Welcome

to the world's greatest motorsport driving event

Throughout my career, I've seen time and again how motorsport brings people together. It creates connections, shared moments and memories that last far beyond the chequered flag. At PalmerSport, we have distilled that power into a single, carefully curated experience that you will remember for the rest of your life.

At the heart of PalmerSport is an experience that thrills, motivates and inspires. It has created unforgettable memories for hundreds of thousands of people, many of whom never imagined themselves driving a racing car at a purpose-built circuit. More than three decades on, PalmerSport remains the benchmark for what a motorsport driving experience can be.

Every detail has been designed to recreate the exhilaration of being behind the wheel of a true racing car, in an environment that builds confidence and encourages progression. It is a feeling I have been fortunate to experience throughout my own career, and one that remains incomparable.

If you join PalmerSport as part of a corporate group, the benefits extend far beyond the driving. From team and relationship building to business development and deal-making, a day at PalmerSport creates an atmosphere where people connect naturally and conversations flow with ease.

And if you're attending with family or friends, the experience has a unique ability to strengthen bonds and ignite shared passions. It is about enjoyment, achievement and the stories you take away together.

Now in its second season at PalmerSport, the McLaren Artura GT4 has become a defining part of the experience. It has proven to be everything we hoped it would be and more, allowing our guests to get closer than ever to that authentic race driver feeling. Having driven the car extensively myself, I can say with complete confidence that rarely has such extraordinary performance felt so accessible to drivers of all abilities.

As McLaren continues to succeed at the very highest levels of global motorsport, there is no better place to experience that unmistakable 'Papaya Orange' feeling than here at Bedford Autodrome. There is truly nothing else quite like it.

Artura GT4

For many guests, this is the pinnacle of the event.

The McLaren Artura GT4 is a true racing machine, developed by one of Formula One's most celebrated teams. Yet what surprises most drivers is not its speed, but its approachability. Within a few laps, any nervousness fades and is replaced by clarity, confidence and a growing sense of control.

This is a car that rewards trust. With guidance from PalmerSport's instructors, you will begin to understand how a modern GT race car communicates grip, balance and intent. The result is a rare experience: feeling genuinely connected to a machine of this calibre, and realising just how close you can come to its potential.

It is fast, unquestionably so. But more importantly, it is empowering. Many guests leave the Artura GT4 session talking not about bravery, but about how composed and capable they felt behind the wheel.

Artura GT4

The biggest leap forward in the PalmerSport line-up since its creation in 1991.

Jonathan Palmer

“My relationship with McLaren spans more than four decades, beginning when I tested one of their Formula One cars after winning the 1981 British Formula 3 Championship. I later spent three seasons as their official Formula One test driver, working alongside Ayrton Senna and Gerhard Berger, before becoming development driver for the original McLaren F1 road car.

“Introducing a McLaren race car to PalmerSport was a significant milestone, and seeing the Artura GT4 succeed so convincingly has been hugely rewarding. Advances in technology have made it possible to offer a car that is not only immensely fast, but also intuitive and confidence-inspiring, making it just as rewarding for amateur drivers as it is for professionals.

“The reactions from guests stepping out of the car say it all. The smiles, disbelief and sense of achievement confirm that the Artura GT4 has earned its place at the heart of the PalmerSport experience.”

Jonathan Palmer

Never in the 30-year history of PalmerSport have I seen such an incredible reaction from our guests - absolutely mind blown!

With near-perfect weight distribution and rear-wheel drive, the car reacts cleanly to your inputs. You sense the grip through the chassis, trust the braking and refine your line with each lap. The paddle shift keeps your hands on the wheel and your focus on balance and timing, allowing progress to come naturally.

This is a car that rewards clarity and commitment rather than bravado. As your confidence builds, so does the pace, and what begins as careful exploration soon becomes smooth, flowing momentum.

The result is deeply satisfying: genuine improvement and the quiet confidence that you are driving it properly.

Safety and confidence.

At PalmerSport, your safety is our top priority. We own and operate all of our vehicles, ensuring that we only provide our guests with machinery in peak condition. The PalmerSport experience extends well beyond the circuit. Between sessions, you'll relax in comfortable, all-weather suites designed to provide space to unwind, talk and reflect before heading back on track.

Hospitality is an integral part of the day. Thoughtfully prepared menus accompany each programme, from breakfast on arrival through to lunch, afternoon tea or a relaxed evening barbecue. The emphasis is on quality, service and atmosphere, ensuring the off-track moments feel just as considered as the driving itself.

I designed Bedford Autodrome uniquely for PalmerSport with flat-out driving – not motor racing – in mind. There are no concrete walls or spectator grandstands, just 5.5 miles of tarmac, endless run-off and acres of grass. It's the perfect petrolhead playground.
