Knockout against Highlands North. Some of the players will, I'm sure, leave their mark on Cricket at a higher level and all the school's good wishes go with them!

Mr J. Skelton

SECOND TEAM

Staff Responsible: Mr A. Winson
Captain: Duncan Gray
Vice Captain: Gareth Jones
Second team: C. George, N. Browner, T. Ross, D. Dougans, J. Von Kerkhoven, D. Phillips, A. Bottome, D. Niebuhr, P. Rogers

Sadly the rain was the real winner of the '96 part of the season with only 4 of the 12 games being played. Of those 4 games the Second Team had 2 wins and 2 losses. This side never really had a stable side because we were the "passing phase" by providing opportunity for some budding First Team players. Gareth Jones, Duncan Gray, Craig George, Andrew Bottome performed well with the bat and David Phillips and Dieter Niebuhr mastered the ball.

This season was very eventful and enjoyable for the players. Our success rate is improving as our experience of the game increases. The Player of the Year was a shared trophy this season. The winners were brothers Rory and Ryan Smith. We really had to concentrate on keeping in form because we were often stopped or delayed by rain.

Gareth Osry and Darryl LindequeUNDER FIFTEEN*Staff Responsible: Mr A. CrightonCaptain: Andrew GriffithsVice Captain: Dominique BizanekA Team: B. Jones, M. Lemin, A. Kuehnast, B. Raymond, J. Moyes, I. Djurdjevic, G. Dicks, W. Laubsher, N. Murphy

The Under Fifteen cricket team had a wonderful season. Out of 12 games played only 1 was lost. Unfortunately many others were washed out due to rain. There are a number of talented cricketers in this age group which bodes well for the future of Bryanston cricket. Brendon Jones excelled with the bat with an average of over 70 for the season. Dominique Bizanek, Neil Murphy and Wayne Laubsher spearheaded the attack with some excellent bowling. Thanks to the boys for a great season!

Mr A. CrightonUNDER FOURTEEN*Staff Responsible: Mr A. VianelloCaptain: Murray SchreiberVice Captain: Andrew WhitsedA Team: D. Bolton, P. Lalin, R. Schule, C. Buckley, L. Slabbert, A. Swan, C. David, D. Crawford

An abundance of talent and enthusiasm poured into Bryanston High School at the beginning of 1996 with the arrival of the U14 age group cricketers. It was an unfortunate, however successful season, with many games being literally washed out by the summer rains. The boys performed superbly in the matches which they did play, since most of them were played on damp wickets which closely resembled snake-pits and cabbage patches! The conditions resulted in low scoring inningses, with exciting finishes to the matches. Five games were played, of which Bryanston won three and lost two. Greg Neilson, Andrew Whitsed, David Bolton and Murray Schreiber performed well with the bat, while Greg, Andrew, Murray and Andrew James achieved excellent bowling figures. Greg Neilson received the award for Player of the Year.

The athletics season of 1996 has turned out to be one of great spirit and great success. With much hard work and dedication from our athletes, we managed not only to stay in the A League, but to prove ourselves to our fellow rivals. Although we did not win, we still walk away proud and wish all the luck to next year's athletes, whom we know will BITE BACK! We have the athletes and they have the potential. Thank you to all the staff for the constant encouragement and time you have so freely given!

What has emerged from the dry grass and dust this season is a battled-hardened group of players who now carry the experience forged by many hard-fought encounters against some of the most formidable opposition teams in Southern Africa. A great many players were "blooded" this season having pulled the coveted white jersey over their heads for the first time to take part in a highly competitive arena. As a result, we have been rewarded with a number of players who have grown in confidence and ability. The St. George's Centenary Rugby Festival in Harare also provided us with an opportunity to expose our younger players to the intensity of a high level of First Fifteen rugby. Our Zimbabwe squad consisted of two Standard Seven players, seven Standard Eights and five Standard Nines - all who represent a tremendous investment for future rugby at this school. Our First XV did not travel well, our side preferred home advantage where they provided us with some spectacular well deserved wins. Nenad Tomic, our Captain of Rugby, set an excellent example this season. His dynamic leadership, dedication and positive attitude towards the game make him the ideal role model for our junior players. Sean Brogan, our Vice Captain complimented Nenad's leadership with his exacting professional approach to the game and his effective decision-making. Together they added to the success of our First XV.

This year's rugby season had us playing with a hearty young side, which only proved tougher for us and made it an experience we will never forget. We had our disappointments and we had our successes in games mostly played at home in front of a wonderful, supportive crowd. This season was a good preparation for excellent seasons to come. We Matrics look forward to supporting our 1996 team in future games.

The 1996 Under Sixteen rugby team will be remembered as a team with incredible talent, but above all as a team with the TRUE Bryanston Qualities; Commitment, dedication and pride. Losing only two games during the season, they still remained humble and eager to learn. Scoring 421 points during the season, with 93 against, the team always entertained the crowds and won support from all spectators. The highlight of the season was a tour to the South Coast where the team emerged as not only the most entertaining but also the best spirited. The progress of all involved will be followed with great interest in the years to come.

If a rugby season's success is to be measured according to the number of victories and defeats attained by a team, we can say that the Under Fifteen division had an extremely successful season. The A Team played 13 matches, winning 8, Drawing 1 and losing 4. The B Team played 11, winning 6 and losing 5. However, even more impressive is what the players gained in skill, maturity, guts and team spirit. Both the A and B teams illustrated these qualities throughout the season - win or lose. Probably the most spectacular performance of the season was against Roosevelt, when both the A and B Teams came back from almost certain defeat late in the second half to win both games, the A team doing so in the closing seconds of the match, through a try by Gavin Fisher. Congratulations on a great season!

The general level of rugby skills and commitment improved throughout the season in all three Under Fourteen teams. Players began to realise that only through hard work, total dedication and discipline are results obtained on the sports field. The present group of Under Fourteen players are an exceptionally talented group of sportsmen and in time, with practice, will develop into an exceptionally good age-group, possibly one of the best in recent years. On behalf of the coaches I thank the parents for all their support and wish the boys good luck in future years.

The season was a very successful one, evident by the results. The players learnt the value of teamwork, the importance of enjoyment, and ultimately, the fact that victory only follows hard work, determination and team commitment.

The tour to the United Kingdom at the beginning of the season helped to mould and reinforce an enduring unity in the team. The team grew in strength and confidence as the season progressed, presenting spectators with some of the finest examples of teamwork and hockey skills, by a highly motivated group of players.

The First team achieved some excellent results, winning 13 games, drawing 3 and losing only 1 to the Top Boys' School in Johannesburg. They scored 61 goals, conceding only 17. The First Team's performance this season confirmed our status as one of the top co-educational schools in Johannesburg.

Congratulations to Grant Walker and Cameron Dutton on their selection to a Transvaal Representative Side.

Despite losing the stronger players in the squad to the first team on numerous occasions, the Second Team boys' enthusiasm and willingness to play were evident throughout.

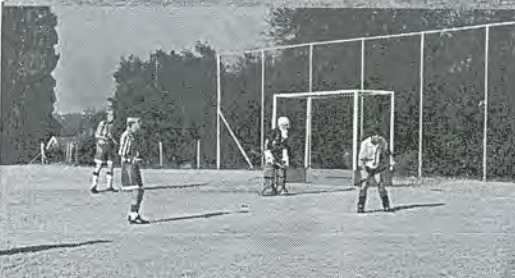

The First Rugby Boys take time off to watch.

This year's Under Fourteen players have displayed a wealth of talent and potential, which has enabled them to excel in a very competitive league. They won 7 out of the 10 games, losing only to the top Boys' Schools. A good foundation has been laid for the future and many players will definitely come to the fore.

Congratulations go to Greg Neilson on his selection to the Transvaal U14A team.

The season started with an interesting tour to East London for the team to develop, which it certainly did! The new league system of the top eight schools makes competition extremely tough so it is necessary to be ready to start the season. Both teams were extremely keen and all gave of their best at practices and thus were able to develop their skills tremendously. As a few games were played on the Astro surface, we also had a number of practices there. The season went into full swing with matches every Tuesday and some Saturdays. Tournaments were also held on Saturdays. Many players took up umpiring as well and they found themselves extra busy attending courses, lower league tournaments and trials.

And then it was time for Provincial Trials for the opens as well as the Under Sixteens. Finally, Lauren de Wet and Stacy Strang were chosen for Nuggets and Pippa Gregory and Kate Dold for Colts (under sixteen). Congratulations go to these girls as well as Lauren de Wet, who received Colts A umpiring status and Cari Williamson, Colts C.

The First and Second sides had a fun season and at times, played excellent constructive hockey, with many players showing plenty of ability and skill. The stronger the opposition, the better they played. Lauren, as Captain, led her team by her own ever-trying efforts and Stacy, as Vice Captain, played with fire. It was a great group to coach and it is my hope that those who are leaving school, continue to play hockey and aim to become Springboks - why not?

To all the parents who supported, transported and encouraged, go our grateful thanks, to those who made tea, thanks, and to who care about hockey, please don't stop - we need you and we hope hockey becomes an even greater sport!

A great hockey dinner was held at Bryanston Country Club with Mrs Ros Howell, ex-Springbok Captain, proving to be an excellent guest speaker. Thanks go to Mrs de Wet for her organisation and the wonderful gifts.

It was a great season, thanks to all the coaches and players involved. May 1997 prove to be an even better one. Good luck to all in their future hockey careers.

There was tremendous interest in this age group. We had girls ranging from Standard Six to Standard Nine for the Under Sixteen A and B teams. Miss Botha joined us as an assistant coach. The Under 16A girls went on a tour to East London during the April holidays, which was highly successful and educational for the girls.

The number of girls who attended practice made selecting the teams a challenging task. Special mention must therefore be made of all the girls who continued to attend practice conscientiously even though they were not regular members of the A or B teams. Your commitment was noted and appreciated.

It was particularly gratifying to coach this age group as the girls were always enthusiastic about practice. Their individual hockey skills and the team's performance improved consistently throughout the season. Best wishes to all the girls in their future years of hockey at Bryanston. You have the potential to do very well.

It is always difficult to start learning a new game with new techniques four weeks before the first game is played! Despite the odds, the new Standard Six girls coped extremely well, tackling each practice with enthusiasm and dedication. I really feel that tremendous progress was made during the season, and that Bryanston can expect superb senior sides in the coming years.

Unfortunately, not every game was won, but each girl emerged a winner in terms of her spirit and application. It was a most enjoyable season to coach. Thank you girls!

Vice Captain: Natalie Guebert
A Team: B. Rogers, V. Barrow, R. deSousa, T. Long, K. Edwards

This was a very special year for the A Team. They went on a wonderful overseas tour where they were excellent ambassadors for their school and country and did very well against the overseas schools.

Back in South Africa, the team won all their games in their section. They also took part in a Top 8 Day-Night series and ended up playing in the quarter-finals. The Open A's went to the quarter-finals of the South Gauteng League and lost against Rodepoort, who eventually won the league. They did not only have a very successful season as a team, but individually they also exceeded. Kathe Sims was chosen as Under Nineteen South Gauteng Shooter and Kirsten Edwards for the Under Sixteen South Gauteng Goalkeeper. Bev Rodgers made the Transnet Develonet Under Sixteen Side. Lots of hard work resulted in a very successful season!

The Open B Netball Team had a very successful season. Their determination and total commitment to each other resulted in them winning all of the six League games that they played. Of the three friendly matches they played, they won two and drew one. They were narrowly beaten by Randburg Hoer in the quarter final. Each one of the girls who played for this team is to be commended for their dedication, enthusiasm and excellent team spirit.

Our season proved to be a very tough but extremely enjoyable one. We all learnt a lot about the game of Netball and much about each other. No other schools in our area have C Teams, so we had to compete against their B Teams in both the league and friendly matches. The girls were enthusiastic and always did their best, this enabled them to win many of their matches and to lose the others with dignity. I look forward to working with these girls in the 1997 season, and I wish all those who will be leaving everything of the very best.

B Team: T. Quelch, J. Wainwright, M. Malakoane, J. Rymer, B. Grobelaar, T. Anderson

The Under Seventeen season began with an extremely unfit coach and sixteen extremely enthusiastic players. Eleven weeks later, however, after plenty of hard work, practice and approximately twelve gruelling matches, emerged a relatively fit coach and much improved umpire, but most importantly, sixteen disciplined, motivated players, with unwearying enthusiasm. It has been an absolute pleasure to coach and umpire the Under Seventeen Netball Teams, so a much inspired coach looks forward to next year's season with great anticipation.

The Under Sixteen girls had a remarkable season. The A Team remained unbeaten, ending the season as the overall Sandton Champions. The B Team also did extremely well, losing only one match. It was wonderful to work with such a committed group of girls whose spirit and determination were infectious. Congratulations to all of you.

B Team: J. Paris, M. du Plooy, C. Darkes, S. Vasilou, C. Davies

We had a very successful netball season due to the spirit and dedication of our girls. All fourteen attended every practice and participated in all the matches. Although most of the matches this season were lost, the players never lost their enthusiasm for the game, even though they were playing against other schools' B sides.

The amount of individual talent displayed by the players in the Under Fifteen age group this year made the task of selecting an A and B Side extremely difficult. After much reshuffling and testing the girls were grouped successfully according to their ability to work together as a team, and both sides went on to enjoy an excellent season, winning all but one of their league matches very convincingly.

All of the players must be commended for their ability to adjust to ever-changing positions and players throughout a season marred by numerous injuries and setbacks, and for continuing to play with the spirit and commitment that has for years been the hallmark of Bryanston Sports Teams.

The Under fifteen C and D faired well this year considering the fact that they played against mainly B and C teams. They did well at Capricorn, beating their opponents. Both teams improved tremendously throughout the season. Thanks go to our coach, Nicky Brown. Well sone to all the players!

Due to the outstanding commitment and very talented netball girls, the 1996 season proved to be extremely successful. The A and B teams both won all their games in their league matches. They were determined to win and gave of their best in every match. The girls worked coherently as a team and performed with consistent excellence. This commitment placed both the A and B teams in the regional quarter finals. The A Team lost narrowly. However, the B Team beat Fourways and went through to the semi-finals, which, unfortunately, they lost. The teams have a great future and with their dedication to netball, these girls will certainly be very successful!

The 1996 Girls' A Team had a very successful season, coming second in the League. They lost only one of their matches narrowly, possibly due to the fact that one of their players was ill and her absence from the team was sorely felt.

The Girls' B Team gained valuable experience for the future. Their enthusiasm and sportsmanship never diminished. Well done and congratulations to all the girls for a wonderful season.

The First Team played in the Southern Transvaal First League during the First Term and a youthful team struggled against more experienced opposition, but nevertheless gained valuable match practice. The team was dropped a league in the Third Term and then won all their matches with ease. With up and coming players of the quality of James Raymond, Brett Raymond and Gary Willis I am sure Bryanston teams will again be in the top league.

The 1996 season was most successful. Due to the great interest and large number of girls participating, an extra two teams were entered into the league this year. While not all teams were able to win all their matches, the fact that Bryanston has six teams and a long list of enthusiastic reserves is indicative of the depth of participation at the school.

Competing in the A Section of the Southern Gauteng League, the First and Second Teams played against the top schools and some of the strongest players in the Greater Johannesburg area. The girls are to be commended for the great determination and sportsmanship they showed in their matches.

FIRST TEAM

The Third and Fourth Teams competed in Section E of the League. Once again the opposition were strong as they were composed of First Teams, or the B Teams of the top tennis schools. A good standard of tennis was played by these girls throughout the season.

The two new teams entered into the league this year were the Fifth and Sixth Teams. They participated in the H Section of the League. These teams were made up largely of juniors and their enthusiasm and commitment bode well for the future of Girls' Tennis.

This year's Squash season was an action-packed adventure. Nine teams played in three different zone leagues, making travel arrangements on match afternoons a logistical nightmare, with only two staff members. The enthusiasm and spirit of the players carried the teams through a successful season and under excellent guidance of our coach, Colin Kirkby, we saw many young players improve their performance levels significantly. Mixed results were obtained throughout the leagues but a lot of experience was gained and an excellent foundation has been laid for the six Junior teams.

The Under Fifteen season was one of mixed fortunes. Although we did not win any of our matches, we had a team filled with enthusiasm and determination to improve.

The players showed fine sportsmanship in tough conditions during the season. For many of us, this was our first year of playing Squash, but Miss De Witt undertook the task of teaching us rules and regulations of the game and helping us to improve our technique. Miss de Witt was a superb coach throughout the season, always showing interest in our developing talent. Thanks also to Mrs Deacon and Mrs Meikle for supporting our matches.

This year, once again, we started with exhausting trials which lasted a little longer than usual. This was due to the high standard of shooting amongst the pupils. The school is able to field four teams of six pupils each. After careful selection, the teams were announced and preparation was started for the Transvaal Schools Shooting final.

Part of the preparation was to shoot against schools which are part of the North Rand Schools Shooting League. We won all our preparation matches and were set for the gruelling final which took place during the July holidays. The day was extremely cold with the first detail starting at seven. The shottists literally broke the ice on their way to putting up their targets. The atmosphere was tense and every shottist did his or her best to bring yet another first to Bryanston High. The Girls' First Team won convincingly against some of the top English and Afrikaans speaking schools. The Boys' First Team lost narrowly to Parktown Boys' High School with the Junior Boys putting in an excellent performance to be placed third, which bettered last year's performance from fifth place.

Fifty shottists were chosen to the Transvaal practice group, with nine coming from Bryanston. After seven weeks the final group was chosen and we were very excited to have four shottists from our school going to the National Championships. Nikki Ager, Sue Houghton, Heidi Kempen and Micahel O'Connell received their provincial colours and were an asset to the school during the National competition as the Girls' Senior Team was placed first by 18 points.

The dedication and enthusiasm of our shottists have taken our school to new heights in the shooting league. May even more pupils hit their mark next year!

TALENT SHOW

Hollywood - an appropriate theme for the Talent Show of 1996, which proved to be a fantastic evening of Bryanston High's stars. The Matric Dance Committee worked together and the superb end result was definitely fit for Hollywood. A huge congratulations is given to all the participants, without whom this event would not have been possible. There is no doubt that the audience thoroughly enjoyed this entertaining evening.

The winners of the various categories performed wonderfully and deserve a special round of applause. The results were as follows:

MISS ELEGANCE AND MISS PIZZAZ

The 1996 Miss Pizzaz and Miss Elegance beauty pageants were held on June 11 - 13. The school hall decor conformed to the theme "A Girl for all Seasons". The atmosphere at the Miss Pizzaz evening was one of fun and excitement. After a difficult decision in view of the many bubbly contestants, Kathryn Helmand became second princess, Lara Richardson first princess, and Nicola Stotter Miss Pizzaz 1996. Creating a delightful contrast to the first event, the atmosphere at the Miss Elegance evening was one of sophistication and refinement. In another challenging judgement, Kathe Sims became second princess, Tumi Matsau first princess, and Debbie Barrow, Miss Elegance 1996. Well done to all the contestants and to everyone involved on a tremendous achievement. As a result of hard work by all concerned, this year's pageants were successful and memorable.

MATRIC DANCE COMMITTEE

The only words to describe the evening of the Matric Dance and the weeks leading up to the memorable evening is "a complete success".

Upon accepting the task ahead, the Matric Dance Committee's initial aim was to create an evening that would help our matrics leave with only the fondest of memories and to round off a successful year and school career.

The dance was held at the Wanderers Ballroom on the 7th of September.

Deep in the heart of the forest in a magical glade sat a gathering of the elite, celebrating the end of their final year of schooling. The lanterns were dimmed, the jewels sparkled beautifully on even lovelier ladies and the deep voices of the men contrasted with the lighter lilting tones of their partners. Surrounding this happy group was a wall of huge, gnarled ancient trees with mysterious and wonderful beings and creatures curiously surveying the scene. A marvellous feast was prepared and hugely enjoyed by all. Finally the long awaited moment arrived. The four Head Prefects started the evening's festivities with the traditional and time-honoured waltz. The music became livelier and livelier and everyone danced the night away. Flashbulbs flickered like brilliant fireflies as cameras captured this memorable event. This was an evening of magic, music and movement which will surely be remembered by all participants with fond nostalgia.

The success of the dance would never have been possible without the extremely dedicated group of members and Mrs Emery, Miss Crutchley and Miss Arderne.

POTTERY CLUB

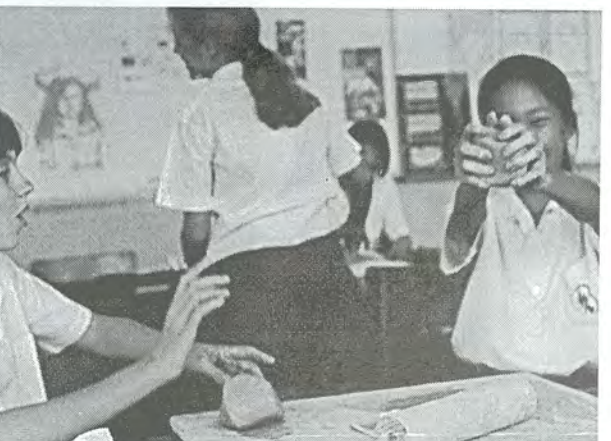

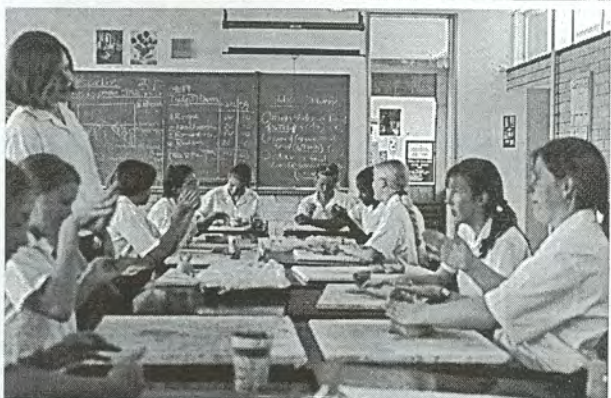

Staff responsible: Ms K. Hofmeyr
Members: N. Woodle, J. Chen, B. Dlamini,
 S. Quick, D. Lownie,

The pottery club meet every Wednesday and at present there are eight regular members.

During the first Term we made "functional" objects which were entered into a very exciting pottery competition headed for Japan. In the Second Term we focused on an African theme and made beautiful unusual "house" candle-holders in the Third Term. To round off the year, we're planning to make figures for a nativity scene to be set up in the Media Centre for Christmas.

New members are always welcome!!

PHOTOGRAPHIC CLUB

Staff responsible: Ms K. Hofmeyr
Members: N. Veitch, I. Sherwell, A. Kozlowski,
 G. Hall, N. Kedde, V. Phillips,
 N. Hart, B. Colloty

At present there are 10 members and most of the year was spent taking photographs of various school functions. Without these hard working pupils the magazine would not be so successful.

A lot of Std 6's joined this year and they are trying hard to become successful photographers. Angie Kozlowki's (10B) skill and hard work will really be missed next year. During this last term the pupils were lucky to have the expertise and exciting ideas of an art student from Wits University, Miss Laschinger. Together they experienced "pinhole" photography without the use of a camera! Using black painted shoe boxes they created a series of innovative and exciting photographs.

During the last term we're going to try and look at all the mistakes made and how to rectify them in readiness for 1997.

Our participation in this "Celebration of the Arts" in 1995 was of such a high standard that this year we were honoured to serve as a host school in the first Sandton event. Once more adjudicators and organisers alike commented favourably on the level of discipline and enthusiasm displayed by Bryanston High School pupils who entered a variety of items including Dance, Mime, English and Afrikaans Poetry, Normal Verse, Dramatised Prose, Drama, Public Speaking and Sight Reading.

Their efforts yielded no fewer than 39 Gold certificates (79-89%). Highest honours went to the following recipients of Diplomas (90+%):

Stuart Benfield - Public Speaking
 Tracy Fletcher - Solo Verse
 Tessa Blane - Dramatised Poetry

It is our opinion, however, that every pupil who participated - whether the result was Bronze, Silver or Gold - is a true winner. Congratulations - we are proud of you all!

RHETORIC SOCIETY

Staff Responsible: Mrs H. Middleton and Mrs J. Frost
Chairperson: Amy Evans
Vice Chairperson: Stuart Benfield

The Rhetoric Society has enjoyed continued success throughout the year in both the Public Speaking and Debating arena. As usual, we were able to enter two teams per standard in the Speech and Drama Teacher's Guild Public Speaking Competition. Sandy Gardyne eloquently represented us in the individual competition. Later in the year, Stuart Benfield lifted the name of Bryanston High's Rhetoric Society to new heights by winning the ITC Speakout 1996. This is a remarkable achievement when one considers that over 700 individuals from throughout Gauteng entered the competition. The Junior and Senior Best Speakers titles remain highly sought after accolades. This year's Junior title was won by Vicky Louw and Stuart Benfield beat stiff competition to take the Senior title. A number of our speakers entered the Randburg Eisteddfod Public Speaking event. We achieved silver and gold certificates in both the Junior (Standard 6 and 7) and Senior (Standard 8, 9 and 10) events. Stuart Benfield achieved a Diploma (95% plus) for the second year in succession.

On the Debating front we have had an exceptionally challenging and enjoyable year. We participated in only one league this year, the Northern League. For our members, both Junior and Senior, this proved a most stimulating experience as the teams had to take part in both prepared and impromptu debates. At the time of going to press the league was still in progress and therefore a final result was unavailable. Despite this, all members are to be congratulated on their spirited performances throughout the year.

In addition to the league debates we were also involved in the annual Bryanston versus Capricorn event. We were able to send two junior teams and two senior teams and could once again return victorious in all four debates. Next year we will be hosting Capricorn and will add to the event by including a debating workshop.

The members of the Rhetoric Society will be attending the first annual 'Cultural Dinner' in early October. This will be a fitting end to a wonderful year.

BEST SENIOR SPEECH

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Imagination is Everything

God saw that Adam needed a mate, so he said to him, "Adam, picture the finest helper, comforter and companion your imagination can create. And so Adam did, but when he described his vision to God, God said "Goodness, that's going to cost you an arm and a leg!" Adam replied, "Alright then, what can a get for a rib?"

Ladies and gentlemen,

Nearly a century ago, an old country doctor drove to town, hitched his horse, quietly slipped into a chemist shop by the back door, and began negotiating with the young chemist. For more than an hour, behind the prescription counter, the old doctor and the chemist talked in low tones. Then the doctor left. He went out to his buggy and brought back a large, old-fashioned kettle, a big wooden spoon (used for stirring the contents of the kettle), and deposited them in the back of the shop.

The chemist inspected the kettle, reached into his inside pocket, took out a roll of notes, and handed it over to the doctor. The roll contained exactly $500.00, the chemist's entire savings! The doctor handed over a small slip of paper on which was written a secret formula. The words on that small slip of paper were worth a king's ransom!

Here began a story of facts, stranger than fiction, facts which began in the form of a simple idea born in someone's imagination.

This one idea has paid, and still pays huge fortunes to men and women all over the world, who distribute the contents of the kettle to millions of people.

The old kettle converted a small southern town into the business capital of the Southern United States, where it now benefits, directly and indirectly, every business and practically every resident of the city where the Olympic games are being held at this very moment / have just been held - Atlanta, Georgia.

The influence of this single product of someone's imagination now benefits almost every country in the world, pouring out a continuous stream of gold to all who touch it.

Whoever you are, wherever you may live, whatever your interest, just remember in the future, every time you see the words Coca-Cola, that its vast empire of wealth and influence grew out of a single idea, born in the imagination of one man.

Stop and think of that, for just a moment. An idea you may create in your imagination, has the potential of duplicating the record of this world-wide thirst-quencher and of living on long after you have departed this world!

Ladies and Gentlemen,

my speech today is entitled, "Imagination is Everything", and I hope to persuade you that every success in life, whether temporal or spiritual, first needs imagination before it can become reality.

Imagination is the creation of ideas, and ideas are intangible forces which possess more power than the physical brains which gave them birth. Imagination is the workshop of the mind, wherein was first fashioned all that is on Earth created by man.

It has been said that "That which man can conceive and believe, he can achieve." We read in Mark 9:23 "If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth." Indeed, nothing has been achieved in history, no wars have been won, no bridges built, and no inventions manufactured, before they were first conceived and believed in the imagination of man.

Through the aid of their imaginative faculty, mankind have discovered and harnessed more of nature's forces during our parents' lifetimes, than during the entire history of the human race to date. Man has conquered the air so completely that the birds are a poor match for his flying abilities.

He has increased the speed of locomotion on land to fifty times that of the fastest of nature's creatures. He has learned to communicate instantly and with greater clarity than the fish eagle's penetrating cry or the lion's thunderous roar across tens of thousand of miles of land, sea and space. And yet, the only thing that distinguishes man from the rest of the animal kingdom is his faculty of imagination. Everything else that a man has, can be found in a pig. - as most woman would testify.

Through the faculty of creative imagination, Ladies and gentlemen, the finite mind of man, has direct communication with infinite intelligence. It is this faculty through which inspiration is received and mighty nations built.

The great statesmen and leaders of business, the great artists, musicians and poets, became great because they developed their faculty of creative imagination. This faculty becomes more alert with use, just as any muscle or organ of the body develops through exercise. The famed Roman Emperor, Marcus Aurelius said: "A Man's life is what his thoughts make it."

If one's imagination has become weak through inaction, it can be revived and made alert again through regular use, and then ideas can be transformed into tangible realities through the application of plans. Again, these plans must first be formed and re-formed with the aid of imagination. Implementing them is what leads to the astonishing realities of life

Millions of people go through life hoping for lucky breaks. But the safest plan is not to depend on luck. It is better to depend on imagination and the power that we all have within us, to turn imagination into reality through plans, persistence and determination.

Yes, Ladies and Gentlemen, the ideas of the imagination may at first be intangible forces but they have more power than all of the armies of the world put together, and for better or for worse they have the power to live on, long after the brain that created them, has returned to dust.

I end now with the Anonymous authors poem entitled :-

An Imaginative Life

I saw them tearing a building down,
A gang of men in my home town.
With a heave and a ho and a hearty yell,
They swung a beam and a side wall fell.
And I asked the foreman, "Are these men skilled
As the ones you would need if you were going to build?"
He laughed and he said "Why no, indeed,
Common labourers are all I need,
'Cos I can destroy in a day 'two
What it takes a builder with imagination and a plan years to do!

So I said to myself as I went my way,
"Which of these roles am I going to play?
Will I be one who is tearing things down as I thoughtlessly drift my way around, or will I be one who builds with imagination, vision and care
So others live better, just 'cos I was there?"

I.T.C. REGIONAL BEST SPEECH

South Africa - A World in One Country

My Grandfather, whose word I never doubt, told me that when he was a boy he had fifty cents, and he went out and bought a house, and a car, and he put seventeen cents in the bank.

He also told me that in those days black people in this country feared to walk on the pavements, that they had to stand in long separate queues in post offices and banks and that they were prevented by law from undertaking skilled work in the mines and factories.

Things may be a little more expensive now than in my Grandfather's day, but it seems to me that South Africa is a much nicer place to live in today than ever it was then.

Of course the crime rate is intolerably high. Of course too many people are without proper housing, jobs, hospital care and electricity. With restless labour, blood-letting in Zulu villages and hijacking in the suburbs, investor confidence is low and the Rand is undervalued.

But... Matthew tells us in Chapter 8, verse 26 that when the disciples were crossing the Sea of Galilee in a boat and the wind came up and the waves got a little big, they panicked and called out to Jesus saying, "Master, Master save us for we shall all perish!" Jesus rebuked them saying, "Why are you so fearful, O ye of little faith!"

Isn't that much like South Africans today? As we make our transition in the fragile vessel of a new democracy, there is a prophet of doom on every peak and in every valley!

Might it be that we are focusing our attention too much on the negative and failing to see our remarkable new rainbow of blessings?

The panorama is there, if we will but care to see it.

Political stability is the first in our spectrum of blessings and one which is coveted by most of the countries of Europe, the Middle East and Asia. South Africa is today a dynamic, youthful new nation with a bright new flag and a universally revered President.

We have returned to the world community not as a country devastated by a disastrous revolution, but as a proud, newly united and determined young nation.

Our second great blessing is that we are today considered world leaders in the peaceful resolution of conflict. The latest example of which has been the adoption of a new and most modern of democratic constitutions.

Third in the spectrum is the return of humanism to our attitude towards such things as corporal punishment, the death penalty, and the health needs of nursing mothers.

We are also witnessing an extraordinary capacity on the part of those previously discriminated against to forgive and on the part of the others, a genuine wish to make up for the past. Will this ever be the case in Lebanon, Bosnia or even Ireland?

Ladies and Gentlemen, the stage for development has been set by events such as these but there are, of course, other great gateways of opportunity before us.

To begin with, South Africa is a Persian Gulf of precious metals and minerals. Name it, and we have it. Apart from gold and diamonds, we possess 44% of the world's reserves of Vanadium, 72% of its Chromium and a massive 88% of its Platinum. Can Britain, Australia, or even America make such claims?

South Africa possesses the infrastructure of the best in the first world. Our world class airports, roads, telecommunications, electricity supply, banking and project financing infrastructure are the envy of more than two thirds of the world. These things are vital for the development of any country. Is there better infrastructure in Italy, India or even Canada?

Apart from manufacturing countless hi-tech products, South Africa has more than enough meat, maize and other agricultural products to feed our own nation. We also produce and export to the world vast quantities of fruit, vegetables, dairy products and fine wines. Neither Greece, Malaysia nor Japan can make such claims of self sufficiency.

Also, the world within South Africa has yet to be discovered by the world Without. Our land abounds with wildlife, golden beaches, natural wetlands and panoramic mountain ranges. Add to these fine hotels, an ability to cater to almost every culture and at nearly 5 Rand to the dollar, what Country is better poised for a boom in tourism'?

But, of all our assets, the most significant is our human resources. Yes, Ladies and Gentlemen, the task of developing this country will fall to our youth, so full of verve and enthusiasm. A task we can and will fulfil. South Africa already has a higher literacy rate than all of Africa, China and even of Israel! We have more doctors per capita than Malaysia, Mexico and Turkey. Our theatre, art, music and literature compare with the best in the world, and need I mention our world class sporting abilities'?

Speaking of the intoxicating loveliness of our country and its wide range of cultures, I once met a wizened old coloured man in the Paarl Valley, who told me:

"As ek so op 'n naweek sit met my bottel branderwyn, en ek kyk oor die lande, berge en meisies so fyn, dan word ek dronk, time and again."

Yes, Ladies and Gentlemen, right here in South Africa, envied political stability, a return to humanism and forgiveness by a nation now expert at conflict resolutions, abundant natural resources, breathtaking vistas, superb infrastructure, technology and a youthful, virile people who want nothing but peace and progress for the Rainbow Nation.

"Where else more?
Where else better prospects?
Where else a world in one country?"

A world crying out for acknowledgement and for the realisation of that anonymous author's words etched in the stone of Durham College:

How near is nature to our dust,
How dear is God to man.
When duty whispers soft, "Thou Must".
The youth replies "I Can!"

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

Staff Responsible: Mr M. Bowie, Mrs V. Webb (Chairperson), Mrs M. Schumann, Mr A. Basson, Miss J. Burman, Ms K. Hofmeyr, Mrs T. Letcher, Mrs C. Ludik, Miss L. Nunan, Miss J. Saint, Mr S. Marani, Miss C. Houghton

Bryanston High School prides itself for stimulating a unique cultural creativity through the development and application of dramatic skills, technical skills and creative writing abilities. Through constant development and maintenance of high standards over many hours of hard work the pupils involved in Drama and associated cultural activities develop strong individual identities, convincing language skills as well as creative and astute writing techniques.

This year saw the emergence of the first drama committee, comprising pupils who have developed strong skills in the various elements of drama. Chaired by Amy Evans, they were responsible for organising and running all the cultural events.

During the course work sessions, drama pupils displayed an integration of dramatic elements and creativity developing exciting high energy team spirit. Through the nurturing and stimulation of an appreciation for culture Michael Malakoane and Sekwanele Tshabalala, together with past drama students Stefano Marani and Claire Houghton, staged a complex one-act play Murder at Muckleby Manor for the Cultural Evening.

The eight house plays were staged entirely by pupils and both evenings were successfully managed and co-ordinated by pupils. The winning Senior House play was entered into the RAPS festival with a small percentage of re-casting necessary. The techniques and abilities developed over five years in the drama department together with time and effort spent refining the students' abilities by Mrs Ludik won the school many awards.

The Eaton Trophy is awarded to the playwright(s) who most closely formats his or her creative ideas to the essential elements and structures of a conventional play. The best playwright was selected on clear and concise format together with an honest and creative perspective of a curiously novel event - a class reunion.

Strong acting qualities, adaptable characterisation, flexible use of accents and voice production, together with good self-discipline and stage presence, selected the best dramatic performers who were entered into the Randburg Eisteddfod where many diplomas and gold placings were received.

Musical skills are nurtured in a variety of styles ranging from classical to contemporary voice and instrumental genres which are displayed in the musicals and talent shows. Performers mastering this medium were entered into the Eisteddfod and won gold and silver awards. The De Agrela Trophy is awarded to pupils who have mastered mature presentation and performance skills together with a uniquely strong development of self confidence.

Students displaying strong technical and problem solving abilities in the fields of lighting and sound and who are reliable and hardworking are considered for the Kruuse Trophy.

The skills required for co-ordination of activities, logistic problem solving skills and advanced planning techniques backstage behind the scenes have caused the drama department to initiate a trophy for Backstage Management.

Traditional dance, creative movement, choreography and synchronisation to music are some of the criteria which select dancers for the various dramatic events that support dance. The Acutt Trophy is awarded to the best dancer who meets these expectations.

Thoughtful imagination and vivid creativity in poster, programme and ticket design that meets conventional publicity regulations are criteria for yet another trophy initiated for publicity skills. Marianne Kuehnast provided the original poster for our Major Production, Hollywood comes to Bryanston, which was donated to the school.

The merits and abilities of our Bryanston pupils, together with their genuine and honest friendliness have attracted the organisers of the Randburg Eisteddfod and their professional adjudicators to recognise our potential and capabilities in the South African Cultural Society and they asked us to host the first Sandton Eisteddfod. This is truly a feather in our cap!

We would like to thank Miss Joan Brickhill for her interest in and support of our drama students' talents and in so doing motivating them to achieve even higher standards.

It was with much pleasure and acknowledgement for the efforts of all the drama pupils and associated "culture vultures" that the drama society was able to host its first cultural dinner in association with the Rhetoric Society to crown the year's activities. A big thank you is extended to Mrs Annamarie Mostert, secretary of the Randburg Eisteddfod and Mrs Eunice Strydom from the Gifted Child Centre for their addresses and support of our pupils' efforts.

MAJOR PRODUCTION

BROADWAY MUSICALS ON THE SILVER SCREEN

Hollywood! "Tinseltown" is the home of pizzaz, spunk and glitz. It represents the American Dream, where illusion brings voice to everyone's Utopia, where the beautiful are idyllic, the strong are protective, morals are untainted and situations are honest and refreshing. Love is emotionally rich and everlasting; comedy provides the right tonic with an ever-sharpening wit and the people become the twentieth century social conscience that reflects non-racial and non-political aspirations experienced by all.

The musical encompasses all forms of theatrical art and for this reason has been a popular choice for film directors and producers in their attempts to create an everlasting record of the essence of contemporary life. In this way all the musical has to offer, both artistically and in its lessons on human values, has been made accessible to everyone.

REVUE SYNOPSIS

Zoom into Hollywood where it's never too late to dream a dream. Join me as we take a closer look behind the scenes of movie making and wonder what the secret behind gold finger is and why diamonds are forever. Don't be fooled by the electric atmosphere at rehearsal but you had better pray that luck is a lady tonight.

Time runs out for the director and his patience wears thin with it. If only pretty women could soothe and calm him. If he were a rich man, he would be cool and relaxed whilst leaning on a lamp post but not even summer loving or a warm wilkommen can tame his anxiety. He is determined to make the rehearsals continue from sunrise to sunset. The cabaret girls, however, do allow him to sit and sip his bourbon whilst a chitty chitty bang-bang vintage car motivates him to commence filming which starts off with a bang!

Take a bird's eye view into creating silver screen romance through getting to know you in the music of the night where somewhere out there - a wandering star once said the show must go on. Just once in a lifetime you may meet a matchmaker who will tilt your view on beauties, beasts and young ones as well as other people. She'll tell you, on high authority, that diamonds are a girl's best friend.

It is the director's task to portray this mysticism and for as long as he needs me, it's what I did for love, and an Oscar is the everlasting reward. I could have danced all night - on a wonderful day like today with people like Dolly & Mame all for one singular sensation : the premier evening.

So; all I ask of you is to let me entertain you.

IT'S A WRAP!S PLAY FESTIVAL

Staff responsible: Mrs C. Ludik
Directors: Claire Hoets and Nenad Tomic

Our entry in this years RAPS play festival was "the highlight of the evening" as expressed by the adjudicators of the RAPS Guild.

In our preliminary round we competed against two other schools, one of which was our neighbouring rival, Fourways High who complemented us on "an outstanding theatrical experience."

Nine awards were presented that evening, eight of which were awarded to Bryanston High. Nenad Tomic and Claire Hoets came away with an award of merit for directing. Our technical team consisting of David Wilson, Nathan Veitch and Nenad Tomic were presented with merit certificates in the fields of sound and lighting. Five of our players received acting merits, namely Wayne Groenewald, Jo-ann Reed, David Phillips, Michael Malokoane and Claire Hoets. Sekwa Tshabalala earned a special mention.

The play itself was described by the adjudicators as "topically relevant to issues facing today's society and particularly today's youth." The play 'echoes in an hourglass' was the same play that took Best Production in our Senior Inter-house play Festival.

The RAPS play proved to be a successful and unforgettable experience to all who participated and spectated. We were excellently guided by Mrs Ludik who helped us through tough rehearsals; her moral support and advice helped us to stay sane. We would also like to thank Mr Bowie, our make-up artists, backstage crew and everyone involved.

As this play becomes yet another 'echo in an hourglass' we end off with ...
 It's a RAP!

BEST PLAYWRIGHTS' COMMENT

"Class reunion - the way we were" is a play about the ups and downs of life shown through the experiences of an impressionable Head Girl and her friends. A life-time of friendship and heartache culminate in a Class Reunion. In short, it is a play about their joys, their pains, their tears, their laughter - the way they were.

Not only did we enjoy writing this play tremendously, but we were able to see our own work come to life. Our thanks go to all involved, especially the cast, including Obakeng Masenamela and Greg Russel who won Best Actor and Best Supporting Actor respectively. In the end, writing our own work and spending long hours directing the play turned out to be an enjoyable and rewarding experience!

JUNIOR SECTION

On 22 February, the Bryanston High School Annual Junior House Plays Festival was held. Apart from providing enjoyment for all involved in the various play productions, this year provided much entertainment for the many pupils and parents who gave us their support.

As usual, the productions were of a very high standard. Each play showed evidence of the hard work and dedication that went into preparing the plays.

The evening proved to be very entertaining with Neptune's "The Lucky Lion" walking away with Best Publicity, Best Costume and Make-up, Best Sound, Best Lighting and sharing Best Decor and Properties with Jupiter. Best Stage Management went to Apollo and the Best Playwright Award went to Nicky Long and Michelle Peatling.

Exceptional talent was evident by the actors involved, with Deena Thornhill winning Best Supporting Actress, Greg Russel winning Best Supporting Actor, Bailey Liackman winning Best Actress and Obakeng Masenamela winning the award for Best Actor.

Anabela Simoes

SENIOR SECTION

As is tradition, the Senior plays were a tremendous success. A packed hall watched the stage being transformed from a jungle to a castle to a haunted house and finally a playwright's imagination. The audience was privileged to have had so many talented actors, actresses, directors and crew members working together to create an evening of great variety.

Apollo's comedy The Natives are Restless Tonight produced the evening's Best Actor and Best Supporting Actor, awarded to Tony Karamitas and David Phillips respectively. Best Supporting Actress was awarded to Candice Livingstone from Jupiter. Jupiter was also presented with the Best Publicity Award. Mercury won Best Decor and Properties and Carey Stevens was awarded Best Actress. Neptune proved to be a great success walking away with Best Costume and Make-up, Best Sound, Best Lighting, Best Stage Management for Anabela Simoes and Best Production for Claire Hoets and Nenad Tomic.

CULTURAL EVENING: "CHARACTERS"

Our cultural evening presented two plays and an abstract movement display on its programme, cleverly entitled "Characters". All the sets were painted by the pupils of Bryanston High School, to add character to the stories.

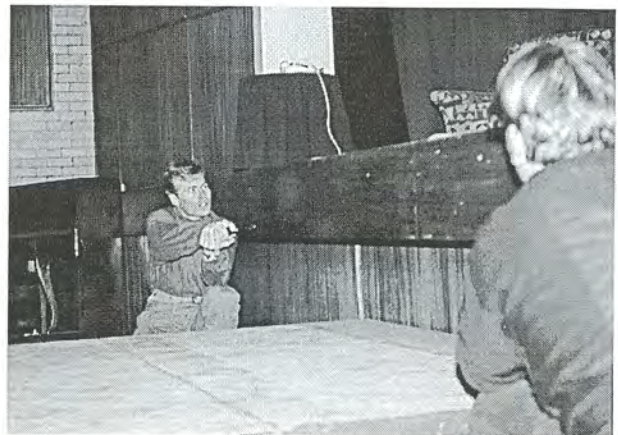

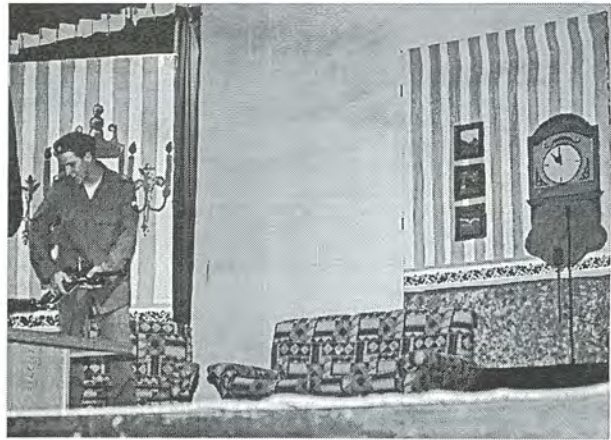

"Murder at Muckelby Manor" was put on by selected members of the Drama Course Work group. It was produced by Michael Malakoane and Sekwa Tshabalala, who dedicated many hours of their time to help us to find our characters.

The second place holders of the Inter-High Dance Competition, showed the audience what a high standard of dance Bryanston High School has to offer, being cleverly choreographed with subtle multi-dimensional abstract emotive movement.

The satirical comedy "Case of the Danish Prince", written by Miles Kington, confused the audience by presenting Shakespearean characters from Hamlet and various other stories in a highly unlikely Sherlock Holmes murder case.

The magnificent Art display of our pupils' best art works rounded off a very enjoyable evening which served as an opportunity for those with a cultural bent to display their talents.

INTER-HIGH DANCE AND MOVEMENT COMPETITION

This year, for the third time, Bryanston High hosted the Inter-high Dance and Movement Competition. We competed in both categories against Queens High, Saheti, Hyde Park, Edenglen, Glenvista and Parktown Girls High Schools.

Our dance group comprising of Sandy Gardyne, Emily McPhee, Sonia Pickett, Charise Redshaw, Stacy Strang, Caryn Rodrigues and Bonnie Wakefield did well, with their dance entitled 'Earth Dance'.

Kerry Hawkins, Melanie Mulder, Channele Naude, Julie Corbett, Kim Langeman, Bronwyn Anderson, Abi Van der Westhuizen, Sam Barichiev, Italo Olivier, Warren Small and Daniel Cabral all performed in the movement category with a sequence entitled 'Nature's rhythms and connections'. They finished second to Queens High.

- The overall placings were as follows:
- First Place: Queens
 - Second Place: Bryanston
 - Third Place: Parktown Girls
 - Fourth Place: Edenglen
 - Fifth Place: Hyde Park
 - Sixth Place: Saheti
 - Seventh Place: Glenvista

We hope to have more participants competing in the Bryanston group next year as we found it a lot of fun and had a memorable evening.

DEBUTANTES' BALL

Staff responsible: Mrs B. Weir, Mrs C. Buchan,
Mrs C. Deacon, Mrs M. Henderson

The Débutantes' Ball was held for the first time at Bryanston High School in 1972, when the school's first Matriculants and Standard Nines took part in this historic event. Since its beginning it has been a bi-annual event which has been used to raise funds for charity and the school. Each time a target amount of money is set for each debutante and squire to raise, in order to qualify for attendance at this prestigious event.

The state of the economy has not made the fundraising task any easier over the past few years and it is becoming necessary to restructure our fund-collecting programme for the deb and squires in order to enable them to collect a sizeable amount, while offering something in return to their sponsors. With this in mind, Mr Brian Huskisson introduced the concept of the Business Digest. Through the Business Digest the parents' companies provide funds and receive recognition in return - by way of advertising exposure at a very competitive rate, directed at an influential target market. This system provided each debutante with the opportunity to sell advertisements in order to raise funds towards her contribution to the Debs' Ball.

Besides the selling of adverts, several other methods of fundraising, including personal enterprising ideas and a lot of hard work, were involved. The following girls were rewarded for their effort in their fundraising: Caroline McMurdo, Charise Redshaw, Sonia Picket and Lara Clarke.

Each participant is encouraged to raise the maximum amount she can and prizes are awarded to the three top money-earners. In 1972 the entrance was R 50.00. Now, in 1996, each deb or squire was expected to raise R 950.00, and our top fundraisers brought in the following impressive totals:

- | | | |
|--------------------------|---|-------------|
| Alex Liackman | - | R 13,678.00 |
| Michelle Randston | - | R 10,875.00 |
| Melanie da Luz | - | R 6 250.00 |

At last, when all the money had been raised, the dresses bought or made, it was time for our hardworking Debs and Squires to enjoy the evening itself - and what an evening it was! Mrs Stafford, with the help of Mrs Spoerk, Mrs Huskisson and the staff involved, transformed the ballroom of the Bryanston Country Club into a golden wonderland. The theme was centred on cherubs, with the complimentary colours of gold, antique white and green. Each Deb received her own hand-painted cherub as a "thank you" gift and the appreciation and awe in the young ladies' eyes, was enough gratitude for the hard work that had gone into the preparations.

During the evening, each Deb and Squire was presented to Councillor and Mrs Norval. The mayoral couple were most impressed with our Bryanston beauty and glamour which is by now legendary! Illsa Roos, star of Egoli, the guest adjudicator, was an asset to the evening, adding her particular sparkle in her judging of the "Miss Debutante". The results were as follows:

- | | | |
|----------------------------|---|------------------------|
| Miss Debutante 1996 | - | Cathy van Eeden |
| First Princess | - | Vicky Barrow |
| Second Princess | - | Debbie Taylor |

All in all, the evening will live on in our fondest memories. It can only be described as a success, not only in terms of the entertainment, but also because of the outstanding amount of money which was raised overall - R 132 235.00.

ANNUAL BLANKET COMPETITION

Once again, the school has made a concerted effort in collecting blankets for the underprivileged. Over 190 blankets have been collected and distributed to various organizations.

35 blankets were donated to St Mary's Childrens' Home
 30 blankets were donated to Woodside Sanctuary Home
 10 blankets were donated to Riverlea Camp
 5 blankets and some knitted squares were donated to the S.P.C.A.
 90 blankets were donated to the Salvation Army

Congratulations to Standard 8F and Mrs D. Fulcher for coming second by collecting 19 blankets and to the winning class Standard 10B and Mrs D. Meikle for collecting an admirable total of 27 blankets.

MISDIRECTED LOVE?

*People buying cards and everything to see
 it's Valentines Day; the money goes wild
 It's love day again for people, man and child.
 But sitting in a corner they don't see*

*a man who can't even try to be free
 He has no house, like a bear in the wild.
 He can't even afford to keep a child.
 His heart is sad as he watches the spree*

*Valentines Day should be kept for the poor
 so they can feel loved and for once not so poor!
 On Valentines Day, love should be given
 to those who always seem to be hidden.*

*We must remember those who have no fun
 when we rejoice in the wake of the sun.*

CHARITY COMMITTEE

Staff Responsible: Mrs G. Fulcher

1996 has proven to be a very successful year for our Charity Committee. The first term was the most active term and the school raised R8 750,00 which is a great achievement. We made a donation of R1 200,00 to the Star Seaside Holiday Fund, which was greatly appreciated by the society.

We continued our Annual Blanket Competition in the second term and collected over 180 blankets. This is the most that the school has ever collected. The winners of the competition were 10B who collected 39 blankets. This is a wonderful achievement and congratulations to all those involved. These blankets were distributed to the Salvation Army, who attended an assembly and published an article in The Star. The remainder of the blankets were given to St. Mary's Home and Child Welfare.

The wining class of Term One was 7D who raised R1 005,00 followed by 8D on R896. Term 2,3 and 4 have been combined and we are still awaiting the final totals. However, to date, the school has raised in excess of R14 000,00 with outstanding amounts still coming in.

Toys have been collected for Christmas hampers which will certainly brighten the lives of many less privileged children. Overall it has been a wonderfully charitable year and Bryanston has made a superb effort and helped to please many underprivileged people.

A special mention must be given to Lara Clarke, Claire Strever and Sarann Summerley who devoted a lot of time in assisting in the organisation of the Charity Committee. Well Done!

STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Staff responsible: Mrs C. Buchan and Mrs A. Hall

The S.C.A. had an exciting year, and were blessed with the "Young Pioneers", who led our Monday meetings. They are a team of school-leavers, including Nicholas Whittal, a 1995 Bryanstonian, with Justin, Brendan and Craig, each of them "shepherding" a standard, sharing with individuals, and getting to know those pupils on a deeper level. Our pupils responded enthusiastically to the team's energetic approach, and their meetings were often packed out.

Early morning prayer meetings were capably led by Alta van Zyl, and it was noticed that attendance swelled on those days on which big tests and exams were scheduled!

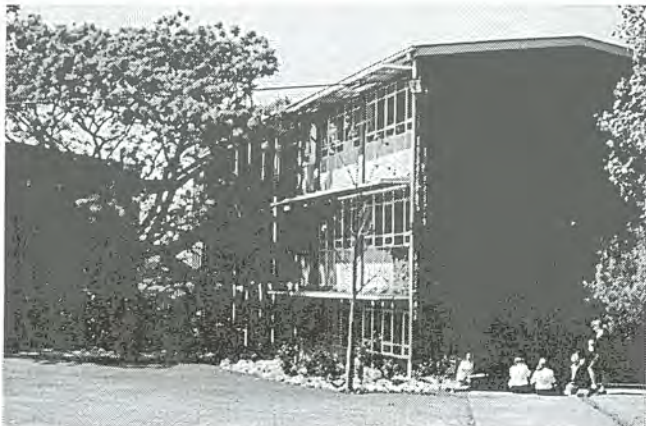

We welcomed each Standard Six pupil personally this year, giving each one a gift, wrapped in an appropriate text with an invitation to join us and to learn more about God, and a day-to-day relationship with Him. This outreach bore fruit, and we are pleased with our strong core of juniors to lead our society into the future.

Our goal for next year is to reach out to even more pupils at Bryanston High, and to show that a praying community within a school is noticed, and can make a difference.

Team 2: J. Wang, R. Gilfillan

We entered three teams this year into the J.S.E. Game, in order to give us a better chance of success. Each team is individual and has adopted very different investing techniques on the J.S.E. thus allowing a very wide spectrum of coverage. Two of the teams punted the market, taking high risks and with the market being so volatile they have already lost money. However our third team which entered a long-term portfolio have sat and watched the money come in, resulting in a 48% return.

I am sure that all knowledge gained will aid our investors of the future and I wish them luck.

KNOWLEDGE FOR A NEW GENERATION

Here at RAU, the needs and challenges of the future are of primary concern to us. You might ask why.

Firstly. We are situated in Johannesburg, the professional mecca of South Africa, which allows us to keep a finger on the pulse of the business world.

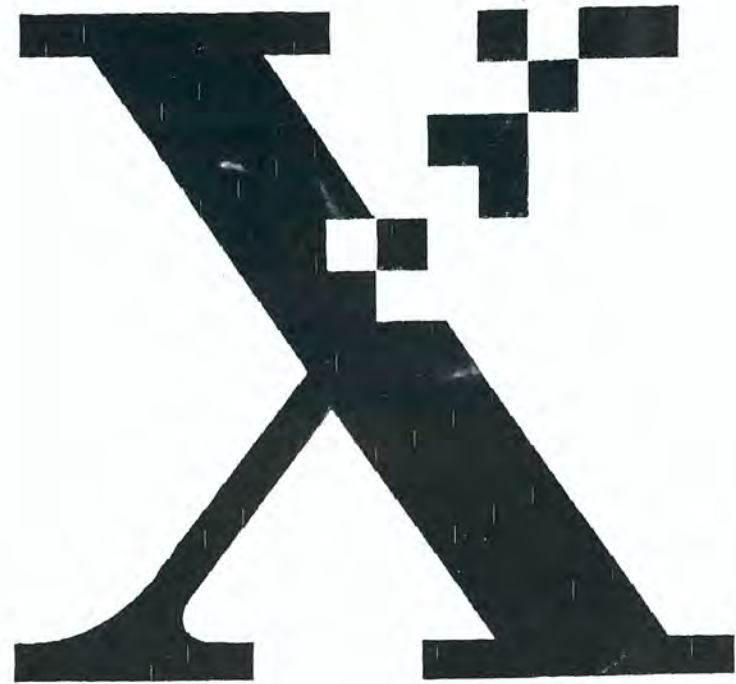

Second. We live and work in a rapidly changing society, in which today's high-achievement can become history in the wink of an eye. In this fast-track society, the RAU flourishes: we have an orderly campus life, we discuss openly all social and community problems, and we readily accept those who have traditionally supported other universities. And this demonstrates that we can not only survive, but lead, in times of change.

Third. We involve our students in our numerous community projects, and thereby direct this wealth of energy towards nation-building and cultural accommodation.

Fourth. We believe that you should be part of our bright future.

Want to know more? Phone us on (011) 489-2911. Or write to: The Registrar, P O Box 524, Auckland Park, 2006. And find out how you can help build the future.

WILDLIFE SOCIETY

*"For Whatever happens to the beast,
Also happens to the man.
All things are connected
Whatever befalls the earth
Befalls the sons of the earth."*

We have a Wildlife Club at Bryanston High School to learn about the things which are around us.

This year we have tried out many new activities. We have even been abseiling - a death defying leap over the edge! We have been hiking, we have gone to Zoo Lake and we classified the trees on the school grounds. All and all it has been a fun year with lots of new experiences.

FISH RIVER CANYON

The German School and Bryanston High School in a 90 kilometre hike along the Fish River Canyon. We left on the 25th of September and arrived in the late afternoon of the 26th. It was a hard and long descent into the canyon, but we all made it. The next morning we were woken up at 3.00am to watch the eclipse of the moon, which was amazing. We hiked 15 kilometres on the day, where we stopped at the Sulphur Springs at about 2.30pm. The next day was much easier; we did about 20 kilometres that day. We reached "Table Mountain" which was 15 kilometres from where we had last stopped and got there at about 9.00am, which was much better than the day before. That day we saw wild horses. The reason we only did 20 kilometres that day was because we had a long rest during the heat of the day. We camped at the Rock Pirucal and swam until sunset. The next day we walked up to the 70 kilometre mark. That evening we had two wonderful talks from Gareth Corbett, who talked about the types of fish you find in the Canyon which was really funny and Glenda from the German School who talked about the animals you find in the canyon. Everyone went to bed in high spirits after drinking Pepsi and eating hamburgers from the Pink Palace which was a Café further back. It also helped knowing we only had 16 kilometres to walk to the end of the canyon. The next day everyone walked faster than usual. We finally got to Ai-Ais at about 12:00pm, happy that we had made it!

Decaying Dolphins

*I wandered lonely as a cloud
That floats on methane over toxic spills,
Then all at once I saw a crowd
A host of decaying dolphins.
Beside the sea, beneath the flies
Spluttering and writhing slowly dies.*

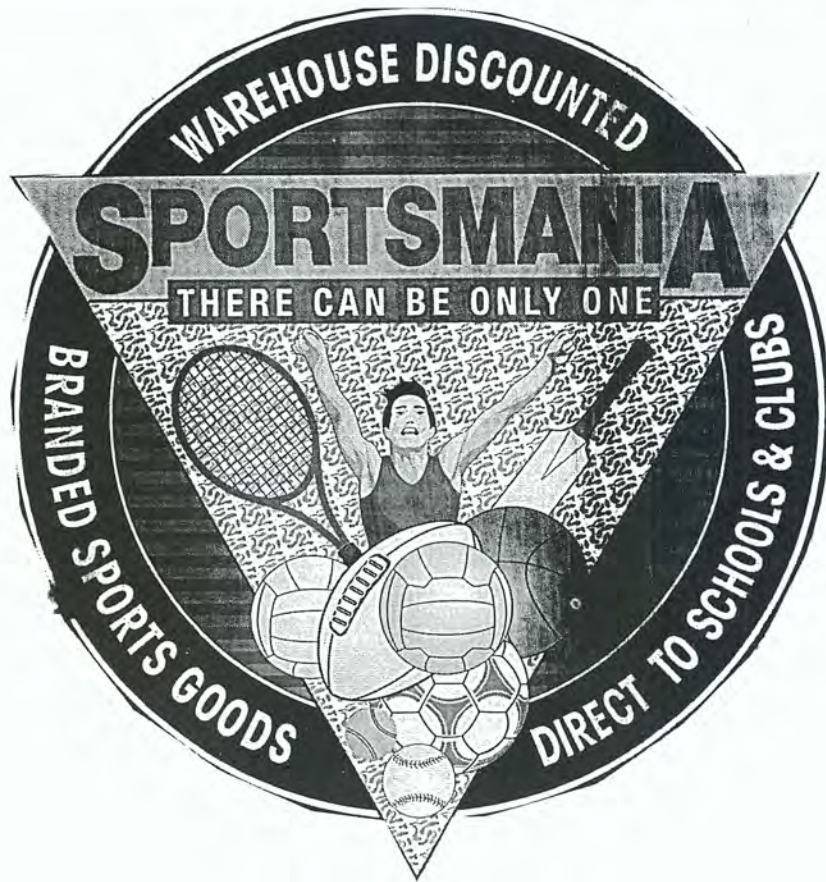

*Continuous as the river Rhine
Which seethes with blood on its way.
They stretched in never-ending line,
Along the margin of a bay:
Ten thousand saw I at a glance
Tossing their heads in their deathly dance.*

*The toxins beside them danced, but they
Out-did the creeping waves in misery:
A poet could not but be gay
In such depressive company!
I gazed- and gazed- but little thought
What disgust the show to me had brought.*

*For oft, when on the beach I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood,
They flash upon that injured eye
Which is the horror of solitude,
And then my heart with repulsion fills,
And dies with the decaying dolphins.*

INTERACT

Staff Responsible: Miss K. Crutchley
President: Simon Masemola
Vice President: Christine Laidlaw

Over the years Interact, as a charity organisation, has come up with many fund-raising ideas and projects. This year we started off selling carnations for Valentine's Day and plastic noses for Child Welfare's Red Nose Day. We also had basketball and soccer tournaments, as well as a book collection, and we boast an ongoing can collection.

Our main responsibility is Bertram's Primary School, which is a school for abused and underprivileged children. We support them with donations of food, and this year we surprised them with gifts of Easter eggs to brighten their day.

Another facet of Interact which makes all the hard work worthwhile, is the friends we make. This was made possible by a Leadership Camp and an Intercon Camp, where we were able to meet pupils from other schools, as well as get to know our own Interact group a lot better.

This year we assembled an extremely dedicated and professional team which provided an excellent service to the school during the course of the year, with most members doing a total of about forty hours duty. Some first aiders did as many as one hundred hours.

We started the year off with a First Aid course taught by Mr Peter Linakis from the South African Red Cross Society. This twenty-hour course proved to be extremely successful as we achieved more than a 90% pass rate. Not only did we learn what we could do in an emergency, but we also had some fun at the same time.

We were literally thrown in the deep end this winter sports season, as we had to walk straight out of the lectures and onto the field to apply what we had learnt to the "real thing". The team performed excellently and successfully treated strains, sprains, wounds, spinal injuries and two dislocations.

Delane Diseko, Gareth Jones and Adrian McCann not only took part in school duties, but also in the Volunteer Services of the South African Red Cross, in particular the Roodepoort Special Skills Unit. By doing this they learnt many useful skills, such as traction and the use of advanced equipment, which was to the advantage of our team as these were passed on to us.

With four of our more senior First Aiders about to do their Silver Medals (level three) and with the course we will be arranging early next year for beginners and more experienced First Aiders, we look forward to an even more successful and exciting 1997.

Once again, the school has made a concerted effort in collecting blankets for the underprivileged. Over 190 blankets have been collected and distributed to various organizations.

- 35 blankets were donated to St Mary's Childrens' Home
- 30 blankets were donated to Woodside Sanctuary Home
- 10 blankets were donated to Riverlea Camp
- 5 blankets and some knitted squares were donated to the S.P.C.A.
- 90 blankets were donated to the Salvation Army

Congratulations to Standard 8F and Mrs D. Fulcher for coming second by collecting 19 blankets and to the winning class Standard 10B and Mrs D. Meikle for collecting an admirable total of 27 blankets.

MISDIRECTED LOVE?

*People buying cards and everything to see
it's Valentines Day; the money goes wild
It's love day again for people, man and child.*

But sitting in a corner they don't see

*a man who can't even try to be free
He has no house, like a bear in the wild.
He can't even afford to keep a child.
His heart is sad as he watches the spree*

*Valentines Day should be kept for the poor
so they can feel loved and for once not so poor!
On Valentines Day, love should be given
to those who always seem to be hidden.*

*We must remember those who have no fun
when we rejoice in the wake of the sun.*

Staff Responsible: Mrs G. Fulcher

1996 has proven to be a very successful year for our Charity Committee. The first term was the most active term and the school raised R8 750,00 which is a great achievement. We made a donation of R1 200,00 to the Star Seaside Holiday Fund, which was greatly appreciated by the society.

We continued our Annual Blanket Competition in the second term and collected over 180 blankets. This is the most that the school has ever collected. The winners of the competition were 10B who collected 39 blankets. This is a wonderful achievement and congratulations to all those involved. These blankets were distributed to the Salvation Army, who attended an assembly and published an article in The Star. The remainder of the blankets were given to St. Mary's Home and Child Welfare.

The wining class of Term One was 7D who raised R1 005,00 followed by 8D on R896. Term 2,3 and 4 have been combined and we are still awaiting the final totals. However, to date, the school has raised in excess of R14 000,00 with outstanding amounts still coming in.

Toys have been collected for Christmas hampers which will certainly brighten the lives of many less privileged children. Overall it has been a wonderfully charitable year and Bryanston has made a superb effort and helped to please many underprivileged people.

A special mention must be given to Lara Clarke, Claire Strever and Sarann Summerley who devoted a lot of time in assisting in the organisation of the Charity Committee. Well Done!

STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Staff responsible: Mrs C. Buchan and Mrs A. Hall

The S.C.A. had an exciting year, and were blessed with the "Young Pioneers", who led our Monday meetings. They are a team of school-leavers, including Nicholas Whittal, a 1995 Bryanstonian, with Justin, Brendan and Craig, each of them "shepherding" a standard, sharing with individuals, and getting to know those pupils on a deeper level. Our pupils responded enthusiastically to the team's energetic approach, and their meetings were often packed out.

Early morning prayer meetings were capably led by Alta van Zyl, and it was noticed that attendance swelled on those days on which big tests and exams were scheduled!

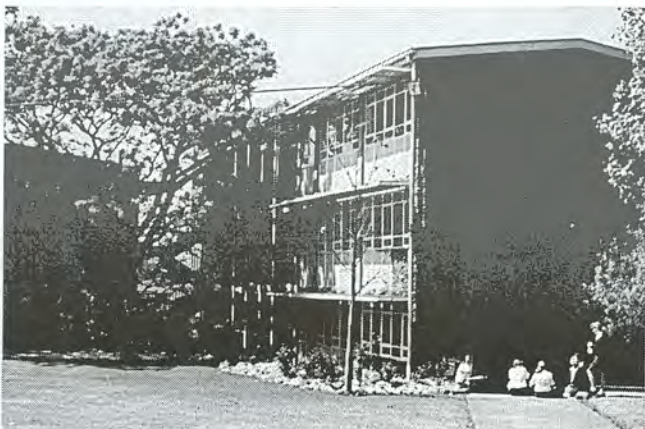

We welcomed each Standard Six pupil personally this year, giving each one a gift, wrapped in an appropriate text with an invitation to join us and to learn more about God, and a day-to-day relationship with Him. This outreach bore fruit, and we are pleased with our strong core of juniors to lead our society into the future.

Our goal for next year is to reach out to even more pupils at Bryanston High, and to show that a praying community within a school is noticed, and can make a difference.

Staff responsible: Mr W. Rogers

Team 2: J. Wang, R. Gilfillan
Team 3: C. Strever

We entered three teams this year into the J.S.E. Game, in order to give us a better chance of success. Each team is individual and has adopted very different investing techniques on the J.S.E. thus allowing a very wide spectrum of coverage. Two of the teams punted the market, taking high risks and with the market being so volatile they have already lost money. However our third team which entered a long-term portfolio have sat and watched the money come in, resulting in a 48% return.

I am sure that all knowledge gained will aid our investors of the future and I wish them luck.

KNOWLEDGE FOR A NEW GENERATION

Here at RAU, the needs and challenges of the future are of primary concern to us. You might ask why.

Firstly. We are situated in Johannesburg, the professional mecca of South Africa, which allows us to keep a finger on the pulse of the business world.

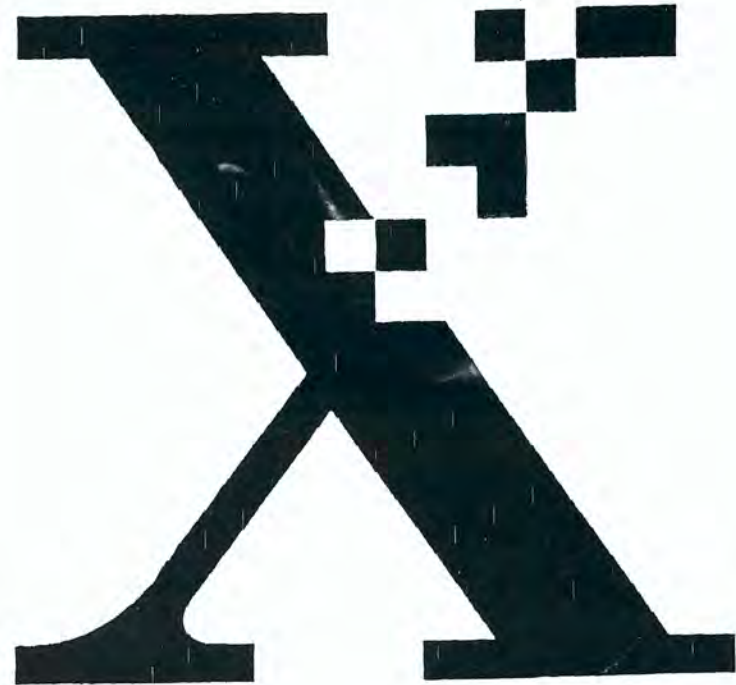

Second. We live and work in a rapidly changing society, in which today's high-achievement can become history in the wink of an eye. In this fast-track society, the RAU flourishes: we have an orderly campus life, we discuss openly all social and community problems, and we readily accept those who have traditionally supported other universities. And this demonstrates that we can not only survive, but lead, in times of change.

Third. We involve our students in our numerous community projects, and thereby direct this wealth of energy towards nation-building and cultural accommodation.

Fourth. We believe that you should be part of our bright future.

Want to know more? Phone us on (011) 489-2911. Or write to: The Registrar, P O Box 524, Auckland Park, 2006. And find out how you can help build the future.

*"For Whatever happens to the beast,
Also happens to the man.
All things are connected
Whatever befalls the earth
Befalls the sons of the earth."*

We have a Wildlife Club at Bryanston High School to learn about the things which are around us.

This year we have tried out many new activities. We have even been abseiling - a death defying leap over the edge! We have been hiking, we have gone to Zoo Lake and we classified the trees on the school grounds. All and all it has been a fun year with lots of new experiences.

FISH RIVER CANYON

The German School and Bryanston High School in a 90 kilometre hike along the Fish River Canyon. We left on the 25th of September and arrived in the late afternoon of the 26th. It was a hard and long descent into the canyon, but we all made it. The next morning we were woken up at 3.00am to watch the eclipse of the moon, which was amazing. We hiked 15 kilometres on the day, where we stopped at the Sulphur Springs at about 2.30pm. The next day was much easier; we did about 20 kilometres that day. We reached "Table Mountain" which was 15 kilometres from where we had last stopped and got there at about 9.00am, which was much better than the day before. That day we saw wild horses. The reason we only did 20 kilometres that day was because we had a long rest during the heat of the day. We camped at the Rock Pirucal and swam until sunset. The next day we walked up to the 70 kilometre mark. That evening we had two wonderful talks from Gareth Corbett, who talked about the types of fish you find in the Canyon which was really funny and Glenda from the German School who talked about the animals you find in the canyon. Everyone went to bed in high spirits after drinking Pepsi and eating hamburgers from the Pink Palace which was a Café further back. It also helped knowing we only had 16 kilometres to walk to the end of the canyon. The next day everyone walked faster than usual. We finally got to Ai-Ais at about 12:00pm, happy that we had made it!

Decaying Dolphins

*I wandered lonely as a cloud
That floats on methane over toxic spills,
Then all at once I saw a crowd
A host of decaying dolphins.
Beside the sea, beneath the flies
Spluttering and writhing slowly dies.*

*Continuous as the river Rhine
Which seethes with blood on its way.
They stretched in never-ending line,
Along the margin of a bay:
Ten thousand saw I at a glance
Tossing their heads in their deathly dance.*

*The toxins beside them danced, but they
Out-did the creeping waves in misery:
A poet could not but be gay
In such depressive company!
I gazed- and gazed- but little thought
What disgust the show to me had brought.*

*For oft, when on the beach I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood,
They flash upon that injured eye
Which is the horror of solitude;
And then my heart with repulsion fills,
And dies with the decaying dolphins.*

INTERACT

Staff Responsible: Miss K. Crutchley
President: Simon Masemola
Vice President: Christine Laidlaw

Over the years Interact, as a charity organisation, has come up with many fund-raising ideas and projects. This year we started off selling carnations for Valentine's Day and plastic noses for Child Welfare's Red Nose Day. We also had basketball and soccer tournaments, as well as a book collection, and we boast an ongoing can collection.

Our main responsibility is Bertram's Primary School, which is a school for abused and underprivileged children. We support them with donations of food, and this year we surprised them with gifts of Easter eggs to brighten their day.

Another facet of Interact which makes all the hard work worthwhile, is the friends we make. This was made possible by a Leadership Camp and an Intercon Camp, where we were able to meet pupils from other schools, as well as get to know our own Interact group a lot better.

This year we assembled an extremely dedicated and professional team which provided an excellent service to the school during the course of the year, with most members doing a total of about forty hours duty. Some first aiders did as many as one hundred hours.

We started the year off with a First Aid course taught by Mr Peter Linakis from the South African Red Cross Society. This twenty-hour course proved to be extremely successful as we achieved more than a 90% pass rate. Not only did we learn what we could do in an emergency, but we also had some fun at the same time.

We were literally thrown in the deep end this winter sports season, as we had to walk straight out of the lectures and onto the field to apply what we had learnt to the "real thing". The team performed excellently and successfully treated strains, sprains, wounds, spinal injuries and two dislocations.

Delane Diseko, Gareth Jones and Adrian McCann not only took part in school duties, but also in the Volunteer Services of the South African Red Cross, in particular the Roodepoort Special Skills Unit. By doing this they learnt many useful skills, such as traction and the use of advanced equipment, which was to the advantage of our team as these were passed on to us.

With four of our more senior First Aiders about to do their Silver Medals (level three) and with the course we will be arranging early next year for beginners and more experienced First Aiders, we look forward to an even more successful and exciting 1997.

CLASS OF 1985 TEN YEAR REUNION

In 1985, when 220 matrics planned a reunion ten years into the future no one actually believed it would happen - ten years seemed so far away.

On the 3rd of December 1995, when one hundred "matrics" and their partners met in the new school pavilion, no one could believe how quickly ten years had passed!

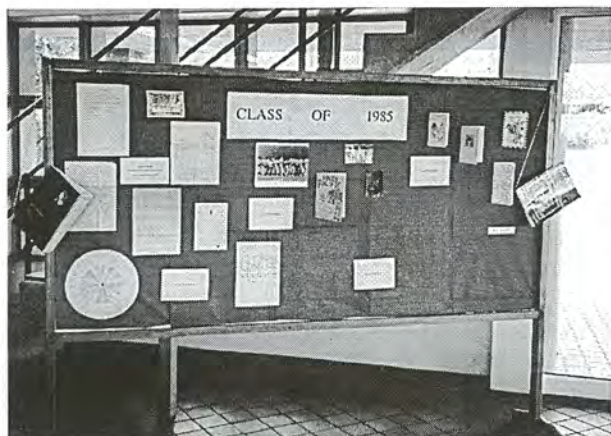

It was wonderful to see the old faces, new grey hairs, old smiles and quick wit, and new beer-bellies and babies!

How "old" teachers would have smiled to see that really naughty boy, who never really worked that hard, now a successful doctor! How some parents must be groaning (in delight) at their children whom they thought would not amount to much, now earning more than they ever have!

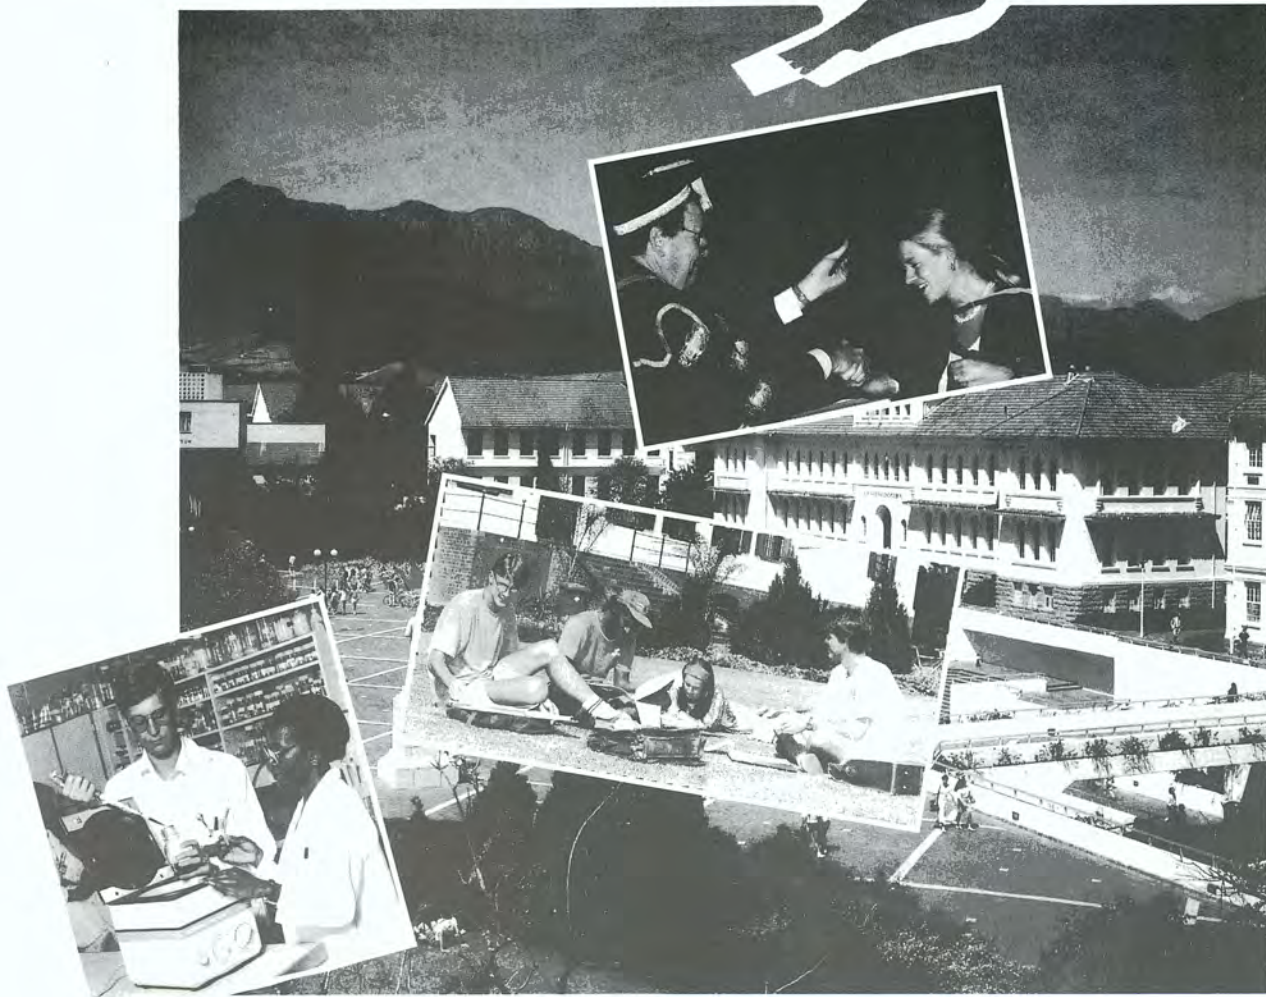

It was a very joyous occasion, and thanks must go to the teachers who taught us, for returning - Mrs Ludik, Mrs de Vos and Mrs Cox. You've only got younger, or have we just finally grown up?

Here's to the 25th Reunion - December 2010. It's so far away...

Mrs Colleen Buchan (née Colleen Traviss)

FAREWELL

HEADBOYS' ADDRESS

Good evening Mr Paige, honoured guests, staff, parents and all the matrics.

"Following the sun, we left the Old World."

This comes from an inscription on one of Columbus's caravels and can be compared to our present situation. We are on the verge of a new world and we are leaving the old one behind. However, we cannot forget the old world.

Being in constant contact with one another for the past five years, has brought the class of '96 closer together, despite our fascinating diversity as individuals.

Sometimes we may not realise it, but we all suffer from the same burdens. We all write exams, have problems, experience good times - and this is what unites us.

The last five years could be compared to climbing a mountain. In some places we had to go over certain obstacles, had to climb over the big rocks. However, there have been easy, flat sections of the mountain. Now our path is getting progressively steeper towards the top. When we reach the top of our Matric mountain, we will see a whole range of mountains - our life in front of us. The furthest peak will be barely visible. The mountains will look foreboding and impassable. The distance will scare you. You will doubt whether you will be able to cross the mountains, but you will have no choice. You will struggle to climb the next peak, but from the top, the next mountain will be clearly visible. You will realise that the range consists of individual mountains which must be climbed one at a time. We are only now starting our final assault on the top of our first mountain and before us lie many challenges which we must face.

One of the people whom I would sincerely like to thank for preparing us to face these challenges, is Mr Paige. He has helped immeasurably in the past five years and we will never forget it. I know that he is proud of us in many different ways and I am sure that he will be sad to see us go ...or will he?

The second person I would like to thank is Mr Visser, who has continually supported us, no matter what we supposedly did.

The guidance of these two people has been of paramount importance these past years but there were many more of you that guided us around the obstacles.

This year, we have competed in the A League Swimming Inter-High, as well as the A League Athletics Inter-High. Few schools have ever achieved this status and as of this year we are part of that elite group. That was one of the steeper parts of the mountain, but we have proved that we can do anything that we put our minds to. We are ready to climb the steepest mountain which we can encounter.

We have also excelled in all our other sports and in our academics. Bryanston is rated as one of the top co-ed schools because of its excellent results. It is something that we are and will always be proud of because we have been part of it.

The staff of Bryanston who have had the tenacity to teach the matrics this year deserve a special mention. They have given us the tools which we will need to conquer our mountains and to succeed in the world.

However, this year's achievements would not have been possible without the matrics sitting here. They have shown an excellent sense of leadership within the school and should be congratulated for it. I believe that we have made this year the best that it could possibly have been.

But now we have come to the fork in the path of our lives. Each one of us will take a different path. Some parts will be difficult and some will be easy. During the course of our lives, most of our paths will cross at various stages, but many of them will never come close to one another again. In our memories, we can always look back at the top of the mountain on which we are standing now, and even if it is the mist, you will still be able to perceive what is possible. You will remember that you have worked for twelve years of your life to achieve one goal and that will give you the courage to face any challenge.

Whatever path you choose to take, I hope that it will be the right one for you and I wish you luck in the future you create for yourself, because the rest of your life depends on only one person, and that person is you.

I leave you with one question: When the time comes, will you have the strength to climb your next mountain?

I truly hope so.

Adrian Miljak

HEADGIRLS' ADDRESS

Good evening Mr Paige, honoured guests, ladies and gentlemen, and my fellow matrics. Sir Harold Nicholson had the following to say about time, "We imagine that we can turn the pages slowly, pausing at each paragraph. But it is not like that, believe me. The pages are caught by a gust of wind, a hurricane, and they flutter and rush through our fingers."

Here we are - we have completed our final day at school. I do not know quite how to feel about that. I am ready and excited to leave, but memories of the wonderful times we have shared together make it hard to say goodbye. Who can forget Nelly the Elephant, Diane's contagious laugh, Nicky's crush on Gareth Austin, Wayne's crush on someone entirely different, Nenad raving in assembly, Dave Robertson's English female fan club, not to mention the other affairs, if you will excuse the pun, that arose from the Netball and Hockey tour, Justin's famous blush, and if you do not know it, look now and be enlightened, Claire's corny jokes, and of course, Wade.

Our lives would not have been what they are without the teachers. What with wondering about Mr Essex-Clark's guidance, Miss de Witt's hygiene when preparing food, with the girls wondering about Mr Vianello, and the guys wondering about Miss Burman, laughing with the staff has certainly brought us closer to them.

Perhaps it is clichéd to say that these were the best years of our lives, but I for one have certainly never been happier. Many schools do not offer as much variety to their pupils as Bryanston does. From the male religion led by pastors Visser and Essex-Clark to dramatics and public speaking, we have been offered fantastic opportunities both culturally and in sports. We have also been given a sense of unity and leadership. Tours and leadership camps have been among the best times we have had at this school.

As the seniors of 1996, we have led the school to its achievements, and they have been most notable. Our Swimming Team came second in the A Gala, our Athletics Team performed outstandingly, and Netball and Boys' Hockey were virtually unbeaten on every level. And it is because our school is filled with people like us.

The staff of Bryanston have been marvellous. You were there to wean us in Standard Six, we were there to give you grey hairs in Standard Seven and Eight, you took us through exams, pulled us through our disappointments, put up with our shlowing in Standard Nine, and pushed us into Standard Ten. You supported and motivated us in the most important year, and have been a very big part of our lives.

Another big thank you must go to Mr Paige, who is probably never thanked as much as he should be. This year has been academically very traumatic, and your constant reassurance helped a great deal.

To Mr Smith and particularly Mrs Fulcher, controlling us has been no easy task, I am sure. Thanks for your support and initiative with things like the Matric Girls' Luncheon - you always managed to come back to us with a smile, even when we sent you away scowling.

The Prefects of 1996 have had a difficult task, but they have done it well, under the much appreciated guidance of Mrs Webb and Mr Cuthbertson. Prefectship is a big responsibility but it is also a lot of fun. You stayed committed to the end.

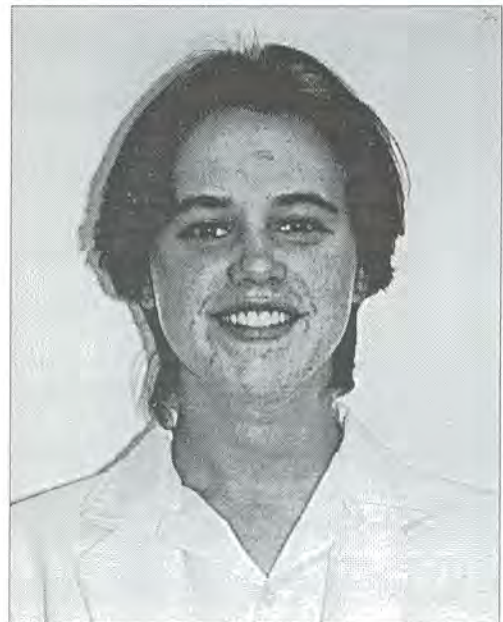

Matric in itself is a difficult year. At the beginning of 1996, I challenged the matrics to have staying power - to be united and motivated as they were at the beginning. And they are, I have loved this year because I have loved working for you. You have made it easy through being so united as a group, yet so individually unique. You made me smile when I thought that I never could. You have led this school, and I am proud of that.

Three people have been very special to the school and particularly in my life. Sekwa, your constant support and natural authority have been invaluable. Nicky, I have relied on you so much for moral support and guidance. You never lose sight of what is right, you never lose your cool, and your understated manner earns respect. Working with both of you has been an absolute pleasure. Adrian, when no one else understood my frustration or my happiness, you did. You hid my weaknesses and supported my strengths, and you have been a wonderful friend. I know I am very bossy, but you handled me brilliantly. My most sincere thanks go to you.

So what have the last five years prepared us for? We are on the verge of real life. It is time to go out into the world and make your mark, find your niche. I hope that every one of you has a successful future. Do not let people shrink the huge dreams and aspirations you have now. May your spirit remain eighteen and invincible forever.

25. Sportsman of the Year Award:
The Boy's award is made to a very talented and dedicated young man. He has Full Colours for Cricket and was the Vice Captain of Cricket. He has Full Colours for Rugby and was the Vice Captain of Rugby. He excelled in Athletics this year, producing some superb times. He was the Captain of the school team and also received Full Colours for Athletics. This led to him being awarded his White Blazer.

Congratulations to Sean Brogan.

Wayne Groenewald
Humanities Award

26. Sportswoman of the Year Award:
The Girl's award is made to an extremely talented sportswoman. She has Full Colours for Swimming and was captain of the team. She excelled in her Netball, was captain of the team and received Full Colours. She was chosen to represent Southern Transvaal B Team. She has played in the First Team for four years and received the Player of the Year Award. She received Full Colours for Athletics and also played in the First Team for Hockey, until she had to withdraw due to Netball commitments. She also has a White Blazer due to her Three Full Colours and Prefectship in one year.
Well done to Kathe Sims.

33. Esprit de Corps Trophy:
This award is decided on by the Standard ten pupils themselves. It is presented to the Senior pupil, who, in the opinion of his or her peers, best epitomises the spirit or "esprit de corps" at Bryanston High School by virtue of his or her commitment to the motto "one for all, all for one".
Girl: Sandy Gardyne
Boy: Alex de Haas

34. Special Awards:
Prefect' Trophy:
This award goes to a young lady who represents exactly what a Bryanston prefect should be, and more. Throughout the year her quiet unassuming manner has earned her the respect of her fellow matrics and of the school as a whole. She has consistently performed her duties with enthusiasm and sincerity.
Congratulations Caryn Rodrigues

Heidi Kempen
Cum Laude Award

Shaun Smit
Cum Laude Award

35. Headmaster's Award:
The 1996 award has joint recipients - two young people from disparate backgrounds who share a commodity of values and commitment. Their involvement in the affairs and concerns of Bryanston High encompass sport, the stage and leadership roles. They have been uncompromising in their dedication to the achievement of excellence and to the fulfilment of their responsibilities. Their positive influence has provided a clear statement of integrity in a time of blurred values. Together they embody the energy, values and character which our current society needs to build a future for all its citizens.
The recipients are: Nenad Tomic and Michael Malakoane

When I first got hear I was quite nervous. I don't really like cocarotches. I don't like to be naughty. I do not do it on pupus. I don't know what I'm going to do when I'm out of school but when the time comes, I'm sure I'll know.

I don't realy like very much subjects. I am afraid that I will be a reject in High school. This morning I was so scared and I wanted to get back in the car and ride away.

I can't stand doing anything that makes me hot. I was really nervous when I first arrived but I am okay now.

I'm the middelest in my family. I like sport and dislike big mouthed people. When I first came to school I felt I was going back to grade 1. I am very unshure of the school now but I'll grow to know it. My ambition is to finish high school without failing a standard.

I think this school is very nice. It looks very disiplined.

I dislike having to take a lesson in biology because they are spiders and snails.

I fear most guys bigger and older than me because I am the one they always pick on.

I like my new school, I think its facilities are great and I am pleased I came here.

This morning I was up at about 3am I think and my brother teased me. I must admit it was a scary day.

I think I am quite a nice guy.

I think I'm a normal person but I like being slightly different.

Patience is not one of my stronger points but I try.

When I arrived this morning I felt like a movie show.

The Essence of the Soul

*I stand here alone,
helpless and weak
as a newly born child
ripped untimely from its mothers womb.
I look to myself for comfort and warmth like the warrior does to the solitude of his home after battle.*

*No one answers me.
I look deep into my soul,
trying to understand it, to find answers.
It is covered with light but in the corner lies the darkness
like the blanket of night which covers the earth;
it starts to cover my soul.*

*Like any human the mind is curious,
it looks deep into the endless pit of darkness.
It sees wealth and power, the soul grasps at it, as if it was a source of life, feeding off it like a powerful addiction,
but with it comes sadness and misery,
for to gain power, money is used
and to gain wealth violence is the resort.
This shows the innocent culling of human lives as a group of poachers would slaughter a herd of elephants -
all this for the lust of power.*

*After all the madness and bloodshed has ended look to your soul and ask, where is the missing piece?
And you will see it in love.
For without love you are nothing;
with it you can be anything.*

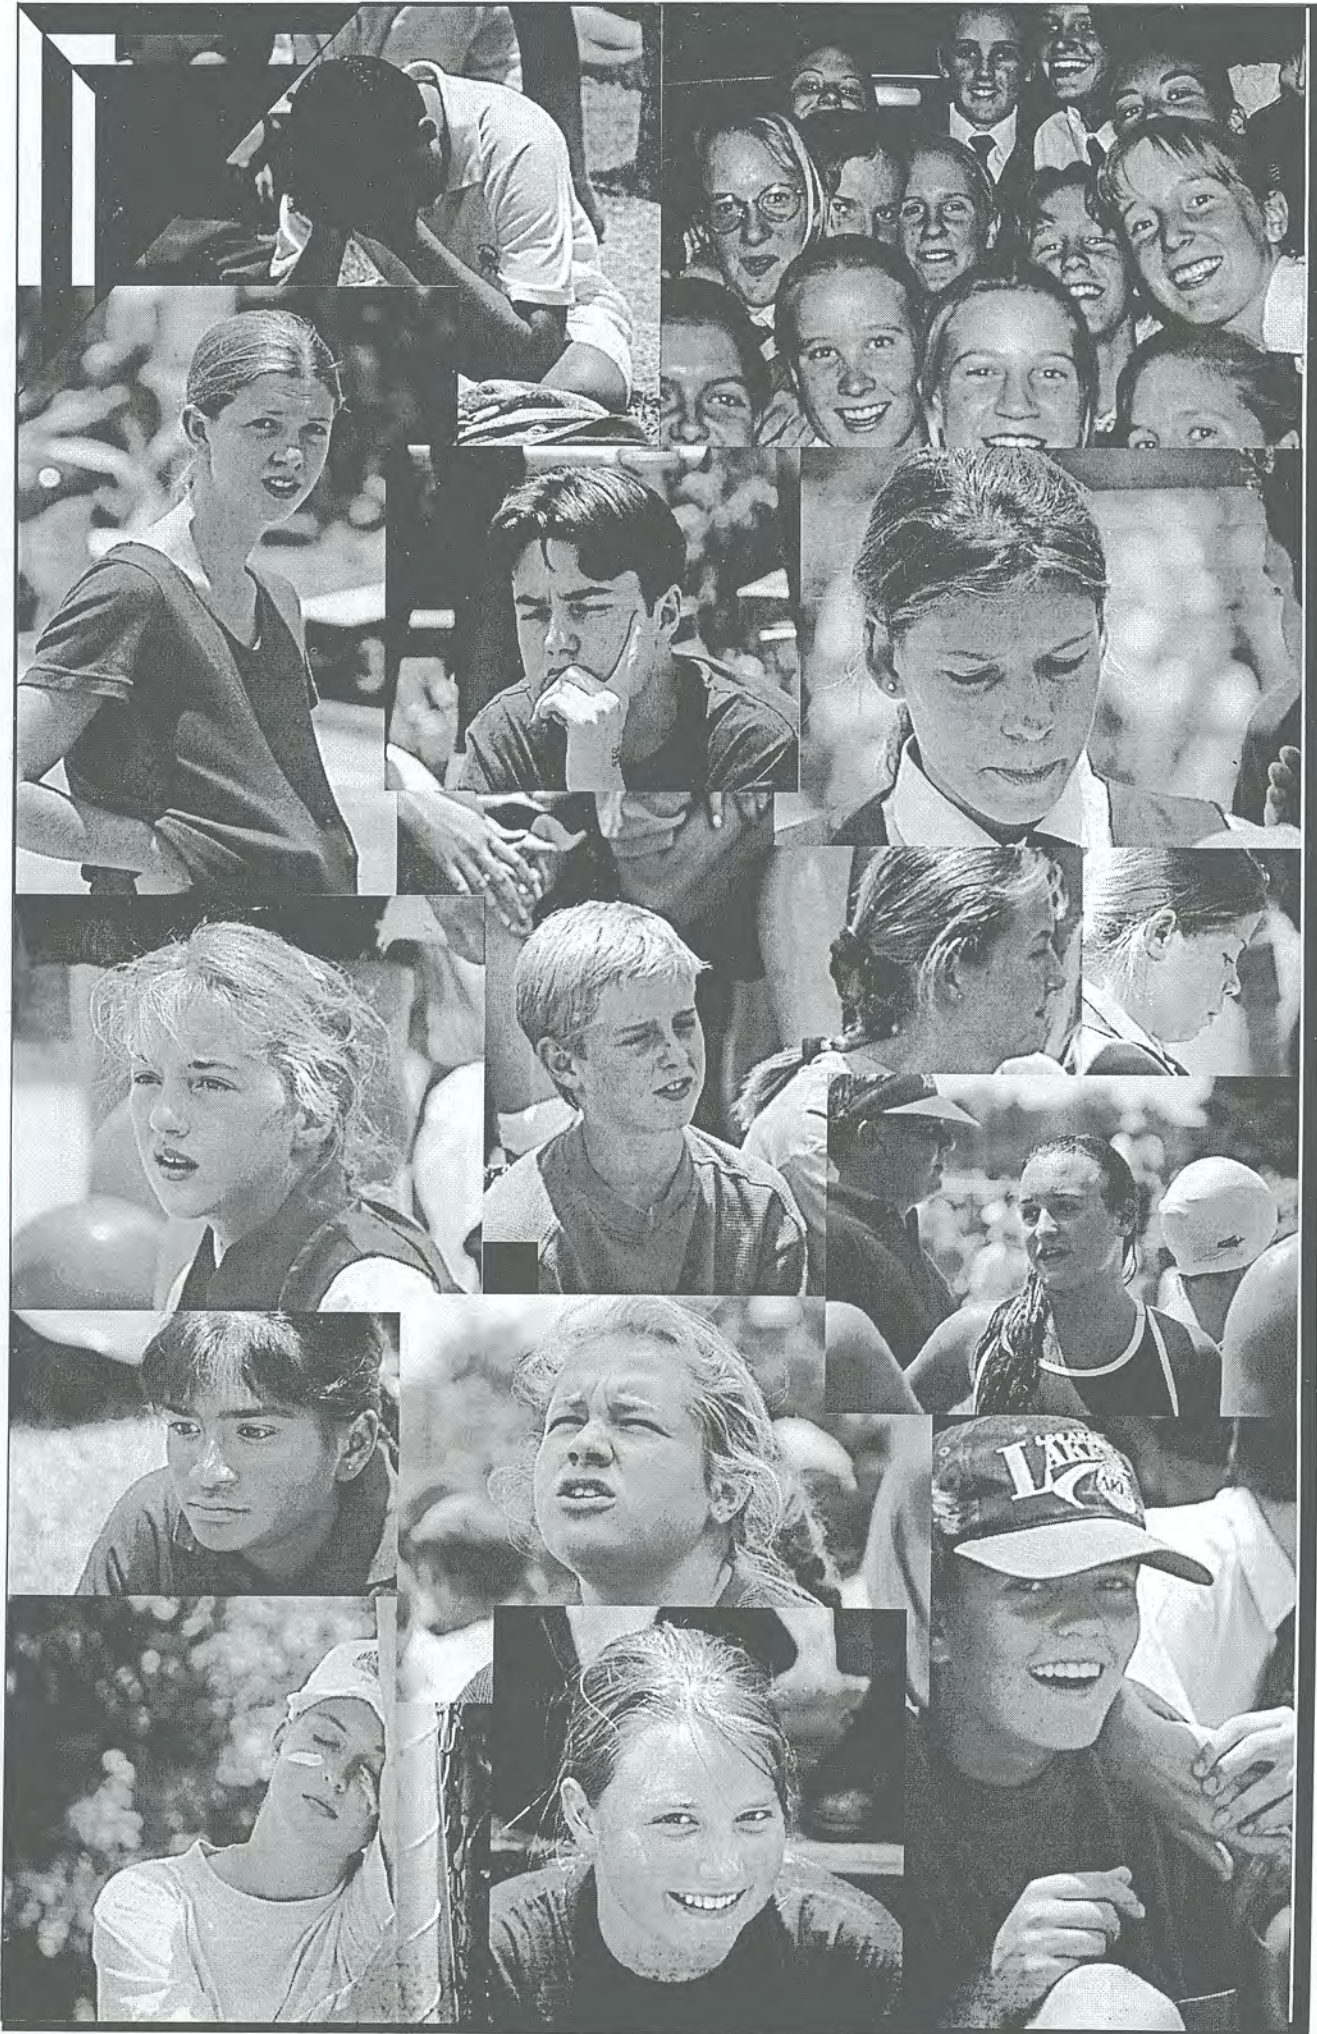

*Can money or power bring back the innocent lives lost?
No it can not.
But love feels pain and is not heartless.
Like cattle are branded, so is the heart.
It is scarred forever with memory and it shall never be forgotten.*

*People are covered in green blankets of money and greed, which bears the heavy price of death and guilt,
but love covers all and it carries the price of peace.
Money can't live without power and power can't live without money, but neither of these can live without love;
love stands on its own.
It needs no support but your faith.*

*So ask yourself, what is the essence of your soul?
Life in endless darkness with money and power
Or with love in eternal light?*

The Light at the end of the Tunnel

*Whilst out on the ocean, the oceans deep depths,
An angel calls to me,
"Come walk my friend, come walk with me, come walk with me on the sea,
Through love and gladness, unhappiness and sadness,
Together we are one
Together you and me."*

*And then I ask in a fearful tone,
Of this angel whom I have known,
This angel who helped me through good times and bad,
When I have felt joyful, happy or sad,
"How long can we together be friends?
Until the sun sets or until all time ends?"*

*My angel looks up with regretful face,
And then disappears without a trace
But I still hear her whispers on the calm blue sea saying...
"I have to go now for you lost faith in me"
I regained my faith standing alone in the world,
But all in vain for not another sound was heard,
so with face hung low I changed my course,
Over the deep blue sea and back, to the port,
And when I returned an angel's face I saw,
And faith for me was not lost any more.*

Fear

*Everything was silent except for the crackle of the fire. I could taste the smoke and feel it in my eyes.
I couldn't remember what had happened or how I had got there.
Suddenly it all came back to me - the flight from Brazil, flames, screams, trees.
My body was flooded with terror.*

*I glanced around and saw the broken wreck of the plane. Was I the only survivor? I scurried around in the darkness calling, hoping someone would answer,
But no one did.
Thoughts flashed through my mind, I had no food, no water and not a clue where I was.
I was petrified.
Every click became a bang, every squeak a shriek.
I was totally alone in a dark
Deadly world ...*

Happiness is not a station at which you arrive, it is a way of travelling

I stood on the bare, concrete platform, alone. The buzz of people around me was deafening. Some people were meeting loved ones; others were rushing off to important places; yet others were saying goodbye to loved ones in intimate ways. I stood on my own.

A brightly coloured train pulled up into the station. The train was decorated with balloons and streamers. The passengers were hanging out of their windows, cheering happily. As the train stopped, the people in the station converged on it en masse. Once everyone was aboard, it started to pull off. It seemed to hesitate, as if waiting for any late-comers. Then it was gone, with its happy, carefree passengers. Once again, I stood on my own.

That train was not the one I could board. The situation in which I was living did not allow me to dwell in sheer bliss on a "happy train". The moment that "happy train" left the station, I decided to take a hold of my life. If I did that, I could board the next "happy train" that pulled up into my station.

I moved away from the people who were making me unhappy. I took hold of my heart-ache and put my brain in charge. I focused my attention on my family and new friends. I forgot about dying and concentrated on living. I threw away the bathroom scale, all my diet books, weight-loss pills, my tape measure and full-length mirror. I started afresh.

I was ready to go back to the station, but I needed help. I stood on the bare concrete platform, holding my dear friend's hand. Unlike me, she wasn't nervous, she was eager to get back on her train, but she knew that she had to help me board mine. As the brightly-coloured train pulled up into the station, and stopped, we walked slowly up to it. I turned around hesitantly, saw what was my old life, sighed, and climbed on to the train. I was awkward and unsure of how to get into the mood of the party, but as soon as I relaxed, I was fine.

Sometimes, my train stops at the old station and I look around, but I never get off. My train has no destination, just interesting journeys and fun adventures. It is the only way to travel.

À TRAVERS DE LA FENÊTRE DE MA CHAMBRE

Il pleut des halles bardes. Le feu est allumé et mes parents sont autour du feu. Papa lit le journal et maman tricote une écharpe pour moi. Le chat, Vasco, dort près du feu. Mes frères jouent un jeu d'échecs mais moi, je suis assise à coté de la fenêtre de ma chambre.

De là le paysage est très beau. Au bas de notre jardin il y a un ruisseau et il est plein de poissons avec des couleurs divers comme verts, roses, oranges, rouges, noirs et gris. Près du ruisseau il y a beaucoup d'arbres. De la fenêtre de ma chambre je vois un chêne très vieux.

Sous ce chêne y a une table où ma famille et moi mangeons tous les dimanches, quand il ne pleut pas. J'adore cet arbre et beaucoup d'oiseaux l'adorent aussi. Nous avons deux cygnes qui dorment sous le chêne, toutes les nuits. La femme s'appelle Mme Jacqueline et le mâle Napoléon.

Nous avons aussi, deux chevaux qui s'appellent la Belle et le Monstre. De la fenêtre de ma chambre je vois l'écurie où ils dorment. Quelquefois je pense que je voudrais vivre près de la mer et autre fois près de la montagne avec la neige, en hiver. Mais dans la réalité je ne changerais jamais le paysage de la fenêtre de ma chambre.

IL CORRIGEAIT...

Monsieur De Bouche se voue au corps enseignant. Il prend plaisir à sa carrière et monsieur De Bouche est fier qu'il corrigeait toujours les devoirs ou les épreuves des épèves le lendemain qu'ils les ont remis. Mais hier, c'était un jour congé, et le professeur est allé faire du ski nautique. Il est revenu à neuf heures. Il n's pas commerncé à corriger. Monsieur a mangé un peu de dîner et puis, il a commencé à corriger.

"Cela ne prendra pas longtemps," pense-t-il. Mais il a eu très tort! Il a corrigé et a corrigé et a corrigé jusqu'a six heures et demie du matin. Puis, il a conduit à l'école et il a recommerncé son travail. À sept heures moins dix il n'avait pas fini.

Maintenant, c'est huit heures et les élèves arrivent. Ils s'asseyent tranquillement car monsieur est d'habitude le professeur le plus sévère.

"Bon matin," dit-il essayant d'étouffer un bâillement. Il pense: "Je suis très fatigué, je voudrais me reposer la tête sur les bras pendant cinq minutes. Malheureusement il s'est profondement endormi.

Au bout du jour, Jaquelline, une méchante fille écrit sur le tableau noir, "Dormez Bien Monsieur." Mais quand le professeur s'éveille, il ne regarde pas le tableau noir et il va chex lui.

Le lendemain il arrive à l'école en retard, à neuf heures, et il lit le tableau noir - il ne le comprend pas!

The Bushveld

The bushveld is a place of deep peace where a person can relax, away from the "hustle and bustle" of city life. The thorn trees spread their branches, umbrella-like, casting shade in the fierce midday sun. The noises of the bushveld are unique, so different to the city noises: the roar of lions at night, the squeal of the warthog and the alert startling of impala.

Anthills rise from the ground like "fortresses of days gone by". Ants march across the arid ground like soldiers to their castle of sand. The lion, so feared by all, is resting in the shade of the thorn tree and looks as placid as a domestic cat. The elephant, huge as a great grey boulder, slowly makes his way to water where he will drink in peace.

The smells of the bushveld and wood fires burning at night against a sky as clear as a crystal pond ensure that a person can relax in peace.

The Bushveld

The majestic eagle soared above with graceful pride. The massive grey elephants thundered their way mercilessly through the undergrowth, while the baby dassie scampered swiftly towards safety. The boisterous baboons squawked noisily as they scattered boulders down the barren mountain slope.

All of Nature in perfect harmony - where did we go wrong?

The Hunter

*Walking,
as silent as a mouse,
approaching the prey.
Suddenly there is a noise of crushing leaves.
The victim turns to run,
but,
it is too late,
the gun has gone off,
the trigger has been pulled.
Suddenly a sheet of silence falls over the forest like the night would over a city.
But there is a faint noise -
the echo of the gunshot,
for once again
the hunter has struck!*
