Welcome from NMAA Executive Director

Sally Marquez
NMAA
Executive Director

While watching the 2019 Women's U.S. Open earlier this school year, I witnessed an outstanding display of sportsmanship by 21-year-old Naomi Osaka, who hugged and consoled her 15-year-old opponent, Cori Gauff, after defeating her in the third round of the event. She hugged her and then went one step further by inviting her to do the post-match interview with her. I turned the channel after witnessing this emotional exchange between the two competitors only to watch story after story about countless individuals preparing to come to the aid of communities caught in the path of Hurricane Dorian.

In our own home state of New Mexico, I have seen signs in yards across our communities that read, "El Paso Strong" and have witnessed young kids throughout the state raising money for those struck by the tragedy that befell our neighbor to the South. It warms my heart to know that so many members of the New Mexico baseball community supported El Paso by volunteering their time and resources to facilitate a baseball clinic in the area. I have seen Boy Scouts and Girls Scouts of New Mexico performing various acts of community service. I recently pulled up to a stop light and saw a young adult handing a homeless person a bag full of toiletries and food. I saw a teenager mowing an elderly person's yard just because it is the right thing to do. All of these beautiful acts of kindness occurred within a two-day period and those were only the ones I personally saw.

Every day, we witness humanity at its finest. Even though there are times when the negative headlines seem overwhelming, we still see displays of compassion and kindness all around us. We know there is so much goodness in our schools and our communities and we feel our faith restored when these acts hit close to home.

So, it makes me wonder - why do we allow "winning and losing" to become the focal point in athletics? Why does a "win at all costs" attitude seem so prevalent? Why do acts of poor sportsmanship sometimes overshadow all of the good that we know exists in interscholastic athletics? For every one bad event, we know there are hundreds, or even thousands, of great things going on with our student-athletes. Why can't we look past the scoreboard to see and remember the true meaning of sports?

Don't get me wrong. I am the most competitive person there is. Even at my "old" age, I refuse to lose. But, as we get older, we see that there are such bigger and more important things that we gain from competition and that we gain through participation in interscholastic activities. We realize that truly "winning" is not about the score. For educators, it is about teaching our students that they are playing a game and that, at the end of the day, the end result of learning the traits of responsibility, integrity, respect, teamwork, dedication, perseverance and commitment are far more important than a blue trophy.

The importance of interscholastic athletics is really about winning in the game of life. It is about producing citizens who are capable of being compassionate to those in need, who understand that life is bigger than a game and who truly know that true winners are those who care about others and who live a life of being trustworthy, honest and respectful.

There are so many daily lessons that are learned through participating in sports and activities and we see these lessons being lived out around us every day. It goes back to role models in professional sports. It goes back to volunteerism and kindness to communities suffering tragedies and disasters. It goes back to being service-oriented within our communities. It goes back to doing the right thing, even when no one is looking. In the words of football coach, Lou Holtz, "I follow three rules: Do the right thing, do the best you can, and always show people you care." This is the true recipe for being winners in the game of life.

We hope you have a great 2019-2020 school year.

Legend of the Course Ben Ortega, Taos High School, 1996-99

From crossing the finish line to successfully defending others in court, Ben Ortega has been a success in many aspects of his life. After winning state titles and setting records on the track, Ortega is now an attorney in the state of New Mexico. The New Mexico Activities Association would like to recognize Ben Ortega as a Legend of the Course in Cross Country.

Ortega was born in Taos, New Mexico and grew up in the village of Arroyo Seco. "My father was a lumberjack; in that business during its peak," said Ben. "The area I lived in was very agricultural and rural," he added. "I own that house today."

When horses weren't pulling timber for the Ortega family, it was Ben who would carry fuel up and down the mountain for his father. It was his stamina and love for the outdoors which proved to be helpful with his running career. "My father used to be a skier for UNM and my job as a kid was to carry his supplies around the mountain," recalled Ben. "We're talking 10,000 feet!"

Ben first got into running track as a sophomore in high school when he was looking for a sport in which he might be able to excel. "I knew I had natural endurance," said Ortega. Although Ben was an overnight success, his hard work and determination helped build him into one of the top runners in the region. His sophomore season at Taos High School, he placed 80th at the state meet. By his junior year in 1998, he won his first state cross country championship in a time of 16:52. "If there was one thing I could do well, and probably the only thing I can do well, is to work at something over time," he said. "I practiced my running skills all summer. I ran almost every day. Being able to focus on it during the offseason, that's what made the difference." Ortega would repeat his success the following year in 1999 and win the state cross country championship his senior season in high school. Ortega also excelled at distance running on the track. He set the school record in the 3,200m run at the 1999 state track meet as a junior and would win the event his senior season. He also holds the school record in the 1,600m run.

Ortega then went on to run for the University of New Mexico. During his time as a Lobo, Ortega won a Mountain West Conference Championship in the 5,000m (indoor) and 10,000m (outdoor) events. He was named second team All-Mountain West and competed in 10K the NCAA Outdoor Championships as a sophomore. In 2005, Ortega earned the Mountain West Conference Sportsmanship Award, the first ever for a UNM male athlete. Ortega went on to earn a law degree from the University of New Mexico.

Currently, Ortega practices law providing legal representation in New Mexico for a variety of different issues. He has a 6-year old son, Wyatt, and Ben runs for fitness. "If you practice law the way I do, it will make you go crazy unless you stay in shape and maintain your health."

Here is more of our conversation with Ben Ortega:

What was the difference between your state titles your junior and senior seasons in high school?

They were two completely different seasons. I was still an unknown going into my junior season and had to knock off the state champ, Darvin Valdo from Grants. He was one hell of a runner. We encountered each other at a meet in Santa Fe. At the time, he was knocking off everyone he came across. He came into Santa Fe and I wanted to learn everything I could about him. So, I challenged him and he could not outsprint me at the end of the race. I knew he would come up with a different game plan at state, but I held on like the same way I did three weeks before.

My senior year was more injury problematic. I pushed myself too hard and I wasn't able to get in shape and advance much that season. My senior year was more of a game of, 'Can I get fit enough and get smart enough to win this championship again?' It was a completely different challenge, but the same result.

What is your best memory of running in high school?

The best memory I have was after winning the state championship in 1998 and coming back home to Taos. The community was ecstatic about it. I received an incredible outpouring of support. The community never had something like that. The small-town high school vibe was great, and celebrating athletic success to inspire more success gave them something to feel good about. That was my favorite.

Why choose UNM?

I found out that I could use cross country to get a college scholarship. I wasn't going to go to college unless I did something like that. I knew getting a top-notch education would lead to a great future for me. It boiled down to the best value. The lottery scholarship just came out, which would supplement my athletic scholarship. UNM was the best combination of a quality education and good exposure to competitors. I had been a Lobo fan since I was a kid.

I ran with coach Matt Henry and his brother Mark - they're class acts. Matt (UNM's distance coach) treated me really well and taught me about running and life. I had a great experience in college. I found out running wasn't going to go beyond that. I couldn't make a living doing that, so I got more focused on academics and shifted my focus to try and get into law school, which took some work.

Why pursue a degree in law?

I wanted to be able to have a job that I could help people who were in the worst situations of their lives. I thought about becoming a medical doctor or a lawyer. I decided on law because you can make a positive impact on the individual level and help everybody by helping changing laws.

What did you do to win the Mountain West Sportsmanship Award?

A guy I used to compete against, from BYU, collapsed during my last conference championship in indoor track and I went and picked him up. I didn't expect to get an award for that.

What advice do you have for other student-athletes?

My advice is no matter what level you're at, long distance running can help you build skills that will be monumental down the road. Being able to work hard has led me to winning things I could lose. If you work hard and you're dedicated, you can go further than you thought and that will translate to college and a career. New Mexico has incredible cross-country athletes and the sport could provide a path to a good education and get them out of a potentially difficult situation. It did that for me and can do it for others around New Mexico.

Eldorado Wins 5A Girls' Cross Country Title

Albuquerque Academy Wins Fourth Girls' Cross Country Championship

The Eldorado Eagles captured the blue trophy for the first time since 2012 at the 2018 Laguna Burger State Cross Country Championships, winning by nine points over second place finisher Cleveland. It was the sixth state cross country title for the girls' program in school history.
