ABOUT US OUR BEGINNINGS

Vineyard Brands was founded in 1973 by Robert Haas. Bob began his career in 1950 working as the import buyer for M. Lehmann, his family's wine shop in New York City which would later become Sherry Lehmann. As Bob became more interested in the import wine business and less interested in the retail business, he began importing and selling wine in markets other than New York through Leeds Imports Corporation, a wine import company started by Bob and his father. In 1967, Bob's father retired from the wine business and Leeds Imports Corporation was sold.

In 1973, Bob moved to Vermont and founded Vineyard Brands with 2 employees. The company's office was located in a remodeled barn on the Haas family farm in Chester, Vermont until 1997 when the company moved its headquarters to Birmingham, Alabama.

In the 1980s, Bob began to explore ways to fulfill a life-long dream to start his own winery, which would mean leaving Vineyard Brands. Bob ultimately decided to create an employee stock ownership plan (an "ESOP") to allow the employees of Vineyard Brands to purchase the business from him to allow him to start his winery, Tablas Creek Vineyard. In the late 1990s, when the ESOP completed its purchase of the business from Bob, he fully exited from Vineyard Brands.

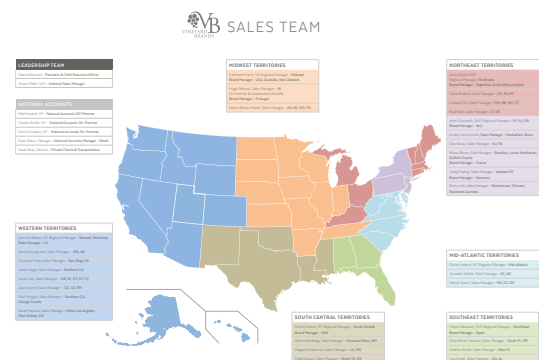

WINES FROM THE BEST PLACES ON EARTH

TODAY

Today, Vineyard Brands has over 65 employees located throughout the United States and 2 offices, one in Birmingham, Alabama and the other in the heart of New York City. Our headquarters remains in Birmingham, Alabama, where we have approximately 25 employees who handle all shipping, accounting and compliance activities and the production of all promotional materials and advertising for Vineyard Brands. Our office in New York City is a sales and marketing office.

Despite our relatively small size, we have a truly national distribution network that extends to all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. Our sales force, which consists of over 40 people, is divided into 8 regions, each of which is overseen by a regional manager. Recognizing the diversity of our various markets and in order to foster our entrepreneurial spirit, we give our regional managers and sales representatives a great deal of autonomy in managing their territories and markets.

Built on the same foundation upon which the company was founded, our mission remains the same – to select and offer wines of the best quality and value from the greatest places on Earth so that there is absolute confidence in any wine with "Imported by Vineyard Brands" on the label.

OUR PORTFOLIO

As we are a “family” owned enterprise by virtue of our ESOP, we have chosen to represent only family-owned wineries. We have a wealth of experience representing both small producers and large volume brands. We represent over 80 wineries from the major wine-growing regions throughout the world. Our portfolio includes some of the best wines available from Argentina, Australia, Austria, Chile, England, Germany, Italy, New Zealand, Portugal, Slovenia, South Africa, Spain, the United States, and France, including over 25 growers of estate-bottled wines in Alsace, Bordeaux, Burgundy, Chablis, Champagne, the Loire Valley, Provence, the Rhône Valley, Savoie, and Southern France.

One of our primary missions is to understand and respect the goals of each of our producers for their individual brands. We have a proprietary sense of pride in our brands and understanding that the only way to achieve long-term success is building a good distribution network. We work closely with our distributors across the United States to ensure that not only do we have good sales and depletion volumes, but that our distribution is optimized for the long term.

“In a world increasingly dominated by vast sums of capital and multinational firms, it is difficult for a small wine importer to survive unless that company has considerable expertise and an unwavering commitment to quality rather than quantity ... ‘Imported by Vineyard Brands’ is as close to a guarantee of quality as the consumer can expect.”

The Wine Advocate

MISSION

Our mission is to select and offer wines of the best quality and value from the best places on Earth so that there is absolute confidence in any wine with “Imported by Vineyard Brands” on the label.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Alma Negra is Ernesto Catena's project that explores unconventional wines made from blends. • The exact composition of the wines is left a mystery in order to encourage the drinker to judge them solely on their perception. • The line includes a unique sparkling brut rosé made from primarily Malbec along with a white blend and three red blends. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Animal's wild and raw wines are all single varietal and 100% organic-certified. • The grapes are from estate vineyards as well as vineyards with which the winery works closely. In the process, Ernesto Catena Vineyards has helped their neighbors also obtain organic certifications. This not only helps everyone involved make beautiful wine, but it also builds a community passionate about protecting the soil of Mendoza. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Padrillos wines express the wild spirit of Argentina's true varietals. • They are fresh, fruity wines meant for immediate consumption. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Intense, complex, and elegant, Siesta wines are Ernesto Catena's best effort to express the varietal personality, enhanced by the unique characteristics of the Vistaflares terroir. • Only biodynamically-certified grapes from the best lots of the Vistaflares vineyard that have been fermented in small tanks are used. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Incas built an impressive network of roads in South America connecting all the Andean subcultures. It was on one of these roads where Ernesto Catena dreamed of honoring the Inca culture with a line of wines. • 100% varietal wines from selected old vineyards at the foothills of the Andes Mountains. • These wine best reflect how Mendoza's unique terroir can influence the varietal personality.

SPECIAL NOTES	Alma Negra means "black soul" because the color of the wines made from the Bonarda grape is deep and intense. The first wines made, which were all reds, had a real "black soul" when you saw them in the glass.	Ernesto Catena's thoughts on going organic: "Going organic is the kind of thing many people warn you against in the wine industry. Because it's hard, because it's expensive, and because many consumers don't appreciate it. Some are even quite suspicious of the theory itself. But once you go organic, things actually get easier because you don't have to hide any pesticide bags. In fact, you want to walk through the vines everyday; you want to invite your kids to walk through the vines with all of their schoolmates. And see the butterflies and the birds. And get your hand in the soil and smell all that fertility."	Padrillos wines are inspired by Ernesto Catena's passion for horses. He has more than 30, many of them from his own stud farm. All of his horses are his retired polo ponies that now enjoy life on his vineyards in Mendoza.	The Inca would often bury offerings to the land so that it would remain healthy and fertile. Following this ancient tradition, every year Ernesto Catena Vineyards buries in their Vistaflares vineyard a few bottles of their best wines, hoping that while sleeping their endless Siesta, they will protect their vines, people, and harvest.	Tahuantinsuyu means "The Four Lands United" in Quechua, referring to the Inca's extensive network of roads.

SPECIAL NOTES	MAAL wines feature unique, contemporary packaging with beautiful labels that reflect the nature of the wine.	The name TintoNero , meaning "black wine" in Spanish, refers to the Malbec grape's dark, blackish color.	Buscado Vivo o Muerto translates to "wanted dead or alive" and refers to Sejanovich and Mausbach's long, tireless, and extensive search for premium, unique vineyards in Mendoza.	The Spanish word estancia refers to a South American ranch while Uspallata is the town closest to the estate.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In 1991, at 22 years old, Paul Achs took the lead of his family winery in Gols, Austria, where they had been working in the wine industry since 1684. Gols is a small winemaking village in the Neusiedlersee district of Burgenland, just 37 miles southeast of Vienna near the Hungarian border. • The estate has 25 hectares (61.8 acres) of vines, divided into 40 plots across two key areas – the Heideboden and the Parndorfer Platte. • Acclaimed as a specialist in the Blaufränkisch grape, Paul Achs has planted 90% red grapes and 10% Chardonnay in his vineyards. • In 2006, The Weingut Paul Achs winery received biodynamic certification for their meticulous care and thoughtfulness in tending to their vines and winemaking process. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For centuries, the Groiss family has grown grapes in Austria's largest winegrowing region, Niederösterreich (Lower Austria), and more specifically in the northern subregion of Weinviertel. This area, known for its diverse terroirs and loess soils, produces excellent white wines from indigenous grape varieties including Grüner Veltliner, Riesling, and Gemischter Satz (a traditional field blend). • Weingut Ingrid Groiss operates as a true small family business with Ingrid at the helm, her father helping with tractor work, and her mother assisting in the vineyards. The family oversees 20 hectares (49.4 acres) of organic vineyards, crafting a focused range of wines including four single vineyard wines grown on 50 year-old vines. • Ingrid Groiss studied winemaking at Universität für Bodenkultur, and returned home to eventually inherit vineyards from both her mother's and father's sides of the family. Upon taking over the family vineyards, Ingrid converted them to organics and narrowed their range to produce only wines that reflected their terroir, grape variety, and vintage. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Renowned Austrian winemaker Fred Loimer comes from a long-established Langenlois winegrowing family. • The Loimer winery resides on 70 hectares (172 acres) in Langenlois, the capital of the Kamptal winegrowing region of Austria, located in the northeast part of the country. • Within the Kamptal region, Fred Loimer has five vineyards (Loiserberg, Käferberg, Seeberg, Steinmassl, and Heiligenstein) where he grows Riesling, Grüner Veltliner, Pinot Blanc, Pinot Gris, and Zweigelt used for his single varietal and blended wines. The winery also leases vineyards in Gumpoldskirchen, in Austria's Thermenregion. • The Loimer winery began the conversion to biodynamic agriculture in 2006. And in 2007, Fred Fred Loimer and other winemaking colleagues founded RespektBIODYN, a community that consistently implements and promotes biodynamics in viticulture. • When it comes to winemaking, Fred Loimer lets the natural processes go to work in the cellar. Fermentation occurs spontaneously thanks to a natural yeast found in their vineyards and cellar.

SPECIAL NOTES	Burgenland is the warmest winemaking region in Austria with an average temperature of 11°C (52°F), but is still considered a cool climate.	Ingrid Groiss takes the stewardship of her land seriously. Each Groiss label features a hare, which symbolizes the idea that we all are invaders of a natural habitat, and, as a result, must work carefully with and take responsibility for the land.	Fred Loimer is a pioneer of the wine architecture movement, and constructed a minimalist black cube on a 150-year-old, hand-dug loess cellar in Langenlois – thus adding new spice to the charming local Kellergassen, or cellar streets.

SPECIAL NOTES	This certified 100% organic wine is made with the utmost respect for the Chilean ecosystems where we grow our grapes, from the north to Patagonia, with a sustainable approach to agriculture and aware of climate change.	The Cordillera range of wines is sourced from 9 different valleys spread 930 miles across Chile.	Miguel Torres Chile has brought back long-forgotten grape varieties in Chile such as País, to craft identity-driven wines with a sense of history.	The winery has collaborated with local farmers to revive País through the Viñedos Esperanza de la Costa Association, with 19 small grape producers. The growers mainly cultivate País, along with other grape varieties.	These wines are sourced from old vines and exemplifies Miguel Torres' commitment to honoring Chile's winemaking traditions while introducing these time-honored varieties to contemporary wine enthusiasts.	The grapes come from an 80-year-old vineyard, which contributes to the wine's distinctive character.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> This wine pays homage to Chile's rich viticultural history and the heritage. The history of Manso de Velasco begins with one of the first Cabernet Sauvignon vineyards in Curicó Valley, established in 1902 by an unknown visionary in the Fundo San Francisco area. In 1984, Miguel Torres acquired the vineyard to Renamed Gobernador Manso de Velasco Vineyard in honor of Curicó's founder, it debuted in 1985 as Miguel Torres Chile's first high-end wine, introducing innovative practices like barrel aging in new oak and bottle aging. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Its vineyards origin in Bío Bío Valley are a hundred years old, witnesses to a chapter in history that spans a century. This wine was made in honor of the farmers who dedicated their lives on working this land in the early 19th century. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A non-alcoholic wine with freshness, natural flavor, and lower calories, produced by Miguel Torres Chile. Serena Mode 0.0 Sauvignon Blanc comes from the Central Valley wine region of Chile and is crafted by the family-owned winery with roots in Spain that is well known for its focus on high quality wines, innovation, and sustainability Serena Mode 0.0 Sauvignon Blanc by Miguel Torres Chile retains the wine's structure, offering a more natural alternative to traditional extraction methods. The dealcoholization process is conducted through a 'chemical-free' spinning cone column technique, which is one of the most widely used technologies in the industry. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> VIGNO Carignan from the Maule Valley is the result of Familia Torres's efforts to reintroduce the Carignan variety in 1996. This wine inspired the VINGO project which aims to elevate the perception of the Maule Valley by producing character-driven wines from old vines. A collaborative project that showcases the character of ancient Carignan vines in the Maule Valley. This bold red wine speaks to the winery's commitment to quality and identity, as it is made exclusively from old-vine Carignan cultivated under sustainable practices. Its rich flavor profile and elegant structure showcase how innovation can enhance traditional varietals

SPECIAL NOTES	Over the years, Manso de Velasco has become recognized as one of the premier high-quality Cabernet Sauvignons outside of Maipo Valley. The vines are among the oldest Cabernet Sauvignon vines in the world, over 120 years old.	This wine harnesses the rustic charm of the País variety, creating a wine that honors history while embracing modern techniques. Its innovative approach showcases the versatility of País, producing a vibrant and approachable wine that appeals to a new generation of wine lovers.	It is fresh and ideal to drink chilled or to create mocktails. Serena Mode is created using a simple, chemical-free process, extracting the alcohol while keeping all the aromas and flavor.	To be labeled VIGNO, a wine must come from vines that are at least 30 years old, grown without irrigation, and sourced from Maule's traditional bush-trained vineyards.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Domaine Weinbach was established as a winery in 1612 by Capucin friars. The vineyards around the estate surrounded by ancient walls are called the "Clos Capucins" to this day. • The winery was acquired by the Faller brothers in 1898, who left it to their nephew, Théo Faller, a pioneer in the Alsace wine region. After his death in 1979, his wife Colette, his daughters Catherine and Laurence, and their team continued the family's passion for the great wines of Alsace and its unrelenting commitment to delivering excellence. Since 2016, Catherine has lead the estate winery with her sons, Eddy and Théo. • The winery is considered a reference point for Alsatian wines. • Domaine Weinbach produces two natural wines: MTO Gewurztraminer/Pinot Gris Natural 2019 and RFO, Riesling Furstentum Natural 2019. MTO Gewurztraminer/Pinot Gris Natural is a skin-contact (orange) wine, where MTO stands for "Mâceration Terres du Prince", the French name for Furstentum. Neither wine has sulfite added and fermentation occurs with indigenous yeasts. The vineyards where both wines are produced are undergoing biodynamic conversion.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A first growth Sauternes since 1855, Château Climens has long been called the "Lord of Barsac" due to the incomparable elegance and freshness of its wines. • The estate is completely planted to Sémillon, which is perfectly mated with the extremely chalky limestone soils. It also is located in an ideal location for the development of noble rot. • In 1971, the finesse of Climens wines convinced Lucien Lurton, the owner of several famous classified growths in the Medoc, to purchase the estate. In 1992, his daughter Bérénice Lurton took over the estate. Today the estate is now in the hands of only the sixth family since its origins. Bérénice Lurton, of the fifth family, the Lurons, has transferred the property into the hands of the Moitry family. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Having settled in Saint-Émilion in 1705, the Malet Roquefort family of Domaines Comte de Malet Roquefort has a history in Bordeaux spanning more than three centuries. Founded on the four guiding principles of excellence, elegance, authenticity, and independence, the Malet Roqueforts have passed on their traditions, generation after generation. • Today, Alexandre de Malet Roquefort is at the helm of Domaines Comte de Malet Roquefort. Their estates include: Château La Gaffelière, Château Chapelle d'Aliénor, Château Armens, and Château La Connivence. • The Malet Roqueforts work with Merlot, the principal variety of the region, as well as small amounts of Cabernet Franc, following the tenant that great terroir is expressed through a harmonious balance of soil, vine, and climate. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Petrus is one of the most famous and well-known wineries in the world, producing only one grand vin from 100% Merlot. • The 28.4 acre vineyard of Petrus is situated on the top of the highest elevation on the Pomerol plateau. The location of Petrus allows for natural drainage of the vineyard, which is especially important due to high percentage of iron-rich clay in the soil. • The blue clay subsoils of Petrus are what make the wines of Petrus so special. Petrus is distinctive as its entire vineyard is right on top of the clay, while neighboring vineyards only have a portion of blue clay in their soil.

Spicy notes add to the vintage's complexity, promising excellent aging potential and a refinement. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Jean-Marc Boillot was one of the younger generation in Burgundy who was determined to improve his family's wines. In 1984, after vinifying 13 vintages at the family's domaine, Henri Boillot, Jean-Marc walked out in protest, intent on producing highly concentrated, rich, and ripe wines. • His wines impressed his grandfather, Henri Boillot, who bequest half his vineyard to Jean-Marc. Boillot runs his domaine from his grandfather's house and cellars in the village of Pommard. • Jean-Marc has invested heavily in the Mâconnais region also. • Today, he is joined by his children, Lydie and Benjamin, in the family business. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Domaine Michel Briday was founded in 1976 by Michel and Lucette Briday with 15 acres. Today the domaine is managed by Michel's son and daughter-in-law, Stéphane and Sandrine, and consists of 38 acres spread across the municipalities of Rully, Bouzeron, and Mercurey. • The domaine has forged a reputation for producing Côte Chalonnaise wines with an excellent quality to price ratio. • Their vision of Burgundy wine is simple: The wine is made in the vineyard; Each region is unique and must be respected in order to provide complexity, richness, and minerality. It is in this spirit that minimal intervention is practiced in the vineyard; The health of the grapes must be as perfect as possible to produce balanced wines with explosive fruit; The overall goal is to control the quality of wines offered, whatever the vintage, and to present the best wines. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Carillon family domaine dates back to the 16th century. The winemaking tradition has been passed down from father to son since 1632. • After the death of the renowned Louis Carillon, his sons Jacques and François took over the domaine, with Jacques making the wines and François looking after the vines. 2009 was the last vintage before the brothers decided to separate the domaine. • François farms almost 20 acres of vineyards, located principally in Puligny-Montrachet. His passion has always been in the vineyard, and he strives to provide optimal ingredients for the cellar.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In the hands of the de Courcel family since the 16th century, this prestigious domaine covers 22 acres of vineyards located exclusively in the commune of Pommard. It includes the best Premiers Crus of the village, particularly the Grand Clos des Épenots, monopole of the domaine. • For four centuries, Domaine de Courcel has always produced wines typical of the Pommard appellation: Wines of great structure and finesse unique to the Côte de Beaune. Since Yves Cuilleron was hired in winemaker in 1996, the wines greater reflect the individual terroirs and present a natural balance with a more pronounced structure and an intense aromatic complexity. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The history of Maison Vincent Girardin is relatively recent. In 1980, at the age of 19, Vincent Girardin, the son of a family of winegrowers based in Santenay since the 17th century, decided to strike out on his own and began producing wine from five acres of vines that he had inherited from his parents. • To cope with the growing demand for his wines, he developed an approach that was new in Burgundy: he purchased grapes from producers who shared the same philosophy and the same high standards. • In 2012, Vincent Girardin sold his operation to a longstanding partner of the Maison. Jean-Pierre Nié, President of the Compagnie des Vins d'Autrefois in Beaune, naturally decided to continue with the small team of nine people, who had been faithful to the Maison for many years.

SPECIAL NOTES	Of the short list of producers who star in Pommard, Domaine de Courcel is near the top of the list. The Domaine has been turning out some of the most powerful, densely aromatic wines from a village known for long-lived brooding Pinot Noir.	Vincent Girardin was always an experimenter and his curiosity led him to try all of the techniques of his time. With the help of winemaker Eric Germain, who was brought on to the team in 2003, Vincent discovered that he wanted to do as little intervention as possible with the fruit to create a level of premium Burgundian offerings.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The creation of Domaine Henri Gouges was the culmination of 400 years of family grape farmers, and it is, in many minds, the top domaine in Nuits-Saint-Georges. • While the house style has evolved, the main focus is the better reflection of the terroir in the fruit through organic viticulture. They believe that healthy vines produce quality fruit and thus more expressive terroir-driven wines. • By 2008, the entirety of the vineyards had been converted to organic viticulture, but the domaine emphasizes that the goal is not for certification but simply using viticultural techniques to respect the terroir and the wine. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Alain Gras has been working passionately since 1979 with a great respect for the land. Despite its young age, his domaine has quickly established itself as the standard-bearer for the village of Saint-Romain. • Vinified with care and using traditional methods, the domaine's wines exemplify the character of this terroir, which Alain Gras sums up in three words: fresh, fruity, and elegant. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Since they were first erected by Cistercian monks in 1365, the walls surrounding the Clos des Lambrays have harnessed the harmony of their 8.66 hectares of vines. • In March 2019, Jacques Devauges joined the estate as the General Manager and the Chief Winemaker. • In the heart of the village of Morey-Saint-Denis, Domaine des Lambrays is situated among vine-covered rolling hills where an iconic arched stone gate leads way to 202 ouvrées, or plots of land (8.66 hectares) owned by the Domaine. • Domaine des Lambrays produces rare, elegant, and age worthy wines, according to organic and biodynamic practices in the vineyards, since 2019 and 2020 respectively, and following a meticulous vinification process from start to finish. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This domaine has been in the Liger-Belair family for 250 years. Thibault Liger-Belair took over the reins in 2001 and created Domaine Thibault Liger-Belair. • The different appellations are cultivated and worked in different ways according to their soil and climate. The richness of the terroirs demands that each individual parcel has to be worked uniquely, rather than systematic work as is often done. • Liger-Belair's philosophy is to bring in the grapes to the winery in an impeccable sanitary state and to handle each operation delicately. He aims to infuse instead of extract.

SPECIAL NOTES	Henri Gouges was an immensely important figure in the development of the modern Burgundy trade. By 1933 he was one of the first producers to estate-bottle his wines, and in the 1930s, he was one of the people charged with delineating the crus in Burgundy for the INAO. He also discovered and propagated a white mutation of Pinot Noir to create a new vine, often called "Pinot Gouges".	Alain Gras' picturesque vineyards in Saint-Romain are at the very highest part of the hill, where they slope down into a small valley.	Over the course of the estate's 650-year history, the unity of the Clos has not always been secure. The French Revolution saw the vineyard split across 74 different owners, but its reassembly by the Rodier family in the late 1890s was a defining moment in the Domaine's past.	In 2009, the domaine expanded into Beaujolais, and now a Beaujolais-Villages and several Moulin-à-Vent Cru wines are also produced, uniquely utilizing traditional fermentation versus the normal carbonic maceration employed in the region.

The varied range of climats in which the Mongeards own vineyards results, naturally, in wines of great diversity. • In the words of Robert Parker, Jr: "the style of winemaking seems to extract rich, supple, concentrated fruit from the grapes... The wines always seem to show well young, but age nicely for 10-15 years." 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sophie and Vincent Morey both come from families of wine-growers. • When Vincent took over this share of his father's estate, he had 20 years of experience. • Sophie was the winemaker for her family estate, Ménagier-Belland, in Santenay. According to Sophie, "In my family, the vines pass from mother to daughter." • Vincent and Sophie Morey treat their vineyards as if they were gardens. They believe that good wines start with good grapes and that winemaking is like cooking. The basic ingredients have to be right.

SPECIAL NOTES	Domaine Matrot is one of the oldest-estate bottlers in Burgundy and one of the largest and most important properties in Meursault.	In 1945, Jean Mongeard (current owner Vincent's father), whose mother was a Mugneret, found himself making wine at the age of 16. His father had died five years before, and there was no one left to do the job. Henri Gouges instructed the young Mongeard to personally bottle the wines, rather than sell in barrel, making the domaine one of the first in Burgundy to practice estate bottling.	The Morey family's history in Burgundy dates to at least the 16th century. Thomas and Vincent Morey belong to the 10th generation of the family and are the sons of the famed Bernard Morey. After their father died in 2005, they split the estate in 2006 with their first separate vintages in 2007.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Domaine Ponsot is one of the iconic producers of the village of Morey-Saint-Denis and, indeed, of all of Burgundy. • In 1981, Laurent Ponsot began working at the family domaine. He made many advances including a new sales system, increased distribution, strict non-interventionist farming and winemaking techniques, and state of the art security and authenticity systems to prevent wine counterfeiting. • Today, Rose-Marie Ponsot is the sole director of the family-run estate with its various entities being owned by Laurent, Rose-Marie, Catherine, and Stéphanie Ponsot. • Domaine Ponsot's wines are famous for being extremely long-lived and often only show themselves after a long and ungrateful adolescence, revealing a sensual and elegant being when they reach maturity. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • After 36 years at Domaine Ponsot, Laurent Ponsot decided to step down in 2017 and begin a new wine adventure with his son, Clément. • Laurent is a vintner, either as owner or through a metayage agreement, but also will act as a négociant in his new venture, in line with the historical Great Burgundy Wine Trade. • Laurent's quest for an alliance between history and high technology continues: high technology closures, élevage without sulfur but under neutral gas, intelligent cases that control temperature, the protection of authenticity, futuristic packaging, new conic winemaking vats, and ultra-nano-oxygenation are some of the innovations he is planning at the new domaine. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The history of the domaine dates to the beginning of the 20th century, when Etienne Sauzet inherited and bought several plots of vines in the village of Puligny-Montrachet. • The domaine of Etienne Sauzet is made up of 37 acres distributed between Puligny-Montrachet, Chassagne-Montrachet, and Cormot-le-Grand in the Hautes-Côtes de Beaune. Much of it is in the heart of the prestigious premier cru vineyards of Puligny-Montrachet. • Sauzet wines are superbly finished, fruity, full-bodied, and authoritative examples of white Burgundy. In the words of Robert Parker Jr., "This is one of the most serious estates in Burgundy. The wines are usually among the very best made...They are textbook white Burgundies, brimming with flavor, yet elegant and well-balanced." • After four generations and despite Sauzet's death in 1975, "Sauzet" are still six letters which ring as an homage to Chardonnay.

SPECIAL NOTES	Domaine Ponsot was one of the first domaines to practice estate bottling, starting with the 1932 vintage.	Laurent was instrumental in uncovering the massive wine fraud committed by Rudy Kurniawan and was featured in the documentary about the incident, Sour Grapes . This experience led him to make revolutionary changes to Domaine Ponsot's packaging to prevent future counterfeiting.	The estate was one of the earliest to domaine bottle its wines.

His AOC Chablis is a point of reference for the appellation, while his premier cru wines are Chardonnay with all its complexity and toasty, citrusy flavors in harmony. The wines are characterized by their balance and minerality, with the premiers crus requiring 4-5 years of bottle aging to show at their best.

SPECIAL NOTES	A loyal following among France's most esteemed restaurateurs sharply limits the availability of Dauvissat wines for export. Nonetheless, it is no surprise that they have attracted the praise and attention of critics worldwide.	The domaine has developed a worldwide reputation for fine winemaking in only stainless steel tanks.	For many years, Laurent Tribut's wines were actually made in the Dauvissat cellars, in the same manner and spirit as the now legendary Dauvissat wines.

KEY FACTS

- Located in Saint-Nicolas-de-Bourgueil in the Loire Valley, the Clos des Quarterons is a 92-acre vineyard owned by the Amiraault family for over 180 years. Today the estate is owned and managed by Xavier and his wife, Agnès.
- In the 1960s, Xavier's father purchased a large tuffeau stone quarry at a candle auction and transformed it into the Vau Renou cellar. The wines rest at a constant 55°F in the several hundreds of feet of galleries in the cellars.
- The Amiraault family feels very strongly about protecting the environment so they can make living wines capable of creating the "wow" factor each vintage. The goal of the Amiraault family is to achieve a natural balance across all 53 plots of the estate in order to create unique and living wines.

- The story of Bernier Chardonnay started in 1987, when Bernard Couillaud, his interest piqued by Chardonnay's potential in a maritime climate, planted Chardonnay in a fallow plot in the Muscadet area of the Loire Valley.
- Over the course of three years, 42 acres of Chardonnay were planted, and eventually Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Noir were also added to the line.
- The Bernier wines are produced by the Couillaud family at the Château de la Ragotière, a few minutes from the Atlantic coast near the mouth of the Loire River. The spirit of these wines is to be "fruity, crisp, and mineral".

- The history of Les Frères Couillaud began in 1979 when they purchased Château de la Ragotière, the former home of the noble family Lore de la Ragotière, who settled here in the 14th century.
- The estate's vineyards are located in the eastern portion of Vallet, one of the newly established Muscadet Crus.
- Whereas most Muscadets are left on the lees only a short time, all of the Ragotière wines are bottled sur lie. The wines are not racked after fermentation but are drawn directly off the lees and bottled immediately.

- The Cherrier family has been a proprietor in Sancerre for three generations.
- The domaine owns over 25 acres in and around the village of Amigny. Their holdings represent some of the finest plots of limestone soil (caillottes) in the appellation.

- Located in the heart of the Sancerre region, Domaine Delaporte is a family business that has been passed from father to son since the 17th century. Today, Matthieu Delaporte runs the estate.
- Domaine Delaporte's wines are all made from grapes grown in estate vineyards which today extend to over 80 acres.
- 35% of the vines are planted on flint soil (silex, quite rare in the area) and the other on limestone soil (caillottes and terres blanches).

SPECIAL NOTES

The Maison Amiraault was one of the first buildings in the village and served as the town hall and village school when it was first built. It has appeared on the labels as an emblem of the estate since its founding.

Daniel Haas, wine buyer for Vineyard Brands, became interested in the Bernier project, and in 1990, after having tasted it amongst several others, he was convinced of its potential, and Bernier was introduced to the US market.

Today, part of the original castle moat, the remarkable porch with its antique gates, and the chapel, which has been restored as a tasting room, still remain at the Château de la Ragotière. The cellar is a precious inheritance containing vintages dating back to 1947.

In addition to winemaking, the Cherriers are among the best producers of the famous goat cheese, Crottins de Chavignol.

In 1952, the wine of Gabriel Delaporte (Matthieu Delaporte's great-grandfather) was the first Sancerre imported into the US by Vineyard Brands founder, Robert Haas.

Patient Cottat was a famous "Master Goldsmith" in mid-19th century France. Born in Paris, he loved the Berry region of the central Loire Valley. His legacy is perpetuated through these wines.	The owners' great love for France and the Royal Loire Valley, in particular, can be easily explained. For years, Joost has worked in various parts of France, hence his passion for the country's culture, history, and, of course, its wines. KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Domaine & Maison Les Alexandrins came into being with the collaboration of three figures of the Northern Rhône Valley: Nicolas Jaboulet, sixth generation of a wine growing family in Tain l'Hermitage since 1834; Guillaume Sorrel, son of Marc Sorrel of Domaine Sorrel in Hermitage; and Alexandre Caso, specialist in the terroirs of the Northern Rhône. • In 2014, the desire of Alexandre and Guillaume to promote the Domaine Les Alexandrins wines and Nicolas' ambition to anchor Maison Nicolas Perrin in the heart of the Northern Rhône Valley led the three men to strengthen their cooperation. From 2015, Maison Nicolas Perrin took a majority share in Domaine Les Alexandrins, reflected in the change of name to "Domaine & Maison Les Alexandrins". • Their collaboration made it possible to pursue the dream of Domaine Les Alexandrins – making Northern Rhône wines that embody pure classicism – and at the same time to transform Maison Nicolas Perrin and Maison Les Alexandrins to expand an offer already long acclaimed for its quality across all the appellations of the Northern Rhône.

KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Château de Beaucastel is one of the most renowned wine estates in the world and a reference point producer for wines from Châteauneuf-du-Pape. • Beaucastel is, first of all, a family story, the story of Famille Perrin. The estate has been in the Perrin family since 1909; and Marc, Pierre, Thomas, Cécile, Charles, Matthieu, and César, the fifth generation, carry on the torch with their fathers, Jean-Pierre and François, guiding them. • Famille Perrin's values shine through in the wines of Château de Beaucastel: absolute respect for land and terroir, biodynamic culture as a philosophy of life, and the research of truth, balance, and elegance. • The first evidence of Château de Beaucastel as it exists today is in the 16th century. In 1549, Pierre de Beaucastel bought a "barn with a plot of land extending to 52 saumées at Coudoulet." 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Famille Perrin's cru range of wines enable you to discover the richness of the Southern Rhône Valley and its diverse terroirs. With the same expertise and the same passion as for Château de Beaucastel, the family prides itself in bringing out the true character of each terroir. • The Famille Perrin way makes each wine unique: using organic and biodynamic approaches, mastering the art of blending, and bringing out the freshness of the Southern Rhône aromas. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Jean-Pierre Perrin established La Vieille Ferme over 45 years ago, when he chose to produce an inexpensive, straightforward Rhône wine to sell by direct mail to French wine lovers. He used the same grape varieties in similar proportions to those planted at the family's Château de Beaucastel and employed a similar vinification process. • The Perrin family, also owners of the famous Château de Beaucastel, search for the most suitable terroirs to produce fresh and fruity wines. Unpretentious, they are the archetypal pleasure wines: authentic, honest, and tasty. • La Vieille Ferme has continued its dedication to quality, value, and innovation with the introduction of a new and revolutionary method for producing sparkling wine in 2018, the Méthode Contemporaine.

SPECIAL NOTES	Beaucastel is renowned for utilizing all thirteen of the grapes allowed for production of Châteauneuf-du-Pape.	Famille Perrin are innovators in organic (starting in 1950) and biodynamic (started in 1974) farming and are the leading organic wine growers of the Southern Rhône Valley, where they occupy the region's best terroirs.	Vineyard Brands introduced La Vieille Ferme to the United States in 1970. The response was an immediate, overwhelming acceptance and an outpouring of critical acclaim from eminently knowledgeable critics.

KEY FACTS

- Brothers Denis and Didier cultivate 10 hectares (almost 25 acres) of vines on the southern slopes of the Savoyard in Chignin, located ten kilometers (just over 6 miles) from Chambéry.
- The Berthollier family vineyards in Chignin, Savoie, are highly fragmented, consisting of around thirty plots varying in size from a few acres to one acre.
- The brothers have transitioned the estate, founded in 1850 by their great grandfather, to organic and biodynamic farming and embraced natural winemaking techniques, including vinification without sulfur and the use of amphorae.

This research vineyard, the only one of its kind in northern Portugal, studies different grape varieties' adaptability to specific conditions. The reality of climate change has made this grape variety library more relevant than ever. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Warre's launch of Otima 10- & 20-Year-Old Tawny Ports caused a revolution in Port that introduced a completely new concept to consumers, helping to rejuvenate Port's image in the main markets. • The merit of Otima was to show Port's versatility as an all year round, anytime drink, appealing to both women and men, dispelling many of the myths attached to Port. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Founded in 1670, Warre's is synonymous with the history of port as the first and oldest British port company established in Portugal. • Warre's sources its grapes from the beautiful Quinta da Cavadinha in the Pinhão Valley, as well as Quinta do Retiro, Quinta da Telhada, Quinta do Alvito, and Quinta das Netas. Warre's signature style is floral, fresh and elegant, reflecting the particular characteristics of these higher altitude vineyards. • Warre's pioneering spirit was established by Warre's Warrior, the first and oldest brand of port, which has been shipped continuously since 1750.

SPECIAL NOTES	Altano literally means "lofty", and this expression refers to the wind that blows above the Vilarica Valley between the two mountain walls on the side, the vento altano. This wind is what permits the bigger birds like the owls to soar above the property, looking for food. Since it is a well-preserved area and very untouched (organic viticulture), the Universidade de Trás-os-Montes e Alto Douro signed a protocol with the Symington Family to released rescued birds there, hence the owl on the label.	Quinta do Ataíde was the site of the rebirth of the now-iconic Touriga Nacional grape in the 1970s when Miguel Côte-Real grafted cuttings from pre-World War II vines.	Otima is now widely acknowledged as the most successful new development in the Port trade for over 25 years.	The Warre's name is synonymous with the history of the British in Porto. A Warre served as British Consul in Porto and the famous William Warre fought as an officer in the Peninsular War against Napoleon under the Duke of Wellington, who he also kept supplied with port.

The first vintage was in 1996. • In 2012, Boekenhoutskloof was awarded the title of John Platter's Winery of the Year. • Marc Kent is the owner and driving force behind the farm. Gottfried Mocke works alongside him as the chief winemaker. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Marc Kent has always considered the Hemel-en-Aarde Valley as one of the most exciting places to grow Chardonnay and Pinot Noir in South Africa. • With Cap Maritime, Boekenhoutskloof has created wines that capture the essence of their origin, while at the same time representing a style of wine to which the winery aspires. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Helderberg rises majestically above the sweeping False Bay. Around this mountain, farmers have planted vines for centuries, discovering that its soils and proximity to the ocean are ideal for the cultivation of premium grapes. • The Helderberg Winery was established in 1906, and in that year harvested the first grapes in their new winery on the slopes of the Helderberg. Over the following decades, the winery grew in stature, based on its pedigree of consistently producing excellent red wines, with notably superb Cabernet Sauvignon. • The winery was instrumental in establishing the area's reputation and high regard, and today the Helderberg is widely acknowledged as South Africa's home of fine red wines. • Boekenhoutskloof purchased the property in 2011.

SPECIAL NOTES	The farm's name means "ravine of the Boekenhout" (pronounced Book-n-Howed). The Boekenhout is an indigenous Cape Beech tree greatly prized for furniture making, hence the seven chairs depicted on the label.	The Walker Bay district, surrounding the seaside town of Hermanus, is reputed for the Chardonnay and Pinot Noir wines. KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Boekenhouts Kloof acquired the Porseleinberg farm in the Swartland in 2009, with the aim of ensuring a reliable source of quality grapes – particularly Syrah. This revolutionary long-term project by Marc Kent of Boekenhouts Kloof brought in Callie Louw as the farmer and custodian of this special vineyard. At home on his John Deere tractor, Callie is also the winemaker, producing a richly tannic and yet ethereal wine that is more akin to Cornas or Hermitage. Porseleinberg is the groundbreaking Cape Syrah that exemplifies the essence of terroir-driven, authentic wine. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Marc Kent's The Chocolate Block has become one of the most well-known and iconic South African wines around the world. The style of the wine is a reflection of Boekenhouts Kloof's belief that the Cape, with its Mediterranean climate, is eminently suited to blended reds. The blend of this wine is tweaked from vintage to vintage to best reflect the season and the ancient vines of great character that are an integral part of the wine's charm and personality. 2015 was the first vintage of The Chocolate Block to claim Wine of Origin Swartland with grapes from the Porseleinberg and Goldmine properties. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> This line of wines was created to remind people of the mysteries and legends of days gone by. This line of wines was named for a wolf trap found on the farm, a reminder that the Franschhoek Valley was once far wilder than it is today.

SPECIAL NOTES	The property is named after Anthony's great-great-grandfather Lord Ashbourne, who was Lord Chancellor of Ireland in the late 1800s.	As the pioneer of Burgundian varieties in South Africa, Hamilton Russell's immensely successful wines have set the standard of quality and sophistication for South African wine.	The wines are named after the rare Southern Right whales, which frequent the cool South Atlantic Walker Bay, two miles from the vineyards. SPECIAL NOTES	"Essay" refers to the popular abbreviation for South Africa (SA) as well as implying an assemblage or blending of things to create a whole greater than its parts.	Lievland , directly translated, means "love land", and there are few who come to this farm that aren't charmed by its bucolic beauty. The label depicting Cupid riding a springbok is inspired by the name and a touching scene from when owners José Conde and Tyrrel Myburgh first visited the farm: two horses that had adopted a baby springbok.	The name "MAN" comes from the initials of the founders' wives: M for Marie Conde, A for Anette Myburgh, and N for Nicky Myburgh.	The name Kara-Tara refers to a small town near Knysna, where previous winemaker and initial partner Rüdger van Wyk grew up. Translated from the Khoisan, it means "deep dark shadows" and refers to the Karatara River that runs through the town.	Born in the USA, owner and winemaker José Conde moved to South Africa from Tokyo in 1997 because his wife Marie wanted to live closer to her parents who had bought the Jonkershoek property, Oude Nektar.

	HAMILTON RUSSELL OREGON
ORIGIN	UNITED STATES OREGON
BOTTLE
WINES	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Maple Grove Chardonnay • Zena Crown Pinot Noir
KEY FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In 2020, Anthony and Olive Hamilton celebrated the release of two site-specific Hamilton Russell Oregon Pinot Noirs from the applauded Eola-Amity Hills and Ribbon Ridge appellations. • Building upon their existing international reputation developed over 40 vintages in South Africa, Hamilton Russell Oregon aims to express the restrained classicism of great Old World pinot noir and the bright purity of Oregon fruit coming from the best sites in the Willamette Valley. • Olive sees this Oregon project as a great learning opportunity which should ultimately inform the quality and styling of all their wines..
GREEN PRACTICES
SPECIAL NOTES	The celebrated Zena Crown vineyard in the Eola-Amity Hills, delivers a dark spice and tensile, fine-grained tannin structure to balance the complex lifted fruit that Oregon Pinot Noir is best known for, while the Bramble Hill vineyard in Ribbon Ridge offers a particularly bright, pure, lively minerality to complement the exquisite and multidimensional fruit quality.

NOTES

"In a world increasingly dominated by vast sums of capital and multinational firms it is difficult for a small wine importer to survive unless that company has considerable expertise and an unwavering commitment to quality rather than quantity [...] Imported by 'Vineyard Brands' is as close to a guarantee of quality as the consumer can expect."

WINE ADVOCATE

"Today Vineyard Brands represents reference point producers in just about every top wine region in the world[...]both the breadth and quality of the portfolio is incredible. If you haven't heard of Vineyard Brands, now's a good time."
