PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Lindsay Reynolds
Owner - For the Durations Homes
2026 TPBA President

Welcome to the 2026 Texas Panhandle Builders Association 71st Annual Parade of Homes™

Welcome to the 71st Annual Parade of Homes™ and a truly special year for the Texas Panhandle Builders Association as we celebrate our 80th anniversary.

It is such an honor to serve as President during a year that reflects so much of what makes our industry and our community so special — craftsmanship, innovation, resilience, and the people behind it all.

For 80 years, TPBA has represented the builders, remodelers, trade partners, and industry professionals who help shape the places we call home across the Texas Panhandle. And for 71 years, the Parade of Homes™ has given our community the opportunity to experience that work firsthand.

At its core, TPBA exists to support the building industry and help strengthen the communities we serve. That means championing the people and businesses who make housing possible, supporting excellence across our industry, and continuing the important work of advocating for quality, attainable housing throughout the Texas Panhandle.

This year's Parade showcases the incredible talent and dedication of our local building industry — from thoughtful design and quality craftsmanship to fresh ideas and homes built for real life. Whether you are dreaming about building, remodeling, gathering inspiration, or simply enjoying the tour, I hope this event gives you a deeper appreciation for the people and businesses helping shape the future of housing in our region.

Thank you to our builders, sponsors, developers, trade partners, volunteers, and TPBA members who make this event possible. The Parade of Homes™ is more than a home tour — it is a celebration of local excellence, collaboration, and the future of housing in the Texas Panhandle.

On behalf of the Texas Panhandle Builders Association, thank you for being part of this tradition. We are proud to celebrate this milestone year with you and hope you enjoy every stop along the way.

ABOUT THE BUILDER

Betenbough Homes was founded in 1992 when father and son, Ron and Rick Betenbough, teamed up to deliver quality homes in Lubbock at the most affordable price with first-time home buyers in mind.

Their cost-plus approach to construction allowed the duo to source materials at the most competitive rate and pass those savings along to the buyers when pricing each home. The pair built 11 homes in that inaugural year, launching a business built on providing an unparalleled home-buying experience.

Ron and Rick both agreed that they wanted to honor God through their business, and it's through that desire that they've seen the company expand in ways they could have never imagined.

Homes™

This year, the Texas Panhandle Builders Association proudly celebrates 71 years of the Parade of Homes in the Texas Panhandle—seven decades of showcasing quality craftsmanship, innovative design and the builders who make it happen.

PHOTOS BY LINDSAY GOMEZ, 41 PRODUCTIONS

“The Parade continues to be one of the largest housing events in our area,” says Mirna Fewell of the MGroup real estate brokerage and co-chair of this year’s Parade of Homes. She is also a past president of the Texas Panhandle Builders Association, which is celebrating its 80th year in 2026. “It brings together builders, industry professionals and thousands of attendees each year, and it continues to reflect the strength of our local housing market and the level of craftsmanship we have here in the Panhandle.”

For seven decades, the Parade has served as a showcase for quality craftsmanship, innovative design and the talented builders who shape the homes and neighborhoods of the Texas Panhandle. This year’s event is set to continue that legacy with an exciting lineup of featured properties open to the public across two consecutive weekends.

“You can expect beautiful luxury homes that really showcase the level of craftsmanship we have here in the Panhandle,” Fewell adds. “These homes highlight thoughtful design and the details that set all builds apart.”

Those details change year to year, and that’s one thing local people love about the Parade, whether they’re in the market for a new home or just hoping to see which designs are trending. “We are definitely seeing warmer earthy tones and richer colors. And more color in general,” says Parade of Homes co-chair Chance Beasley of Cornerstone Fine Homes. “A lot of inspiration includes ‘color drenching,’ which is painting everything in the room the same color,” he says. Color drenching includes painting trim, cabinets, walls and even ceilings the same color.

The simple, bold trend creates an immersive look that can make small rooms feel even cozier. “When combined with warm woods, it looks amazing,” Beasley adds.

Attendees who register their tickets this year can enter to win impressive prizes. The Gold Prize, valued at $7,500, includes shopping sprees with Casey Carpet One and Marble Depot, Inc. The Silver Prize offers a $3,000 shopping spree with ProLift Garage Doors of Amarillo, and the Bronze Prize is a $1,000 shopping spree with Sound By Design.

To qualify for the Gold and Silver prizes, visitors must check in at all Parade homes. The Bronze Prize requires a check-in at just one.

Meanwhile, this year’s Parade will also give back to the community. “This year we’re partnering with a local nonprofit,” says Beatriz Kimball, TPBA Director of Operations. The organization will officially announce that partner soon. “We’re excited about the opportunity to raise funds and give back through the Parade,” she says.

21 PROPERTIES AND GROWING!

Scant to see the full list

80 Years of the Texas Panhandle Builders Association

Representing 26 Panhandle counties, the Texas Panhandle Builders Association connects builders, trade partners and related professionals to strengthen local standards while supporting smart growth in the region. Among its goals is keeping the housing market moving in the right direction.

“TPBA brings the building industry together across the Texas Panhandle,” Fewell says. “We advocate for housing at the local and state level because housing affects jobs, growth and the overall health of our communities.”

The organization was founded on May 15, 1946. At that time, Joseph Meyerhoff was the President of the National Association of Home Builders. The first Texas Association of Builders’ president was Frank Buchek.

In Amarillo, K.S. Reynolds served as the first president of the new TPBA, leading an exceedingly small number of local builders and tradesmen. In comparison, today the Texas Panhandle Builder Association represents more than 300 members from all sectors of the building industry across the 26 counties of the Panhandle.

TEXAS PANHANDLE
BUILDERS ASSOCIATION

That roster includes builders, remodelers, realtors, lenders, suppliers and other associated trades and businesses that support the housing industry. Membership gives access to multiple levels of support, along with networking, advocacy and other business resources.

“Practically speaking, members gain access to industry programs and tools,” Fewell says. These include safety resources, rebate-style programs, contracts through the nonprofit Texas Association of Builders, along with broader benefits from the National Association of Home Builders trade association. “Plus, consistent networking through events that keep relationships strong across the building ecosystem,” she adds.

Members are also eager to get involved in the community, awarding several scholarships annually to local students. “We volunteer with Habitat for Humanity and support other local efforts throughout the year,” Kimball says. “Giving back is important to us, and we love to make it part of what we do.”

Canyon, TX 79015

SPECIAL FEATURES

- This 3,635-sqft custom residence exemplifies the quality and attention to detail that define a Wolfcreek home.
- Constructed with Insulated Concrete Forms (ICF), the home offers exceptional durability and energy efficiency while providing superior protection from West Texas winds, storms, tornadoes, and wildfires. The solid construction also reduces outside noise and dust, creating a quieter, more comfortable living environment.
- Inside, thoughtful design meets refined luxury. Rift-sawn white oak cabinetry and trim introduce warmth and natural beauty throughout the home, while European tilt-and-turn windows and doors provide both sophistication and performance. The main living area features striking exposed truss beams that create an inviting architectural focal point, and the primary suite showcases a beautifully detailed coffered ceiling illuminated with soft accent lighting. The chef's kitchen is outfitted with professional-grade Wolf appliances and custom finishes that elevate both form and function.
- A repurposed silo has been transformed into a one-of-a-kind game-day retreat, while the outdoor living area offers a private oasis complete with a swimming pool.
- This home reflects the hallmark of Wolfcreek Builders—combining structural integrity, thoughtful design, and exceptional craftsmanship to create homes that are as enduring as they are beautiful.

DIRECTIONS

Take Washington South until you get to Hwy 217. (The highway to Palo Duro Canyon). Turn left, go approximately 2 miles. House off of the hwy on left side of road.
