INSPIRE

Dear Parent, Carer and Student,
Thank you for your interest in Peripatetic Music Lessons at The Cottesloe School. We are delighted to share with you the musical opportunities that are available to all of our students, which are taught by specialist instrumental teachers.

The Government recognises the many transferable skills that learning an instrument instils, as it engages every aspect of the brain all at once. Benefits range from developing spatial intelligence, improved memory, achieving better grades and enhancing social and cultural interests.

If you wish to take up or continue lessons in an instrument, please contact the relevant teacher directly, or, if you have any questions please contact a member of the Performing Arts Team.

We hope your son/daughter will enjoy the opportunity to learn an instrument and join one of our many extracurricular ensembles.

Miss Mayhew
Head of Performing Arts

Mrs Pinto
Head of Music

Please note:

Fees are paid directly to the peripatetic music teacher. If your child wishes to terminate their lessons, you are required to give half a term's notice to the teacher in writing. You are expected to pay the cost of the lessons until the notice period expires.

Prices are correct at time of publishing, there may be subject to change

Singing

Emma Brown

Qualifications and teaching experience:

I have a degree in Music, and a Licentiate to the London College of Music and Media. I have over 15 years of vocal coaching experience, and a vast experience of training children to get into Theatre schools such as Guildford school of acting and Mountview.

Ruby "My favourite piece so far has been 'Let it Go!' I can't wait to do exams next year!"

Repertoire and exam opportunities:
I believe that all students should learn every style. So we do a lot of Pop and Musical Theatre, but I also like to sneak in a bit of Classical here and there to make sure that their technique is well rounded. I enter students for LAMDA (London Academy of Music and Dramatic Arts) exams. These are recognised by UCAS, and wherever possible my aim is to get the older students (Years 11, 12 and 13) through the higher grades (6,7 and 8) so that the points can be used for University applications.

Prices for lessons:

£87.50 per half term for private lessons, £45 per half term for group lessons. Please note: exams cannot be offered in group lessons.

Drums

Liam Burgoyne

Qualifications and teaching experience:

I have grade 8 in drum kit from Trinity College London and Rockschool and grade 2 in music theory from ABRSM. My freelance work, playing in many styles from hard rock to big band jazz continues to challenge and inform my approach to passing on effective and fun guidance.

I have been teaching for over 5 years at John Drum School as well as privately, teaching at levels from complete beginner to post grade 8 at age groups from 5 to 40 plus. My teaching focuses on developing a student's approach as much as their ability, practicing patience, presence, focus and diligence wherever possible.

Repertoire and exam opportunities:

Repertoire can be tailored to a student's developmental needs and aims, or to facilitate growth in between the grades. I keep updated on developments in Rockschool and Trinity College London syllabuses as these are the most popular, but any board of choice can be worked with

Louis "Try the drums! I know you will love it!"

Prices for lessons:

£11 for a 20 minute individual lesson (there are a minimum of 10 lessons per term).
