Wholesale Farm & Greenhouses

ANNUALS 2025

Welcome to 2025

We are excited for another season ahead of us and are looking forward to delivering all of the beautiful plant material for your clients.

We have had a busy winter here at Linwyck Gardens. We added more growing space that will allow us to continue producing the top quality plant material you need.

This season we are trialing a few new varieties and colors that we are excited about. We have a few new color options for cascading petunias that will be bright and beautiful in the landscape. We have also added some new tropical flowers to our offerings including the Flordenia. The Flordenia will provide you with the flower power of a Dipladenia and the climbing characteristics of the Mandevilla.

We are excited to see all of you this Spring. We would like to thank you for your continued support and patronage. We appreciate every order and visit to our facility. We strive to provide you with the best personalized service and meet all of your plant needs. We hope that choosing Linwyck Gardens is the easiest part of your process, and that 2025 is a successful season for all of us!

Have a great season!

A photograph of a dense forest of tall, thin evergreen trees, likely spruce or fir, with a dirt path leading through them. The trees are covered in green needles and have thin brown trunks. The path is made of reddish-brown soil and is partially covered by green grass and small plants. The text "Trees & Shrubby" is overlaid on the image in a stylized, handwritten font. "Trees" is in teal with a black outline, and "& Shrubby" is in yellow with a black outline.

The background of the image is a dense field of plants with long, narrow leaves. The leaves are primarily green but have prominent purple or reddish-brown variegation along their edges and midribs. The plants are growing in rows, and the background is slightly blurred, suggesting a garden or field setting. The lighting is bright, creating some highlights on the leaves.
