Established by Louis H. Jones (1873-1965) in 1902, Jones Drug Store is the oldest business operating on Main Street today.

Jones arrived in Northport in 1895 with a diploma from Brooklyn College of Pharmacy and went right to work in George Burr's Pharmacy which was located where Skipper's stands today.

When the building at 90 Main Street became available, Jones seized the opportunity to open his own pharmacy. The store was heated with a big round stove, and the jars and bottles in the compounding room consisted of herbs, leeches, and patent medicines.

Jones also carried a full line of veterinary medicines which were sought after by the farmers in the area.

Real estate agent Harris Henschel first occupied the small addition to the store, but Jones later converted it into a soda fountain which became famous for miles around for using only real fruit juices, the finest syrups, and best quality ice creams.

In 1953 Jones retired, and the new owner, Anthony Degaspari kept the name. In 1971 he moved the business next door to a brand-new building at 100 Main Street. Vincent Terranova, a former employee, bought the business in 1983. Mr. Terranova, his family, and staff have carried on Jones' legacy for over 40 years. Their dedication to our community, especially through the historic pandemic, has made Jones Drug Store one of the most important and beloved businesses in Northport.

REMEMBERING FRANK CAVAGNARO
 11-18-1938 to 12-10-2020

Frank Cavagnaro lived for his family. Where family always came first. Northport was his home . . . his ancestors came from Italy and worked hard to make Northport their home. That's why Northport was so important to Frank. He was in the military for a short period of time but family obligations came first. Frank put his short military career to an end to work for his uncle tending the village properties of the family and working at his uncle's mason yard.

Frank knew the village and the people. He was not only a landlord, he had a big heart for those who knew him. He was also willing to listen and help.

Frank married Justine on July 13, 1958. He opened Cavay's Lumber in March 1995 on Larkfield Road and Cedar Road. He relocated to Brightside Avenue in the summer of 2003.

He was a wonderful man and will be missed.

Mr. Cheapo's Amazing Musical Time Machine

Everyone over the age of 25 remembers when going to a record store to buy music was a semi-regular ritual. Now, that's a quaint notion as purchasable recordings aren't much more than anonymous sound files. And while brick and mortar behemoths like Tower Records and Record World have fallen by the wayside, Mr. Cheapo continues to persevere and flourish going into its third decade. It has become a mainstay of Commack & Mineola. Record albums, rows of CD's, videos & DVD's, and Rock posters line the shelves & walls.

And while founder/owner Stu Goldberg is grateful for the continued success of this retail anomaly, the fact that he continues to serve a hungry customer base in this day & age mystifies even him.

Fifteen years ago, I was thinking about getting rid of records. We were actually tightening up the store and pushing records back & back. Now, all of a sudden, it's the opposite and it's pushing back up again. It's amazing. I just can't understand it. Now, our success as a brick-and-mortar store comes down to the fact that there is no competition you've got the internet. The first Mr. Cheapo was opened in Flushing in 1982, then we moved to Commack. Over time, Goldberg has seen plenty, the internet exploded and in the process decimated independent and major music retailers in the past decade. While LP's making up a surprising 40 percent of his revenue between his stores and what gets sold on eBay, rounded out by 50 percent CD sales, and the remainder a mix of DVD's, posters, video games, cassettes and other music related paraphernalia.
