At sixty acres, our organic elderflower plantation is the largest in the UK – a genuine labour of love for our farm manager, Keith, as elderflower is surprisingly tricky to grow! Soda Folk was founded in 2012 by Ken Graham, an American who moved to the United Kingdom and missed the taste of authentic American sodas. He decided to create his own line of craft sodas to bring a taste of America to the UK market. Soda Folk's mission is to provide customers with refreshing and delicious drinks made with real ingredients and without artificial flavors or preservatives.

One of the standout features of Soda Folk is its dedication to using natural ingredients. The brand carefully selects the finest ingredients, such as real cane sugar, natural fruit extracts, and botanicals, to create their distinct flavors. They strive to offer a premium alternative to mainstream sodas that often contain artificial additives.

FENTIMANS

Fentimans was founded in 1905 by Thomas Fentiman in Cleckheaton, West Yorkshire, England.

The story behind Fentimans begins with Thomas Fentiman, an ironworker by trade. He was approached by a fellow tradesman who owed him a significant sum of money. Instead of repaying the debt, the tradesman offered a unique recipe for a botanical brew as collateral. Thomas Fentiman accepted the recipe and began brewing the beverage in his family kitchen.

Fentiman's original creation, which he called "Fentimans Ginger Beer," quickly gained popularity among the local community. Thomas started selling his ginger beer door-to-door.

Over time, Fentimans expanded its product line to include a variety of other soft drinks, all made with natural ingredients and botanical extracts. These drinks are known for their complex flavors and refreshing taste. Fentimans has remained committed to using traditional brewing methods and has a reputation for producing beverages of exceptional quality.

TONIC & SODA

FENTIMANS

Fentimans was founded in 1905 by Thomas Fentiman in Cleckheaton, West Yorkshire, England.

The story behind Fentimans begins with Thomas Fentiman, an ironworker by trade. He was approached by a fellow tradesman who owed him a significant sum of money. Instead of repaying the debt, the tradesman offered a unique recipe for a botanical brew as collateral. Thomas Fentiman accepted the recipe and began brewing the beverage in his family kitchen.

Fentiman's original creation, which he called "Fentimans Ginger Beer," quickly gained popularity among the local community. Thomas started selling his ginger beer door-to-door.

In addition to its renowned ginger beer, Fentimans has extended its expertise to include a standout selection of tonics, with a particular emphasis on quality and taste. Among its signature offerings are meticulously crafted tonic water and slimline tonic, each embodying the brand's commitment to using natural ingredients and botanical extracts. Fentimans' tonics are celebrated for their distinctive and complex flavors, providing a refreshing accompaniment to various spirits. The brand's dedication to traditional brewing methods ensures that its tonics uphold the same exceptional quality that has defined Fentimans throughout its storied history.

ARTISAN DRINKS CO

WHY BLEND IN WHEN YOU CAN STAND OUT ...

Steve Cooper, Alan Walsh and Mikey Enright - the drinks entrepreneur, the artist and the award-winning bar owner in Sydney - brought all their skills to the table to set up The Artisan Drinks Company, creating a vibrant and exciting drinks brand with standout appeal. All three had one thing in common, a desire to do things differently. This led to the Artisan ethos of "Why blend in when you can stand out..."

For us, the growth in interest in craft spirits stimulated our imaginations - what if we could produce the perfect range of mixers that would complement the spirit, add an exciting dimension to cocktails and can also be equally delicious on their own?

FEVER - TREE

It all began in 2003 with a meeting of minds and one simple premise: if three quarters of your G&T is the tonic, wouldn't you want it to be the best?

Co-founders Charles and Tim, working in different parts of the drinks business, had both spotted that premium spirits were growing quickly, fuelled by consumers' increasing awareness of the provenance of what they ate and drank.

However, this growing interest in premium food and drink had seemed to neglect mixers, a crucial element of the drinks industry that remained flat. It struck them both as extraordinary that people were paying a good deal of money for a high-quality spirit, yet had no choice but to drown it with a poor-quality mixer.

From the very beginning, Charles and Tim approached their business in a different way - there would be no compromise at Fever-Tree. Flavour and quality were of the utmost importance. This mindset led them on an 18-month adventure from the archives of the British Library to facing the wrong end of a Kalashnikov in the Democratic Republic of Congo and concluded with the launch of our Premium Indian Tonic Water in 2005, with the belief we still operate by today...

SCHWEPPES

Schweppes has a storied history that traces back to 1783 when Johann Jacob Schweppe, a German-born watchmaker and scientist, founded the company in Geneva, Switzerland.

Schweppe's invention of a portable method for producing carbonated water paved the way for the commercial production of sparkling water.

In the early 1790s, the company expanded to London, and by the 19th century, Schweppes had become a renowned brand, producing various carbonated beverages such as tonic water and ginger ale. It received a Royal Warrant from King George III in 1836, solidifying its reputation as a beverage supplier to the British Royal Household.
