Highlights

To discover how the Falls were formed and what local customs and traditions surround them it is well worth booking a Wild Horizons tour of the Falls. Described by the Kololo tribe living in the area in the 1800's as 'Mosi-oa-Tunya' - 'the Smoke that Thunders' and in more modern terms as 'the greatest known curtain of falling water', the Victoria Falls are a spectacular sight of awe-inspiring beauty and grandeur on the Zambezi River, bordering Zambia and Zimbabwe. A path along the edge of the forest provides the visitor who is prepared to brave the tremendous spray with an unparalleled series of views of the Falls. One special vantage point is across the Knife edge bridge, where visitors can have the finest view of the Eastern Cataract and the Main Falls as well as the Boiling Pot where the river turns and heads down the Batoka Gorge. Other vantage points include the Falls bridge and the Lookout Tree which commands a panoramic view across the Main Falls.

Different times of the year will provide completely different experiences of the Falls region. Peak flood season is around March and April and the full power of the falls can be experienced in all its glory. As the floods abate the view of the falls gets better and better through the year, but at its lowest, around November and December the Falls become little rivulets running over the edge and in some places along the 1,7km width no water falls at all.

PLEASE NOTE: During this time, it is recommended guests book a tour of the falls on the Zimbabwean side.

The Mosi-oa-Tunya National Park is an UNESCO World Heritage site that is home to the mighty and spectacular Mosi-oa-Tunya — 'The Smoke Which Thunders' — known worldwide as Victoria Falls on the Zambezi River. The Mosi-oa-Tunya National Park stretches from the Songwe Gorge below the falls in a north-west arc along about 20 km of the Zambian riverbank. It forms the south-western boundary of the city of Livingstone and has two main sections: a wildlife park at its north-western end, and the land adjacent to the immense and awe-inspiring Victoria Falls, which in the rainy season is the world's largest curtain of falling water. It extends downstream from the falls and to the south-east along the Batoka Gorges. The Mosi-oa-Tunya National Park boasts five White Rhino, Elephant, Buffalo, Giraffe, Zebra, and various Antelope. Although small by African standards (1600Ha), this increases the chance of seeing game. Clients are also shown some historic sites such as the Old Drift where the original white settlers lived before 1904.

Although we do not operate this activity ourselves, we are happy to assist with reservations on your behalf. Child Policies are available upon request.
