Society Golf Planning Guide

BOOKING YOUR 2026 SOCIETY GOLF CALENDAR

Organising a society golf calendar can be a challenging yet rewarding task. It involves coordinating multiple outings and events throughout the year, ensuring they align with your group's objectives and preferences, while avoiding certain dates like communions, bank holidays, big matches and so on - Creating a well-rounded society golf calendar is essential for a successful and enjoyable year of golf. Here's a step-by-step guide to help you plan and manage a society golf calendar.

Step 1: Define Your Goals and Objectives

Before you dive into planning your golf calendar, start by defining your society's goals and objectives. Consider what you want to achieve from the year.

Step 2: Gather Input from Members

Engage with your society members to gather input and preferences. This valuable feedback will help you tailor your calendar to meet the needs and desires of your members.

Step 3: Determine Your Frequency

Decide how often you want to have golf events. Some societies prefer monthly outings, while others may opt for quarterly or bi-monthly events.

Step 4: Choose your Courses

Variety is key to keeping members engaged and excited about the upcoming events. Select a mix of courses, and always try to add in courses that the group hasn't played before.

Step 5: Secure Dates and Tee Times

Once you have a rough idea of your event schedule, get in touch with the team at mygolfSociety and they will start securing dates and tee times at your chosen golf courses.

Step 6: Promote Your Events

Promote your society golf calendar to members and encourage them to share it with their network of golfers. The most used forms of communication are email, social media, and WhatsApp.

Step 7: Communication with golf clubs

Send reminders to your members on the lead up to each event and get people to commit nice and early. It's important to keep the golf clubs updated with expected numbers.

Conclusion

By following these simple steps, you can create a well-planned and enjoyable society golf calendar that caters to the interests and preferences of your members.

Consistency, communication, and a commitment to member satisfaction are key to the success of your calendar and the overall experience of your society's golfing enthusiasts.

If you would like to discuss any of the above, please feel free to speak to one of our society golf experts - we're happy to help!
