01 Managing Director's Column

As we step into another quarter after our 29th Anniversary, I reflect on incredible journey of MOL Maritime (India) Pvt. Ltd and dedication that each one of you brings to our shared mission.

We have consistently upheld the highest standard of safety, operational excellence, and professional integrity. But what truly defines us is our people – our team ashore and our seafarers at sea – who ensure that MOL fleet remains a benchmark of quality worldwide.

As we look ahead, the maritime industry is navigating a period of transformation. Technological advancements, environmental regulations and evolving global trade pattern demands that we adapt and innovate. At MOLMI, we remain committed to embracing change, enhancing our training programs and preparing our seafarers for challenges and opportunities of future.

During 1st quarter of 2025, MOL Safety conference and Ship Manager seminar was held at Mumbai and attended by President Takeshi Hashimoto, Executive Vice President Hirofumi Kuwata, many MOL group dignitaries and seafarers.

MOLMI took delivery of 2 no. IGF PCC vessels (First of its kind within MOLMI fleet) , taken over 1 no. VLGC in our Indian flag vessel cluster, Installed 1st full mission Kongsberg LNG simulator (First in India), moved together in new office premises with other sister companies as co-work office culture at Chennai, growing significantly in Ship Inspection activities- which strengthens safety standards of MOL vessels.

Today MOLMI has shore team with 26% female team members and with support of MOL, we have 2 female seafarers on board and many female cadets are selected for future placement- a step for diversity. Our ability to evolve will determine our continued success in a rapidly changing world.

With every passing quarter, we must reinforce our core values. Please mentor, guide, train to strengthen company culture. I encourage all of you to actively contribute to this magazine, share your insights and engage with the wealth of knowledge that exists within our organization. Together, we will continue to make MOLMI not just a workplace, but a thriving community of maritime professionals.

Fair wind and following seas!

Mr. Satish Kumar Singh
Managing Director

07 Seafarer Talks

An interview with COFF Glenn Bruno Anthony Dsilva, who received the MOL Loyalty Award for being a Seafarer in MOL for more than 10 years. Here are his views and answers to a couple of questions put to him:

Q. How did you get to choosing this profession?

A. I come from a family where my cousins and uncle are Seafarers. My cousin was the one who supported me by helping with the decisions and guiding towards this profession.

Q. Did you reach where you envisioned yourself back when you were starting off on this journey?

A. Yes, I would say I am lucky enough that everything fell in place at the right time for me. With my family's support and thanks to MOL, I am where I would like to be.

Q. Were your family okay with you being away for long?

A. I had already made up my mind and my family built up theirs as well for this is what life was going to be like. They were happy.

Q. It is said that the sea keeps calling you back. Is it true?

A. It actually differs from person to person. The views are different, there's a new sunrise and sunset we get to see everyday but no it is not a monotonous life for me.

Q. What got you to MOL?

A. I got to be part of MOL through placements. I knew about MOL because it was one of the biggest recruiters for cadets back then.

Q. How was the journey of starting as a Cadet and reaching to the position of a Chief Officer?

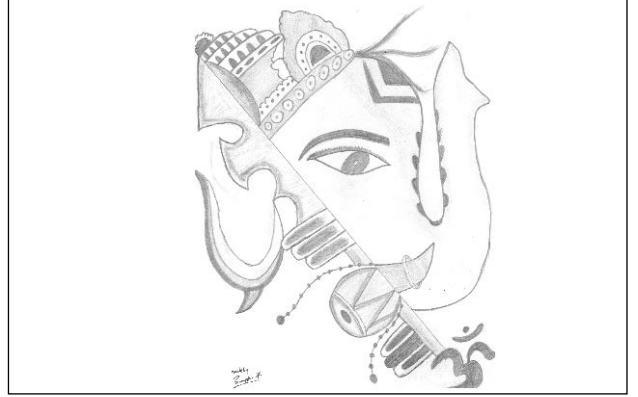

A. Starting off back then I had a few junior Indian Officers and the seniors were all Croatians. As it was a multinational Filipino crew, it was a good learning experience. I got to understand where Indians were in the market and how we need to expand, grow and gain knowledge. Then when I joined back in 2014 as a 3rd Mate, I had seniors as Indians but the top four were Croatians. Eventually by 2016-17, it became all Indians so now I am sailing with Indian Masters running the ship. So I hope in the future we can gain the knowledge and know that we can do it!

Q. Any incidents that comes to your mind when thinking of your time at sea?

A. Being at a management post, we get crew not being able to sign off in time. We have that manpower to do work but as a manager we need to understand that a person who came for 9 months but being stuck for 12 months or so because of some document issues, it comes to how we can manage the situation. These are some challenges we face at sea, how we give the person hope but at the same time make sure that the work doesn't halt because of it. There is no holiday, everyday is a Monday. The Ship will roll, we need to get up and do the assigned work. Happy times come when say, there are Port operations. We have a small get together with buffet, talk about the pros and the cons, all that has happened and how to be better.

Q. If you were to give your younger self some words of wisdom, what would it be?

A. Just stick to your plan, if you have a dream of becoming a senior at a younger age then keep yourself updated, give your exams on time. Clear all basic requirements that are needed to achieve that future goal. Only then can you aim and reach where you want. I could have become what I am at an earlier age but I won't complain because the time I spent at home, I made good memories with my family. If you aim for something you truly desire then go for it fully, don't do it half-heartedly for you may be stuck with it.

Training Diaries 10

Inauguration of K-SIM by Capt. Animesh Hore, GM GMRMO.

Delegates at MOL Office during the inauguration of K-SIM.

On February 12, 2025, MOLMI inaugurated the K-SIM, a cutting-edge simulation system by Kongsberg, to support the expanding MOL LNG fleet. This LNG Full Mission Cargo Simulator is the first of its kind in India, complemented by the installation of six LNG steam ship desktop simulators.

Capt. Animesh Hore, GM of GMRMO, expressed great satisfaction and confidence that this training tool will further the professional development of MOLMI seafarers and enhance safety to achieve the MOL 4 zeros.

Kongsberg's simulation models meet STCW requirements and each K-Sim Cargo model has achieved DNV Standard of Compliance as a Class A simulator, adhering to the latest DNV Standards. Their modular software configuration uses true physical and gas laws, providing realistic simulations. Kongsberg's project execution processes include regular status reporting, design checkpoints, acceptance testing procedures, comprehensive system training, and a long-term service and support program.

With over 40 years of experience and numerous installations worldwide, Kongsberg remains a leader in maritime simulators. MOLMI is a DNV-approved Maritime Training Provider (MT ST029) and conducts multiple DNV ST008 accredited courses.

11 New Year Celebration

A New Year's Party was organized by MOLMI Mumbai at the Kohinoor Hotel on December 31, 2024. Mr. Satish Singh, our Managing Director, began by providing an overview of MOLMI's accomplishments throughout the course of the year and outlining the organization's objectives for the next one.

After the speech, we celebrated the birthdays of those who were born in December with a cake cutting ceremony. This was followed by a toast to the new year and a cake cutting ceremony for the new year.

After finishing, we began the festivities with a number of games, such as heads, shoulders, knees, and toes, in which players had to pick the cup as the song stopped and follow the song's instructions! The following game was balls in the cup, where each ball had to be caught in the cup while flipping it through. This was followed by a game of picking up the props based on the songs that were played, and some of the winners even sang the songs.

With musical chairs, we wrapped up the activities with a lot of fun, laughter, and smiles. The crowd then moved to the front stage, where they enthusiastically danced as the DJ played. We wished everyone a very happy new year and concluded the sweet note with a delicious lunch set up by MOLMI management!

MOLMI Chennai, Delhi and Kolkata had a new year's celebrations at their decided venues as well.

16 Medifacts

As temperatures are soaring, maintaining proper hydration is necessary for overall health and well-being. In hot conditions, our bodies lose water and essential electrolytes through increased sweating, making it extremely necessary to replenish these fluids to prevent dehydration and heat-related illnesses.

Why Hydration is Essential in Hot Weather

1. Regulating Body Temperature: Water plays a pivotal role in regulating body temperature. Sweating helps cool the body, but excessive fluid loss can impair this mechanism.
2. Supporting Physical Performance: Dehydration can lead to decreased endurance, muscle cramps, and fatigue. Maintaining adequate hydration supports optimal physical performance.
3. Maintaining Cognitive Function: Staying hydrated helps keep the mind sharp and focused whether it's at work or at home.
4. Preventing Heat-Related Illnesses: Proper hydration helps prevent heat-related illnesses like heat exhaustion and heatstroke.

Recognizing Signs of Dehydration

Be vigilant for symptoms of dehydration, which can include dry mouth, fatigue, dizziness, rapid heartbeat and muscle cramps. Severe dehydration may lead to confusion, fainting, and organ failure.

Strategies for Staying Hydrated

- Increase Fluid Intake: Aim to drink at least 2–3 litres (approximately 8 cups) of fluids daily.
- Consume Electrolyte-Rich Beverages: In addition to water, drinks containing electrolytes, such as coconut water, milk, and sports drinks, can help replenish minerals lost through sweating.
- Infuse Water with Flavour: Instead of plain water, try sprucing it up by adding some simple ingredients like lime, lemons, mint, orange slices, cucumber slices, and other fruits.
- Eat Water-Rich Foods: Incorporate foods with high water content into your diet, such as watermelon, cucumbers and oranges, to aid in hydration.
- Consider a probiotic: Both good and bad bacteria live in our bodies. Foods like yogurt have living probiotics in them that help improve the immune system.

Do's:

Drink plenty of water

Drink Electrolyte rich beverages

Eat hydrating foods

Hydrate before, during and after exercise

Use sun protection

DON'T's:

Don't rely only on caffeinated drinks

Don't drink alcohol in hot weather

Don't wait until you're thirsty

Don't ignore early signs of dehydration

Don't overhydrate

Here is a quick and easy Cucumber-Mint Hydration Drink recipe that's refreshing, hydrating, and perfect for the hot weather:

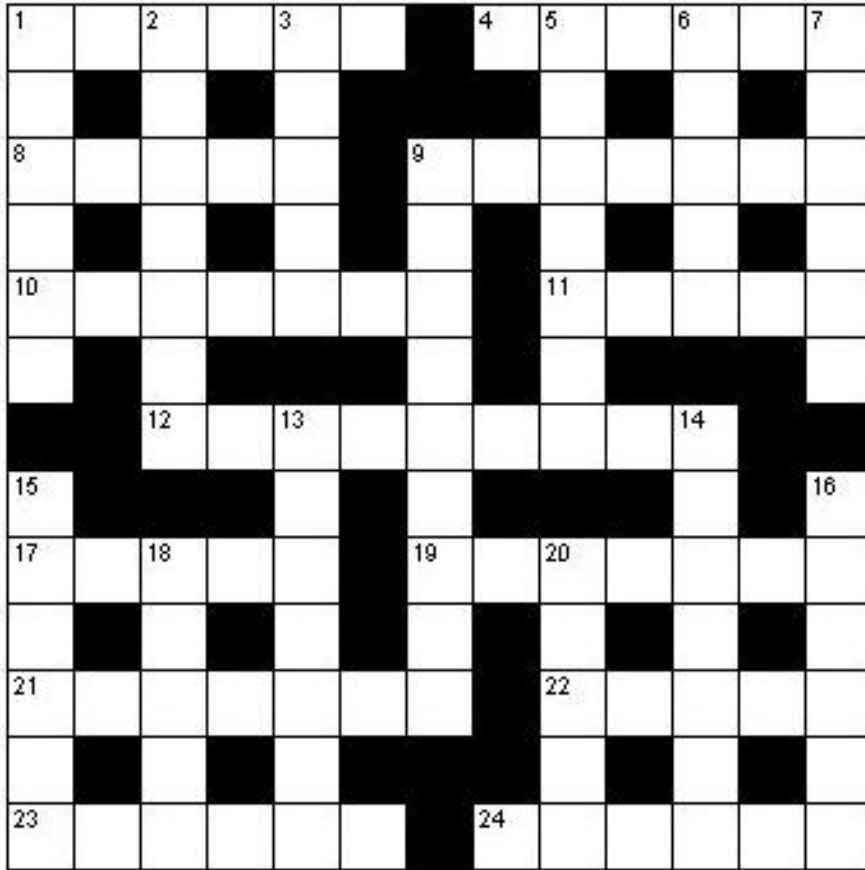

Ingredients:

- 1 medium cucumber (sliced)
- 1–2 sprigs fresh mint leaves
- 1–2 tablespoons honey (optional, for sweetness)
- 4 cups cold water
- 1–2 tablespoons lemon juice (optional)
- Ice cubes (optional)

Slice the cucumber into thin rounds. You can also lightly crush the mint leaves to release more flavour. In a large pitcher, add the cucumber slices and mint leaves. If you're using lemon juice or honey, add them as well. Pour in cold water and stir. Refrigerate for at least 30 minutes to allow the flavours to infuse. You can add ice cubes to the drink before serving. Pour into glass, garnish with a few mint leaves and enjoy!
