The software simulation is excellent and strongly resembles the real assessment. The given solutions provide clear and useful advice on how to best approach each question.

Very helpful and specific guide to teach the BCG online case. One of the firsts as most just refer you to PST or potential test references, and while those are helpful proxies, the formatting is very different. If you need a crash course on the online case, this is a great resource.

Thorough, specific and clear guidance on a test with relatively scarce information online!

★★★★★ August 14, 2022 by Daisy

While comprehensive information on the BCG online assessment are often hard to come by, Francesco's guide will provide you all information necessary as well as a possibility to simulate the assessment. The guide will help you prepare in a structured manner. Also, Francesco is very friendly and helpful regarding any problems you might have during your preparation. Overall, the materials are incredibly helpful. Thank you Francesco!

Definitely nice to have some representative practice material beforehand!

The practice cases were especially helpful. I struggled a lot with the official practice case, and I became aware of what I had been doing wrong previously after practicing the mock tests here.

Francesco's Online Case Combo has been a lifesaver. With no background to the world of consulting prep, I feel prepared to face Casey. The breakdown on the types of questions and how to tackle them makes Casey less daunting.

Very useful tool for understanding what to expect at Online Case assessment and how dynamics will look like. There is useful guidance how to prepare for each type of the question you will be facing at the interview and the simulations makes you more comfortable doing the interview itself and it is a perfect way to practice - the most similar experience you will have compared to the real interview.

Found this simulator after quite some searching. Pretty good simulation of the BCG Interactive Chatbot Test (Casey). The format is pretty similar to the actual test (based on the BCG practice test I have taken) where there are multiple choice questions and then there are descriptive ones where candidates have to provide a rationale for having selected the options in previous questions or just a general question around the case. The video interviews simulator also gives you a practice of recording your response while logically structuring your thoughts and presenting them in a concise and impactful manner within the time limit. Really recommend using this simulator for a practice before the actual test.
Looking forward to more such practice cases.

Thank you Francesco for this fantastic simulation tool! There is no resource that gives such a close simulation to the real test. The detailed explanation, break down and approach equips for the real test like no other support found online. I am so glad I got this first hand practice. Thank you again!

I was given access to a beta version of the chatbot case simulation. It helped me get through the BCG first round at my target office, where casing was solely based on the chatbot.

Especially given the dearth of information and simulation opportunities currently available, the ability to practice a few simulation cases before the real test was very helpful in building a level of comfort with the format.

All in all I would recommend buying this package.

This product was an incredibly helpful tool that was instrumental in my preparation to pass the BCG online case. The software tool simulates the real BCG online case experience by mirroring the same types of questions and testing conditions. The questions in the software tool accurately reflect the level of difficulty of the online case. This is incredibly important as the BCG online case is still relatively new so there isn't a lot of great material online that can be leveraged for preparation. Additionally, every question has a detailed explanation of the answer and the format and flow of each question accurately reflects the format and flow of the online case. Also, timing is incredibly important on the online case so practicing where to allocate your time, which is what this online software simulation allows you to do, is key for success. I rarely buy online material but I'm glad I purchased this as it was key to passing my online case interview.
