WARRANTY

Linkasink warranties our product to be free from manufacturing defect for the life of the product. Warranty does not cover shipping fees or labor and must be paid for by the customer. Many of our products have a "living finish", and will continue to age and evolve as the base metal reacts with the environment. Due to the individually created nature of the product, no two sinks will be the same. Additionally, we cannot control the damage that is done to the finish or patina of the product through abuse, misuse, or neglect; however, we will help you restore it should a problem occur. For warranty claims, Linkasink reserves the right to determine if item is defective.

CARE

LIVING FINISH

Copper, Nickel Plated, Cast Metal and Unlacquered Brass sinks have a "living finish".

Meaning, they will continue to age and change with time.

On a living finish, the metal is left unlacquered.

That is, without a clear top coat to prevent corrosion.

Without the clear topcoat, these sinks will continue to age and their colors will continue to evolve as the base metal reacts with the environment.

No two sinks will age at the same rate or go through the same color phases.

Their continued evolution is completely dependent on the environment where they're placed.

Hence the term living finish.

Linkasink recommends applying a carnauba paste wax to all sinks with a living finish.

Linkasink recommends gentle soap and water for everyday cleaning.

After cleaning, Carnauba paste wax can be applied to our metal finishes to add some protection to that finish.

Glass sinks can be cleaned with non-ammonia based glass cleaners.

Concrete sinks can be cleaned with Windex® Vinegar glass cleaner.

Marble Inlay sinks can be cleaned with mild soap and water. A stone sealer can be applied yearly to preserve the finish of the sink.
