LIVING KIDNEY DONATIONS SAVE LIVES

November 16, 2024, our lives changed, and not for the better. My son, Ian was informed that he had only 4% of his kidney working. Norfolk General Hospital in Simcoe jumped into action. They said he might need dialysis, but when the tests came back, it showed Ian was in stage 3 kidney failure. They didn't know if he would make it through the night. After 1 year and 5 months, we have watched Ian's kidney levels go up & down, with hospital stays, throwing up almost daily, losing weight & kidney pain. The last visit we had with Ian's kidney team, it was said that the kidney is where it's at, and it will not get any better. Ian's kidneys will only get worse. We started testing, and though I have the same blood type as Ian, O positive, I am not able to donate a kidney to my son. Not even an hour later, Ian got a phone call telling him he has to go on dialysis & get a kidney/pancreas transplant. He is going to be put on the transplant list in Toronto. My parents are going in for testing, and so is my sister; let's hope that by God's grace, one of them is a match. Living kidney donation is an important & life-saving gift that individuals can give to patients in need. Who can be a donor? - must be older than 18 years of age - freely willing to donate -in good health without diabetes, cancer, kidney, or heart disease. Potential donors can call: 905-522-1155, ext 32156, email: livingdonorquestionnaire or fill out questionnaire online: www.stjoes.ca/living-donorquestionnaire.

HOPE

It was eight-and-a-half years ago that we produced “Anne of Green Gables: The Musical” (where does the time go?!) In the classic Canadian story, upon learning Marilla & Matthew wanted to adopt a boy, not the red-haired, freckle-faced girl she was, Anne describes her feelings as being in ‘the depths of despair.’ Her romanticism was equally matched by Marilla’s pragmatism when the young girl asked her senior if she’d ever been in ‘the depths of despair.’ Marilla says she hasn’t and Anne presses further to ask if she could even imagine being in such a state. “No I cannot,” comes Marilla’s brisk answer, “To despair is to turn your back on God.” I don’t know. The world seems to be throwing an awful lot at us that I think could be considered worthy of despair – expanding attacks in the Middle East & Lebanon, the horrific treatment of Palestinians, the ongoing war in Ukraine, soaring gas prices in an already expensive economy, tariffs creating job losses, a lingering housing crisis, dangerous weather patterns that are a direct result of climate change – the list goes on and on! The social contract that once promised if you go to school & work hard, you can buy a house, be a comfortable member of the middle class & retire well is feeling far out of reach for most of our Millennials and Gen Z’s. Those of us older than them worry for their future, if not our own. So, despair? I get it. I even get why much of society has turned its back on God, to quote Marilla’s definition. Sometimes, it’s easier to believe in nothing, than to have hope for something you don’t really believe can be helped. But... Allow me to quote another character many of us will remember from the past – Mr. Rogers: “When I was a boy & I would see scary things in the news, my mother would say to me, ‘Look for the helpers. You will always find people who are helping.’” That’s who Mr. Rogers was – originally a Presbyterian minister who devoted his life to helping children see the world with hope in tangible ways. My favourite, looking back before my own lifetime, came in 1969. Five years after the American Civil Rights act legally ended segregation, many sad remnants lingered, including Whites barring Blacks from their pools. So, in an episode of his show, “Mr. Roger’s Neighborhood,” on what was staged as a particularly hot day, Mr. Rogers soaked his feet in a kiddie pool. When Officer Clemmons, a Black police officer character on the show, arrived, Mr. Rogers invited him in. Two men of different races, bare feet in a kiddie pool – a silly image in one way, and a profound & active invitation to hope in another. The days are lengthening, light’s increasing, snow is melting, and the first bulbs are beginning to send up their shoots. Just like last year. And the year before that. Spring always comes – what a blessing! And at this time, we celebrate Easter – the glorious new life that emerged after things were as dark as they could be at Jesus’ crucifixion. Our faith teaches us to hold onto hope – that darkness will pass & the light will shine again. But not just in a passive, ‘things-will-get-better’ kind of way, but in an active ‘let’s-do-something-about-what-we-can’ kind of way – building community, feeding the hungry, helping the environment, hosting refugees, gathering in worship, study & play. This hope is found in the helpers and it truly can beat despair. We invite you to be part of it! Come on out or let us know how we can help. Happy Easter – may it be filled with hope in this despairing and yearning world.

Rev. Mark Marshall, Westminster United Church, 115 George St., Thamesford, makingconnexions.com.

THE GREATS OF ZORRA – HENRY JOHN CODY

Submitted by Lorena Chalkley, Zorra Heritage Committee

Henry John Cody 1868-1951 was the son of Elijah J. Cody & Margaret Louise Torrance. Born in Embro, he was a descendant of the Elijah Cody family that settled around Cody’s Corners in the 1820’s. Henry’s father operated a general store on Huron Street for almost 50 years as well as being the clerk & treasurer for the Village of Embro. After finishing his early schooling in Woodstock, he went to live with his mother’s family in Galt where he attended Galt Collegiate. In 1885, he left Galt to study at the University of Toronto. In 1893 he was ordained in St. Paul’s Anglican Church on Bloor Street where he would serve for many years. He became a Canon in 1903 and the Archdeacon of York in 1909. Canon Cody’s served as minister of education for Ontario in Sir William Hearst’s government from May 1918 until October 1919 when the government was defeated. His biggest accomplishment was legislation to compel children to remain in school until age 16. Henry married Florence Louisa Clarke in 1894. One son, Maurice, was born to them in 1897 but due to a canoeing accident he drowned in Northern Ontario. Florence died only a few years later. Henry married a second time to Barbara Blackstock in 1933. In 1932, Dr. Cody became the president of the University of Toronto. Before he retired in 1945, he stepped in to complete the term as Chancellor left vacant by the death of Sir Wm Mulock in 1944. Cody was a clergyman, politician & educator but will be best remembered as a preacher who had the honour to preach to the king & queen in Buckingham Palace. In 1965, the Historic Sites Board dedicated a plaque in Embro Memorial Park in honour of Canon Henry John Cody.

LOTS TO LEARN ABOUT YOUR BRAIN

By Laura Green

Braemar & Lakeside Women's Institute decided to learn more about our brain's health with Rebekah Lindsay, Public Education Coordinator, Alzheimer Society Southwest Partners, Woodstock Office. Her presentation was titled "Heads up for Healthier Brains" – "What everyone should know about brain health & dementia". Some pointers to maintain or improve your brain health that were discussed were 1. Challenge your brain by keeping your brain active every day, 2. Be socially active, 3. Choose a Healthy Lifestyle and 4. Protect your head. Our meeting at the home of Anya Donaldson on Mar 4 accomplished 3 of the points in her presentation – follow directions & be on time, visit with members that you haven't seen since Christmas meetings and park at the end of the driveway to enjoy a walk on the spring like day. Rebekah Lindsay also discussed the different programs offered by Alzheimer Society for people living with dementia & for their caregivers. The society next fundraising event is Walk for Alzheimer May 30 & 31 with 4 locations within the Southwest Partners region. With spring just around the corner, it means annual meetings in April and new programs to be planned. Lakeside is already planning a theatre trip to the Blyth Festival in July.

HEY, CAN I HAVE YOUR PILE OF CARDBOARD?

It sounds like an odd request, especially when followed with "Do you reuse it or recycle it?". Actually, Bryan Smith will answer "Both" but with a priority on reuse. But when the person asking is thinking about what they will put under the mulch in the garden, that seems like a great deal. Some might ask for your fallen branches & even tree trunks for a bottom layer in container gardens? Want some leaves, clippings & compost for that mix too? Top soil goes last. There are great ways in the spring to create wonderful, sustainable gardens for food, flowers, pollinators & people (to eat from). Give it some thought before you throw good stuff out.

HONOURING THE PAST...

Flying into the Future: A New Season for the Canadian Harvard Aircraft Association. After celebrating an extraordinary milestone last year - its 40th anniversary - the Canadian Harvard Aircraft Association (CHAA) in Tillsonburg is preparing for its 2026 season with pride. Last season was a tribute to 4 decades of dedication from volunteers, pilots, maintainers, donors & aviation enthusiasts who have been keeping history alive in a powerful way: by keeping these Second World War aircraft flying. To keep this momentum going, each winter the aircraft are given a full maintenance overhaul to ensure the fleet of "Yellow Birds" are in top condition for the pending season. This behind-the-scenes work is essential. It's what allows the organization to continue offering the public the rare opportunity to see, hear & experience these legendary aircraft in flight rather than simply behind museum ropes. The Harvard Association will be proud to share this living history at events this summer, both at home at the Tillsonburg Regional Airport, and at air shows & other aviation events. These events offer an opportunity to honour the men & women who trained, served & sacrificed during the Second World War. As this registered charitable organization looks to the future, it is also facing a significant infrastructure challenge. Its main hangar - home to aircraft, restoration projects & artifacts -- needs a significant roof rebuild. At the heart of CHAA's operations, maintaining this hangar it is critical to protecting the aircraft & ensuring the safety of volunteers. The Canadian Harvard Aircraft Association is launching a new fundraising campaign dedicated specifically to the hangar roof restoration. Every contribution, large or small, helps safeguard the future of the organization & the aircraft entrusted to their care. As a new flying season approaches, the Harvard Association invites the community, supporters & aviation enthusiasts to join them at their hangars, air shows or through fundraising efforts. Through collective efforts, these remarkable aircraft can continue to honour, educate and inspire. Visit www.harvards.com for more information.

THORNDALE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Thorndale and Area Horticultural Society held its 30th Anniversary Celebration Mar 11, 2026. We had a very interesting talk from Lisa Finkbeiner on "Tricks to change the Colours of your Hydrangeas", by using pickle juice to enhance the pinks & blues of the flowerlets. Our president, Jen Prgeša, introduced our new banner with updated violet logo, and ran a slide show of past events. This was followed by Lifetime Awards to Dick & Trudi Nieuwland, who started this society 30 years ago, and a Presidents Award to Shirley Hacon, for her participation in all events of the society over the years. A number of members then spoke eloquently about their experiences within the society. A fun Flower Arranging competition then took place between 4 volunteer members, arranged by Dian Chute. Refreshments were served with a delicious Celebration cake with our Society's Logo. Our next meeting is Wed, Apr 8, 7.30pm at Thorndale Community Centre, Room 3. Catherine McGill will present "The Ground gets Lower every Year". Refreshments will be served. Guests are welcome.
