What a year it's been! There have been so many incredible moments and learning opportunities. Just like contours of a mountain, we have our ups and downs, but throughout this year, all of us have strived to demonstrate the values of goodness, courage, and innovation. Goodness guides our actions, fostering a community of kindness, integrity, and respect, where everyone young and old feel together as one. Courage empowers us to face challenges head-on, inspiring resilience and a fearless pursuit of knowledge and innovation drives our approach to all our projects and tasks, encouraging creativity and forward-thinking. As you scan through this yearbook, think back to all the moments that make Unisus a special place for everyone.

EUROPE TRIP

As we explored the beautiful surroundings, our step count soared to impressive heights, ranging from 15,000 to 23,000 steps per day. The students, fueled by their enthusiasm for soccer and other activities, surpassed even these numbers. This immersive experience proved to be a catalyst for personal growth and development for each and every student. Overall, this journey was nothing short of extraordinary, leaving an indelible mark on both the students and ourselves. - Ms. Linda

--Boarding Life--

What an amazing year it has been in the Boarding House! We look back and re-live all the shared memories—ice skating, bowling, go-karting, movie nights, rock climbing, deep conversations. We remember all the highs and all the lows, and what's in all of us is solidarity towards one another.

The magic of the Unisus ECLC is in our beautifully natural outdoor education. The children flourish in all climates and master the hills with their strong muscles and practice their balance and judge how to risk challenges! Their imagination is inspired by sticks, stones, flowers, weeds and the trees and bushes. We are grateful for the huge back 40 we get to call OUR school grounds!

Grade 2-3 Ms. Elisha Jaffer

We have had a great year in Grade 2 and 3. It has been a pleasure watching the students grow and learn both academically and socially. We've conducted experiments, learned about the scientific method, inquired into the history of the country we live in and read about Children's Rights. We've met Mayors, ski instructors and of course Wilbur and Charlotte, who have taught us the importance of friendship. We would like to especially thank all the awesome teachers at Unisus who have been there for us all year long.

As the year ends, it's a time for goodbyes and to get ready for a new start next school year. Congratulations to everything this awesome group of kids has achieved. Good luck on your future adventures!

Collaboration and friendship were central to our year. The students worked together on group projects, learning the value of teamwork and enjoying shared successes. Our Reading Buddies days with Early Child Education students allowed the grade 4 students to mentor younger students and develop empathy and patience while teaching them basic literary skills. Making new friends and discovering new interests created a positive and supportive classroom environment where everyone felt valued. The grade 4 students are grateful for the knowledge they have gained, the friendships they have formed, and the experiences that have shaped them.

Grade 4 Ms. Sabrina Bergamorto

As the school year draws to a close, our Grade 4 class looks back on an incredible journey filled with exploration, learning, and growth. The students delved into diverse units of inquiry themes, uncovering fascinating topics that broadened their understanding of the world. From discovering the wonders of nature to learning about Canada's past, each theme sparked their curiosity and deepened their appreciation for the environment and the rich cultural tapestry of our community. Handson projects, interactive research, and exciting field trips made learning dynamic and engaging.

Grade 5 Mr. James Appleton

What a year we've had! It seems like just yesterday when I welcomed you into the classroom for the first day of the academic school year. Now, as the year comes to an end, it's nice to reflect on all that you've accomplished. First, what an amazing PYPx! Thank you for all of your hard work, dedication, collaboration, and persistence. These last six weeks are proof of your growth, maturity, and enthusiasm for your learning.

As a teacher, nothing makes me more proud than seeing you all engaged in your learning, and happy to be at school. Some of the highlights for me this year include: Exploring the metaverse, field trips to local art galleries, the Junior School Dance, writing discussion essays, our novel studies, and of course; the PYPx.

Take time to celebrate your triumphs, recognize how you can improve, and enjoy a well-deserved summer break. I look forward to seeing what you will achieve next year in Grade 6! - Mr. James

GRADUATION

Stepping in the future: Celebrating the past, embracing the possibilities

and so the ripened year doth end as all school spirits rally around our class, who did intend to reach the course's due finale
our heads were filled each in their turn as endless knowledge we engorged
but without fail we will return to the boundless bonds we've forged today we give our gratitude to those who now surround us who dispensed earnest platitudes that sometimes did confound us and as we forge ahead to mystery
we never shall forget our history
