October 11, 2023

On behalf of the Lakewood Ranch High School faculty, staff, students, and community, I welcome you to The Ranch for the 2023 rendition of Music in Motion! This event is one of the premiere band events here in the great state of Florida.

During this fall season, Dr. John Wilkerson has assumed the reins as the Director of Bands at Lakewood Ranch and taken charge at the helm of the Marching Mustangs. Dr. Wilkerson inherits a marching band that is one of the most successful programs at our school. Consistently, our band performs at the highest levels in the state.

The Marching Mustangs are supported by the Lakewood Ranch Band Booster's Association. Mr. Dan Powers, LRBBA President, leads this dedicated and committed group and holds them to their mission, "We believe that music education not only helps to develop individual talent but also promotes teamwork, creativity, discipline, time management, and a commitment to excellence."

We thank the bands, students, directors, and parents visiting our school today. We recognize your devotion to enhancing the educational experiences within our schools. We look forward to watching all of the bands perform and compete in this positive and collaborative event.

Have a great evening of musical entertainment here at Lakewood Ranch High School!

Best regards,

Dustin R. Dahlquist

Principal

Dear Parents, Students, Boosters, and Spectators:

Welcome to the 19th Annual Music in Motion Marching Festival! We welcome everyone to the Lakewood Ranch campus and hope your experience is a positive and rewarding one. This evening, you will experience the sights and sounds of music education at its very best. You will see bands from many regions of the great state of Florida performing at a high level right here on the football field. Each marching band is a source of pride for their high school and community, and the kids don't disappoint in their roles as ambassadors.

On behalf of everyone at Lakewood Ranch High School, we want to congratulate each band, its students, staff, and parents for their hard work this evening, for it is truly a team effort that has brought each of these units here tonight. Please show your appreciation by applauding the efforts of these "behind-the-scenes" groups. Their dedication gets each band down the road!

A heartfelt thank you goes out to our parents, the Lakewood Ranch Band Booster Association, and the LRHS band staff for their support, dedication, and unwavering commitment to excellence. We would also like to thank LRHS Custodians for assisting in the cleanup of the stadium and grounds and Principal Dustin Dahlquist, Athletic Director Kent Ringquist, and our great LRHS Administration for their assistance throughout the years.

Please support our vendors, concession stand, and support services. Let us honor these incredibly talented children with our enthusiastic appreciation and applause!

Musically Yours,

Dr. John W. Wilkerson

JUDGING CRITERIA

FMBC has developed our adjudication system based on national traditions in evaluating competitive marching bands. The FMBC system has been widely accepted nationwide and is licensed in other states as well as used throughout Florida. The judges at FMBC come from all over the country and are recognized by educators nationwide as experts in the field of Evaluation of Marching Bands and Visual Units. Each judge focuses on a specific area, called a caption, and awards a numerical score. Here are the items the judges look for:

Music Individual. This judge moves around the field, listening to the individual contributions made by all of the musicians on every instrument. They are listening for the details – the sound quality, the precision, the articulation.

Music Ensemble. This judge listens to the quality of the music presentation overall. They evaluate not only how well the music is performed, but also consider the challenges involved in performing it on the field, and evaluate how well the ensemble overcomes those challenges. Pitch, tempo, balance, dynamics - and many other musical elements are considered.

Music General Effect. This judge evaluates how effective the band is musically at communicating the intention of the composer. They take an overview of the music as performed, and are not as concerned with individual items as they are with the overall effectiveness of the musical performance.

Visual Individual. This judge is on the field, and has the responsibility to evaluate the training and precision of the individual performers. Considerations include the content of the challenges the individuals have been asked to perform, and evaluating how well they succeed at these tasks. Body carriage, balance, strength, horn angles - all of these things and more are evaluated.

Visual Ensemble. This judge evaluates the quality of the visual presentation. They look not only for visual precision, but also for the appropriateness and quality of the choices made in presenting the visual program.

Visual General Effect. This judge evaluates how all of the elements fit together to generate the complete picture. They focus on the presentation as a whole and evaluate how effective the presentation is, both musically and visually, at presenting the concept and intent of the music

Percussion and Auxiliary (Color Guard). The scores from these two areas do not enter into determining the total score of the band. The Percussion Judge is on the field, and evaluates the contribution of the percussive instruments, including the drums, xylophone(s), etc. The Color Guard (or Auxiliary) Judge evaluates the individuals whose primary responsibility is to add visual interest to the program. An award is given for the highest level of achievement in both of these captions, in each size class.

Keep in mind that the judge is there to award achievement, not to take points away because of individual errors. No judge is overly concerned with an error by a single performer, even if the error is visually large - for example, the student who may slip and fall on the field will not affect the score nearly as much as the student who marches out-of-step or with bad posture for an extended time.

Look for and listen to the elements described above, and you may know the order of finish, even before the scores are announced!

Enjoy the show!
