FROM OUR Principal

MS MARINA UGONOTTI

PRINCIPAL

GIVEN AS A REFLECTION ON THE PAST FINANCIAL YEAR, I AM DEEPLY MOVED BY OUR COMMUNITY'S DEDICATION. OVER THIS PERIOD, HUNDREDS OF PARENTS AND FRIENDS HAVE GENEROUSLY CONTRIBUTED THEIR TIME, TALENT, AND TREASURE, ENSURING THE CONTINUED SUCCESS OF OUR PHILANTHROPIC VISION. THE STRENGTH OF LORETO NORMANHURST IS TRULY REFLECTED IN THE COMMITMENT AND SUPPORT FROM SO MANY OF YOU.

This year we've focused on three key areas: the new Boarding School which will soon provide a space for growth in body, mind, and spirit; our Bursary and Indigenous Scholarship programs, inspired by Mary Ward's vision for inclusive education; and the cultivation of a new generation of young women who understand the power and responsibility of giving back.

Our Unity Circle Campaign and the Turning of the Soil celebration for the new Boarding School were milestones that united us in our vision for Loreto Normanhurst's future. For all this, we owe a profound debt of gratitude to our donors, whose generosity has truly embodied Mary Ward's encouragement to be 'cheerful givers'.

As we look to 2025, our philanthropy strategy will continue to be pivotal to our future; deepening our connection with alumnae, encouraging active involvement from current parents and past parents, and building a strong endowment to support future initiatives. Despite challenges in the financial landscape and historical funding disparities between boys' and girls' schools, we remain committed to advancing philanthropy into 2025 and beyond. This work is pivotal to our future. We will focus on building a strong endowment to support future initiatives and launch a meaningful bequest program. We will also focus on strengthening relationships with major donors. Key initiatives, such as our Giving Day in May 2025, will allow us to continue supporting our vision of empowering young women and enhancing our facilities, all in service of shaping a more just world.

I warmly invite you to continue walking this path with us, building a philanthropic legacy that not only strengthens Loreto Normanhurst but contributes to positive change in the wider world. Together, guided by Mary Ward's wisdom and our shared love for Loreto Normanhurst, we can build a future where giving back is a way of life.

With deep gratitude and hope,

Marina Ugonotti

Philanthropy Report

AS WE REFLECT ON THE PAST YEAR, LORETO NORMANHURST'S PHILANTHROPIC EFFORTS HAVE FLOURISHED, THANKS TO THE UNWAVERING SUPPORT OF OUR COMMUNITY. YOUR GENEROSITY, BOTH IN FINANCIAL CONTRIBUTIONS AND THE DEDICATION OF TIME AND EXPERTISE, HAS BEEN INSTRUMENTAL IN ENRICHING THE LIVES OF OUR STUDENTS AND SHAPING OUR SCHOOL'S FUTURE.

CULTIVATING A CULTURE OF GIVING

Our approach to philanthropy is holistic, involving the entire Loreto Normanhurst community in building a sustainable framework for impact. Key volunteer groups, including the Parent Association of Loreto Normanhurst, all the School's volunteer Subcommittees, and the Ex-Students' Association, have been pivotal in aligning our philanthropic vision with our school's values and evolving needs.

EMPOWERING FUTURE PHILANTHROPISTS

We're proud of our student-led initiatives, particularly the Year 12 Student Bursary Committee's fundraising efforts. By engaging students in meaningful philanthropic activities, we're nurturing a generation of socially responsible leaders who understand the power of contributing their time, talent, and treasure to create positive change.

TRANSFORMATIVE MAJOR GIFTS

This year saw an increase in major giving, with over 60% of donations coming from major gifts and matched funding for the Unity Circle Campaign. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to the Farrell Family Foundation, Ex-Students' Association, Parent Association of Loreto, Chartwells, and generous current and past families for their transformational contributions towards our Bursary, Indigenous Scholarships, and new Boarding School initiatives.

LOOKING FORWARD

As we build on this year's successes, we remain committed to fostering a philanthropic culture that will impact generations to come. Your continued support is vital in shaping a brighter future for Loreto Normanhurst and empowering our students to become compassionate, engaged global citizens.

Thank you for being an integral part of our journey. Together, we're crafting a legacy of generosity and positive change.

TRANSFORMING LIVES THROUGH EDUCATION: OUR VISION FOR LASTING SOCIAL IMPACT

OUR VISION:

At Loreto Normanhurst, we're committed to creating sustainable, innovative programs that deliver lasting social impact through education. We believe in breaking down barriers to education for young women, guided by our core values of equity, justice, and compassion.

WHY WE DO IT:

The impact of our programs extends far beyond individual success stories:

- Over 70 young women supported since 2000 through our Bursary Program
- Breaking intergenerational barriers in education for First Nations students
- Creating pathways to university and professional careers
- Supporting families through challenges including drought, bushfires, floods, and COVID-19 hardship
- Building community leaders and mentors who give back

HOW WE ACHIEVE IT:

1. The Bursary Program:

- Available to new day and boarding students (Year 7-11)
- Full and partial means-tested financial assistance
- Priority given to families aligned with Catholic values

2. The LN Indigenous Scholarship Program:

- Partnership with the Australian Indigenous Education Foundation (AIEF)
- Focus on cultural connections and identities
- A significant financial investment alongside AIEF

3. The Building Fund:

- Serves as the cornerstone of our school's development initiatives
- Provides essential financial support to implement each phase of our ambitious 30-year Master Plan
- Enables us to transform our campus vision into reality while maintaining the highest standards of educational excellence

LOOKING FORWARD:

Join us in securing our future as we face a $2.5M reduction in government funding through to 2029. This critical moment demands we transform our support from 'optional' to 'essential' through bold action. We invite you to partner with us by:

- Building sustainable funding streams for long-term independence
- Growing transformative donor partnerships
- Creating enduring educational legacies
- Expanding access across all communities

Through these initiatives, we continue to honour Mary Ward's vision while creating transformative educational opportunities for future generations of young women, regardless of their circumstances.

DADS MAKING A DIFFERENCE: THE LORETO SPORTSMEN'S LUNCH LEGACY

THE LORETO SPORTSMEN'S LUNCH HAS QUICKLY ESTABLISHED ITSELF AS A CORNERSTONE EVENT FOR FATHERS ACROSS THE LORETO NORMANHURST COMMUNITY, CREATING MEANINGFUL CONNECTIONS BETWEEN DADS AND THEIR DAUGHTER'S SCHOOL.

Now in its third year, the event brought together past Loreto dads, raising an impressive $118,475 through ticket sales, auctions, and raffles. This sum was included through matched funding from a very generous current family, a past and future family, and the Ex-Students' Association.

Led by Paul Timmins, who is a member of the Parent Association of Loreto, this event is an initiative that actively strengthens fathers' engagement with Loreto Normanhurst. "It's created a unique space where Loreto dads can connect while supporting the School's future," says Paul. This spirit of community has proven especially valuable in strengthening bonds between current and past fathers, welcoming new dads, and ensuring that all fathers are as continually involved in their daughter's education as they might be in their son's.

The event's success demonstrates what can be achieved when Loreto Normanhurst fathers come together with a shared purpose of supporting their daughter's education and the broader school community. The funds raised support for our Priority Programs: The new Boarding School development, and the Bursary and Indigenous Scholarship Programs.

Planning is now underway for the next Sportsmen's Lunch and we will promote the event to new fathers and the broader community in early 2025. For more information, please contact Lauren Kirkby, Head of Community Relations via events@loretonh.nsw.edu.au.

Katrina (Class of 1990) and Michael Rowan,
Emma Fessy (Class of 2014) and Ruby Wilson (Class of 2023)

EX-STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION: PARTICIPATION - NOW AND IN THE FUTURE

SINCE ITS ESTABLISHMENT IN 1912, THE LORETO NORMANHURST EX-STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION HAS BEEN DEEPLY CONNECTED TO THE SCHOOL AND THE LORETO SISTERS AND HAS SUPPORTED A VIBRANT ALUMNAE NETWORK.

The Ex-Students' Association (ESA) has played a vital role in fundraising and providing assistance, including the Sewing Circle, which was launched in 1929 and created garments for Sydney orphanages until 1970.

The ESA honours Loreto Normanhurst values through two awards: the Prix d'Honneur for the School Captain and the Pat Taylor Award for a Year 12 student, who exemplifies the Loreto Normanhurst Spirit. The Pat Taylor Award recognises involvement in multiple school areas, reliability, and consistent behind-the-scenes contributions. The ESA also provides a bursary to support a current student, demonstrating their commitment to educational opportunities within the Loreto Normanhurst community.

The ESA remains active in the school community annually hosting the Year 12 Ex-Students' Morning Tea and participating in events such as Normo Networking, Loreto Lunch and Lyrics, Open Day and the biennial Spring Fair. The ESA fosters a strong sense of giving back amongst alumnae. It encourages ex-students to volunteer their time through presentation and mentoring opportunities that benefit current students and the wider community.

Looking forward, the ESA is committed to being an inclusive and supportive force, adapting to societal changes while upholding its century-old values. It aims to harness the time, talents, and treasures of its members to build a compassionate, thriving community, including supporting and raising funds for the Bursary Program; supporting and providing pastoral care to ex-students in need; mentoring and supporting programmes for young ex-students; promoting and supporting social justice/service initiatives for ex-students to volunteer together in the name of the Association; and fostering year group connections amongst alumnae.

CONTRIBUTION TO THE 2024 UNITY CIRCLE CAMPAIGN

In 2024, the ESA made a significant financial contribution to the School's Annual Appeal, the Unity Circle Campaign. This included $75,000 in matched funding to support the Bursary Program, a testament to the Association's dedication to ensuring that deserving students can access a Loreto Normanhurst education. The ESA also provided matched funding to bursaries for significant donors, further demonstrating its commitment to the Bursary Program's lasting impact.

UNITY CIRCLE CAMPAIGN: BUILDING OUR FUTURE TOGETHER

WE ARE THRILLED TO REPORT THE SUCCESS OF OUR UNITY CIRCLE CAMPAIGN WHICH CONCLUDED ITS FIRST RELEASE ON 30 JUNE 2024.

Focused on supporting our new Boarding School, the campaign raised an impressive $615,049. This includes $388,500 from the purchase of 154 Unity Circles and $150,000 in matched funding from the Farrell Family Foundation and the Ex-Students' Association of Loreto Normanhurst for the Indigenous Scholarship Program and the Bursary Program. This remarkable achievement is a testament to our community's collective vision and commitment to the future of Loreto Normanhurst, and we should all take pride in the impact we've made.

The campaign was powered by broad community engagement, with strong participation from current families, particularly boarding families and consistent support from former families and alumnae. We were also pleased to welcome many first-time donors and to reconnect with lapsed pre-2023 donors. The popularity of bronze circles and significant contributions from gold circle purchases showcased the diverse ways our community chose to contribute, highlighting the unique and valuable role each member plays in our collective success.

We are excited to announce future releases of Unity Circles, aligned with key milestones in developing our new Boarding School. We encourage all community members to stay engaged and consider participating in these upcoming opportunities. Your continued support is crucial as we work together to shape the future of Loreto Normanhurst.

Our heartfelt thanks go to every individual, family, and organisation contributing to this campaign. Your generosity is laying a strong foundation for generations of students to come.

THE CURRAN FAMILY HISTORY AT LORETO NORMANHURST: A Q&A WITH CHARLES CURRAN AC

CAN YOU SHARE SOME OF YOUR FONDDEST MEMORIES OF YOUR FAMILY'S INVOLVEMENT WITH LORETO NORMANHURST OVER THE YEARS?

My earliest memory of Loreto Normanhurst involved me at the age of about eight attending a Mass with my sisters Annette and Louise in the Chapel which in those days was on the first level of the Boarding School. During the happy years that my sisters were students at Loreto Normanhurst, there were many occasions when I attended concerts, sporting and other school activities.

We as a family were very proud when in her final year, my sister Annette was named as Head Girl, and this formed the foundation of the strong friendship that she developed with many Loreto nuns in subsequent years. It also involved her membership of the Ex-Students' Committee and having organised card days over several decades where donations were gathered to support bursaries at Loreto Normanhurst.

The wonderful experience that Annette enjoyed at Loreto Normanhurst led to her daughters Catherine, Jane and Sarah being students at the school and later going on to achieve tertiary qualifications.

HOW DID YOUR MOTHER'S AND SISTER'S EXPERIENCES AT LORETO NORMANHURST INFLUENCE YOUR DECISION TO SEND YOUR DAUGHTERS THERE, AND WHAT SPECIFIC FACTORS MADE YOU CHOOSE THIS SCHOOL FOR THEIR EDUCATION?

My mother, with her sister, had been students at Loreto many years ago, and she always spoke fondly of her days at Loreto Normanhurst. She showed us photographs of the school property from those early days, including large paddock areas to the rear of the property. As a family, we were pleased that we could contribute towards the cost of construction of the Curran Theatre at Loreto Normanhurst to honour the memory of my mother, Elizabeth Blanche Curran. When my mother passed away in 1993, we were so grateful when the Sisters offered the new Chapel, which had been opened in 1953, for the holding of her funeral, underlining their understanding of my mother and my family's deep commitment to Loreto Normanhurst. The Sisters had decorated the Chapel with a wonderful display of pink roses.

My mother displayed during her life the wonderful qualities imparted from her education at Loreto Normanhurst and it was never in doubt as to where my sisters would be enrolled. Then I had the opportunity of observing the quality of the education and the values gained by my sisters from their time at Loreto Normanhurst.

Charles and Eva Curran

WHAT MOTIVATED YOU TO FUNDRAISE FOR THE SCHOOL DURING SISTER MARGARET ARMSTRONG'S TIME AS PRINCIPAL?

Dr Eddie Armstrong's daughter, Sister Margaret Armstrong IBVM, reached out to me. Our families were closely connected - her uncle John Armstrong, who'd been a Senator and Sydney's Lord Mayor, was married to my aunt Joan Curran.

When Sister Margaret asked for $25,000, I suggested developing a comprehensive master plan first. This revealed $500,000 in needed projects. I offered to lead the fundraising, and we kicked off with a dinner at Randwick Racecourse, where Sir Bede Callaghan, whose daughter was a Loreto nun, gave a rousing speech. We raised $518,000 - setting an Australasian record for girls' schools at the time.

LOOKING BACK AT YOUR FAMILY'S MULTI-GENERATIONAL RELATIONSHIP WITH LORETO NORMANHURST, WHAT CHANGES OR IMPROVEMENTS HAVE YOU OBSERVED OVER THE YEARS?

Accompanying an improvement in facilities at Loreto Normanhurst, there has been a continual focus on maintaining and improving educational standards. What has been unchanging has been the spirit of Mary Ward which continues to provide guidance to all that happens at Loreto Normanhurst.

I would add to that answer the important role being played at Loreto Normanhurst in providing wider opportunities for entry to the school. This has been assisted by the Bursary Program and also the program to provide education for members of our indigenous community, with some of that work being undertaken in association with the Australian Indigenous Education Foundation, where I am proud to be an Ambassador.

WHY DO YOU THINK PHILANTHROPY IN SUPPORTING GIRLS' EDUCATION IS MORE IMPORTANT NOW THAN EVER? WHAT SPECIFIC CHALLENGES OR OPPORTUNITIES DO YOU SEE THAT MAKE THIS SUPPORT CRUCIAL IN TODAY'S WORLD?

Undoubtedly, philanthropy supporting girls' education is more important now than ever because of changes in our community directed to ensuring equality of opportunity for young emerging women. In my year at Law School at Sydney University, there were three female students.

A wonderful example of high achievement in the corporate world is seen in the career of Catherine Livingstone AC, a good friend and a Loreto Normanhurst graduate. Catherine was CEO of Cochlear, Chair of Telstra, CSIRO, and later Commonwealth Bank. She was also President of Chief Executive Women and the Business Council of Australia and Chancellor of UTS.

This long-overdue widening of opportunity for women in our community over recent decades underlines the importance of the girls in our schools today receiving the very best possible education to equip them to take advantage of the many and varied career opportunities now open to them.

WHAT MESSAGE WOULD YOU LIKE TO SHARE WITH CURRENT LORETO NORMANHURST STUDENTS AND THEIR FAMILIES ABOUT THE IMPORTANCE OF GIVING BACK TO THEIR SCHOOL COMMUNITY?

Each generation contributes what they can to build upon the work of those before them, helping create opportunities for future young women at Loreto Normanhurst. Through this simple act of giving - big or small - we become part of something greater than ourselves. When we share what we're able to, in whatever way meaningful to us, we help ensure that the educational legacy of our School continues to touch more lives with each passing year.

CELEBRATING THE LIFE OF VALERIE LHUEDE: A LORETO ALUMNA'S LIFELONG COMMITMENT TO NATURE, CULTURE, AND GLOBAL EXPLORATION

VALERIE LHUEDE, FROM THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1940, EMBODIED THE SCHOOL'S VALUES OF COMPASSION, RESILIENCE, AND A LIFELONG LOVE OF LEARNING. HER EXTRAORDINARY LIFE SPANNED 101 YEARS, AND HER RECENT PASSING IN SEPTEMBER 2024 MARKS THE CELEBRATION OF A REMARKABLE CENTURY FILLED WITH ADVENTURE, DEDICATION, AND AN UNWAVERING SPIRIT.

Born in 1923, Valerie's education spanned multiple schools before her father enrolled her at Loreto Normanhurst in her teens. At Loreto, Valerie thrived as a weekly boarder, cherishing the structure and camaraderie of school life.

Valerie completed her Leaving Certificate at 16 and set her sights on studying architecture at the University of Sydney. However, when she realised that Mathematics was a requirement for matriculation, she made the decision to stay an extra year at Loreto. During this year, she focused on both Mathematics and Ancient History and, at 17, repeated her Leaving Certificate. Valerie went on to become one of the first women to study architecture in Australia.

Valerie's love for nature and the arts defined her life's work. One of her most significant contributions was her preservation work at Yerranderie, a ghost town in NSW that she transformed into an eco-tourist destination. Her custodianship of Yerranderie spanned nearly half of her life. She welcomed visitors to the refurbished miner's huts and post office, where she would guide tours and share captivating stories of the town's history. "It gave me great pleasure to weave a spell around my audience, to see the spark of curiosity in children and adults alike," Valerie once reflected.

Valerie's passion for Yerranderie was sparked by her father, Aubin René (Ren) Lhuede, who purchased the town in 1947 with dreams of revitalising its silver mines. Though the mining never resumed, Valerie's vision was different. She focused on restoring the town's historical buildings and ensuring it remained a living monument to Australia's past.

In 2011, at 89 years old, Valerie gifted the town of Yerranderie to the people of NSW, and today, it is managed by the National Parks and Wildlife Service as part of Yerranderie Regional Park. Her efforts in conservation were recognised with a Member of the Order of Australia (AM) in 2010, honouring her enduring legacy of environmental stewardship.

Valerie's adventurous spirit extended far beyond Yerranderie and her environmental work. A lifelong traveller, she explored the world, from kissing the Pope's ring and seeing the ceilings of the Sistine Chapel in Rome to exploring the lost city of Machu Picchu in Peru. Photography became a lifelong hobby that she turned into a career. Valerie's photography was published in renowned publications like The Reader's Digest and National Geographic.

Even in her later years, Valerie maintained a strong connection to Loreto. She often reflected on how her education at the school shaped her both intellectually and personally, fostering her lifelong curiosity and love for learning.

Valerie's legacy is one of service, exploration, and dedication to leaving a lasting, positive impact on the world. In everything she did, Valerie embodied the spirit of Loreto - leading with grace, resilience, and an unwavering commitment to the world around her. As we celebrate her remarkable life, we remember her contributions to our community and the profound impact she had on so many.

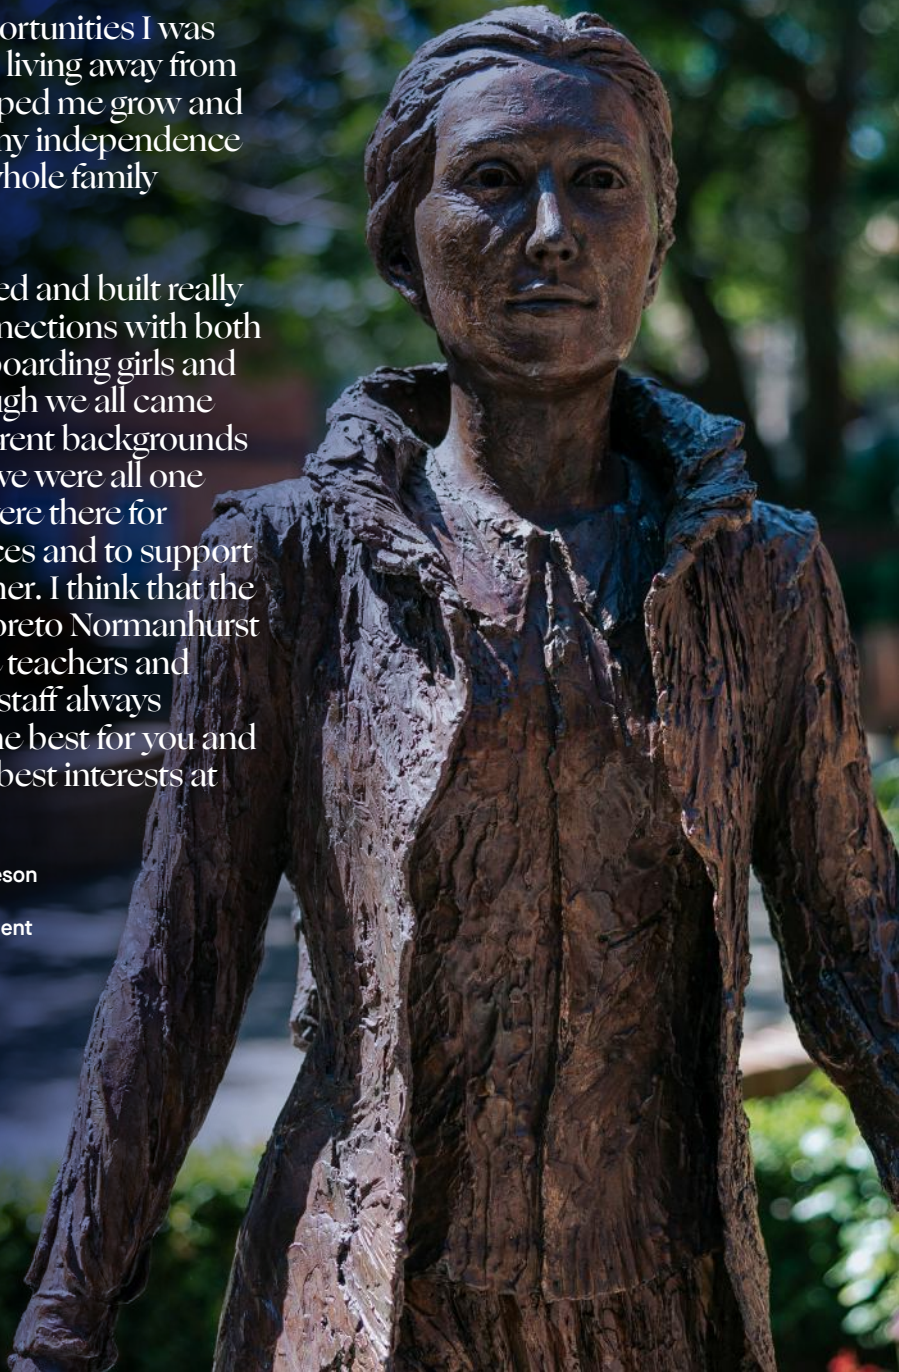

Valerie's great, great niece, Eloise is continuing the Loreto tradition as a boarder in 2025

The Impact of Giving

“The opportunities I was given and living away from home helped me grow and develop my independence and my whole family noticed.

I developed and built really deep connections with both day and boarding girls and even though we all came from different backgrounds I felt like we were all one and we were there for experiences and to support one another. I think that the core of Loreto Normanhurst is that the teachers and boarding staff always wanted the best for you and had your best interests at heart.”
