TUESDAY 31ST MARCH

VASANTA VIHAR, KRISHNAMURTI FOUNDATION INDIA,

124 GREENWAYS ROAD, RA PURAM, CHENNAI - 28

Madras Management Association (MMA), in association with Krishnamurti Foundation India, presents a monthly dialogue series on the theme “Leading with Awareness: A dialogue series in the light of Krishnamurti’s timeless Insights”.

This dialogue series is thoughtfully designed for any human being including leaders, senior executives, professionals, academicians, and management students seeking deeper clarity and responsible direction in an increasingly complex and uncertain world.

Drawing upon the timeless insights of Jiddu Krishnamurti, the series explores fundamental questions of life — freedom and responsibility, fear and decision-making, authority and power, conflict and relationship, intelligence and learning, and right action in times of rapid change.

Rather than offering techniques, formulas, or prescriptive management frameworks, the series creates a space for dialogue, inquiry, and reflective engagement. Participants are invited to observe how conditioning, fear, ambition, and insecurity influence individual behaviour and surrounding culture. Through facilitated conversations, the programme encourages attentive listening, clarity of perception, and action rooted in intelligence.

In an era marked by ethical dilemmas, sustainability challenges, and shifting human expectations, this dialogue series seeks to nurture leaders who act not merely from position or authority, but from awareness, responsibility, and inner understanding — where inner clarity shapes responsible human beings.

“WHICH COMES FIRST: ORGANISATION OR THE INDIVIDUAL?”

SYNOPSIS

Leading with Awareness is a monthly dialogue series hosted at Vasanta Vihar, Krishnamurti Foundation India (KFI), in collaboration with the Madras Management Association (MMA).

The programme begins with an opening talk by Vishwanath Alluri, Secretary of KFI, followed by a curated video (15 minutes) screening of J. Krishnamurti on the theme of “Individual and Organisation”. The screening is then followed by an interactive dialogue among participants, inviting reflection on the insights of Krishnaji.
