

CROSSREACH SUNDAY

Let light shine out of darkness

16th Nov
2025

Caring for people in their communities has been at the heart of the Church of Scotland for over 150 years.

Today, CrossReach plays its part in continuing that tradition by offering loving care to those who find themselves in circumstances where they require support. As one of the largest and most diverse not-for-profit providers of social care in Scotland, we are deeply rooted in communities, empowering people of all ages to live life to the full. The services, delivered by specialist teams in Children and Families, Adult Care and Older People Services fill a vital role between the private and statutory sector, offering a person-centred approach. They have changed over time but as much needed today as they ever have been.

In one way or another, many of the people who come to CrossReach for help and support have found themselves in a dark or difficult place, physically, emotionally or mentally. CrossReach works to help bring light into each of these situations.

On CrossReach Sunday, the church across Scotland takes time to celebrate and support this work. We have created a number of resources to help you mark CrossReach Sunday in whatever way works best for you.
