A curriculum selection guide

What curriculum best fits my child?

We're here to help homeschool families select the right courses for your students. This guide is designed so you can easily see all the curriculum options we recommend for each grade level, allowing you to print, make notes, and plan your year with Compass Classroom.

We've included an example of a curriculum plan for a family with an elementary, middle school, and high school student. You'll see that you can teach multiple ages at the same time with courses such as Visual Latin, Word Up!, and American History.

At CompassClassroom.com, you can learn detailed information about a particular course, try sample lessons, and take a look at our informative "How to Teach" resources at bit.ly/htt-classroom.

Homeschool Support

New to homeschooling? These moms can help. Their kids range from toddlers to college freshmen, and they've homeschooled all of them. But just like you, they started out with hundreds of questions. Find answers to all your questions at How I Homeschool. bit.ly/cchowihomeschool

Homeschool Made Simple Carole Joy Seid provides encouragement and guidance for homeschooling parents with her unique insight and wisdom. Take a break and listen to Homeschool Made Simple with Carole Joy Seid. bit.ly/HomeschoolSimple

Teaching Multiple Children at Once? Gather and create an atmosphere of learning with Visual Latin, Word Up!, and American History. Watch a lesson together then take turns reading aloud the assignment. Parents can use the questions and answers for discussion. Check out our How to Teach resources at bit.ly/htt-classroom

Dave Raymond's History Series can be taught in any order. American History (ages 12+) was designed as an accessible way to begin moral philosophy. Modernity (13+) expands this study to the world stage. Antiquity and Christendom (14+) start back at Creation and use Scripture to frame all of history so that students can see God's whole story.
