Supporting students with SEND in STEM subjects

Students with SEND may need additional help and support in the classroom. Over the course of these two sessions, you will consider some of the teaching strategies and approaches for students with special educational needs and disability, the underpinning of these principles and the role of specialist knowledge in teaching these pupils. You will then also consider how these approaches can be supported through your teaching of STEM.

Please note, this training is aimed at secondary schools.

Dates/Time: Tuesday 16th and 23rd April – 15.30pm -16.30pm

Cost: £60.00+VAT
