Nearly 400 registrants from across the Midwest took part in the festival in 2025 with hundreds more who enjoyed the Keynote speech from Julie Zickefoose or took part in the festivals' free talks and events.

Proceeds from the Headlands Birding Festival benefit the Friends of Headlands Beach State Park which uses funds for projects such as handicap-accessible mats for the beach, beach cleanup efforts and preservation of the dunes and wetlands at the park which are critical habitats for birds.

The Headlands Birding Festival is expanding in 2026 with evening activities and new bird walks at Holden Arboretum, new Lake Metroparks parks and additional City of Mentor parks. Hidden Histories of Lake County

As America marks 250 years, discover the people, places, and stories that shaped our county and the nation.

Written by: Dan Maxson

America 250 is a nationwide initiative that began many years back and continues through 2033. While the main focus is celebrating America's 250th birthday this year and sharing the rich American Revolutionary War events leading up to our nation's birth, it is also meant to be a time to celebrate the unique fabric of America – the histories of our own local counties and communities.

While it is a fact that Ohio was granted statehood in 1803, and 1840 marked the addition of Lake County to the state roles, it was the 88 American Revolutionary War Patriots who settled in our county that bear retelling. These stories became the foundation of our early American history, and their contributions transformed an emerging nation agriculturally, academically, industrially and culturally. What follows are some of our county's hidden gems and historical roads less traveled.

Lake County is Ohio's smallest county with the most state history. With 27 historical markers countywide, one can visit each location in 2026. Not to be missed are markers 7-43 Hugh Mosher and 16-43, Henry Kelsey Deverieux. They were the young boys chosen to portray the Fifer and Drummer in Archibald Willard's famous painting Spirit of '76. A second copy of that painting is on display at Wickliffe City Hall. Marker 27-43 shares the story of Indian Point and the Native Americans who lived on the Grand River. Marker 24-43 tells the history of opulence and Cleveland's Gilded Age with the Coulby Mansion while marker 11-43 relates the history of noted Ohio educator Thomas A. Harvey.

Hugh Mosher and the "Spirit of '76"

The City of Painesville, our county seat, has a walkable history for everyone. Whether you follow the 'hitching post' map, visit the former Federal Reserve Bank with its treasury vault and National Bank site at 105 Main Street, or view the historic homes along Mentor Avenue, Wood or Bank Streets there is much to learn. Historical marker 12-43 is the Casement House where the history of Francis Jennings and her husband Jack Casement encompass the American History chapters of the Civil War, transcontinental railroad and earliest suffrage movement. Additionally, the county suffragette movement is clearly examined on the Lake Erie College campus with a dedicated walkway in front of College Hall. One can examine the stories and contributions that Jennings, Elizabeth Cody Stanton and Susan B. Anthony made to our county. Madison Township is the site of the Abraham Tappan home. Tappan was a surveyor, Western Reserve land agent, educator and judge. Also located nearby are the Connecticut Land Company Office and the well-known Unionville Tavern. With more than 39 properties, Lake Metroparks offers many opportunities to binge walk county footprints in time. Beatty Landing and Big Creek at Liberty Hollow are pivotal stories in county Underground Railroad history. The Lake Erie Bluffs and the former Parmly House located in Perry was home to perhaps the greatest family of early dentists. Gildersleeve Mountain and the quarries of Chapin Forest in Kirtland echo the pioneer settler histories and stories of the Mormon migration of 1831–1836.

Three old schoolhouses, the 1840 Old Stone School in Concord Township, the 1894 Schoolhouse in Kirtland and the 1901 Red Schoolhouse in Willoughby provide a glimpse into public education in its infancy. Transportation history can be experienced at the Painesville Railroad Depot, through the Vulcan Car Company exhibit at the Lake County History Center or the important county aviatrix stories of Margaret Hurlburt, Patricia J. Hange, Gretchen Reed and Connie Luhta. Two Frank Lloyd Wright homes are located in Lake County. They are the 1950 Karl Staley home located in North Madison and the 1952 Louis Penfield House in Willoughby Hills that includes the recently completed River Rock site. Elsewhere, 54 buildings comprise the Mentor Avenue Historic District and depict every important architectural style of the day.

As America celebrates its semiquincentennial year, it is fair to say the events leading up to and including the Revolutionary War Era spanned north to Quebec City, south to Spanish-held territories on our southern coast, west into French held lands and into the Ohio territory. The patriots who moved to our future state contributed to the "heart of it all" then and to this day. Your challenge for 2026 is to tour Lake County, its many backroads, contributions to Ohio's history and America's past and all the hidden gems and stories along the way...and it is always a one tank trip!

What Is America 250?

America 250 is a nationwide commemoration marking the 250th anniversary of the United States. The initiative encourages communities across the country to reflect on the people, places, and events that shaped the nation leading up to its founding and beyond.

While the semiquincentennial celebrates America's 250th birthday, the observance spans several years, giving states and local communities time to share their own stories. These local histories help illustrate how the ideals of the Revolutionary era reached far beyond the original colonies.

America 250 invites visitors and residents alike to explore Lake County's historical markers, preserved sites, and hidden stories that connect local history to the nation's past.

The Tea

Local tips you won't find on Chat GPT

From hidden favorites to can't-miss stops, Lake County locals share the insider knowledge that makes a visit even better!

Matt

Founder & Winemaker of M Cellars

What's the first place you take out-of-town guests when they visit Lake County?

I'm a foodie and we have our favorite spots such as Pranzo and of course our business M Cellars just outside Lake County.

Describe your perfect day in Lake County.

Spend the day on Lake Erie and dinner at one of our fave Downtown Willoughby restaurants.

What's something you always recommend to first-timers?

Go check out our wine region, the Grand River Valley! M Cellars and yes, I'm biased.

Where do you go when you need to relax or recharge?

I love going to hit one of Lake County's beautiful golf courses or spend some time on Lake Erie in the summer or Chapin Forest in the winter.

What makes Lake County special to you?

It's been a great community to raise our young family in.

Sophia

Marketing and Events Manager, WWLCC of Commerce

What's the first place you take out-of-town guests when they visit Lake County?

I love taking out-of-town kids to Lake Farmpark for a unique and unforgettable experience that is both educational and hands on. Where else can someone learn how to milk a dairy cow, shear a sheep, and get a wagon ride from a 2,000 lb draft horse? Out-of-town adults always enjoy spending an afternoon sampling spirits at one of the many wineries and distilleries throughout the Grand River Valley.

Describe your perfect day in Lake County

My perfect day in Lake County would begin with a beachside hike at Lake Erie Bluffs or the Mentor Lagoons Nature Preserve with my adventurous beagle mix, Gatsby. While he diligently sniffs every blade of grass, I enjoy keeping my eyes peeled for snakes basking on the sunny pathways and birds fluttering in the canopy above. In the afternoon, I would take my trusty horse, Zephyr, for a scenic trail ride at the Girdled Road Reservation to watch a breathtaking sunset. As an avid equestrian, I appreciate that there are so many local opportunities for horseback riders.

What's a Lake County event or tradition you look forward to every year?

A Lake County tradition I look forward to every year is the Rabbit Run Theater summer series. I can always count on a thoughtful, entertaining performance by a passionate cast and crew at "the barn." Enjoying a staple Dairy Queen dilly bar under the whimsical magnolia trees at intermission has become a special highlight of the evening.

What's a local business or hidden gem that deserves more love?

A hidden Lake County gem is the Mentor Rocks summer concert series! Locals can enjoy free concerts funded completely through private sponsorships at the Mentor Civic Amphitheater every Tuesday evening throughout the summer. National acts have included LeAnn Rimes, Parmalee, Soul Asylum, and more!

Chris

President, Lake County NAACP

What's a local business or hidden gem that deserves more love?

I must say Flavor Around the Square — they have excellent, and I mean excellent, Western omelettes. The food is fresh, the atmosphere is welcoming, and the owner is one of the friendliest and most community-minded people you'll meet. It's the kind of place that feels like home the moment you walk in.

What's a Lake County event or tradition you look forward to every year?

Every year, I look forward to the Lake County NAACP Freedom Fund Scholarship Banquet. It's our biggest fundraiser and one of the most inspiring events of the year. The funds we raise go directly toward helping our youth further their education. It's powerful to see the community come together to invest in the next generation.

What makes Lake County special to you?

What makes Lake County special is the unity we share. It may not always be perfect, but the good here always outweighs the bad. The people are caring, resilient, and committed to making our community stronger — and that's what makes Lake County home.

What's a local tradition that brings the community together?

Every year, I look forward to the friendly competition between the Lake County clergy and Lake County law enforcement teams. For the past four years, Lt. Toby Burgett has helped bring the community together through a series of events including basketball, chess, softball, and bowling matchups. It's a great time of fun, fellowship, and community connection, and I always enjoy working with Lt. Burgett, who brings great spirit and energy to the event.

Justin

Co-chair of the Fairport Harbor Arts & Culture Alliance

Describe your perfect day in Lake County

Lake County is overflowing with nature, local businesses, and great events, so my perfect day would be full of variety. I'd start in Kirtland at Penitentiary Glen, part of Lake Metroparks, with a ride on the Lake Shore Live Steamers — miniature trains that are just as fun for adults as they are for kids. Afterward, I'd stop by the Wildlife Center, hike through the gorge, or let the kids explore the natural play area.

All that activity calls for lunch at Scooter's Dawg House in Mentor. They're famous for their massive portions of fresh-cut fries — a size small easily feeds a family of four! My go-to order is the bacon cheese dawg, a footlong hot dog smothered in cheese and bacon bits

To walk it off, Fairport Harbor is the next stop. I'd explore the local shops, play a round of mini golf, and climb the steps of the Fairport Harbor Lighthouse for an amazing view. Then it's time for some fun with Harbor Carts — renting a street-legal golf cart with Bluetooth speakers to cruise around town, stopping by the river to see the fisherman, checking out the marinas and freighters, and playing a quick game of volleyball on the beach.

Dinner would be at Sunset at the Harbor, where the pier stretches into Lake Erie and you can watch boats and jet skis go by. Their walleye sandwich with homemade tartar sauce is a must-try. I'd end the night at The Lyric Bistro and Events Center, catching live music — whether it's jazz, open mic, or a local band — in their warm and welcoming atmosphere.

Where do you go when you need to relax or recharge?

For me, it's always the water. As a Fairport Harbor resident, Fairport Harbor Lakefront Park is the ultimate recharge spot. The shallow water is perfect for kids, the clean sand is great for lounging, and the smell of charcoal grills instantly puts you in summer mode. The park has everything — lifeguards, concessions, kayak and paddleboard rentals, volleyball, picnic shelters, and it's framed by two iconic lighthouses. On the right weekend, you'll even catch a free concert or event happening next door.

What's a Lake County event or tradition you look forward to every year?

Harboritaville is hands down my favorite. It's the final show of Fairport Harbor's free summer concert series, held right around Labor Day, and it's a full Jimmy Buffett tribute party. You'll find live trop rock bands, limbo and costume contests, food trucks, vendors, and, of course, frozen margaritas. It's the perfect way to wrap up summer with family and friends by the beach.

Not Your Typical Winery Stop

An interactive, self-pour stop bringing something new to the Grand River Valley.

The Grand River Valley has long been known for its scenic wineries and relaxed tasting rooms, and the region continues to evolve in exciting ways. Corkscrew Taphouse represents that next chapter, offering a modern, interactive experience that complements the area's traditional wine culture.

As the newest tasting destination in the valley, Corkscrew introduces a self-pour concept that invites exploration. Guests receive a pour card and sample from a rotating lineup of wines, craft beers, ciders, and cocktails, choosing exactly how much to pour and what to try next. The format encourages discovery and flexibility, making it easy to tailor the experience to your own tastes.

This approachable style reflects the broader evolution of the Grand River Valley, where longtime wine lovers and first-time visitors alike are seeking experiences that feel social, relaxed, and welcoming. Corkscrew fits naturally into a day of exploring the region, whether you are stopping in between wineries or making it a destination of its own.

The atmosphere is lively and inviting, making it an easy gathering spot for couples, friends, and groups with varied preferences. While wine remains central, the diverse tap selection ensures there is something for everyone.

Food rounds out the experience, with a menu that goes beyond light bites and pairs naturally with what is on tap. Live music, themed tastings, and special events add to the energy, giving visitors another reason to include Corkscrew on their Grand River Valley itinerary.

Travel tip: With rotating taps and frequent events, repeat visits always offer something new to discover.

A Region Poised to Pour

From tasting rooms and special events to cool-climate wines shaped by Lake Erie, the Grand River Valley continues to offer visitors a welcoming and memorable wine country experience.

Written by: Gary Twining

For the first time in eighty years, after almost thirty years of significant sales growth, America's wine industry is experiencing a major "demand and market shift", states industry expert Rob McMillan. 2024 sales revenues were down approximately 3.4%, with 2025 expected to follow the decline.

The reasons for this decrease include a grape glut, aging and reduced consumption of Baby Boomers, increased production costs, the growth of hard teas, seltzers and THC-infused beverages and a recent neo-prohibitionist movement.

However, Ohio's Grand River Valley producers are poised to thrive in this consumer-driven evolution, despite a growing number of local and global competitors. Donniella Winchell, Executive Director of the Ohio Wine Producers Association, states that "Both individually and as a region, the Grand River wineries are bucking the national consumption trends through increased tasting room consumer visitations and sales."

Looking Ahead

The Grand River AVA is at the high point of its growth, becoming one of the Midwest's top tourist destinations since its inception in 1983. It offers some distinctive, unique, regional and producer benefits to attract all demographics, including beautiful scenery, friendly people, fine restaurants and excellent wines.

The Grand River is within a day-trip of anywhere in Ohio, with major direct highways from East, West and South. Come meet and interact with winery people and sample wines to take home. Lodging is readily available for those who want to do multi-day tours.

Local wines have won numerous medals in competitions, building a reputation for the Grand River's exceptional fruit and winemaking. Lake Erie and the Grand River moderate the cool climate, producing fine Sauvignon Blanc, Pinot Gris and sparkling wines, all of which currently are in high demand. Sparkling wines specifically increased strongly in sales mid-2025. Baci, Debonne, Ferrante, Grand River Cellars, Kosicek, Laurello, M Cellars and other local producers offer attractive sparkling selections, making a sparkling wine tour simple to plan.

Tony Kosicek, Owner of Kosicek Vineyards, commented "I think if wineries are going to survive the future we need to entice the younger crowd by offering them something with bubbles that is fun to drink."

The region's cool climate and short season produces a wide variety of complex, balanced, elegant and nuanced wines, meeting the interest in festive and relevant products. With the growing, long-term trend of consumers drinking less quantity but better quality, the Grand River region is the perfect get away to find numerous wineries producing refined and stylish wines to please your tastes.

We offer numerous, well-publicized, themed events. Cindy Lindberg, Owner of Grand River Cellars, tirelessly promotes fun and enjoyable themed events through various trade marketing organizations. Some of these themes include: Sip and Paint, Ugly Christmas Sweater Parties, Yoga at the Vineyard, Winter Warmer Wines and Cocktails and the Ice Wine Festival.

You will be drawn into the Grand River region through your experimentation with a variety of flavors while finding new wine favorites, possibly even falling in love with a previously unencountered winery.

Not a wine lover? Many wineries also offer beers, spirits and cocktails. Wine-based drinks, such as summer wine slushies, are also available. You will be openly welcomed regardless of your tastes while experiencing everything the region has to offer.

We have both long-term pioneers of the industry here and younger winery workers to make everyone comfortable, regardless of your age or wine knowledge. Stay in touch with your favorite wineries through social media, a medium that is captivating and connecting with our newest consumer categories.

The Grand River AVA has many other advantages; new, unique varietals and wine styles, consistent, quality Ice Wine production with good availability and flexible industry people with business acumen, foresight and originality, willing to collaborate for success.

The just-released 2025 US Governmental food guidelines promote that wine in moderation is a natural food that can be part of a healthy lifestyle. Grand River Valley's graceful, cool climate wines are perfect for daily consumption.

The Grand River Valley has all the factors to succeed in any market conditions. We hope you plan a visit soon, and would love to host your trip and tours.

Voices from the Grand River Valley

Cask Three Oh Seven

Winemaker, Mike Koller

"Authenticity is a strong selling point for our region and a vital national trend. We grow and make our products, which is as authentic as it gets, which will outlast temporary, low consumption trends."

Cask Three Oh Seven also relies on special events to attract consumer visits. Dinner shows and musical theater reviews by Rabbit Run Theater and Julie Anna Gulenko & Co, painting classes, "permanent" jewelry sessions and live music get dedicated buyers on the property, where they can taste and take home favorite selections.

Laurentia Winery

Owners, Gary and Amy Blackie

Amy noted they had one of their largest Saturdays in their history in October, and a sales increase in their wine for the year. Blackie stated, "We stay true to our wine vision, pride ourselves on what we do and focus on that." A 90 point Wine Enthusiast rating for their 2022 Estate Cabernet Sauvignon, is just one of the results.

Amy continued, "The Grand River Valley is really a beautiful place. Our overall experience is enhanced by live music, with lovely event spaces and chef-inspired food. Most new visitors comment how impressed they are and had no idea just how amazing it is here."

Stonegate Winery

Owners, Bill and Beth Heinz

"We have never had a decline in sales, and this year looks to be huge. If you have a good product, people will buy it, and the Grand River provides exceptional fruit. We are really picky and focus on bottling the best quality wines, as do all our region's producers."

Bill explained, "Our beer and spirits selection satisfies diverse tastes. Our outdoor area is really beautiful, with a very large patio. We have a unique, indoor, 100 person special event room. Our staff is truly outstanding, and Beth and I believe in hard work, both essential factors in success."

A Year Worth Celebrating

The Grand River Valley Wine Region is entering 2026 with strong momentum. At the San Francisco Chronicle Wine Competition, local wineries earned a record number of medals, including Best of Class honors. Baci Winery received Best of Class for its 2024 Pinot Gris, and Laurello Vineyards earned Best of Class recognition for a White Blend. Additional Double Gold, Gold, Silver, and Bronze awards further reflected the quality and craftsmanship shaping wines across the region. As tasting rooms welcome visitors throughout the year ahead, this recognition sets an exciting tone for what's next in the Grand River Valley.

TOUR Lake County

Shaped by the Shore

An artful way to experience Lake Erie, one shoreline stop at a time.

It's a warm sunny day with a cool summer breeze blowing in off the water. There's sandy beach as far as the eye can see. Hundreds and hundreds of people can be seen swimming, kayaking or paddleboarding in the water. Young people are excitedly playing sand volleyball. Couples and best friends walk the beach together looking for beach glass. Others are getting their daily dose of Vitamin D by soaking up the sun and beautiful weather. Close your eyes for a minute and imagine this scene. Seriously...do it.

We're not talking about Myrtle Beach, SC or Daytona Beach, FL...this is LAKE COUNTY, OHIO!

You may now be asking yourself, "There are sandy beaches along Lake Erie? There are beaches in Lake County?" Well, the answer to that is not only yes, but it's an emphatic yes! Lake County has numerous beaches and lakefront parks with several, such as Headlands Beach State Park and Fairport Harbor Lakefront Park and beach, being recognized nationally as some of the best beaches in America.

While Lake County residents get to enjoy our 17 lakefront parks and beaches anytime we want, we are more than happy to share these incredible natural assets with visitors as well. Bringing attention to our lakefront parks and sharing them with visitors is why Tour Lake County worked so hard to put together the inaugural Lake Erie Sand Sculpture Tour in 2025.

The Lake Erie Sand Sculpture Tour wasn't the first Lake County event to feature incredible public art in the form of oversized sand sculptures. The City of Mentor admirably hosted Headlands Beach Fest at Headlands Beach State Park for several years before the event ended after 2023. In 2024, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR), which owns and operates Headlands Beach State Park, put together a smaller version of the beach festival which featured one sand sculpture. When Tour Lake County learned of some of the challenges the City of Mentor and ODNR faced in pulling off this event, the staff decided there was too much potential for this event to highlight Lake County as a regional travel destination and didn't want to see the event fade away. So, the organization went to work on ideas on how to revive and grow this event into an annual experience that could bring both locals and visitors to the shores of Lake Erie right here in Lake County. As an organization that promotes all of Lake County's communities and attractions, one of the early focuses for Tour Lake County in reviving this event centered around taking this event from one location to several locations throughout the County. To pull this off logistically, we needed to talk with an expert which is where one northeast Ohio native, Carl Jara, comes into the picture.

Carl Jara is a professional sand sculptor who has been sculpting sand for over 30 years, and he just so happens to live in our backyard! He's won numerous medals in World Championships, been featured on shows on the Travel Channel and has traveled the world showcasing his incredible talents.

Carl has created sculptures for both the City of Mentor and ODNR events so he was familiar with Headlands Beach, but expanding this event would take some creativity. When the idea was first presented to Carl, he was extremely supportive and excited as he knows what an incredible asset Lake Erie and our beaches are and being able to showcase sculptures in numerous locations across Lake County would undoubtedly help reinvigorate this event. Initial conversations about the event centered around bringing in several artists to create these sculptures. During those discussions a random, far-fetched idea suddenly popped into Carl's head. What if he himself did all four sculptures? One thing led to another, and Carl was planning four sculptures instead of one!

Having never worked directly with Carl Jara on these sculptures previously, it was important to talk with Carl and learn about where he draws his inspiration for his artwork so we could try to tie his artistic vision together with our goals for not only promoting the lakefront but also the communities where these amazing parks are located.

When we asked Carl about the inspiration behind his art here's what he had to say, "Every sculpture I create is unique and inspiration for each comes in a multitude of forms. Sometimes I am inspired by timely, world events, personal moments, or the quest to simply find a new solution to an age-old dilemma. Inspiration strikes unexpectedly and I find myself jotting down ideas as they arrive, socking them away in a notebook and hopefully bringing them forth when called upon later. However, sometimes ideas happen on the spot, and I don't even get the chance to jot them down before realizing them in the sand. It's such a wonderfully responsive and immediate material that I often do not think too much beforehand but rely instead on my confidence an image will arrive when I need it to."

With some background on Carl's creative process, the next step was finalizing the locations where the sculptures could be created for this event, and then we could turn Carl loose on coming up with unique works-of-art for each location.

Since Headlands Beach State Park has been the home for sand sculpture events in Lake County in the past, and is the longest beach on Lake Erie, it was at the top of our list for locations in 2025 as well. The park is an incredible location as it welcomes over 300,000 visitors annually who come to the park for myriad recreational activities including hiking, swimming, paddleboarding, kayaking, fishing, and birdwatching as well as to see the Fairport Harbor West Breakwater Lighthouse or to watch and/or photograph the most stunning sunsets anywhere in the country. Headlands serves at the epicenter for the Sand Sculpture Tour as the tour culminates on the same day as the popular Lake Side Mystic event at Headlands Beach. This event features art, vendors, food trucks and live music.

When thinking about which other beaches could accommodate one of Carl's creations, the most logical choice was Lake County's other award-winning beach at Lake Metroparks' Fairport Harbor Lakefront Park which features tons of activities for beachgoers and is busy all summer long. The team from Lake Metroparks was apprehensive at first due to the worry about vandalism and security for the sculpture as they know the time and effort that goes into creating this pieces of art. These are legitimate concerns we shared as well, but we ultimately talked through these questions and figured out a plan to give it a try and make it work.

Madison Township Park

With the first two locations being centrally-located within the County, our goal was to spread the sculptures out across the lakefront so we wanted to look east and west for our next locations.

One of Lake County's hidden little gems is in the eastern part of the county at Madison Township Park. The property features a baseball field, several great picnic shelters and a beautiful, quiet sandy beach. Plus, it's adjacent to one of the newest wineries, restaurants and boutique hotels in the Grand River Valley, Vincent William Wine, which is located right on Lake Erie. We knew this would be a perfect spot for another one of Carl's creations.

“It's such a wonderfully responsive and immediate material that I often do not think too much beforehand, but rely instead on my confidence an image will arrive when I need it to.”

In looking to the western part of the County, currently there aren't any publicly accessible beaches. However, the City of Willoughby has recently embarked on a multi-million dollar project at Osborne Park which is will transform its steep, rocky and deteriorating shoreline into a beautiful park including two new beaches with direct access to Lake Erie and unparalleled lakefront views. Although this sand sculpture wouldn't be done on an existing, sandy beach, by featuring a sculpture at Osborne Park it would educate and inform visitors about this park's transformation and offer a glimpse into the exciting future of Willoughby's lakefront.

After logistical details were worked out with ODNR, Lake Metroparks, Madison Township and the City of Willoughby, it was time to unleash Carl's creativity. We spoke with Carl about each location, shared some background on each park as well as the community where it was located and unleashed him to work his magic! Carl talked about how he came up with each design in 2025 and explained, “I wanted each sculpture last year to reflect the location in which it was set, and I wanted for each sculpture to reflect the various styles I can follow in my work. Madison Township happens to grow the most grapes and is the largest wine producer in Ohio so naturally I was drawn to a monumental image of hands holding a bunch of grapes. I wanted the sculpture to almost jump out and surprise the viewer as they discovered it behind the bluff. Fairport Harbor allowed me to draw upon local legends of lake monsters and lighthouses and seek a lighthearted mashup of the two. Osborne Park offered an opportunity to realize a future beach and the kids who would someday enjoy it. I wanted this sculpture to be approachable and highly detailed and due to its location, I wanted to explore how it related to its own backdrop of the lake and sunset. And lastly, Headlands presented the chance to dive into a more personal sculpture describing the times in which we currently find ourselves. I wanted for this sculpture to represent a chaotic moment frozen in time, full of movement and emotion.”

Carl's passion for public art instantly comes through when you talk with him, and one of the unique aspects of creating these sculptures over two or three days is the ability for the public to watch the art being created in real time and even talk to Carl while he's working on his designs. When asked about this, Carl explained, “I think sand sculpture is immensely important as a public art form. The fact that I can take ten tons of sand and create a monumental sculpture in an unexpected location, in front of an audience, and in a relatively short amount of time has always appealed to me. I don't want my work closed off from the world behind the walls of an institution that caters only to those brave enough to enter. I want my work out in public for all to see and enjoy. People are always amazed at the work I do, and I think this is in part due to the approachability of the material. It's just sand and pretty much everyone has played in sand at some point in their lives. It's not some mysterious material that takes a lifetime to understand and master, but a plaything for kids of all ages. Folks love to ask questions and I am always happy to respond in kind. Questions and comments from folks take on almost every form imaginable, from simple questions like "How do you do that?!" To folks who want to chat about art and philosophy, science and sport. In my 35 years working in sand I've had discussions with folks about every subject imaginable. I love when people get excited about my work and want to talk about it, with me and also with others, and I feel this community sharing takes my art to a level it just wouldn't find in a museum setting. Getting to travel is just the icing on the cake, as it allows my work to find a broader audience and allows me to experience places and people I would not have the privilege of experiencing otherwise."

Coupling Lake County's incredible parks and beaches with Carl Jara's awe-inspiring sand sculptures brought nearly 25,000 people to Lake County's Lake Erie shoreline in 2025. After the incredibly successful, inaugural Lake Erie Sand Sculpture Tour, the team at Tour Lake County is excited to bring it back for 2026 with the event culminating on Saturday, July 11. The event will be expanding to five or six locations in 2026, including several new parks, and will feature public art from Carl Jara as well as another world-renowned sand sculpture artist, Greg J. Grady. Follow Carl Jara online at ArtCleveland.com and on Instagram at @grain_damaged and Greg J. My Ohio Adventure

Christa Lopez

f @myohioadventure

Christa Lopez of Columbus, Ohio spent a weekend in Lake County soaking up lake views, beach town charm, and a sunset sailing adventure on Lake Erie. From exploring Fairport Harbor to experiencing the inaugural Lake Erie Sand Sculpture Tour, Christa shares what it was like to see Lake County through a first-time visitor's eyes.

Tell us a little bit about yourself.

I was born and raised in central Ohio and have called Columbus home for most of my adult life. I truly love my home state and find so much joy in inspiring others to get out and explore it. Through My Ohio Adventure, I share the places I go - whether it's a cozy coffee shop, a favorite hiking trail, a hidden gem, or a seasonal outing - to help folks discover new spots and spark ideas for their own mini adventures and weekend getaways. While I knew about Lake County, this was my first trip there. I was so happy to finally check it off my bucket list - and I'll definitely be back!

Tell us a little bit about your experience sailing. Have you ever been out on the water before?

As a kid, I took sailing lessons on the Scioto River in Dublin, Ohio, but on much smaller boats, and I barely remember it! My trip with JEO Sailing felt like my first true sailing experience. Out on Lake Erie, the water feels as vast and awe-inspiring as the ocean. It's hard to put into words, you just have to experience it!

How was Captain Jim with you during the sailing?

Jim is so fun, friendly and inviting. I felt right at home on his boat. He taught us a lot about sailing and his experiences on the water but also had a lot of interesting information to share about the area. I learned and laughed a lot!

Did you enjoy the sunset sailing? Would you have preferred to go out during the morning?

I'm so glad we sailed at sunset. I'm sure a morning sail would have been just as relaxing and beautiful, but there was something especially peaceful about ending the day out on the water.

Why would you recommend JEO Sailing to your friends?

JEO Sailing was such a unique way to watch the sun set over Lake Erie. I loved that it was part educational, part hands-on, and part just relaxing and soaking in the views. It was truly the perfect way to wind down after a busy week.
