Origin of Outline

Outline is a minimal and unobtrusive storage and display system, designed following the success of frame toppers in our Be range. Outline allows you to create flexible work zones, enabling you to transform the way your workspace looks, works, and feels.

With more employees returning to the office, we have seen a general shift in the typical office layout. Office spaces are becoming more flexible, collaborative, and agile.

Original Be toppers

It was important that Outline suited alongside our existing office systems – Be and LateralFile. The break lines between the units needed to be consistent and when considering the different depths, widths, and apertures, any complexities were minimised during the design process.

The simple addition of frames to our Be and LateralFile units transforms their functionality and style. Plus, an extensive range of accessories, colours and finishes means that Outline can extend the product's life further than ever.

“Building on what Bisley does best, Outline seamlessly integrates with our storage to provide a template that can adapt to an ever-changing workplace.”

William Skillen
Design

With more and more colleagues returning to the office, we have seen a shift in the traditional office layout. Office spaces are becoming more flexible, collaborative, and agile.

Outline divides spaces into meeting areas, focussed work zones, areas to take five - all with ample, secure storage for both office and personal items. And, with the ability to fill Outline as you choose, its flexibility introduces texture, colour, and biophilia - crucial when replicating the comforts of working from home.

Accessories

Outline transforms the way your workplace looks, works, and flows. To further enhance the frame design, we have developed a range of accessories to fit Outline's open compartments perfectly, creating office frames that are not only functional, but beautiful too.

As standard, the Outline range (both stacking and floorstanding options) arrive complete with two base shelves, apart from the corner frames which come with one base, with the option of either a wood or steel finish.

Additional wood or steel shelving can be ordered separately and placed within the frame, and the discreet shelf pins mean each new shelf can be easily moved around to create your desired configuration.

Our 400mm (15.7”) deep frames are split into two ‘zones’.
The frame dimensions vary slightly from ZONE 1 and ZONE 2.

Each of the accessories on the following pages, apart from MFC shelves and planters, have two versions, one to fit each zone.

Finishes

Selecting the right materials for your space takes research and careful consideration. Combining warming wood tones, vibrant paint colours, and textured fabrics can create a modern and stylish interior to be proud of.

Now more than ever, the office is ripe for reimagination.

Looking to give your workspace a new lease of life and support newer ways of working? You don't have to specify an entire new storage system to do so.

If you already own products from our LateralFile range, upgrade them with the retrofit Outline frames. Adding Outline frame toppers will make your office storage work even harder, now with added space division and display capabilities.
