Make sure you check out the great outdoor events that we have found for you on p.8, and discover some new regular groups or classes near you in our Daily Activity Planner from p.23.

Leave a Review and Win!

Ever found a great-looking activity or product for your little one and hesitated before buying because, well, you just weren't sure?

Well, you needn't hesitate much longer! We're super-excited to announce that all businesses listed on the Toddle About website now have a review facility, so you can see how other parents rate them. Handy, eh?

BUT, for this to be useful, we need your reviews!

How to Help Your Fellow Parents

Visit toddleabout.co.uk/search and pop in your postcode. Select any providers that you have bought from or experienced and add a review to their listing. That's it!

Leave a review at toddleabout.co.uk/search

As a thank you we will be entering all reviews into a prize draw on 30th June, giving children's and parenting books worth £8 - £20 to 30 randomly select reviews. Thanks in advance for getting involved!

Discovering THEMSELVES

by Giles Alexander

The toddler years are a time of massive self-discovery. They'll learn the power of their voice. How to walk, run, play and problem-solve. To say "no" and ask "why", alongside countless other questions that they'll expect you to answer.

As parents, it's our job to give our children a safe space to make these personal discoveries. This isn't a time to "over-parent". Sometimes they will need a lot of support. At others, it's better that they figure things out on their own. Trying and failing is often the best way to learn. Of course, you know your child better than anyone, so it's up to you to decide when to step in and when to stand back.

BUILD THEM UP

While your toddler is going through this period of self-discovery, try to maintain a supportive and positive family environment. Toddlers are highly adept at picking up the mood in the room, and if they sense you are feeling stressed or anxious, it can be unsettling and knock their confidence. Instead, tell them regularly how proud you are of them. Let them overhear you saying nice things about them. And remind them that you are there for them, no matter what. Toddlers benefit considerably from reassurance, positive reinforcement and praise, so make these key parts of your daily parenting routine.

Supportive phrases to try:

- Thanks for telling me
- I'm always here for you
- That's so interesting
- You can tell me anything
- Everyone makes mistakes
- I love you
- You can do it
- You're so clever
- I trust you
- I believe in you

ACTIVELY LISTEN

Listen intently when your toddler wants to tell you something. As parents, when we're always trying to do ten things at once, it's easy to fall into the trap of "half-listening" when our child talks to us, saying "hold on" or "in a minute". Toddlers really notice this, and it can lead to a range of different problems, including:

- becoming more needy and clingy, craving your attention.
- shouting excessively, as they feel like they aren't being heard (so they up their volume).
- depending on one parent (the one who listens) for emotional support while shutting off the other.
- becoming withdrawn and uncommunicative.

EXPAND THEIR HORIZONS

Although toddlers can be very opinionated about what they like and dislike, at this young age, they really have no clue. Try to expose your child to as many different experiences as possible, from new tastes and new hobbies to different cultures, people and music.

Toddlers like familiar things, e.g. wanting to eat the same meal, watch the same film or play the same game, day in, day out. This is not only boring for you but limiting for them. So, mix things up, involve them in your own interests and try something new together.

BODY CURIOSITY

Toddlers are naturally curious about their bodies (and yours too). So, don't be shocked if you catch them poking, pulling or fiddling with their genitals (boys especially), or pointing, prodding and asking questions about yours. If they do, try not to laugh or make them feel ashamed. This is completely natural and harmless, driven by their own curiosity and not anything to worry about.

TACKLING TUMMY TIME

TURN TRIALS INTO TRIUMPHS

Did you know...

... that the Tummy Time you do today will help your child control a pencil, have the stamina to last (and enjoy!) the whole day at school, thrive with the physical confidence to climb, swing, roll & have fun with their friends, and also help them to focus, concentrate, listen & be still in years to come?

As parents, we aren't just raising a baby. We are raising future adults that need a strong foundation for success. That foundation is built now, and the crucial physical & cognitive development your baby gains through Tummy Time, and later, crawling, is the magic ingredient. So let's Tummy Time!

An Hour a Day...What?... NO!

To make this difference real for your child, experts recommend an hour of Tummy Time a day by the age of three months. Yep, you read that right... a whole HOUR!!

If that sounds terrifying, you're not the only one. We call babies that immediately love Tummy Time 'unicorns' – they're rarely glimpsed. The rest will squirm, protest and cry.

Most parents tell us they avoid Tummy Time because... well, tears are never fun. But don't let the Tummy Time blues hold you back. Practice makes perfect, and the more Tummy Time your baby does the easier it will get for you and for them.

Join us for a dash of creativity, a sprinkle of patience, and some invaluable Tips & Tricks. We'll turn the challenges of Tummy Time into a fun-filled bonding experience for both you and your little explorer.

- Add stimulation: Staring at the same old carpet can get dull, even for the tiniest of tots. Transform their tummy time turf into a sensory wonderland. Rotate colourful toys, textured mats, and add a mirror for self-discovery.

- Make it a family affair: Get down on the floor and show them how it's done. Wiggle, crawl, and explore together. Turn Tummy Time into a bonding bonanza. A great way for siblings to get involved.
- Get Sneaky: There are hundreds of movements that fool your child into Tummy Time without them even realising. You can do them on the way to the bath, to feed, or to sleep. Or during a walk in the garden or watching TV. We can show you how!
- Come to Class: You have enough on your plate, let us help. Our expert teachers have helped thousands of parents.
- Celebrate: It's natural for babies to get cranky when they're trying something new and challenging. But practice makes perfect. Encourage your baby & celebrate even the smallest victory.

FATHER'S DAY CRAFT

Shrinky Dink Keyrings

WHAT YOU WILL NEED:

- Shrinking plastic sheet kit*
- Scissors
- Felt tip pens
- Baking parchment
- Baking tray

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Pre-heat your oven to 165°C/329°F.
2. Draw your desired picture/wording on the shiny side of the plastic sheeting.
3. Carefully cut around the drawing (parents assistance may be required).
4. Punch a hole at the edge of the plastic, this is where your keyring will attach after baking.
5. Place your design on some parchment paper on your baking tray and place in the oven for

- 1-2 minutes. Watch the magic happen as the plastic shrinks down, if the plastic curls too much, you may have to use a utensil to flatten it down. Once flat, remove from the oven and let it cool for a few seconds.
6. Carefully attach the keychain to the design and your personalised keyring is complete.

* We bought the kit from Amazon. It comes with everything you need and there are so many things you could make with it!

THE ART OF TOY TAMING

A GUIDE TO ORGANISING YOUR CHILD'S PLAY SPACE

By Sophie Liard

Children's toys, while essential for fostering creativity and imagination, can quickly turn into a chaotic mess if not organised properly. You're certainly not alone if you often find yourself swimming through a sea of toys, searching for that elusive missing puzzle piece or a favourite teddy.

But fear not! It may not feel it, but creating an organised and functional space for your children to play is both achievable AND beneficial.

Here are some practical tips and strategies to bring order to your world of toys:

1. DECLUTTER AND SORT

The first step to effective toy organisation is decluttering. Regularly assess your child's toys and set aside those that are broken, no longer age-appropriate, or simply not played with. Once you've streamlined the collection, sort the toys into categories, such as role play, building, music, crafts etc. This process not only makes it easier to organise but also helps you to identify which toys are most frequently used.

2. DESIGNATE PLAY ZONES

If you have enough space to do so, it's helpful to define distinct play zones in your home based on the type of activities. For example, you could create a reading nook with a cosy rug and bookshelf or book basket; a building and construction zone for blocks and Lego; and a creative arts and crafts corner. This zoning approach not only adds structure to the play area but also encourages children to engage in different types of play.

3. STORAGE SOLUTIONS

Invest in storage solutions that cater to the specific needs of each play zone. Clear plastic bins or labelled baskets work well for smaller items like building blocks or art supplies. Shelving units and bookcases provide easy access to books and larger toys. Consider using a combination of open and closed storage to strike a balance between accessibility and a tidy appearance.

4. ROTATE TOYS

Avoid overwhelming children with an excess of toys by implementing a toy rotation system. Store some toys out of sight and reach, and periodically swap them with the ones currently in use. This not only keeps the play area fresh and exciting but also prevents clutter from accumulating.

5. INVOLVE YOUR CHILD

Encourage your child to participate in the organisation process. Make it a fun activity by turning it into a game or challenge. Allow them to choose where certain toys should be stored or decorate storage bins with their artwork. When children feel a sense of ownership over the organisation, they are more likely to maintain the order.

6. LABEL EVERYTHING

Clearly label storage bins and shelves to make it easy for both you and your child to identify where each toy belongs. Use pictures or illustrations for younger children who may not be able to read yet. A labelling system fosters a sense of responsibility and helps children develop organisational skills.

Organising children's toys may seem like a daunting task, but it's worth it. If you follow these steps, not only will your daily clean up become quick and easy, but you will also create a play space that is conducive to creativity and learning – setting the stage for happy and stress-free playtime for both parents and children alike.

My First Pre-Writing Skills Activity Book & Writing Pencils Bundle

★★★★★ Written by Laura Westley, Toddle About Subscriber

Perfect for ages 2+ to kick-start their fun early learning experience, this bundle from Love Writing Co. (www.lovewritingco.com) contains a 58 page activity book, 17 erasable tripod grip colour pencils, 5 writing pencils and an eco gym bag.

As a parent of two toddlers, my experience with My First Pre-Writing Skills Activity Book and Pencils has been nothing short of delightful.

The beauty of this activity book lies not just in its engaging content but also in its thoughtful approach to age-appropriate learning. With clear guidance on the types of shapes suitable for each age group, the book serves as an invaluable tool for parents like me. While I initially intended it for my 3.5-year-old, my 2-year-old eagerly joined in, captivated by the colourful pages and engaging activities. The gradual progression through different shapes and lines effectively encourages pre-writing skills, making it accessible and enjoyable for both toddlers and pre-schoolers. The pencils are easy to hold and assist in practicing the tripod grip which is needed for school.

One remarkable outcome was my 3.5-year-old's newfound enthusiasm for independent writing. Frustrated by his inability to write his name, he found empowerment within the pages of this activity book and encouragement with the stickers. In just a week, he proudly wrote his name independently.

Review has been edited.
