We hope you enjoy viewing a few highlights of what is new this year, here at Johnsons. As always, it is too difficult to showcase everything that is new in this brochure, but we have worked hard this year on keeping our website fully up to date. We now show our Johnsons jewellery with several images and a short video, which makes browsing at home even easier. If you would like to know more about any products you see on our website, we have a dedicated WhatsApp number where we can send you more images or videos in real time. Feel free to give us a call with your enquiry and we can certainly help you with that.

We are also very active on social media, with an Instagram for watches @johnsonsjewellers_watches, and one for jewellery @johnsonsjewellers. We would love for you to give us a follow and like to see what we are up to throughout the year.

From all of the Johnsons team, we look forward to seeing you over the festive period and beyond into 2024.

CUBAN CLASSIC

Rock these chunky styles with jeans and a T-shirt, or with a dress and heels; it's entirely up to you. Cuban chains are always in fashion.

Cuban link jewellery is a development of jewellery that began in the 1970s, most likely in the hip-hop scene. The oval links are designed to be put together in a rope formation.

Cuban chains are also known as Miami Cuban links, as this stylistic piece is said to originate in Miami and remains a prominent style choice among residents today.

FAQ Please ask one of our knowledgeable team if you have any other questions about lab-grown diamonds.

Q. ARE LAB-GROWN DIAMONDS GOOD INVESTMENTS? Yes, ethically and sustainably they are better for the environment, they are also more cost effective and are as durable as a traditional diamond while not compromising on looks.

Q. DO LAB-GROWN DIAMONDS TEST AS REAL DIAMONDS? Yes, lab diamonds are chemically the same as mined diamonds so will still test as a diamond on a diamond tester.

Q. CAN I INSURE MY LAB-GROWN DIAMOND RING? Of course, even though they aren't as rare as mined diamonds, lab-created diamonds can still hold a lot of value so getting it insured is still possible and important, especially if the ring has emotional significance such as an engagement ring.

Q. DO LAB-GROWN DIAMONDS COME IN DIFFERENT COLOURS? Yes, lab-grown diamonds can come in colourless as well as fancy coloured varieties.

Q. WILL LAB-GROWN DIAMONDS LOSE THEIR VALUE? As lab-grown diamonds are still a new creation to hit the wider jewellery market, no one can accurately say how their value will fluctuate in the future.

Q. CAN I BUY LAB-GROWN DIAMONDS ON FINANCE? Of course, just like any other diamond ring you can purchase any of our lab grown diamond pieces on 0% finance.

Q. WHAT IS THE BEST CERTIFICATION FOR LAB-GROWN DIAMONDS? They are all graded on the 4C's like mined diamonds: carat, cut, clarity and colour. So the best grading for clarity is Flawless (F) which means there are no inclusion's visible under 10x magnification, while a colour between D and F will mean your diamond is colourless so is the best grading for colour.

Going back centuries, the Toi et Moi style became famous in 1796 when Napoleon Bonaparte proposed to Joséphine de Beauharnais with a "Toi et Moi" ring.

Traditionally they featured two different stones in matching sizes and cuts. The modern take is to mix gem cuts, sizes and settings to create a more contemporary look.

BIRTHSTONE GEMS

The tradition of wearing a birthstone for each month of the year became popular in Europe during the Middle Ages.

It is believed that this tradition was influenced by the astrological belief that each month of the year is associated with a different zodiac sign, and that each zodiac sign has its own associated gemstones.

Celebrating a new beginning, a birthday, an anniversary with a piece of jewellery set with a meaningful gemstone is as thoughtful and relevant today as it has ever been.

From amethyst and aquamarine, to opal and emerald, here are some colourful pieces perfect to celebrate the birthdays of loved ones.

For April gifts, you'll find dozens of diamond delights throughout the brochure. And for a selection of pearls - perfect for June birthdays - see page 16. Or, why not browse the website where you can search by gemstone?

AT YOUR SERVICE

Our Rolex-Trained Watchmakers.

As an official Rolex retailer, Johnsons Jewellers are delighted to announce that we now have two Rolex-trained watchmakers.

Rolex watches are designed and built to last. From the conception of a Rolex watch to the time it leaves the workshop, every step of its development and manufacture follows a single critical requirement: quality. As a result, there is no limit on how long a Rolex watch can keep working, being handed down from one generation to the next.

As an official Rolex retailer, Johnsons Jewellers is authorised to receive your Rolex watch for servicing. With the necessary knowledge, skills and technical know-how, we are at your disposal to advise you on all the technical aspects of Rolex watches.

The watchmakers in our cutting-edge workshops are trained according to strict excellence criteria and assessed regularly by Rolex.

The service procedure is designed to ensure that every timepiece leaving a Rolex workshop complies with its original functional and aesthetic specifications.

THE SERVICE PROCESS

1. Your watch is carefully examined by a watchmaker, who draws up an estimate of the work to be done. Once the estimate is approved, the service process begins.
2. The bracelet is detached from the watch, and subsequently the movement is removed from the case.
3. The movement is entirely dismantled and all the parts are carefully examined.
4. Each component is cleaned in an ultrasonic bath to remove all traces of impurities.
5. The cleaned components are dried, after which the movement is entirely reassembled and lubricated. The watchmaker makes the first adjustments to the precision of the movement.
6. The case is completely disassembled and the middle case, bezel, caseback and bracelet are re-polished or satin-finished according to their original finish.
7. After being cleaned and refinished, the case parts are reassembled and the seals replaced. The case is tested for waterproofness.

8. The movement is put back into the case, once the watchmaker has performed rigorous technical and aesthetic checks of all these elements.
9. After casing the movement, the watchmaker measures its chronometric precision and makes any final adjustments. The caseback is then screwed down, and your watch undergoes another Rolex-specific test lasting at least 24 hours to verify the performance of the movement over time.
10. Your watch is pressure-tested in water to check that it is watertight, and thereafter the bracelet is refitted to the case.
11. At the end of the service procedure, your watch is returned to you in a protective pouch and accompanied by an international two-year service guarantee covering replacement parts and labour.

Developed to unique specifications, the Pelagos FXD models are designed and optimised for professional diving and competitive yacht racing. FXD refers to the extra robust fixed strap bars of the case.

BREITLING

Introducing TOP TIME

The 1960s was a decade of experimentation, fun, freedom and energy. Whether cruising on a motorcycle or revving up a sports car, living life at full speed was the order of the day. Willy Breitling felt this change of pace and set out to design an unconventional chronograph that would capture the verve of the era. He called it the Top Time.

That spirited tradition continues today with Breitling partnering with some of the coolest names in wheels to create its Top Time designs.

TRIUMPH

A collaboration with British heritage motorcycle brand Triumph, this watch's highlight is an ice blue dial. This stunning shade matches the Triumph Thunderbird 6T from 1951. Featuring a Triumph emblem at 6 o'clock, a speed measuring tachymeter scale and contrasting 'squirrel' subdials giving the watch a vintage feel.

Top Time Triumph
AB01764A1C1X1 £6,250.00

FORD THUNDERBIRD

The Top Time B01 Ford Thunderbird features the colours and emblem of its classic-car counterpart, as well as a perforated leather racing strap, tachymeter scale and contrasting subdials, which gives the feel of vintage dashboard gauges.

AB01766A1A1X1 £6,250.00

FORD MUSTANG

The first-generation Ford Mustang, produced from 1964 to 1973, became the car of choice for hitting the road in hip 1960s America. As a nod to the era, the Top Time B01 Ford Mustang features contrasting subdials reminiscent of retro dashboards, with a tachymeter scale and perforated leather racing strap. The distinctive horse logo and green colourway match this watch perfectly to its classic-car namesake.

SHELBY COBRA

In the early 1960s, the Le Mans winner Carroll Shelby imagined a car that matched a small light British-style chassis, to a strong, reliable American big-block engine. The Cobra was met with instant success amongst fans and on the circuit. In correlation with the classic car, the Top Time B01 Shelby Cobra shares the same colour and emblem and includes a perforated leather racing strap. Under the hood is an exceptional Breitling manufacture calibre 01.
