54 Shades of Africa

From the runway to the streets, 54 Shades of Africa is coming to you!

African-inspired designs are taking over, much in the way that African influences have been seeping into popular culture for years. These designers are paying homage to their roots and embracing their history.

Just see how fashion from Africa is transforming the fashion industry.

"The importance of African Fashion Night to me is that it brings the community together, and showcases our great talents,"

HANIMANNS

HANIMANNS is a fashion agency that represents carefully curated designers from Africa. WE TRANSLATE CULTURE - FASHION IS OUR LANGUAGE

It is a platform that offers opportunities to established and emerging designers to elevate their brands to new levels of exposure, allowing them to be discovered and reach new markets via buyers, press and key industry insiders.

HANIMANNS is the intermediary between the manufacturers (brands) and our discerning customers in the premium segment. Today fashion is no longer about having a sense for trends, but about knowing the origins of products and telling their true story.

It started as a one-woman show and quickly developed into a network of helping hands that are connected through the love of fashion and culture.

DESIGNERS

The heart of African Fashion Night is the great and vibrant fashion show.

International as well as local designers of the fashion scene show their Spring/Summer 2022 collection. Inspired by traditional symbols and techniques, the designers amaze with their subtle and incredibly creative approach to modern fashion.

The visitors are treated to a fantastic fashion show, where the beautiful models demonstrate the glamorous fashions.

On the next pages you will find all informations about the designers of AFN Spring 2022.

cassare

African Concept Store

Bola & Felix, Founders of Cassare have been together since 1974 and have 3 adult children and meanwhile 2 grandchildren. Their African concept store in Zurich Geroldsgarten, which bears the same name "Cassare", opened in 2017.

Cassare has become one of the first places to go in Zurich and in Switzerland for African fashion and lifestyle products. Their heart beats for the second and third generation of the African Diaspora, especially in fashion. They want the young African generation to be proud of their heritage and represent their African roots with style.

LARRY JAY

Larry Jay is a unisex Ghanaian brand of ethical fashion clothes and accessories founded by Larry Jafaru Mohammed.

The brand started as a fashion accessories line in 2012 with a rebirth and introduction of fashion clothes in 2016 and officially debuted its first spring summer collection in 2017. The brand is generally inspired by Nature, Various African Culture and Arts.

It is also influenced strongly by fashion from the 70's and that makes its design aesthetic Timeless and Unusual. The brand's dream is becoming a full sustainable fashion house that is responsible for its environment.

It is also in its interest to be an empowerment brand, one that will give back to community in its own little way.

Pepper Row is a Nigerian label whose designer Omafume Niemogha honors and celebrates the arts and craftsmanship of Africa in his luxe collection of contemporary sportswear. His pieces merge Africa's rich heritage with modern influences.

Colorful, playful, and sophisticated, the collection features cultural references such as the use of aso oke, a woven cloth traditionally used for tribal ceremonies and celebrations.

To produce its garments Pepper Row collaborates with local artisans. They are responsible for hand weaving and dyeing textiles as well as wood carving and hand painting accessories.

The label trains and empowers these artisans to ensure the application of fair trade practices and sustainable production methods.

SIKO

REPUBLIK

SIKO REPUBLIK is about living a balanced lifestyle, looking good while still staying true to your culture. A South African brand that offers a new kind of athleisure wear, and is made by locals from Kwa-Zulu Natal and Johannesburg.

The brand combines the modern with the traditional and can be worn both in the gym and as streetwear. A unique, sophisticated range with a lot of African vibrancy.

The Athleisure collection is designed for curvy women and is specifically for voluminous figures. The collections celebrate the diversity of our continent.

We are a product of our ancestors and their prayers, their aspirations, a product of a future they dared to dream.

The crown. Powerful and noble. And from every piece sold, 20% of the profit goes to Africa to my mother's orphanage. In my work, it is especially important to me that my collection stands out from the usual streetwear through very powerful and simple designs.

Quality plays an important role for me. One should feel comfortable. I can also only sell what I also stand behind 100%. Authentic and honest.

And that's exactly the attitude towards life I want to convey. If you want it, you can be a king or a queen. For a moment. For a whole day. For a whole life.

Always remember that you are absolutely unique.
Just like everyone else. Wear different, stay different!

MAHONEY
CREATION

EMMANUEL KULI ADJEI (aka Mahoney) was born in Accra, Ghana, in 1955, the eldest son of a chief, and was exposed to royal African fabrics and traditional royal clothing and fashion from an early age. This was the foundation for his love of what he does best: Designing fashion.

In 2021 he teamed up with AFN and within a few months he had his collection ready. As part of AFN's Talent Endorsement program, "Mahoney Creation" was launched in Spring 2021 in collaboration with African Fashion Night and presented his first collection in September 2021 at the AFN.

Sadly, in January 2022 EMMANUEL KULI ADJEI passed away.

We will always remember, and never forget you Chale.

You can read his full story and buy his last unique fashion pieces on our page.

Biola's Bookshop presents a small and fine selection of multicultural, diverse and inclusive children's books.

Books are a fun way to introduce children to diverse concepts at an early age and provide a great conversation starter for parents to talk to their children about differences, privilege, respect, empathy and inclusion.

Whether you're looking for stories that a child can easily identify with or ones that encourage them to empathize with others, we've rounded up some children's books that feature characters of different ethnicities, gender identities, and religions.

Diversity rocks! Inclusion matters!
Enjoy reading!

Gebeta offers authentic "Afro Cuisine" from Ethiopia.

Their injera is prepared with the dwarf millet (teff) that grows only in her region.

Everything is always prepared fresh and with a lot of heart. The fact that the basis of the cuisine is vegan and gluten-free is due to cultural tradition. It is simple and honest food that with the variety and intensity in taste, brings a smile to everyone's face.

We spoil you with a good sip of coffee from Western Uganda. From the tree directly into the cup, so to speak.

Coffee enjoyment with a clear conscience begins with the fair cultivation conditions under which the coffee is produced in the country of origin. Our appreciation for the small farmers and their work forms an important basis for the partnership-based trade relationship.

With every cup of ISULE coffee, you improve the living conditions of smallholder farmers and their families.

Ikama is born with the main goal to value African arts and crafts, and thus allow a large public to make a virtual journey in this wonderful artistic environment: Africa.

African artisans, for the most part, have difficulties to live decently with their art because their work is often unknown and their precarious living conditions don't always allow to develop their talent on a larger scale.

We hope through this project to more highlight them and help to evolve their exceptional talents, allowing them to live more decently. You will discover works from various countries.

We are also committed to developing a fair trade partnership with our various artisans by buying our products at rates that respect their work.

SENNA AFRICAN JEWELRY

Cynthia is a proud South African and has lived in Switzerland since 1993.

She has always been a bit homesick, so three years ago she started selling African jewelry to bring a little color to Switzerland. As a woman, she naturally loves fashion and jewelry. The jewelry she sells represents South African culture.

Whoever wears it makes a statement - it is elegant, attracts the eye and makes the wearer feel good, makes her happy. Since this year, she has been working with Linda Hirsch's Rainbow Colours Atelier.

Hello, my name is Masturah (Massie), I am a sustainable fashion designer from Uganda that has been specialising in upcycling.

As a designer, my goal is to solve problems through design, seeing as I come from Uganda and there is a big problem of textile waste that is caused by fast fashion in the fast world.

I realised that it was my duty to sensitise both the people in Switzerland and in Uganda the dangers of fast fashion. Through my blogs and upcycling projects on social media platforms, I have been able to reach a significant number of people that have become more aware of the problems of fast fashion on both ends.

With this, I empower African designers to create handmade African inspired fashion pieces to reduce the inequality gap created by consumption of fast fashion which is at the detriment of African creative markets. With this, I sell awesome long lasting, handmade meaningful creations and designs.

WaxUp Africa was born in Switzerland from the meeting between two passionate entrepreneurs and is first and foremost a vision: that of highlighting the abundant wealth of Africa.

"Indeed, we are firmly committed to working exclusively with fabric made in Africa. Our objective is to give strength to the craft industry as well as to the African textile industry and its local economic activity, so that the financial benefits of these fabrics are not usurped by unfair competition and by the marketing of Wax, 95% of which is counterfeit. Our action thus allows access to an authentic and quality fabric, in a conscious spirit, on the underside of the Wax phenomenon!

Our fabrics are all authentic, traceable and qualitative. They are 100% cotton and certified made in Africa. Each fabric is carefully selected by our team and our collections are composed of creations made by our partner artisans in Ghana, Ivory Coast and Switzerland."

Senegalese women sew yëre children's clothes yëre pursues the goal of supporting seamstresses in Senegal. The women are well educated and find it difficult to find a job after finishing their education. yëre secures jobs in sewing workshops with orders.

Young women today increasingly value a good education and training. The ICCM Institut de coupe, couture et mode in Dakar trains women in fashion design and dress making. yëre children's dresses in sizes from 6 months to 6 years are designed and sewn by women who have completed school. They are colorful children's dresses of excellent quality made from traditional African fabrics.

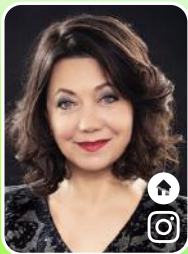

KIRA means "the way" in Soussou, a dialect of Guinea. This name reflects our most fundamental conviction: Education is the path to a better future for Guinea's children and youth.

A better future is also symbolized by our logo: a living tree that stands along the path of life and grows with it. For the first time we are part of the African Fashion Night 2022 and present our exclusive children's collection. The dresses made of traditional Wax Print fabric were handmade by our apprentices in Guinea.

A Big Thank You!

Thank you for being a part of this AFN event which we called 54 shades of Africa to pay homage to the diversity of Africa and its 54 countries.

We hope you enjoyed the show as much as we did. It was so good to see everyone from all over the world come together and celebrate their culture, their beauty, and just be themselves.

Africa is such a huge continent with so many different cultures, languages, and traditions. We are grateful that we were able to showcase some of these amazing cultures on this stage tonight.

It is our vision that one day all people will come together in unity, despite their differences. And it is our hope that we can continue to work towards this goal by celebrating our diversity and differences at events like this one tonight...to the whole AFN community, to all supporters and to each and every single one that make these events unique and possible!

Our next event will be held in September 2022 at the Kunsthaus Zurich.

So stay tuned and stay healthy!

DIVERSITY EQUITY & INCLUSION

AFN is a cultural event that adds value to all participants and guests by networking, promoting, sharing experiences and knowledge within the community and the corporate world. With a core team of business professionals and seasoned experts in their field, AFN strives to create a platform for African and African-inspired designers, artists, musicians and entrepreneurs to be exposed to an international market, but also to help them build a sustainable business that is globally recognized and promotes social change in Africa.

DIVERSITY EQUITY & INCLUSION

Die AFN ist ein kulturelles Ereignis, das allen Teilnehmern und Gästen einen Mehrwert bietet, indem es die Vernetzung, die Förderung, den Austausch von Erfahrungen und Wissen innerhalb der Gemeinschaft und der Unternehmenswelt fördert. Mit einem Kernteam aus Geschäftsleuten und erfahrenen Experten auf ihrem Gebiet strebt AFN danach, eine Plattform für afrikanische und afrikanisch inspirierte Designer, Künstler, Musiker und Unternehmer zu schaffen, um sie einem internationalen Markt auszusetzen, aber auch um ihnen zu helfen, ein nachhaltiges Geschäft aufzubauen, das weltweit anerkannt ist und den sozialen Wandel in Afrika fördert.
