

THE TIPSIAN BIWEEKLY

The last two weeks in our KG campus was filled with vibrant experiences and joyful moments . From celebrating cherished cultural traditions to exploring new learning environments, our young learners have been engaged in activities that not only educate but also enrich them.

Grandparents' Day: A Heartwarming Celebration

Our Grandparents' Day celebration was nothing short of spectacular. The event provided a unique opportunity for our beloved grandparents to relive their younger days, participating in a variety of competitions that brought out their youthful spirit and enthusiasm. The joy on their faces as they engaged in activities with their grandchildren was truly heartwarming.

One of the highlights of the day was the modern version of Tholu Bommalattam, a traditional shadow puppet show. This year, we showcased "The Kingdom of Bondapalli," a story that captivated both young and old alike. Our grandparents were particularly eager to witness this timeless art form, reminiscing about the cultural richness of their own childhood. It was a day filled with Bondas, nostalgia, and the beautiful bond between generations.

Krishna Jayanthi: A Divine Celebration

The celebration of Krishna Jayanthi was a magical experience for our little ones. The children came dressed as Radha and Krishna, embodying the spirit of this divine festival. The highlight of the day was the retelling of Krishna's birth story, which captivated the little ones.

The children were also delighted to participate in traditional activities such as making Baby Krishna's foot prints in rice paste, butter churning, Uriyadi ; a fun and educational way to connect with the stories of Krishna's playful childhood. It was wonderful to see our students so immersed in the festivities.

Field Trip: Outbound Learning at Radisson Park Plaza

Our KG 2 learners recently embarked on a field trip to the Radisson Park Plaza Hotel, where they had the opportunity to engage in hands-on learning experiences. The visit was designed to help them understand their five senses . The children used their senses of touch, smell, and taste to create delicious sandwiches. Our Gratitude to Radisson Park Plaza management for hosting this session.

As always, we are committed to providing our students with enriching experiences that foster their overall development. We look forward to many more such events that celebrate learning, culture, and the joy of childhood.

Nature Based Engagements

Nature-based engagement is a holistic approach to learning that involves connecting children with nature through hands-on experiences. Exposure to nature enables them to face real-world challenges, making them more flexible and adaptable.

Nature offers endless opportunities for our young learners by encouraging exploration, sparking their curiosity and enhancing critical thinking. Through observation, experimentation, and hands-on experiences, they naturally engage in learning, developing a deeper understanding of the world around them. This approach helps children to enhance their problem-solving and decision-making skills. Nature has a profound calming effect on the mind and body, significantly reducing stress and anxiety.

Early exposure to nature helps children develop a lifelong appreciation for the environment. As children learn to respect and care for the natural world, they develop a strong sense of responsibility for protecting the planet.

Natural environments provide open-ended materials like sticks, stones, and leaves, that inspire imaginative and creative play. These natural resources encourage our children to invent their games, stories, and even art with natural materials, fostering creativity and socio-emotional skills.

Integrating nature-based engagements into our kindergarteners' educational programs can greatly boost overall well-being and development, laying a solid foundation for their future growth and success.

KG 2 - Parent Involvement Program

Dr. Lakshmi Dorai, Parent of Amulya (KG2 A), captivated our children with an enlightening presentation on the five senses. Her expert talk not only delved into the do's and don'ts of senses for KG students but also ignited curiosity, fostered creativity, and nurtured scientific thinking. This engaging session aimed to develop their observation and critical thinking skills.

Value of the Month - Trust

Trust is the belief that someone or something can be relied upon to do what they say they will. It is a key element of social relationships and the foundation of cooperation. Emphasising the importance of trust among our young learners helps them to develop affection and a sense of security, essential for cultivating collaboration and a strong workplace culture.

Colour Sorting - Fine Motor Activity

Engaging toddlers in coin colour sorting activities offers significant developmental benefits. These activities enhance hand-eye coordination as children match and place coins into corresponding colours. Moreover, they help strengthen fine motor skills, which are crucial for writing and other precise tasks. Additionally, they improve colour recognition, enabling toddlers to differentiate between colours.

Math - Cards and Counters

The activity Cards and Counters is a captivating feature of the Math area in a Montessori classroom. This early Math activity is designed to introduce children to odd and even numbers, enabling them to practice counting and grasp the connection between concrete quantities and numerical symbols. It enhances their auditory perception and provides valuable practice in working with loose amounts and numbers.

UOI : Theme - Who we are

During our exploration of the sense of touch, students walked along a specially designed tactile path. This interactive experience included various textures such as sand, a hard land surface, grass, and stone. By relying solely on their sense of touch, students developed a deeper understanding of different sensations like hardness, roughness, bumpiness, softness, and prickliness. Following this, they were involved in a hands-on activity in which they touched various things and objects to understand the textures they explored.
