

ADVENT CALENDARS 2026

Welcome to my Advent and Christmas collection for 2026, which is the tenth anniversary of selling my range in the USA. Over the last 10 years we have been the exclusive distributor of Coppenrath and Mamelok; together with my designs we are able to offer one of the largest ranges of Advents available. My focus is on curating European traditional Christmas products, particularly German and British designs.

I am delighted that we continue to sell to the same customers we met in 2016. We must be doing something right!

I am a British designer / illustrator, best known for my Christmas and Heritage collections. My range varies from traditional advent calendars and candles to fine bone china mugs. I am passionate about British manufacturing; in fact the Advent candles are produced in our Stoke-on-Trent factory, England, using a unique printing and decorating process.

New for 2026: For the first time two advent candles are red. Additionally I have collaborated with Barbara Behr (the designer who creates much of the Coppenrath range). She has designed a gold Nativity scene on a red advent candle. I have produced a Gold Star advent candle: both are hand decorated.

Coppenrath is a major German publisher and is the market leader in traditional Christmas advents in Germany. Founded in 1768 and based in Munster, the company has been at the centre of traditional German festivities for generations. The range continues to grow each year and I work closely with their editorial team to create advent calendars that will appeal to all our customers.

The 2026 range is our best yet! This year we have over 21 new products, plus a growing range of best sellers. A must see for 2026 is a very original concept of a Tea Light Advent Calendar where each tealight hides a Christmas image, which appears as the candle burns. Also new this year are 2 new advent jigsaws, a pop-up advent calendar card.

Mamelok Papercraft, were established in 1860 in Breslau, Germany and moved to Great Britain in 1940. One of the first commercial color printing companies, they developed as a publisher by selling religious pictures and embossed scrap reliefs. Today, they specialize in high quality diecut and embossed paper products including garlands, Christmas cards, party masks and bookmarks. All products are printed and hand finished in Great Britain.

Special Feature

Many of our advent calendars have a special feature where the images inside the windows correspond directly to the main illustration. This has proved a very popular feature with customers about which we often get positive feedback.

For example, please see The Christmas House at Night to the right showing the windows open.
