the Transgender Resource Guide of Mississippi

The Transgender Resource Guide of Mississippi

is a directory of Mississippi service providers and entities who openly and affirmingly serve transgender and gender non-conforming people, in the areas of primary healthcare, gender transition, HIV care, mental health, legal service, advocacy, general support and more.

Disclaimer: This guide is not medical or legal advice.

A Letter From Our Director

Coming out as transgender or gender non-conforming (TGNC) isn't easy, especially in a state like Mississippi. If or when you do, the last thing you want to worry about is how to find and receive life-necessary services.

This guide was developed by TGNC Mississippians, many whom had no one to turn to for services or guidance on their journey. We aim to ensure that others do not have to face similar challenges. This guide follows years of TGNC Mississippians working to educate, earn allies and expand resources and services in our state. No, Mississippi is not where it needs to be, but we have come a long way in short time.

We will continue to work diligently, so that necessary services are not scarce and/or inaccessible and so that every need of every TGNC Mississippian is met. As we do, regular updates to this guide will be made. We hope this guide helps transgender and gender non-conforming people of Mississippi access the services they need to survive and to thrive. You are worthy, you are loved and we will never stop fighting for you.

In Unity,
Jensen Luke Matar (He, Him, His)
