PRAYER TOWER AND BAPTISMAL TANK RIBBON-CUTTING CEREMONY

In a momentous step toward enriching both its spiritual life and campus facilities, Asia Pacific Theological Seminary (APTS) joyfully inaugurated its prayer tower and baptismal tank on March 26, 2025.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony was led by APTS President, Dr. Solomon Wang, joined by members of the board, faculty, staff, and student body.

The newly dedicated prayer tower stands as a symbol of unwavering faith and spiritual renewal. Strategically perched on campus, it offers breathtaking views of the surrounding mountains—an ideal setting for quiet reflection, personal devotion, and deeper communion with God.

The ceremony also celebrated the generosity of Scott and Patti McPheeters, whose financial support, guided by God's provision, helped bring the prayer tower and baptismal tank to completion. Following the dedication, local churches were invited to join this historic occasion, with ten individuals choosing to be baptized and publicly commit their lives to Christ—making them the first to use the new baptismal tank.

The day concluded with a powerful time of worship and thanksgiving, led by Dr. Wang himself, as the APTS community united in gratitude for God's faithfulness and this significant milestone in the life of the seminary.

To God be the glory!
