LENTUS

Entering the U.S. Market?

Manufacturers partner with Lentus to enter or grow in North America without building internal sales, logistics, or support teams. We provide a turnkey path to market with active sales management and established distribution.

DISTRIBUTION NETWORK

Access to established distribution networks.

EXPERIENCED SALES TEAM

Our team has industry knowledge and connections to get to decision-makers in order to get your products into distribution.

- Reps and buying groups create demand
- Regional Sales Managers drive strategy and consistency
- Inside sales converts activity into orders and supports distributors
- Sales efforts are tracked and opportunities are prioritized

U.S. BASED TEAM

Prepared to service customers with a trained staff who understand the U.S. language and business customs.

LOGISTICS

With headquarters centrally located in Kentucky, we can easily fulfill orders large and small across North America.

RECEIVABLES

Track outstanding invoices and payment terms, while managing financial overhead during payment cycles.

COMPETITIVE ANALYSIS

Understanding competition in the U.S. to help with setting price points, marketing strategy, and more.

FREIGHT RELATIONSHIPS

Developed and maintained freight relationships to have competitive shipping costs and reliable delivery.

MARKETING

Generating interest, educating customers, and strengthening market awareness to move products from distribution to the end user.

- Marketing material
- Digital campaigns
- Consistent messaging
