From the Vicar.....

The positive news from the government and church advisers is that we should have all restrictions removed by the 21st of June this year (2021) which just happens to be our 46th wedding anniversary!

Sadly, that will come after I have retired as your vicar in April. We have not been allowed to sing in church for over a year now and my greatest wish is to hear voices raised in song praising God once again.

Unlike last year when I celebrated Easter on my own in church, we will be able to join together to celebrate the risen Christ once again. Having said that, we are open for ALL services at present and will have all the usual Holy Week services. These will be advertised on our Facebook Page and website as usual and on the weekly notice sheet soon.

Thank you to everyone who have kept attending church and following all the guidelines to keep themselves and others safe; and to reassure those who have been shielding or not feeling confident enough to come to church, that we do miss each and everyone of you and hold you in our prayers.

At present we are holding an Easter Raffle through Lent, which will be drawn on Palm Sunday in church. If you would like to buy some tickets (£1 per strip of 5 tickets) you can contact Carol Pearson,

Anne Forrest, Cat Forrest and Kathleen Langton, or simply ring me or email me and I will make sure you get them: tel 433308 or email at vicarstpeter@gmail.com

Also, a reminder for those who cannot attend church but have internet access, that I record a Holy Communion service every week and that is uploaded to Facebook and You Tube at 10:00am every Sunday.

Finally, as we are Lent, let me leave you with some thoughts to guide your journey...

Remember, Lent is about self-examination...not self-denial. (Does giving up chocolate etc make you a better Christian?)

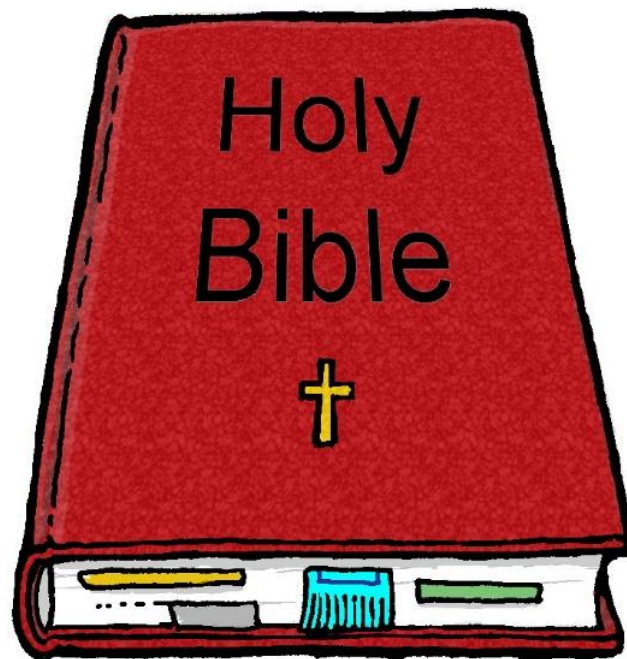

Lent is a season of penitence and repentance...it's much easier to just say sorry than to change our ways in the future.

Jesus underwent every temptation to deflect his purpose away from the divine mission. We all know our inner temptations and we all really know deep down what we need to do to fix them.

Let us give up our selfishness and replace it selflessness. For as Jesus said, "What does it profit a person that they gain the whole world and yet forfeit their soul?" Mark 8 v 36.

Take care and every blessing.

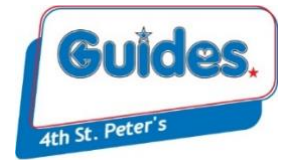

Peter.

Girlguiding - Whilst on ZOOM meetings Thursday 6pm-7.30pm

I am afraid that during the lockdown, we have lost 2/3rd of our guides. We have started guide zoom meetings on the 25th February. Unfortunately, we are unable to keep the Tuesday nights free at present as 2 of the Guiders Katy and Rhianna are busy studying to further develop their careers and I have been busy doing extra shifts at the hospital, and Lynne is kindly prepared to have 2 evenings on zoom, one for Rainbows on Tuesday and one for Guides on Thursday. First catch up a success, I need to get used to zoom, but 2nd one went extremely well, just need guides to remember to call in on a Thursday.

We are hopeful that once the lockdown is over, we will grow our guiding numbers again.

As editor, I wish to offer my sincere apologies to Mrs Margaret Heald for not including the following information, which she would have liked in the December magazine.

'I wish to Thank Peter and Lorraine and all my friends and family - Suzanne, Andy, James, Alex, Cheryl, Marc and his wife Emily and my wonderful Great Grandson Noah for their continual support, prayers and comfort throughout my life and especially while both Roland and I were both in hospital in March this year just as the corona virus pandemic was starting.

My special Thanks and gratitude to the Mother's Union, the Sunday school teachers and pupils, the Monday Club and my personal friends for all the 'Beautiful ' flowers and cards that I received on my recent 90th Birthday.

I am so sorry that I have not been able to come to Church to meet everyone personally because of covid-19 and because of my disability since March but Roland and I have joined in via Facebook to watch the services that Peter has filmed and Suzanne has played to us on her laptop mainly on Sunday mornings.

You are all in my thoughts and prayers

God Bless you all and may He keep you all safe.'

Cats & dogs

Behind every cat that crosses the street, there is a dog saying, “Go ahead, you can make it.”

Dogs believe they are human. Cats believe they are God.

The only domestic animal not mentioned in the Bible is the cat.

Little old lady seeks handsome young man

An advert appeared in a student newspaper of a university: “Sweet little old lady wishes to correspond with good-looking university student – especially a six-footer with brown eyes, answering to initials J.A.D.” It was signed: “his mother.”

Switched on

A housewife was helping her aged mother get up the stairs on their brand-new stair lift when the minister telephoned her. He was horrified to hear her say: “I’m so sorry, but I’ll have to ring you back. I can’t talk right now because I’ve finally got Mother in the electric chair and I’m eager to press the switch and see if it works!”

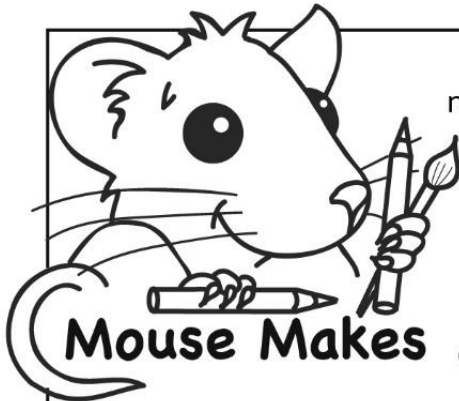

Stations

A bus station is where a bus stops. A train station is where a train stops. On my desk I have a workstation.

Save the earth. It’s the only planet with chocolate.

Give me a sense of humour, Lord,
Give me the grace to see a joke,
To get some humour out of life,
And pass it on to other folk.

Jesus was loved by his mother Mary, she looked after him, worried about him and prayed for him. She cuddled Jesus when he was born, cried when he died and rejoiced when he rose from the dead.

There are two other words in the word search, can you find them?

It was 1700 years ago, on 7th March 321, that the Roman Emperor Constantine 1 (Constantine the Great) decreed that Sunday should be a day of rest throughout the Empire.

1st March: St David's Day, time for daffodils

1st March is St David's Day, and it's time for the Welsh to wear daffodils or leeks. Shakespeare called this custom 'an honourable tradition begun upon an honourable request' - but nobody knows the reason. Why should anyone have ever 'requested' that the Welsh wear leeks or daffodils to honour their patron saint? It's a mystery!

We do know that David - or Dafydd - of Pembrokeshire was a monk and bishop of the 6th century. In the 12th century he was made patron of Wales, and he has the honour of being the only Welsh saint to be canonised and 'culted' in the Western Church. Tradition has it that he was austere with himself, and generous with others - living on water and vegetables (leeks, perhaps?!) and devoting himself to works of mercy. He was much loved.

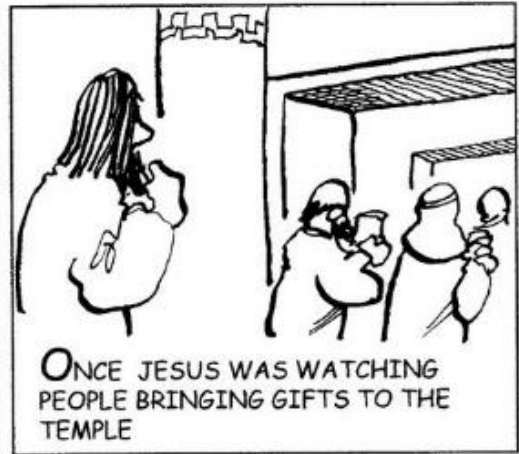

In art, St David is usually depicted in Episcopal vestments, standing on a mound with a dove at his shoulder, in memory of his share at an important Synod for the Welsh Church, the Synod of Brevi.

ONCE JESUS WAS WATCHING PEOPLE BRINGING GIFTS TO THE TEMPLE

HE SAW THE RICH PEOPLE BRINGING THEIR MONEY

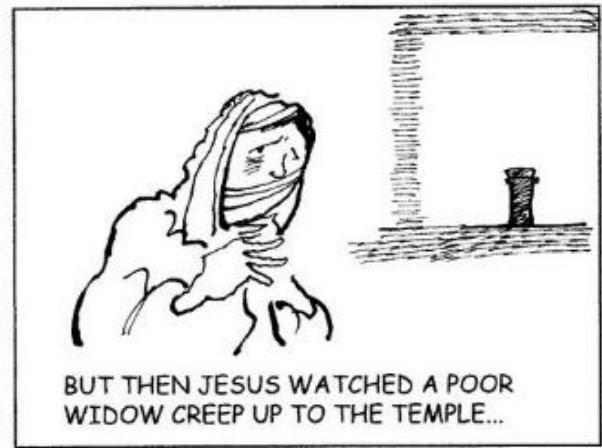

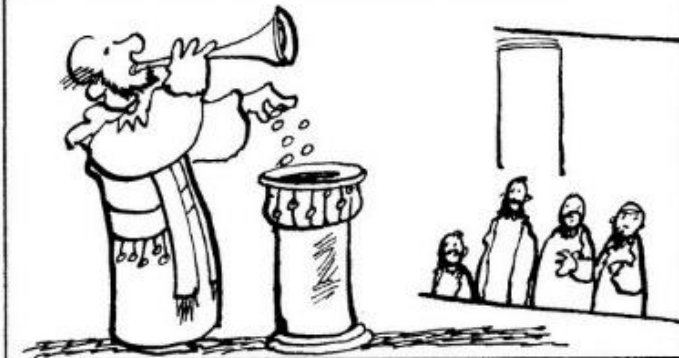

THEY MADE A BIG FUSS

THE PROUD PEOPLE WANTED EVERYONE TO SEE HOW RICH THEY WERE.

BUT THEN JESUS WATCHED A POOR WIDOW CREEP UP TO THE TEMPLE...

...AND DONATE TWO SMALL COPPER COINS.

"THE WIDOW HAS GIVEN THE GREATEST GIFT", EXPLAINED JESUS. "IT IS WORTH SO MUCH MORE THAN ALL THE RICH PEOPLE'S GIFTS!" see Luke 21:1-4

Kevin took himself off to his study to pray for peace

It was 1600 years ago, on 25th March 421, that the city of Venice was officially founded when its first church was dedicated at noon.

Editor: The Rev Michael Burgess continues his series on God in the Arts with a look at 'Ecce Ancilla Domini' by Dante Gabriel Rossetti. It hangs in the Tate Gallery. Our image is from Wikimedia Commons.

Behold the handmaid of the Lord

'Ecce Ancilla Domini' (Behold the handmaid of the Lord) is the title of this month's painting of the Annunciation by Dante Gabriel Rossetti. We shall hear those words in the Gospel for this feast on 25th March, when Mary responds to Gabriel's message that she is to be the mother of our Saviour.

It is a scene that has inspired artists throughout the history of Christianity. Over those years certain traditions emerged: in many paintings Mary was often shown at prayer, dressed in blue, in a room that was filled with elaborate furnishings of the period, all opening out onto the wider world.

Rossetti's painting of 1850 is very different. He was a founding member of the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood, and as both a poet and a painter, he soon became its recognised leader. But the work of the Brotherhood was not without its critics. When Rossetti's painting was exhibited, it was dismissed as 'absurd, affected, ill-drawn, insipid, crotchety and puerile' because it was such a contrast to the more traditional portrayals of this scene in Luke's Gospel.

Here there is a claustrophobic feel to the painting. Mary and Gabriel fill the tiny, cell-like room. There is a window, but it does not open out to scenery and nature: just a solitary tree. Rossetti called 'Ecce Ancilla Domini' his 'white picture.' That is the colour that dominates: the robes of Mary and the angel, the stones of the floor, the paint on the walls, the flowers that Gabriel offers. Blue, the traditional colour for Mary, is relegated to the screen behind and the sky outside. Other colours are provided by the yellow flames of Gabriel's feet and the tapestry in the foreground on which Mary has embroidered lilies. These flowers, like the whiteness, are symbols of purity.

The model for Mary was Christina, his sister, the author of 'In the bleak mid-winter', and in portraying her, Rossetti has captured the adolescent vulnerability of Mary. A small dove linking the two characters is a sign of God's spirit coming to bring new life to this young girl. How does she respond? What is the expression on her face? Does she see the adult world of responsibility and motherhood opening up before her? Is it anxiety or wonder or awe? Or are all of these responses captured in her expression?

The stillness of the scene, the whiteness of the room – they are like a blank canvas on which God can paint His Gospel, His Good New of life and hope. Just as it opened up a new world for Mary, so the Gospel can open up a new world for all of us. We may respond with anxiety and worry, or with wonder and awe to that invitation. Or those feelings may be transformed into trust and service like Mary in Luke's Gospel: 'Here am I, the servant of the Lord: let it be with me according to your word.'
