Dream Home Seeks Occupant

This lookbook highlights the custom home ideas by Jeff Vioski, featuring designs that are both unique and timeless. These homes are ideal for developers and investors who focus on quality craftsmanship and appreciate the blend of residential architecture, art, gardens and well-designed interior and exterior spaces. It's for design enthusiasts, those who love hosting and entertaining, creating unforgettable experiences for family and friends through exceptional gatherings. A well-designed home is a space to enjoy life and create lasting memories.

VIOSKI HOMES

Jeff began his career in architecture and urban planning, specializing in residential design. After several years in the field, he shifted to furniture design, though his passion for residential architecture remained. When creating his furniture, he often imagined the homes around each piece. Over time, this led to sketches and concepts that eventually formed the distinct VIOSKI style in residential design.

These courtyard homes draw inspiration from a timeless yet contemporary feel. As you move through the space, the design elements that create a sense of journey and discovery are carefully placed, making every corner of the home, inside

My villas celebrate the inside/outside lifestyle by incorporating courtyards and gardens that interweave with the house, creating a harmonious blend of architecture and nature. Every exterior detail is as thoughtfully crafted as the interior, ensuring a cohesive and beautiful design throughout. High-quality materials are used that last and create spaces that look stunning and feel luxurious, but are never ostentatious.

VIOSKI HOMES

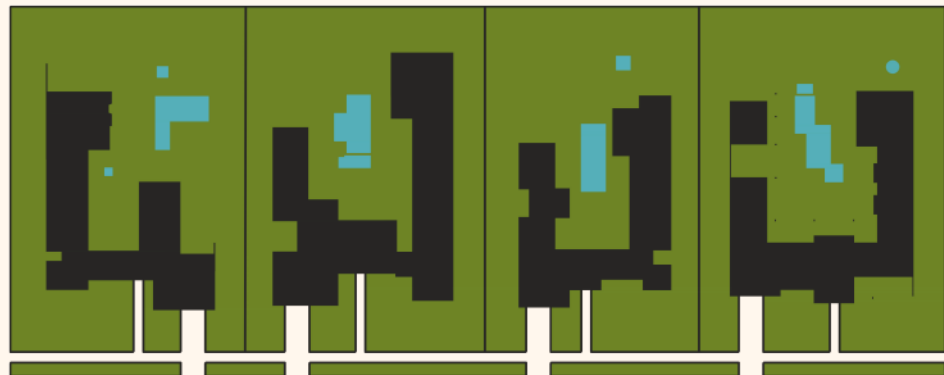

With a master's in Architecture and Urban Planning, I naturally envision these homes within an enclave or neighborhood. Whether it's a small cluster of four or a larger ranch development on 3-5 acres, organizing Vioski Homes into a cohesive, stunning community is my passion. If you're a developer or investor interested in this vision, contact Vioski, and let's collaborate to create something extraordinary.

Vioski Homes are designed to the site and the client's needs. These homes are meant to support the client's lifestyle in a beautifully designed environment. From smaller urban lot sizes to larger sites, we will work with you to create a place to fall in love with.
