Getting Started

Once you have an understanding of the expectations and layout of the 2027 FSF Case Study, use the resources provided in this section to get started with your own case study concept.

Introducing the 2027 Case Study Theme

Unlocking Hidden Potential: Identifying High Value Consumer Groups

The fashion experience is rapidly changing. According to the State of Fashion 2025, “a new era of brand and product discovery is on the horizon.” Industry-wide, both major fashion brands and emerging micro-brands are evolving to be ever-present, meeting consumers wherever they are, at each moment of the day. This change is helping consumers to find brands that fit their unique lifestyles. Yet, the plethora of choice and availability in fashion commingles with a critical challenge; “fashion shoppers are overwhelmed with choice, which negatively impacts their engagement and conversion rates with brands.” While consumers are demanding more utility from each brand experience, they are also exhausted. As a result, many consumers feel they are overlooked and underserved, with their needs not being focused on by brands. As brands seek to build deeper connections to consumers, understanding the needs and wants of unique consumer groups is critical to establishing brand staying power (Napoli & Rees, 2025).

In the 2027 Fashion Scholarship Fund Case Study, you will explore how a fashion brand or retailer of your choice can unlock hidden potential and build a connection with the unmet, overlooked, and underserved needs of a specific, unique consumer group that has the potential to be highly valuable to the brand. You will identify and define the specific consumer group, proposing an opportunity for the chosen brand or retailer to meet the demands of their lifestyles. Your consumer group may be aligned by factors such as generation, region, lifestyle, or hobbies. Further, they are likely to be affected by shifting societal and cultural priorities, generational or intergenerational trends, emergent communities, and/or shifting manners of living. The consumer group you select can be a small microcosm or a large entity.

You must demonstrate how the identified consumer has been hidden, overlooked, or underserved and why the consumer group presents high value to the brand going forward. The identified consumer cohort must logically align with the priorities of your selected fashion brand or retailer. The consumer group must also benefit from the brand serving them in an intentional manner. Given the diversity of consumers within the United States, your case study must focus on a consumer group within the USA. However, your selected brand may be based in the USA or another country.

You will need to bring this theme to life in the case study you present.

GENERAL GUIDELINES

Topic Selection

You will develop a case study exploring the current challenges and future opportunities for an existing fashion brand or retailer as they relate to high value consumers. The following guidelines will support your selection of a suitable fashion brand/retailer and how your ideas are presented in a creative and professional format.

Brand & Retailer Selection

1. Fashion or related industry. The fashion brand/retailer that you choose must be a fashion apparel, accessories, footwear, home, beauty, or health & wellness brand.
2. USA-based consumer. Given the diversity of consumers within the United States, your case study must focus on a consumer group within the USA. However, your selected brand may be based in the USA or another country.
3. Generally well-known. The brand/retailer(s) that you select should be generally well-known. Given the diversity of consumers within the United States, your case study must focus on a consumer group within the USA. However, your selected brand may be based in the USA or another country.
4. Publicly traded. It is suggested (but not required) that you choose a company that is publicly traded so that information regarding the company is easily accessible.
5. For Business Strategy Applicants:
Alix Partners Consumer Sentiment Index. While it is not required, it is suggested that you select one of the brands/retailers highlighted in the Alix Partners Consumer Sentiment Index for Fashion, Beauty, or Home (available in the 'Resources' section). These reports provide insights to what is driving brand performance and consumer desire, allowing you to maximize your insights and knowledge as a foundation for your case study.

Case Study Slide Deck

Case studies must be submitted as slide decks in landscape orientation, with slides sized for on-screen show 4:3 or 16:9 display (approximately 10" x 7.5"). Files can be created in any software of the applicant's choosing, such as PowerPoint, Keynote, Adobe InDesign, or Adobe Illustrator. However, all cases must be submitted in a flat PDF format without video or sound.

Format Your Way

Your case study must be presented as a slide deck, however, there are no specific requirements regarding visual design or text format. You are encouraged to utilize visuals throughout your presentation. It is advisable to not overload each slide with information, and to keep your presentation concise and to the point: each slide should take no more than 1-2 minutes to absorb by the reader.

References

All references should be included within a references/ bibliography page at the end of your slide deck or annotated in footnotes visible within the slide. Do not use hyperlinks in a footnote as the content cannot be accessed once the case study is uploaded.

Stick to the Page Length

The slide deck should be 18-22-pages in length including title, body, appendices, and references. A breakdown guide is provided alongside each section to help you determine the cadence of information. However, it is your responsibility to ensure you do not exceed the maximum allowed slides. Do not exceed the page limit. Ensure your content connects from section to section to tell the story you are trying to convey. This is the first time judges will be exposed to your case study, and they should be able to fully interpret your intended plans.

Exclude Your Name and School

Your name should NOT be included in your case study. Do not include your name or college/university affiliation on the title page or anywhere in the case study as the review process is anonymous. However, your name will be included on other required documents including your resume and unofficial transcript; those documents are not a part of the case study judging process.

Proofread

Be sure to proofread your case study. Points will be deducted for not following format directions, as well as for grammar and spelling errors.

AI Disclosure

You may use AI programs (e.g. ChatGPT) for brainstorming and help in generating ideas. However, note that the material generated by these programs may be inaccurate, incomplete, or otherwise problematic. You may not submit any work generated by an AI program as your own. If you include material generated by an AI program, it should be properly cited like any other reference material.

MARKETING GENERATE LIFESTYLE APPEAL

@acnestudios

Objective: Establish a 1-year (or longer) strategic marketing plan that addresses the unique lifestyle needs of an expanding consumer group through diverse engagement tactics.

Your Role: Director of Marketing

You are the Director of Marketing for an existing brand or retailer of your choice. It is your responsibility to develop engagement strategies that reach consumers throughout the marketing funnel, from identifying new customers and engaging loyal customers. Your marketing tactics must communicate brand actions, goals, and values. It is also your responsibility to use analytics to assess the effectiveness of marketing activities and track engagement of key consumer groups. Your overarching goal is to drive return on investment (ROI) through customer engagement strategies that result in customer acquisition and retention.

Expanded Objective Explanation

Your objective is to create a strategic marketing plan for an existing fashion brand or retailer to engage a unique and expanding consumer, addressing their specific lifestyle traits. When identifying your target consumer, common characteristics of the target cohort should be outlined. Your consumer group should be an existing or expanded consumer group of your selected brand/retailer. Your intention is to utilize specific marketing tactics to create an emotional bond with the selected audience. Thus, it's important to be mindful of your chosen consumer's lifestyle, perceptions, and priorities, aligning them with brand activities and marketing goals. Your strategic marketing plan should solve for a friction point, adding value for consumers and the brand.

As an example of a brand connecting with a specific consumer group through strategic marketing, LL Bean recognized a shift in their core consumer cohort to be aligned by lifestyle and interest across multiple generations. Their intergenerational consumer is drawn to the heritage and quality of LL Bean legacy products, while also valuing personalization and unique, customized product appeal. Within the LL Bean marketing strategy, they embraced viral trends and added in-store experiences to draw consumers into the LL Bean brand experience, embracing their classic Boat and Tote, lovingly dubbed the 'Boatkin'. The consumer-centric marketing strategy drove an almost 15% increase in foot traffic to its retail stores in 2025 (Lafontaine, 2025).
