The Language of Flowers

©Cobble Hill Puzzle Company

40085 | Butterfly Garden

©Barbara Behr | Blue Sky Art & Design

Floriography, or the Language of Flowers is a means of communication using flowers and bouquets. During the Victorian era, many guidebooks were published to help those involved in delicate courtship rituals parse their exchange of posies. While most of the nuances have fallen out of favor, we still choose red roses to symbolize passion, yellow roses for friendship and poppies for remembrance. To balance the old world look, contemporary leet-speak was used on the labelling, thus what was originally described as “looking for true friendship” becomes “Let’s be besties!” - shorter and more fun.

THE BRAMBLY HEDGE books, by Jill Barklem, detail the lives and adventures of mice that lead idyllic lives where community values flourish and seasonal self-sufficiency is the order of the day.

The books were an immediate success with readers of all ages, and have been translated into several languages, selling more than seven million copies.

These puzzles are storyboards of each tale: Spring Story, Summer Story, Autumn Story, and Winter Story.

The quilt block designs for this puzzle are from the vintage farmstead magazine Hearth and Home. From 1907-1912 readers submitted block designs to represent their home states. Cobble Hill had fun creating custom patterns for each block, with nods to state flags, flowers, animals, insects, food, and other state iconography.

Almost every puzzle company has a zodiac image, but at Cobble Hill we like to do things a little differently. Why make a single zodiac image – when you can make twelve! Because really, when we encounter a horoscope column – do we read the whole thing? Most of us don't. Most of us read our own sign – and maybe our friend's and family's...

35 PIECE TRAY PUZZLES

Originally we developed our Tray Puzzles for children. But we have learned that they also provide entertainment for seniors, particularly those living with dementia. This is why our image selection is meant to appeal to both the young and young at heart.
