It was another exciting and successful year at Bryanston. Time rushed by as life at school was extremely busy. Each year that passed seemed to add more events to the busy calendar and more successes to celebrate. I find real satisfaction in being so fortunate as to work with so many talented teachers and students. Each day brings new and greater interesting things and I find it rewarding that we can still create an atmosphere in the school that encourages creativity and a sense of adventure.

The challenges facing education in the country are immense. I still believe that the barometer of performance lies in the application of basic academic skills that will meet the needs of OBE education and prepare our children for life at work. The ability to calculate, read and communicate lies at the core of academic excellence. From this will develop the knowledge and skills that will make successful adults who possess creative and enquiring minds that can see through bias and prejudice and will base their lives on an accurate assessment of truth and reality. In so doing, we will create productive citizens in our country, who can contribute intelligently to the greater good of all.

While Bryanston is a successful school that achieves in the harshly competitive education environment of the northern suburbs, there are concerns that must be addressed to maintain and improve the financial viability of the school. Funding from the state is limited and the burden of financial viability rests on the parents to continue to pay school fees. Only then can we keep class sizes small, offer facilities, such as computer centres, and maintain the infrastructure. Of great concern is the growing number of parents who take the exemption route and do not pay the full school fees. While this is a legal practice, the consequences for the school are very serious. I appeal to parents to pay their school fees to ensure that Bryanston High remains a leading school in the country.

The second concern is how the changes in the values of society has negatively impacted on the performance and productivity of our students. Youngsters are very impressionable and the media has a powerful influence on how children think. It is my perception that work ethic, time management and issues relating to sex, drugs and violence are misunderstood which creates many of the psychological and social problems with which the school and parents have to deal. I believe that while recognising the huge changes in our society, there is still a need to return to traditional values based on strong families, hard work, greater emphasis on spiritual matters, healthy exercise and service to the community. I am sure that discipline in schools will improve as will issues like drugs and endemic smoking, and families will become more cohesive and happier units.

My third concern is that certain parents tend to view the school and teachers as the opposition and when a problem is identified with their child, the parents do not become part of the solution, but prefer to blame the school for the problem. It is crucial to point out that education is a team effort between the teachers, parents and the students. Finding blame will not solve issues. Parents also need to give teachers credit for observing their children in a totally different environment and inevitably, this will have a different perspective on a problem. Parents must not always believe what their child has told them at home but must consult with the Grade Controller or teacher, find out what the facts are and then we can move forward and create a viable solution. Parents who support the school and what the teachers are trying to do, have successful children. Parents who challenge the school always create unsure students. The school is going to employ a psychologist to assist with the many problems.

My last concern is the continued safety and security of the school in a world of crime, hijacking, computer theft and the increasingly availability of drugs. It is essential that the school remains a safe place for all students and teachers. We are improving the alarm system by adding security cameras in strategic positions and our continued involvement with the Bryanston neighbourhood watch has been very productive. Also having two teaching families living on the property has made a huge difference. It is now a matter of urgency that the palisade fencing around the whole school be built as soon as possible.

I believe that the Management of the school has dealt with all the above matters in a pro-active manner and the solutions to the above concerns are opportunities to improve the educational package we offer parents and students.

The introduction of the new FET curriculum next year to the Grade 10's is long overdue and while the changes do create uncertainty, I believe it offers us the chance to make our educational package more relevant to the world of work and the world we live in. The presentation to the Grade 9 parents was very productive and parents, I trust, realise that the Management of the school will make every effort to ensure that all our students get the best education possible.

One area of the school that has grown in quality and influence has been the leadership programme. Starting with the RCL elections in September, to the magnificent job of the GMS in fundraising, to the success of the Grade 11 leadership camp, has ensured that the hidden curriculum of the school of developing leadership talent has been highly successful. What has made it more acceptable is that it operates within the framework of the democratic systems of our country where all positions are fully elected. Increasingly, students are being educated into the skills of living and operating successfully in a democratic society. It is exciting to see students actively involved in the management of the school and the organisation of events and, at the same time, maintaining the quality and success of the school. The GMS will probably raise in the region of R 90 000 for the school. Most of this will go towards upgrading facilities, a portion to charity and some of the money will be allocated to the school dance next year. Thank you for a great year of GMS functions!

I would like to thank Dean Crommelin and Kirsten Rhoda for their exceptional leadership of the school this year. They are our elected Presidents (Head Boy/Head Girl) and they have led the school superbly as role models with a vision for the future. It has been a pleasure to work with the Executive of the RCL. I have always enjoyed our Friday meetings discussing the various school issues and Kirsten and Dean have led the Councillors by example, and all have been extremely successful in performing their duties at the school.

The School has enjoyed a number of successes this year. The 2004 Matric results were excellent; we were one of the top schools in our district, and the top performing maths school. Our matric exemption results are the best in the area. We have retained our A-League status in both the Athletics and Swimming leagues. The hockey tour to Malaysia and Australia was fantastic. We still field many sports teams and have found that we have to look to the bigger schools in Pretoria and the private schools to give us full fixtures as our local schools do not have the same success at attracting students to play in all the sports codes. The musical this year was a special success.

A number of our facilities were improved. The swimming pool was painted, many areas of the school were paved, the gardens have been upgraded in many areas, the tennis courts resurfaced and extensions made to the pavilion. Painting is an ongoing project. The toilets had doors, basins and seats replaced and they were all painted. It must be noted that the toilet behaviour of a few of our students is shocking. The most important project facing the school is the extension of the palisade fencing around the sports fields. This has an estimated cost of R 250 000.

The current School Governing Body will end its term of office in May next year and new elections will take place. Mr Azzie has been a superb chairman of the School Governing Body and has guided the school through many difficult and challenging issues, particularly, when dealing with the Education Department and the many changes in legislation. The staff, parents and students are grateful for a wonderful job well done. It is sad to say farewell to two members of the School Governing Body, whose children are now leaving the school. Mr Blaauw has run the school fee collections of the school for the past three years and has made sure that our collections are in line with the budget; Mr Martin has worked with the grounds staff to oversee the grounds and buildings and it is evident from the wonderful appearance of the school and the development of the facilities that he has been very effective, he is also the School's representative in the LETU, a GDE representative body. Mr Hutton has run the financial affairs of the school superbly for the past three years. The pavilion has now been fully paid for and the finances of the school are in a healthy position. His son matriculates this year but we are hoping he will continue to administer the finances of the school next year when his younger son joins the school in Grade 8. To the members of the School Governing Body, we offer our sincerest thanks for doing a wonderful job, whilst at the same time, having to work and spend time with their families.

Our teaching staff have been amazing. They have adapted to the education changes, maintained discipline, supported the School's extra-mural programme and we have a very happy staffroom. The parents and students are very grateful for the long hours and the many sacrifices they have to overcome to achieve so much for the students of Bryanston High. I often believe parents and students do not appreciate the commitment it takes to be part of the profession and a few even believe that rudeness and aggressive behaviour is the manner in which to solve their child's problems. Teachers are not in the profession for the salary but for the love and joy of educating young people into building successful lives and Bryanston High School has 61 wonderfully committed teachers.

I would also like to thank the administrative staff and the grounds staff. The administration of the school is operating very smoothly in all departments and the staff enjoy a happy and productive relationship that makes it a joy to come to work. All our offices are fully computerised.

I would also like to point out that our grounds staff have completed all the paving, toilet renovations and most of the school plumbing by themselves and have saved the school a considerable sum of money.

Finally, I would like to thank the parents and the students of the school. We do have a few uncooperative families, but the vast majority who make up the Bryanston family are a pleasure to have at the school. Thank you for all your support and for a happy and successful year!

Mr D. Robinson

Governing Body Report

My second term as Chairperson of the Governing Body is now nearing the end as elections are due to take place in the middle of 2006.

The main issues that face the Governing Body are the management of the finances of the school and the changes in Legislation.

I would like to thank Mr Hutton, Mr Blaauw and Mr Ferreira for doing a fantastic job in placing the school on a sound financial footing. The collection of school fees is critical and we have employed two ladies whose sole purpose is to ensure the full collection of fees. It would be impossible to run a school that is as successful as ours, without parents paying their fees. We are concerned about the growing number of parents who do apply for exemptions. Our bad debts are as low as they have ever been, however, more and more parents, find that they cannot meet the full payment of fees and therefore only pay us a portion. Although this is fine legally and I thank Mr Ferreira for all his good work here, it does not bode well for the future of the school where parents are receiving the full benefit of a very good education but are not paying for it. This must be seen in the context where the State only pay the salaries of 30 of our 61 teachers and we receive a subsidy of only R 18 000. Our water bill alone is R 21 000 a month, one can see clearly how important it is for parents to pay their school fees and how the management of the school has become increasingly aggressive in ensuring that all parents make a fair and affordable contribution. I would like to thank the vast majority of parents for their wonderful support. Education is expensive and we are trying to give the best education to all of our students in difficult financial circumstances.

I do believe it is the commitment of our Governing Body to provide affordable education for our community and it does concern me that the cost of running a school like ours, is escalating at an alarming rate. The package we offer at Bryanston is more than comparable to our local private schools. However, we are a State school and this package should be available to all members of our community. However, we are forced to meet the escalating costs of electricity, water, maintenance of our grounds and to offer salary packages that are competitive to attract the right kind of teachers in a rapidly shrinking market. Just to highlight one particular issue, we paid traditionally about R 22 000 a month for water, however, for the past eighteen months, after considerable research and investigation by the Governing Body, we tried to find an explanation of why our costs had risen to over R 40 000 per month. It was found that we had a faulty meter at the main gate and now, one year later, the Municipality has still not fixed the meter and still charges us far in excess of our average cost of consumption. We are now at a loss as to how to solve this problem and, yet, the State still expects us to maintain their assets at our parents' cost. We also welcome the introduction of the new FET curriculum. However, the State is not taking into account that this will require an extra Maths and Life Orientation teacher at parental cost.

Another issue is the change in legislation in recent months. It would appear that the changes to the disciplinary aspects of the South African Schools' Act are very positive, however, what is of great concern are the limitations placed on the Governing Body to appoint teachers to the school. The State is now reserving the right to make a choice from the shortlist given to them by the Governing Body. I think that this is a serious erosion of the powers of the Governing Body to choose teachers of a suitable standard to teach in schools that they manage. It is also going to create considerable uncertainty in the staffroom where teachers are not going to apply for jobs at our school because of the insecurity of not knowing whether they will be appointed or not. This is not conducive to a happy staffroom where stress in teaching is already at an unbearable level. The system does create the opportunity for appeal which I am sure the Governing Body will use. The Governing Body Foundation and Fedsas has voiced their concern and opposition to the legislation but their advice is now to challenge the appointment of teachers when conflict arises.

Another concern that we have had to deal with in the past year is that State employed teachers and staff have to apply to the Education Authorities for permission to supplement salaries. As has been pointed out in previous years, this is important so as to retain the best teachers and to put competent people in management positions. The first round of applications last year was approved by the State which does suggest the State is happy with the process provided permission is granted and all payments are in line with SARS regulations. This year the GDE produced its own forms rather than the Governing Body Foundation forms that were used in the past but at the time of this report, we have not yet received a reply and the Education Authorities are already outside the time limit set in the legislation. I find this issue worrying as our ability to attract the few good teachers available in Johannesburg is only going to become more difficult and it is inevitable that the good teachers will then move to private schools.

In conclusion I would like to thank my colleagues on the Governing Body for all their hard work and dedication. It is a time-consuming and responsible job. I have been privileged to work with them for the past three years.

I would also like to thank Mrs Peacock and Mrs de Villiers for their dedication and Mr Robinson and his staff for their commitment and hard work in these challenging times.

Mr P. Azzie

RCL President

Not only has it been an honour and a privilege for me to represent Bryanston High School as the RCL President, but it has also been extremely enjoyable and insightful to learn from Mr Robinson and other staff members. A very big thank you must go to all the students who participated in the various sporting and cultural activities and on behalf of all these students I would like to thank all the staff members who put time aside in order to coach and help the different sporting teams.

The highlight of my year (personally) was when both the 1st Team cricket side and the 1st boys hockey side beat Northcliff convincingly. It was the first time in six years that the Bryanston High School's first cricket side had beaten Northcliff. Not only did we win, but we won by eight wickets – a beating that I hope can be repeated next year.

Then there was our hockey tour to Malaysia and Australia. I will remember this tour for the rest of my life for so many different reasons. Thank you very much to all those people who were involved in the organising of this tour.

Bryanston is a school like no other in the area. We have a talented staff with two staff members playing sport at a national level. A few students also represent the country in various sporting activities. The spirit within the school cannot be described. One has to see it to believe it. This is why I have been blessed to represent the school.

I congratulate all those students who received an honour's blazer, full colours, half colours and team colours. Wear those scrolls with pride, knowing that you worked extremely hard for them. Congratulations also go to the students who achieved academic excellence. Well done.

To the Councillors of next year – good luck and remember that with the blazer comes responsibility.

Good luck for the future.

RCL President

Change is inevitable and the only guarantee in life.

Good morning Mr Robinson, staff, school and fellow matrics.

So this is it, these past five years have gone by a little faster than I thought they would.

We started off right here in front of the hall, Grade 8s of 2001. I sat here feeling anxious, and completely unaware of the impact that this school would have on my life.

From Grade 8, we gradually worked our way up the ranks, all the way up to the gallery. But now there is nothing more to aspire to within the school environment. Today, we, the matrics of 2005, are moving out.

Bryanston High. . . It's so hard to acknowledge that we won't be coming here everyday, we won't be putting on this uniform anymore, and have someone or something to complain about constantly. We've been here for so long it almost feels wrong to be leaving. It has become a comfort zone, a place where we feel safe and important.

We have grown so much here. High School has been a place of change, a place where we realize just how big the world is and just how very small we are. We learn that hard work does pay off, that true friends aren't easy to come by and that life is totally unpredictable.

Bryanston has taught me so much. I came here at 13 years of age, thinking that I knew it all. Now leaving, I realize that is impossible. There is never nothing more to learn.

The teachers of BHS have given us so much more than just Biology or English. Some of them have been psychologists this year. Thank you Mrs Fulcher and Mr Lawrence. The teachers care more than we understand. And I can assure you, they are not doing it for the money.

My high school career has been unforgettable – being able to lead this school has been such an honour.

I've made friends whom I love. I've made mistakes from which I've learned. I've worked hard and achieved goals, but most of all I've been a part of a vibe that is contagious. I've been surrounded by amazing characters and strong individuals who have inspired me and taught me that your best is always more than enough. So thank you Bryanston for all that you have given me.

To the Grade 8s: You're finally moving up a little. I've watched you grow from strength to strength this year, and I am so proud of you. So keep those new Grade 8s in line next year and never forget that you are all capable of doing anything.

Grade 9s: So you made it to the middle, Grade 10 is the best year of high school, make the most of it. Have fun but work hard. And remember that you all have the ability to excel - it's up to you to use it.

Grade 10s: Seniors now. Next year is a year of hard work for you, so relax in December. Focus and pay attention because it all pays off. Grade 11 is said to be the hardest year of high school, but that is entirely up to you.

Grades 11s: You are moving up. You've worked hard but now it's time to put it to use. All eyes are on you, so set a good example, be determined to succeed but enjoy it, because it doesn't last very long.

To all those who were elected to be councillors, well done and good luck. But to those who didn't, keep your heads held high, and remember that you are still leaders in this school regardless of your blazer.

FINALLY, Matrics, our time here has come to an end, but this end marks the beginning of the rest of our lives.

"That which lies behind us and that which lies before us, is nothing compared to what lies within us." We are capable of anything we set our minds to!

So take a deep breath, and for the last time, matrics of 2005, please stand...

Kirsten Rhoda

To write about a place you have come to love so dearly over 5 years of childhood, a second family, which has been large and loving, doesn't come easily.

It's the end of an era for our matric Bryanstonians... A farewell to a beautiful family.

When Bryanston High School advertises itself, it tells you it offers a great education, sports of all kinds and enjoys a good reputation. As much as this is true there is something they fail to mention and only a true Bryanstonian will speak of this... the people.

The people have created a friendly environment, a warmth, and it flows ever so freely through the school. Whether it be in the classrooms, on the sports field, as you walk along the corridor... where ever and when ever, there it is. It comes in many forms... a simple friendly greeting, an answer to a question, a shout to a team mate, a teacher – child confrontation, a laugh between friends... there is a common respect held by the majority of the people.

In every school you get your apples and your pears. Some will have their high points and some will have their low points but a school simply wouldn't be a school if it didn't have a mixture of fruit. Even though we are equal... we are all individuals!

Many will look back at the unique relationships they shared and they'll say... do you remember the teacher who...? Do you remember the child who...? Do remember...? Do you remember...?

Bryanston... you will remember because it has left a mark on all of us in our memories and even in our personalities. It is our spirit, the Bryanston High School spirit.

Forever cry Ubani Wa Tela!

RCL Executives

Oh! Bryanston, Bryanston, Bryanston High School – it is with mixed feelings that I stand before you, for the last time, this morning.

Apart from the sadness and joy it is the feeling of bewilderment that I feel the strongest. 5 years have seemingly flashed by in the wink of an eye. It will be some time still before its implications will be truly understood.

I warn you all, time flashes by faster than you think and before you realise it, you yourself will be walking out of these doors for the last time. I have a feeling that most of you cannot wait for that day, but don't waste these years in longing for the future.

The more meaningful you make every day, minute and hour, the greater the feeling of accomplishment and the more prepared you will be for what awaits you in the real world.

My time here is now over and the memories of it shall remain with me forever. It has been a great honour to be a part of this school and one day I hope you will all have a similar insight.

Yes, school is school, as they say but the more you realise how great a role it plays in your life and your development as a person, the more you will cherish your time here. So give to it as much as you can and it shall in turn give you back all you need.

Thank you Bryanston High School for all that you have made and given me.

So long, farewell and may the Force be with you all...

There so much to be said about Bryanston High School and the time that I have spent here. I am sad that the time has come for us to leave since the school has changed my life and has been my home. Thank you to everyone, teachers and pupils for helping me to flourish and to grow. Thank you to Mr Mollema and Mrs Deacon for your support in every decision that we had to make and for being our “parents”.

The following are messages that I would like to leave with the various grades:

Grade 8: You are helpful, caring people who must uphold the name of the school. It is the place where the best memories are made.

Grade 9: The more you dedicate yourself to school activities the more fruitful the rewards will be.

Grade 10: The juniors are looking up to you as leaders and you may not disappoint them.

Grade 11: You have matured and grown during the past year and are ready to take up the role as school leaders. Enjoy the coming year, it passes before you realise it.

Matrics of 2005: Thank you for your gifts to me of leadership and friendship as well as your unwavering support. Good luck for the future and I trust that the path you follow will bring you the happiness that you richly deserve.

Thank you to all my fellow Executive Councillors for your support.

Finally my wish is that you will all find your place. Always be yourselves and remember you were born to stand out.

Kishani Pillay
Executive Councillor

As I sit here and think, while I am writing this article, I cannot pinpoint one exact thought about all the good memories I have experienced over the past 5 years at Bryanston High School.

Let me begin with this memory: 2001, beginning of Grade 8, my first day of “Big School”, I was a little scared but knew deep down inside that this was the best place for me.

Over the years at Bryanston High School I have learned respect, dignity and humility as a person and an individual. I have also made many friends, not just from Bryanston High School, but from other schools. I owe credit to Bryanston High School’s ability to offer a wide variety of extra-murals and activities which gave me the opportunity to build friendships with my team-mates and the opposition.

My Matric year has been awesome. I will never forget the Matrics of 2005, because we pulled together as a family and have been united as one. This memory will remain with me forever.

In conclusion I would like to thank Mr Robinson, Staff, Matrics, Dean Crommelin, Kirsten Rhoda, Keshani Pillay, Stefan Hansen, Olivia Farinha and anyone else who played a part in the formation of the person I am today. Thank you all.

“Yesterday is gone, tomorrow may never come, but we have this opportunity now” - Anon.

WRO HAM
BOOT CAMP
SOUTH AFRICA

THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS AN EASY CHALLENGE!

The new Grade 8s started their high school careers with three days of orientation where they learnt everything they needed to know about being a Bryanstonian. Under the guidance of the Grade Controllers and councillors they did fun activities, learnt the school song and war cries, and the pledge for their induction ceremony. Unfortunately, due to rain, the Grade 8 gala had to be cancelled, but a great deal of talent was unearthed at the Inter-house Gala the following week.

The Induction Ceremony was one of the best in recent years. The passion with which the Grade 8s said the pledge and sang the song and National Anthem brought a tear to the eye of many parents (and teachers). This important occasion signified the official start of their careers at Bryanston High School, which, if the induction evening is anything to go by, are sure to be filled with greatness.

On Friday, 4 February the Grade 8s experienced their first high school social that was run by the GMS. It was a superbly run evening and all the learners seemed to have a fantastic time partying to the music supplied by the "resident" DJ, Mr Basson.

"Drop and give me 20!" That was heard again and again on Friday, 25 February when the Grade 8s went to Boot Camp for the day. The main focus of the day was team building involving them in activities such as obstacle courses, paintball, pellet gun shooting and tactical sessions where brains, not brawn, were top of the requirements list. All of the Grade 8s were filthy and exhausted, but could still manage a smile as they got back onto the buses at the end of the day, which surely signifies that they had an awesome time. Most of them said that they would like to go back next year!

The second activity organised by the GMS for the Grade 8s was the Plays Festival held on 19 April. The theme was "Fairy Tales and Nursery Rhymes" and each class had to put on a short play based on this theme. The plays were written and directed by the Councillors and involved nearly every member of the class which was a challenge in itself. Mrs Frost and Mrs Cook, along with the GMS, organised a fantastic evening that showcased some superb acting talent. Mrs Turvey ran a tight ship backstage and somehow kept the very excited actors and actresses under control. Thanks must go to all the teachers who helped the classes rehearse their plays.

We all made it through the first term quite successfully and look forward to watching the Grade 8s of 2005 grow and mature into the best Matric group that Bryanston High School has ever had! They certainly have showed that they have what it takes!

Mrs K. Hall and Mr J. de Lange
Grade Controllers

That time of year came again – Valentines Day hit us with a passion. After weeks of planning and decorating with hearts, hearts, and more hearts. The GMS-2005 was adamant to make the 14th of February a day to remember.

Orders were taken, tags were written and many people's day was made by the rose, chocolate or message in a bottle which they received from their one and only or their secret admirer. After the flurry of handing out such gifts the day ended on a superb note and all felt loved after the magnificent Valentines Assembly.

Thank you to everyone involved in making this day the success it was.

On Friday, the 11th of February we were off on our annual Midmar weekend in KwaZulu-Natal.

Our long bus trip was ever-so-often interrupted by the chorus of: "Are we there yet?", greeted by some irritated looks from the teachers. Luckily we had "9 hours" of Lord of the Rings to keep us occupied or make us sleep for that matter.

Arriving at our lodging in Illovo, on the South Coast, we were greeted by typical coastal hospitality - RAIN - which continued throughout the duration of our stay.

Saturday was spent lazily, in the form of a visit to the Gateway Mall in Umhlanga. Some "shopped till they dropped", others went wave-boarding for the very first time – go Ms Keth! – everybody meeting for a quick pizza, before disappearing again for the rest of the afternoon.

The Matrics used the evening to bond, and could be heard until the early hours of the morning.

Getting up at 4:30 in the morning was too much for some – especially for the girls - but was quickly forgotten as we all fell asleep on the bus.

The day of reckoning had finally come. We were to swim the Golden Mile! We all succeeded, some swimming their best times and others JUST finishing in time. Congratulations to everyone who finished, as well as to those teachers who made it – Mr Robinson, Ms Keth and Mr and Mrs Mollema.

A big thanks must once again go to everybody involved – making this year's Mile a memorable one. Thanks to all the teachers who accompanied us – Mr van der Merwe, Mr Tew, Ms Keth, Mrs and Mr Mollema. Your time and patience is much appreciated.

Now we look forward to Midmar 2006 !

Interhouse Gala – 18 January

After much begging and pleading to get teams together, the day arrived for the Inter-house Gala. Many learners who were not regular swimmers helped their houses and swam whatever race was required of them, in whatever age group. There was great spirit amongst the houses and that added to the success of the Gala, making it a very special one.

Thank you to all the cheerleaders, pupils, teachers, officials and especially the swimmers – you were the stars of the day!

Primary Schools Night Gala

After a busy day at school, all the swimmers prepared themselves for an interesting evening at the Annual Night Gala.

We swam for the Primary Schools we attended. Bryanston, Bryandale and Bryneven Primary School swimmers arrived all kitted out and ready to get wet. Past matriculants and teachers sneaked in, hiding costumes and towels before taking the plunge. After an evening of splashing, eating and laughing, Bryanston Primary School went home with the "glory" followed closely by Bryandale Primary.

Well done to all those who swam or paddled, and to those who co-ordinated the evening.

"That time of the year" came around again. It was the moment for the "talents" of our school to "strut their stuff" on the catwalk during the week of Miss Pizzazz, Miss Elegance and Mr Bryanston.

The week started off with a bang with Miss Pizzazz being a complete success. The following evening had a reputation to live up to and the high standard of the previous evening was achieved by the Miss Elegance group.

Now everything rested on Mr Bryanston, with most of the boys only entering on the day and all the seats in the hall being bought by a bunch of screaming girls. The evening ended with the crowning of Mr Bryanston. Many new talents were discovered including the outstanding organisation skills of the GMS.

The crowning of Miss Pizzazz and Miss Elegance took place on Thursday evening at the finals. This concluded the best and most productive week in the history of GMS, raising an amazing R30 000 over the 4 days.

These events would not have been possible without the hard work and undivided dedication of all the GMS members and sponsors involved.

Girls tennis at Bryanston High School has been extremely busy this year with four teams playing in the Southern Gauteng Girls Tennis League, two teams playing in the Junior League, a full year programme of social tennis together with coaching for beginners and a full tennis tournament. Teams started with early morning coaching in the first term and it was wonderful to have full squads out on most mornings. The First Team looked outstanding in their new tennis uniforms and were complimented at both Inter-High and Inter-Zonal for their superb turn out.

The Inter-High team was composed of Heather Angus, Sam White, Kirsten Bredhal and Desiree Spollander. They played against stiff competition at St. Stithians College on 5th March and did well to come fifth in their division of the tournament. The Inter-Zonal tournament was played by Kelsey Skinner, Kirsten Weir, Lisa Moskowitz and Lana Odendaal. These girls played at Brescia House on the 12th of March and also did well to come fourth in their division of the tournament.

Many players arrived to participate in the Junior Tennis League and we are looking forward to having these new players in our squad in the new year.

Tennis championships were a highlight of the season and Pro-Supex came on board to sponsor the winner with a racquet of her choice from their magnificent range. Mr Colin Dee was at the finals to present the championship winner, Samantha White, with her beautiful prize. Heather Angus the runner-up was presented with a beautiful Pro-Supex tennis carry-all bag. Gaynor Harris, who runs our coaching programme, kindly donated a trophy to be awarded to our winner. The most improved senior player of the season was Lisa Moskowitz and the junior award went to Chanelle Torrent.

Nicola Whitehouse, our coach, has run an excellent programme together with Mrs Anderson to bring tennis to all the beginners and social players at the school throughout the year. Many Wednesday afternoons there were as many as forty players on the courts. We hope that this will continue to grow in popularity and that many of these players will eventually end up in the team squads.

English

At the end of last year a group of “eager” Grade 11s and Grade 10s signed up for the 2005 English Olympiad. We had no idea what to expect – only that on completion it would look admirable on our testimonials! The group anticipated their weekly meetings to be long, tedious and exceptionally boring occurrences, where we would do nothing but fine-tune our punctuation skills and at the very most delve into the very “exciting” field of textual editing! What awaited, however, proved contrary to our preconceived perceptions ... At our first meeting we were each presented with a study guide and were informed of the theme, which was No Man’s Land. The guide was filled with war poetry and it became a ritual for three elected speakers to present a select few every week. What followed was a discussion forum in which the assemblage would argue and discuss their sentiments. The actual Olympiad was written only six weeks after our first afternoon meeting. The paper demanded opinion and creativity. The assembly filled their pages with their own sentiments and opposed theories from brown paper textbooks. Perhaps this is why the paper was so appreciated by the students – who under normal circumstances would never have even contemplated writing theories on the economics of war for three hours! Conclusively the English Olympiad was a phenomenal experience as it provided its candidates with a platform to express their own beliefs on a formal stage.

The students reasoned their way through the gruelling questions (guessing some) and did Bryanston High School proud.

Special certificates were awarded to Jarryd Bekker; Matthew Hudson; Seranne Motilal; Ashleigh Barnard; Amy Coleman; April Gibb and James Farnell.

Well done to all the budding scientists, hope to see many more participate next year.

General Knowledge

After initial hesitation 52 young people dared to enter the World Knowledge Olympiad. It was especially encouraging that 31 Grade 12 learners took time out of their busy schedules to participate.

Although the Olympiad appears easy, being a multiple choice type test, it is very challenging, covering various fields of knowledge e.g. science, history, politics, sports, film etc. The final 10 “discriminator” questions are not multiple choice.

Try your knowledge:

1. According to a Markinor survey, which soccer team is currently the most popular in South Africa?
a) Orlando Pirates
b) Moroka Swallows
c) Kaizer Chiefs
2. How many colours are in a rainbow?
a) 5 b) 7 c) 8
3. Which American State is biggest?
a) Texas b) Arizona c) Alaska
4. What is the scientific study of languages called?

With excitement at fever pitch, after a year of planning, 44 pupils and 7 staff members boarded the plane, found our seats and some pupils were immediately interested in playing the games on the TV. The buzz was: "What movies we can watch on the 11-hour flight." Some of the boys enjoyed the sight of the beautiful Malaysian air hostesses - Dean started thinking of some of his more successful pick-up lines!

After the long flight with only one drama occurring when Jarred O'Brian lost his passport - he had put someone else's jacket on and it was not in the pocket - we landed and were met by our tour guides and tremendous heat. Although exhausted, we immediately started on a sight-seeing tour (some tried to do the viewing through eyelids) but Mr Robinson made sure no one dozed off!

And so to the hotel and after a good night's sleep, we were given an early wake-up call at 6 o'clock. Some did not know that there was a Western breakfast area and a Malaysian one so they suffered. We then headed for the Pantac Hockey Stadium to play our first matches. The heat and humidity were unbearable and by the time it was half-time, we looked as if we had been swimming in our hockey kit - most attractive sweaty people! The guys game was cancelled and so they had a quick run-around. After hitting the showers to cool off we found that cooling off was out of the question!

On our way home we stopped to visit the Batu Caves. To reach these takes 272 steps lined with cool drink grabbing monkeys, as Dean experienced! A visit to the Pewter factory as well as a local batik cottage industry, rounded off our day. That evening we discovered the delights of the B.B. Bazaar.

Another early start to the day, saw us being collected from our hotel at 6:15 which meant we had a wake-up call that went: "Hallo, hallo, wake up call, wake up call" at 5:00. We headed for the airport to fly to Perth. With the Aussies being the way they are, the whole plane had to be disinfected by being sprayed with a disinfectant smelling like Doom! We were met by sniffer-dogs that were very keen on the scent coming from David's goalie bag! The girls were billeted that night by the Methodist Ladies College with the staff staying in the school hostel in the attic. The boys and male staff had the dubious pleasure of staying at Beatty Lodge.

On Friday morning we were fortunate to attend the Academy and to be coached by top Australian present and past players. We had a picnic lunch in Kings Park overlooking the Swan River. Then on to our first matches in Australia with the U16s having to brave the grass. We were delighted to achieve good results before returning to the hostel and Beatty Lodge.

One of the greatest spots we stayed in was at Mandurah in the Holiday Village. Here too we had fabulous hockey as we played combined teams and after the tough battle on the field, the time together with all the opposition at a social was very special. Unfortunately we had to leave there by 8 to play matches back in Perth - what a rush. The girls then attended a barbecue before meeting their new hosts. Dean could not believe that there was a golf putting range at the home of his host and he and Tiny had a snooker table in their room so they forgot to sleep.

We all rose excited at the prospect of spending a day at Rottnest Island. We took a ferry and arrived to white beaches and crystal clear water. We all headed for the local shop where we hired snorkels, flippers, etc. and found our way to the best spot for snorkelling. Some hired bicycles and rode around the island. Most, however, took the lazy option of doing a bus trip. After lunch the majority of us headed for the bay on the island where we spent the rest of the afternoon sun tanning and exploring the coral reefs.

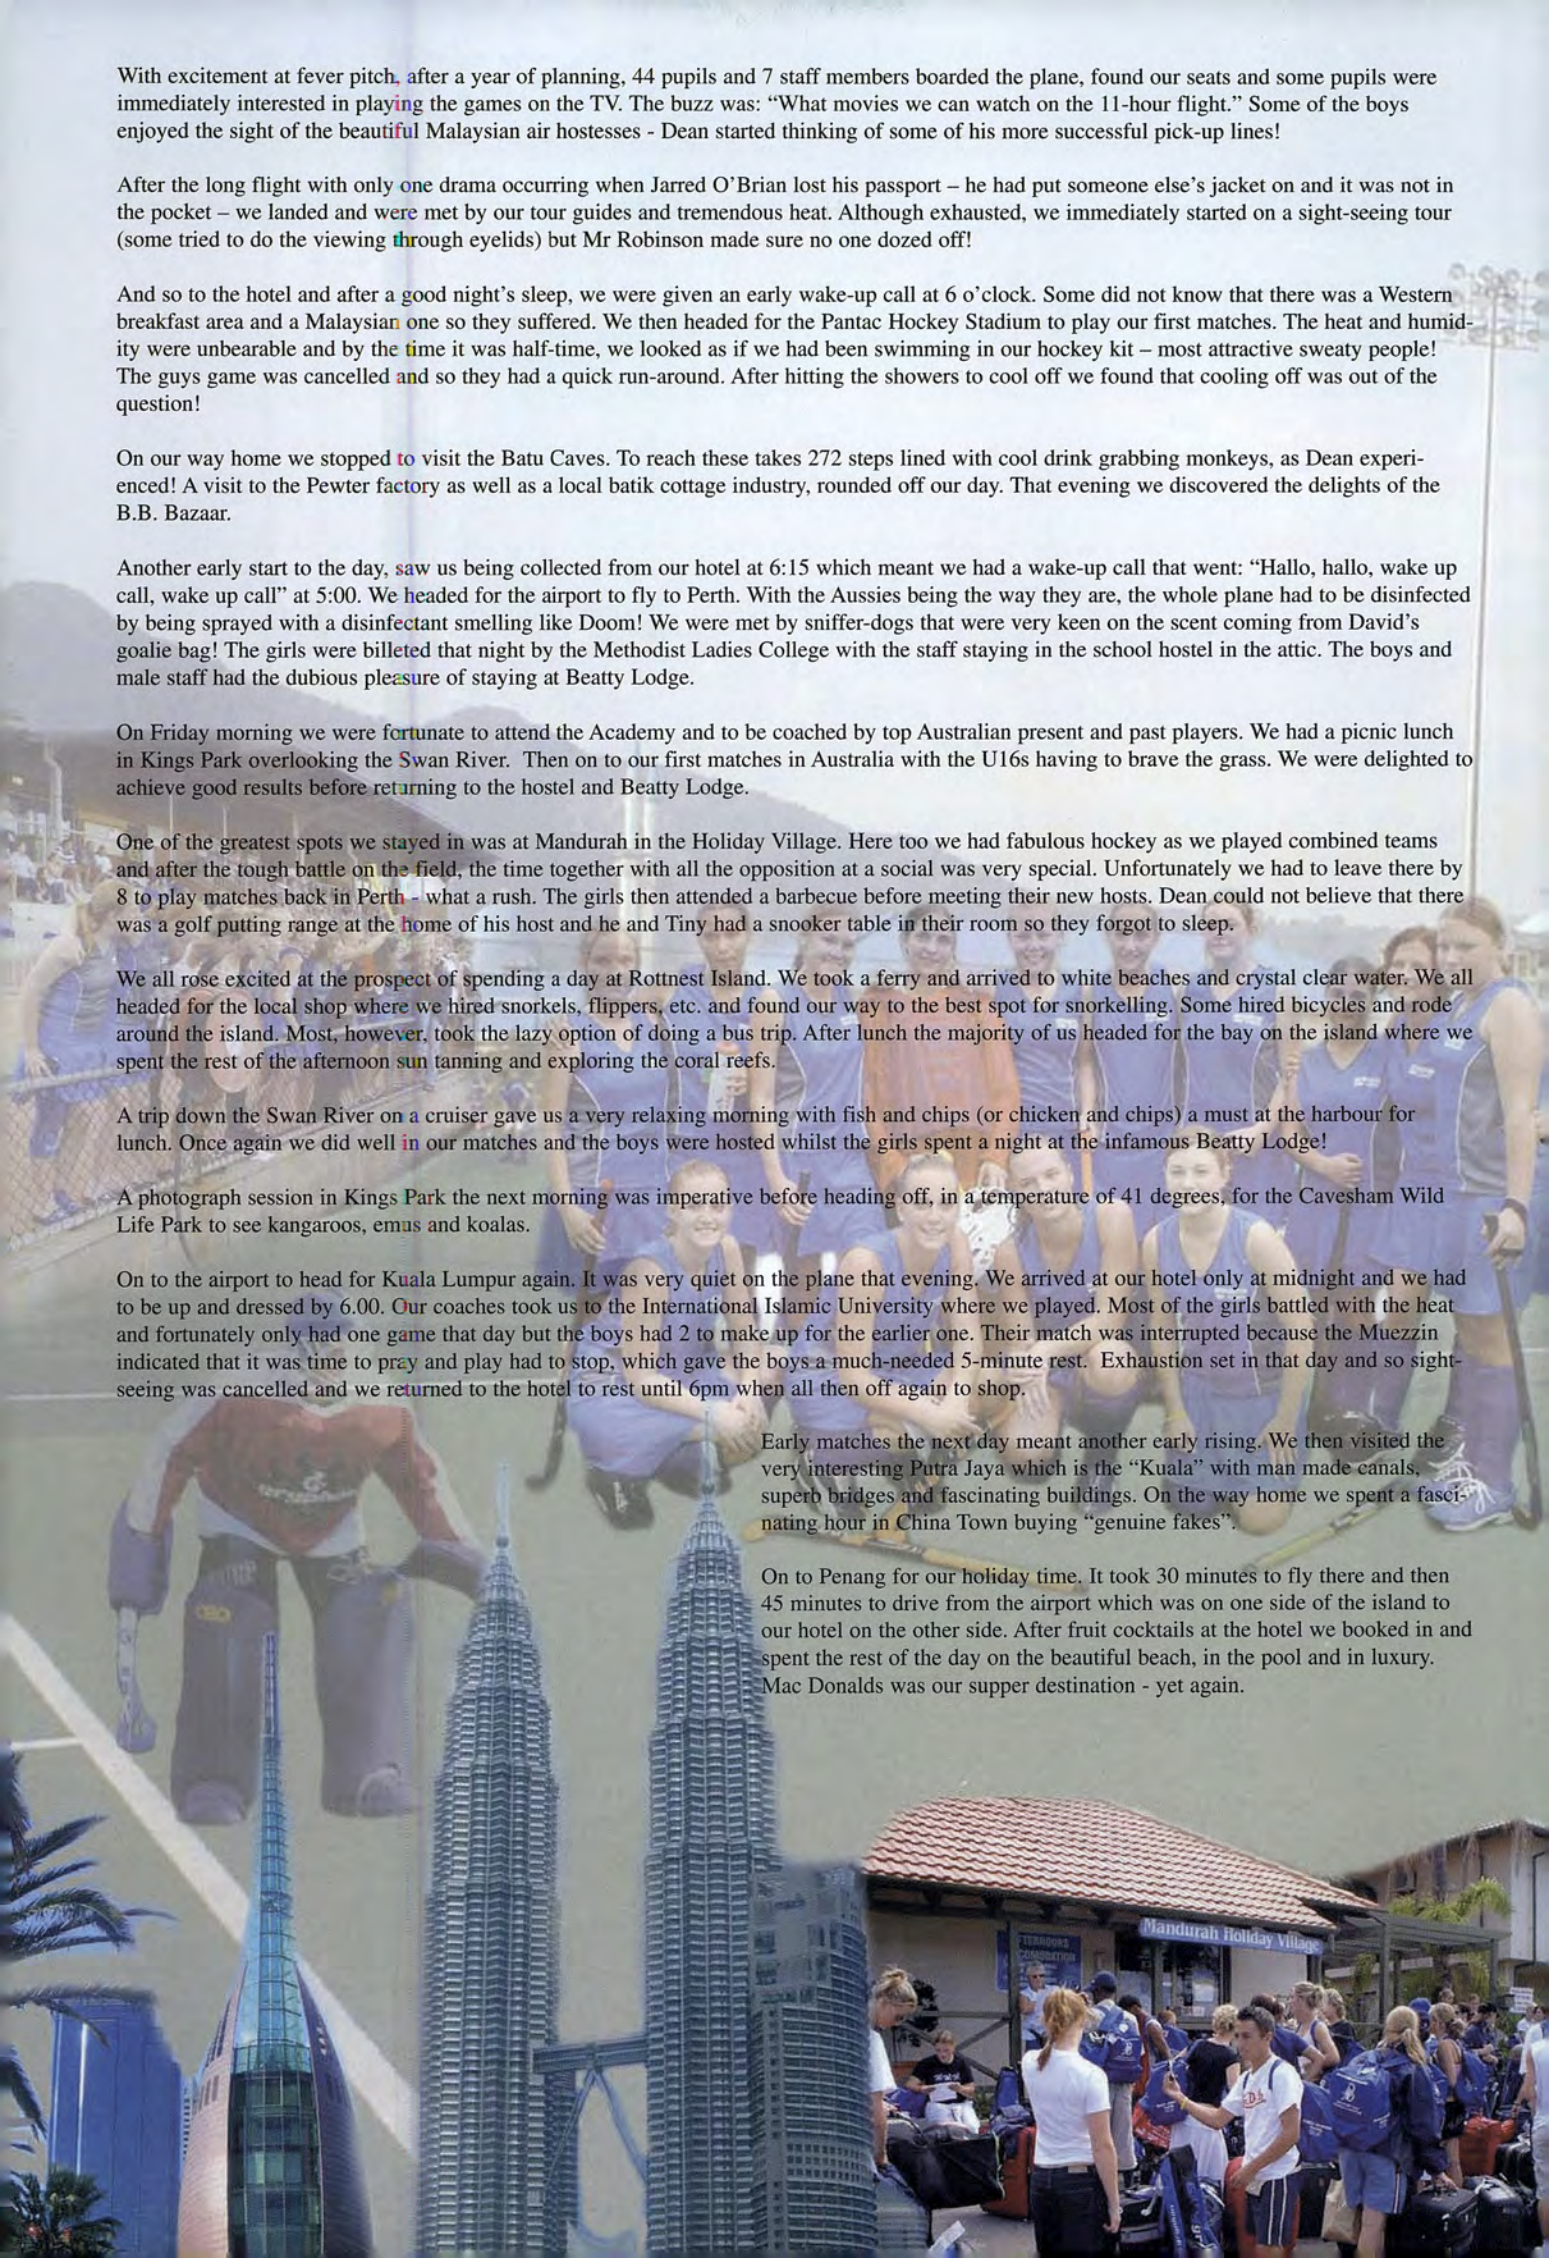

A trip down the Swan River on a cruiser gave us a very relaxing morning with fish and chips (or chicken and chips) a must at the harbour for lunch. Once again we did well in our matches and the boys were hosted whilst the girls spent a night at the infamous Beatty Lodge!

A photograph session in Kings Park the next morning was imperative before heading off, in a temperature of 41 degrees, for the Cavesham Wild Life Park to see kangaroos, emus and koalas.

On to the airport to head for Kuala Lumpur again. It was very quiet on the plane that evening. We arrived at our hotel only at midnight and we had to be up and dressed by 6.00. Our coaches took us to the International Islamic University where we played. Most of the girls battled with the heat and fortunately only had one game that day but the boys had 2 to make up for the earlier one. Their match was interrupted because the Muezzin indicated that it was time to pray and play had to stop, which gave the boys a much-needed 5-minute rest. Exhaustion set in that day and so sight-seeing was cancelled and we returned to the hotel to rest until 6pm when all then off again to shop.

Early matches the next day meant another early rising. We then visited the very interesting Putra Jaya which is the "Kuala" with man made canals, superb bridges and fascinating buildings. On the way home we spent a fascinating hour in China Town buying "genuine fakes".

On to Penang for our holiday time. It took 30 minutes to fly there and then 45 minutes to drive from the airport which was on one side of the island to our hotel on the other side. After fruit cocktails at the hotel we booked in and spent the rest of the day on the beautiful beach, in the pool and in luxury. Mac Donalds was our super destination - yet again.

Welcome to Perth

Hockey in Penang was fun and the opposition fascinated by Jabu, John and Preschen. We were served very interesting refreshments after the game and were certainly royally treated. A visit to the museum and a Buddha temple gave us an insight into their history. We also saw the bridge across to the mainland before spending time on the beach and next to the pool. That evening we boarded a hard seater school type bus to the flea market and did our last bit of shopping.

After experiencing an earth tremor that terrified some, we left Penang. We then flew to Kuala Lumpur and had a 4-hour wait before boarding our plane and heading back home.

After a long flight we were home with memories galore. It was a wonderful tour, only so because of all the players and staff and we will cherish this amazing experience forever.

Bryanston High School Girls Hockey has always been a sport we are proud of as the learners involved have shown dedication, commitment, love of the game and total sportsmanlike behaviour. This year has been no exception and although not always winning on the field, they have been winners in every other way. A fantastic overseas trip set the tone for the season.

They were real champions in more ways than one on this trip! In Australia where they were billeted, the parents were so impressed by the calibre and behaviour of our girls, they wanted them to stay longer – a marvellous compliment to any school. They showed the same on the hockey field and were fine ambassadors for the school and country.

A few excelled and we are proud of them. Coral Coole represented the school in an U18 Gauteng Team and attended the Inter-provincial Tournament in Johannesburg. The 16A Gauteng side had Lexi Field as one of its champions with Lihle Faas being chosen for a Regional U16 side. Nikita Friedman and Lisa Moskowitz made the final U18 trials and Kerry Robertson the final U16 trials.

Not only do our players achieve but so do our coaches. Our head coach is Mrs Marion Marescia who last year attended the Olympics as the Assistant Women's Coach. She is also the current U18 National Coach as well as the U18A Gauteng Coach. How lucky we are to have her! Over and above this, Marsha Marescia, who is the current Vice Captain of the Proteas (Springbok) side coached our U16s. How fortunate we at Bryanston High School have been to give the girls such a fabulous chance. The chairperson of Gauteng Hockey, Mrs. Pat Deacon, is also the National Treasurer, who is also part of the coaching staff.

A number of the girls also involve themselves in umpiring and we encourage this. Putting back into a sport that you have loved and enjoyed is vitally important and if you umpire, you understand the game better.

Well done to Carryn Davidson for being awarded the trophy for her umpiring potential.

Enjoyment is the crux of the matter and the more you put in, the more you get out. Good luck to all for 2006 and to the matrics leaving us – we say thanks to all you have contributed to the game and may your hockey future be rosy. The tour was a wonderful start to what proved to be one of the greatest hockey seasons in the history of Bryanston High School. The 1st Team played 20 games of which they won 12, drew 4 and lost 4. The team scored a massive 61 goals this season (a new record), more than twice the number scored last year, which placed us in the Top 10 in South Africa for goals scored in 2005. Matthew Hudson, our player of the year for 2005, scored 17 goals, a new record for any individual player, which placed him in the Top 20 goal scorers in South Africa.

In the Aitken Cup this year we maintained our A League status competing against very strong opposition. The team was very unlucky not to reach the quarter-finals of the tournament. We came 13th in the Guateng Tournament.

One of the highlights of the season was our win over Fourways High School, 3 – 2, with Matthew Hudson scoring the winning goal in the last 30 seconds of the game.

Sadly, we say goodbye to the matric learners who played in the First Team this year, with special mention of our captain, Dean Crommelin. Dean played for 5 years for the Bryanston High School First Team, a tremendous achievement. He has been a wonderful servant to Bryanston Hockey and we wish him all the best for the future.

It has been one the greatest seasons in Bryanston Boys Hockey history, and we look forward to a wonderful and successful 2006.

The netball season of 2005 will not be easily forgotten! The season started with many training sessions and a tour to Port Shepstone. The tour consisted of 34 girls who were determined to learn all the necessary skills to overpower their opponents during the friendly and league matches set for 2005. The teams were placed in the D9 District League this season and had to perform to secure a place in a league once more for the 2006 season.

The tour to Port Shepstone was held in the March/April school holidays. Arriving in damp, cold weather the girls' spirits were soon lifted when they saw their accommodation which had spectacular views of the beach and "Boere Seuns". Despite the definite language barrier between some of the girls and the Afrikaans rugby boys some girls managed to arrive home with not one, but two boyfriends. Mpho Sekgobela aka Seven unfortunately did not receive her Oscar award when she decided to take a tumble down a hill in front of the whole sports academy and Miss Waddell decided that the wet look would suit her better after she was drenched in water after some "ooms" dumped a bucket of water on her already blow-dried head from the balcony above the coaches' rooms.

Arriving home, the teams were determined to play their best and attend the training sessions with true passion, commitment and dedication. The teams therefore excelled beyond all expectations. Miss Swemmer, the coach of the U14s and U15s, Miss Winson coach of the U14s and U15Bs, Miss Waddell and Miss Frisch coaches of the U16As and U16Bs led their teams to outstanding victories. The U17As and U17Bs, the 2nd and 1st team were coached by Miss Vermaak. The 2nd Team boast 3 consecutive league wins and are yet to be beaten.

The team of the year, however, has to be the 1st Team captained by Mpho Sekgobela. They have an 87% win rate after winning 15 of the 18 matches played. They finished second in their league, qualifying to play in the D9 District Play-offs. Narrowly losing to King David by 2 goals in the semi-final, the team ended fourth in the District. The first team consisted of the following players who will be sorely missed when 5 of the 7 girls matriculate: Mpho Sekgobela (C); Wendy Dlamini; Jennifer Clelland; Sherri Abrahams; Julia Makanyane; Samantha Rattenbury and Alisha Ludick.

Well done on a superb season to all the coaches and teams who achieved goals that were set for this season and good luck for the new teams of 2006. May you uphold the name of Bryanston High School with the pride and honour it deserves.

Bryanston High School had, again, a very successful season that was characterised by mass participation. Bryanston fielded 12 teams and our success rate was 70% - of all games played we won 70%. The 1stXV, 16A and 15A had a very successful season. The 2nd Team was the most unlucky team but played sparkling rugby in the true Bryanston High School fashion. Our 1stXV again showed their dominance in Co-Ed rugby in Johannesburg with victories over Fourways High School and Randpark High School. The 1stXV was rated 6th in the country on tries scored, 69 in 18 games, a remarkable achievement.

Wednesday 9th March dawned sunny and bright to welcome to Bryanston scores of new, enthusiastic and lively prospective Grade 8 learners from our three feeder primary schools. Stage managed by Mrs Weir, teams of staff, councillors and learners started the day rolling to present an action-packed, real-life experience of what life at Bryanston High School is all about. The first bus load of Bryandalians arrived at 8:00 am to be greeted by the equestrian team together with their horses grazing on the lower embankment.

An informative address led by Miss Marais, Miss Swemmer and Mr Lalin (all past head-prefects and deputy-head-prefects now teaching at Bryanston) was followed by a presentation explaining what life at Bryanston High School is like being a junior in the school. Also an address was given by our Presidents Dean Crommelin and Kirsten Rhode and a full tour of the school facilities and grounds. The visitors were treated to an excerpt from one of our recent musicals, a display by our cheer-leading team, a scrum-down with the first rugby team, a chat with hockey, tennis and netball teams and a presentation by Mr Quinn on sport and cultural activities. They boarded their buses armed with refreshments and good memories of the visit. Bryanston Primary and Bryneven learners visited later in the day also to be treated to the "All Bryanston Experience".

The evening programme started at 5 00pm where a bumper crowd of visiting learners and parents from all surrounding schools were invited to tour the school facilities followed by an address by the Headmaster, Mr Robinson. They too were given a taste of the presentation offered to the schools during the day and entertained with the music from Grease Lightning.

Marketing our school has become a full-time job and it is in the interest of all stakeholders to uphold the good name we have created. With this in mind we can be proud of how our Open Day at Bryanston was run. Well done to all concerned!

RCL

The RCL is growing from strength to strength. The learners are beginning to vote sensibly, and not necessarily for the most popular learner. The RCL has been extremely pro-active and has achieved numerous projects. They have obviously been faced with some challenges which have not been easy to solve, but they have persevered. Also, the members of the RCL have realised the power which they have to improve things for the learners and also the important role they play in the running and discipline of the school. Well done to all RCL members for a successful year.

Chess

Once again the Bryanston High Chess team has acquitted itself excellently in both the 5-a-side tournament as well as in the Gauteng South High Schools' League.

As preparation for the league matches the pupils in the top five board positions participated in the 5-a-side tournament played over five weeks in the first term against the following teams: Crawford- Sandton, Beaulieu College, St Johns A and B, as well as St Peters A.

The league team won all their Gauteng South Zone 6 matches during the second term.

They played against Crawford-Sandton, Delta Park, King David-Victory Park, Randpark High and St Davids Marist.

The many afternoons spent in practice, coaching and discussion were well rewarded with the team's victories.

Job Shadowing

On the 12th and 13th of May, the Grade 11 students went to different venues to do job shadowing. This meant that they had to spend one or two days at a possible career choice venue. These venues varied from MNET studios in Randburg to veterinary rooms. The learners enjoyed their visits and some wanted to stay at their "jobs". The learners completed tasks that included a questionnaire and the creation of a CV for later use.

The aim of the exercise was to give the learner the experience of their "possible" career choice. We hope that the students did have an educational, as well as an entertaining experience. Thanks to all who participated.

First Aid

Horse-riding became an official school sport in 2003. The Equestrian Schools League began with the intention of broadening horse riding as a sport and to create riders for selection for the future Olympics. The Bryanston High School's Equestrian Team has held its own and done exceptionally well against many of the private schools even though, with only nine riders, we are considerably smaller.

There are four qualifying shows followed by Gauteng District Finals, where the Gauteng Provincial team is chosen. Bryanston High School is extremely proud to have four riders in the Johannesburg District side, namely: Erin Temblett, Ryan Porter, Andria Hammond and Kirsten Denyer. At the finals a further four riders did us proud. Maxine Oosthuizen was selected for the Gauteng A-side, Erin Temblett and Ryan Porter for the Gauteng B-side and Andria Hammond for the Gauteng C side.

There are always highlights during the season and we would like to thank all the supporters who were able to watch the candid camera moments. Only a few hours after returning from the Malasian hockey tour, Andria Hammond managed to jump her way out of jet lag. Margot Johnson's speedy, Gillroy, could have done with a dose of jet lag to slow him down. Ryan Porter is loved by as many judges as female riders, yet Erin Temblett's horse, Maclin Colour Print with his "100 coloured coat" never failed to turn the showing judge's heads. Sally-Anne Lee's horse became a rodeo act and had to be brought down onto all four legs before her event could begin. It was touch and go as to whether Fae Adams' "Faezie" would get Swazie to be sound in time for the shows.

Our three new riders were an absolute asset to the team. Maxine Oosthuizen rode as many classes as she won placings. Nadia Packham-Thiessen even rode with a broken arm and Kirsten Denyer on her new horse attracted much attention. As always Bryanston was beautifully turned out and thanks go to our sponsors for the horse blankets. Special thanks go to our Chef d'Equipe, Mrs Muller – without all her time, help and grand organisation none of this would have been possible.

There has been much interest in the team since two of our horses came to school for the Open Day. We look forward to many more talented riders joining our ranks and look forward to next year being a very promising season.

Erin Temblett - Team Colours, District Colours, Full Colours and Provincial Colours
Ryan Porter - Team Colours, District Colours, Full Colours and Provincial Colours
Andria Hammond- Team Colours, District Colours, Full Colours and Provincial Colours

These awards prove that all team riders rode to their full potential but we could not have done it without the best Chef d'Equipe of all schools, namely Mrs Muller, who stood by us all, and the support of our parents.

The Equestrian Team has gone from better to best this year!

Horse riding certainly teaches one dedication. Being chosen as the Vice-Captain of this team this year has been an honour. Some of the values that our team tries to emphasise are neatness and a positive attitude.

The Open Day at BHS came upon us, and Maxine and I took the challenge of bringing our horses for a little excursion to the school, and let our horses experience our school for a change. I must say that it was an excellent attraction.

There is a proverb that says: "The majority of your true friends are made on the sports fields", which is very true of the Equestrian Team.

Our team also sold fudge at breaks to raise money for improved equipment.

Little Shop of horrors

"Feed me, Seymour!" Three words which will echo from the Bryanston High School stage for many years to come. Both audience and cast agree that this year's production was rated as one of the best.

It all began on a hot afternoon in February when auditions were held. After a week of auditions the tough decisions were made and the cast of 2005 was chosen.

Over the next five months, approximately twelve hours a week were spent rehearsing. The result? A brilliant show, which had members of the audience enthralled from beginning to end.

However, hard work only gets you so far – if it were not for the exceptional talent of our young drama students, the show would never have been.

The matrics – Juvais Dunn, Tristan Jacobs, Christy Martin and Hannah Bunker gave a performance of a lifetime and it is with much regret that we bid them farewell.

The rest of the cast will hopefully be back next year.

We look forward to working with them again to put on yet another major production of the highest calibre.

Debating

Due to the lack of involvement and commitment by other schools in our two Leagues (Northern and North Western), our society was forced to hold internal debates this year. These debates brought out the best in our speakers and allowed our more hesitant participants to voice themselves in a more relaxed and comfortable environment. In summation, debating per se has taught our participants the value of diplomacy and arbitration; to argue from a point of strength or weakness; and to lose graciously.

Results:

Five Senior Debates in total thus far:
3 wins and 2 losses
Eight Junior Debates in total thus far:
5 wins and 3 losses

Councillors Camp

"A-TEEEEN-TION!"
"Now run, keep running!
What are you resting for ...
RUN!"

This may have been the sound you hear at the Bryanston High Leadership Camps ... but it is not what you listen to at a Bryanston High School Councillors Camp. A leisurely bus ride through and past the city, along the outskirts (past the "Dorp") into a silent, urbanised wilderness ... and we found our new home for the weekend. The leadership venue was a magnificent getaway farm owned by a lovely family and run by the most perfect example of a South African lady.

With Diane's resonating voice of song still in our heads from the trip, the Councillors of 2005 dragged their luggage to the farmhouse. Once seated and slobbered on by a small menagerie of canines, large and small, we were greeted by a very knowledgeable South African senior citizen.

After a quick briefing we were dislodging our bags in our small, yet comfortable, dorms of iniquity ... obviously separate ones for gender (which disheartened some of our leaders).

As stated before, Councillor Camp is so different from other camps. Free time is still very rare on such excursions, but a few minutes before or after daily meals provided some spare time for quick touch rugby games. Our first task that first day was to carve anything symbolising ourselves (and/or goals/views) into a bar of soap. This took most of the late afternoon. After a hearty farmstyle dinner the councillors gathered in that very dining area for our first "discussion". This happened every night (for a long time - close to midnight) and on one evening we were divided into groups to develop a transportation vehicle. After a quick sabotage from the teachers a race was conducted for the best vehicle.

Each night and day discussion was led by a different teacher, each one teaching us something different about ourselves, how to lead and how to be.

Our last afternoon saw the dawning of the Obstacle Course: one of the most physical parts of the camp, and loads of fun for all. After completing the course in our groups, doing character and team building exercises we were hosed down (there was so much mud) and called for a final discussion.

It was a memorable time and thanks go to all teachers involved.

Tristan Jacobs

House Plays

The Annual House Plays got somewhat of a facelift this year when we renamed it

"The Plays Festival". The difference between old and new was that our young actors and actresses were not confined to acting for their house. Instead they could choose which Junior or Senior play appealed to them and audition for it.

This year we had three plays in the junior category. They included "Al Adams and the Magic Lump" which was directed by Kholofelo Masenya and "Cyberella" which was directed by Jonathan Cooper, Tara Fourie and Courtney Watts.

"Wife Required" was awarded the best Junior Play with Lee Speechly walking away with the Best Junior Actor Award and Palesa Mathipa walking away with the Best Junior Actress Award.

It looks as though we have some fantastic talent in Grade 8 which we look forward to nurturing over the next few years.

There were also three plays in the Senior category, including "The Pie and the Tart" which was directed by Kenneth Blane, "Show White and the Dreadful Dwarfs" which was directed by Juvais Dunn, Charles Khuzwayo, Siraaj Hassan and Alicia Ludick, and "Cheque Please" which was directed by Lauren Reimers and Leigh Raymond.

The Best Play Award went to "Cheque Please". Laura Schlebusch was awarded the Best Senior Actress Award and Devon Flemmer was awarded the Best Senior Actor Award.

Congratulations to all those who won awards and a huge thank you to all those talented young people who participated. We hope to see you again next year.

The cheerleading team entered 2005 having to defend the third position that they attained last year. Even though there were a few problems amongst the squad they kept their heads and managed to tie for first place in the league. They then went on to win the provincial championships and came 2nd at Nationals. Their spirit and fearlessness made them a force to reckon with. Watch this space - these are champs in the making.

Bryanston High School came tie in first place with Allenglen High School in the Gauteng League. We also came first in the Gauteng Provincial Championships. In Cape Town, in July we competed in the National Championships and came second.

- Gauteng League - 1st Tie
- Gauteng Provincial Championships - Winner

The athletics season has been quite challenging with many of our competing schools having excellent teams. We were obviously extremely concerned about our chances of remaining in the A-League, as during the season we lost to Northcliff, Mondeor and we narrowly beat Fourways.

Inter-High at Ruimsig turned out to be a tense, very close and exciting day with the points difference between Bryanston, Fourways and Mondeor being only 4 – 5 at any time.

At the beginning of the relays, there was only a one point difference between the 3 above-mentioned schools. Bryanston High School's relay team had practised hard during the season and this obviously paid off when it really mattered and we managed to clinch a second place at the Inter-High.

Thank you to all the dedicated coaches and to all the athletes who participated enthusiastically throughout the season. Without the commitment of the coaches and the athletes, Bryanston High School would never have achieved a second place at Inter-High.

Inter-House Athletics

Our first Inter-House athletics meeting was held on the 22nd July – the first since 2001. It was encouraging to see how the athletes participated for their houses and ran enthusiastically to gain their positions in the athletics team. I believe this event gave Bryanston High School the foundation for a good athletic season.

We had an extremely successful cross country season this year. The basis of the success was the large number of learners participating in the cross country events. Bryanston High School has some outstanding talent amongst the runners and we were able to compete most convincingly against the other top running schools in the Northern Districts area.

Bryanston High School was placed in the top 4 schools in the Northern District area. Sincere thanks must go to the cross country coaches for their commitment and dedication to the sport.

After weeks of planning the morning finally came. Our first task was creating war cries. We overstepped our time limit and we learnt that being late was not rewarding. It was going to be a long camp. The next thing we knew the relaxing bus trip was over and we were standing in the hot sun in ranks. Browns were handed out with army style commands and marching. Every group was given a “deaf, dumb and blind paraplegic” log we had to name and take with us.

Lunch came and went quickly with the boys missing our mother’s home cooked meals. On the first night Bravo got lost and a rescue party was sent out. We went to sleep much later than expected but two minutes after “lights out” we were woken and had to find objects in the bush where Alpha took Mr Gillespie’s knowledge of the moon rising in the East and got lost.

Next morning we were woken by the famous “call maker” and had a long walk back to camp. Inspection became the new mission providing many hilarious memorable moments and experiences.

Our next task, with limited supplies, was to build bridges to withstand a six pack. We then moved onto paintball with limited ammunition and cover. Shoe polish camouflage was used to capture the flag involving rugby style tackling.

After dinner we were sent again to find objects. Alpha could not find their second object and only came back at 2am.

The Councillors had arrived and on Friday they gave the Grade 11s a PT lesson. After this we were given breakfast and time to prepare for inspection. Some group members were made to swim in the river singing “I’m singing in the rain” leaving the rest crying with laughter.

Grade 11 Boys Leadership Camp

The Jeremy Speechly impersonators could not be forgotten. We then played "star power" a game of class distinction and dictatorship but life's most valuable lessons.

We then faced the obstacle course – crawling through and over the obstacles was not an easy task. When we got back to camp a power failure awaited us with a leadership speech from the Councillors.

On Saturday morning we left the browns behind and after a short PT session we were given a leadership talk by Mr Robinson where we realised that everything Mr Robinson had said would affect every aspect of our matric year.

We boarded the buses as a united group ready for 2006 with the best memories of our school careers.

Thank you to all the teachers and Mr Robinson for taking us on camp – it was an unforgettable experience.

It was with high hopes for a memorable weekend that the Grade 11s arrived at school on the 24th of August 2005. After a hot and sweaty bus trip we arrived at Thaba Morula.

Our first real task, in our groups, was to create a sickly sweet dessert and when it came to presentation time we were well entertained by our very own female Jamie Oliver, Jackie. Then it was on to our hands, knees and stomachs, leopard crawling through mud, dirt and thorns to find that tiny little light in the middle of the bush – Stalk the Lantern.

The next morning team-building and an obstacle course awaited a group of hungry girls. We then ended up submerged in a dam on rather rickety rafts.

The next day was filled with talks from our teachers and trust exercises all based on leadership skills.

We left Thaba Morula with unforgettable memories, new-found friendships and a sense of unity amongst us all (not to mention a bag full of dirty laundry!).

A very special thanks must go to the teachers who accompanied us, especially to Ms Winson and Ms Frisch for organising such a brilliant tour.

We had an exciting tennis season with the junior teams playing very well.

The pupils found the newly refurbished tennis courts a pleasure to play on, and wish to thank everyone who made this possible.

Our first team brimmed with talent and promise, but unfortunately did not produce the results we expected. The highlight of the season was beating Randburg Hoër Skool.

The spirit of our tennis players never faltered and they always played the best they could

Thank you so much to all the parents for their support at matches.

A huge thank you must go to the coaches, Mrs Anderson and Mr Adam as well as Mr and Mrs Schumann for helping with transport and supporting our players at a number of away matches.

BOYS

The Boys Squash season at Bryanston High School has been one of the best ever. There were eight teams playing across the three structured age groups without one match having been cancelled due to lack of players. Our boys were represented at the Gauteng Junior Boys Squash League Annual Awards evening on the 3rd of August by vice-captain James Laughton together with Mrs Weir. We received placing in four of the Leagues. This is truly an outstanding achievement for the players of the 2005 season. Well done to all our League players.

Congratulations go to the U19 Third Side for winning their League, the U19 Second Team for coming third in their League, U16C Team for coming second and the U14 Second Team for coming second. Our first Open Side played in the very prestigious Super League against the top schools in Gauteng and finished in fourth place out of 10 schools. This is a mighty achievement and we are extremely proud of the First Squad.

Girls

The girls squash season is always tough, yet enjoyable. We play mostly private schools, (including St Mary's, Roedean and Brescia House), that always produce many provincial players. This year, just as in previous years, Bryanston High School managed to hold its own against these strong opponents. All of the 1st team girls played in provincial tournaments during the first half of the year, which helped to improve their games tremendously. There was great enthusiasm amongst the younger players and it was always fantastic to watch the girls playing with such determination and sportsmanship against their opponents. If this continues next year we will surely be able to ensure that we are worthy contenders for some league titles. Good luck for 2006.

Thanks need to go to the moms (and a few dads!) who helped with the lifting to and from matches and for their ongoing support. Also to Ms van Rooyen and Ms Gibbons for their help.

During August and September the Grade 8s were involved in the running of Tijuana Spur at the Bryanston Shopping Centre. This is in conjunction with the Technology Syllabus where the learners find out about processing – and more particularly the processing of food. It is a fun-filled introduction to the basic operations of a Spur and also enables the learners to raise funds for charity (Meals on Wheels Christmas Hampers) and to upgrade the Technology Centre.

In preparation for the evening the learners were given a behind-the-scenes tour of the restaurant and the basic requirements for running a restaurant were explained to them.

It was interesting to see how the seven classes, who were given the same briefing, went to so much effort to create different evenings.

“We at Tijuana Spur would like to say a big thank-you to all the Grade 8s who really put in the effort. We loved the T-shirts, hampers, kids drawings and the all round good vibe ... The waitrons were telling me that they loved having the Grade 8s here because it was something different for them... Please tell the Grade 8s that all of us at Tijuana Spur are very impressed”.

Disappointment

Are my efforts ever good enough
Trapped in fields of dreadful judgement
The world's harsh words are tough
In every way a disappointment

Shall I ever try to be my best
Am I able to be more than they say
Or am I doomed like the rest
Forever shadowed till that dark day

The eyes of the world all look and state
Waiting for the mistake of my life
Prevent all hope, as they dare
Waiting in the shadows for my day of strife

The way of disappointment is my living
Until the day my heart stops giving

Confusion

There are many questions, answers unknown
You cannot see what is straight before you
People wandering, comments being thrown
You still don't have answers once the day's through.

You're at a crossroad, not sure where to turn
There's no one who will reassure you
There are so many things you still need to learn
No one can give you a hint or a clue.

Now you are stuck, can't make it out
Things become dull, someone's turned off the lights
It's become too much you just want to shout
Now once again come all the sleepless nights.

There are so many answers you can't find
There's so much confusion inside your mind.

A Tribute to Fifi

It was about four o'clock on a Thursday afternoon when the storm started. I was home alone and got quite a fright when I heard the knock at the door. I cautiously went over to the door and opened it. A sudden bolt of lightning silhouetted the cloaked figure outside. I gasped and took a step away from the door. Mrs Meckelfetter was standing outside...

I was always wary of the old lady next door and throughout my childhood I'd taken great pains to avoid her. I had lived next door to her all my life. To look at, she was harmless. She wore stereotypical "granny" clothes, had a ponderously sleepy expression – like a koala bear. Her grey hair was swept back into a bun, she was bony and angular, yet very short.

All in all she seemed quite unremarkable – until late one Thursday afternoon I saw her digging in her backyard. She used a neon-orange spade, like the plastic ones children dig with. Dirt flew in all directions for just over a minute and then she retreated inside.

Every Thursday after that I would sit at my window and watch her dig. The hole became bigger until it resembled a crater. I told my parents and they told me to stop being silly. I couldn't help it, she fascinated me in a frightening sort of way.

The years went by and Mrs Meckelfetter continued to dig in the same spot in her backyard. She would mutter to herself and I finally concluded that she was either insane or a witch.

Imagine my surprise when, on that stormy Thursday afternoon, she turned up at my door. I stepped back and looked at her. She blinked up at me and gave a toothy grin which vaguely reminded me of an Arabian camel I had once seen at the zoo. We stared at each other for a moment and then she opened her mouth to speak. I gulped nervously and closed my eyes thinking I was about to be cursed. "Hello, dear, so sorry to pop in without warning." I opened my eyes, the voice was sweet and soft like a forgotten melody. "I was wondering if..." she reached under her cloak and I tensed again "you might be able to lend me a spade – mine has just snapped." She held up the plastic neon-orange spade I had watched her dig with.

"Oh, sure, just a moment – er... please come in"
I stammered.

I got back to the sitting room with my younger brother's spade, handed it to her and sat down opposite her. I cleared my throat and suddenly asked why she needed the spade. "Oh, for digging", she said airily.

"Mrs Meckelfetter, forgive me, but why do you dig?" – the question burst out of my mouth before I could stop it. A tear trickled down her cheek like the condensation on the outside of a coke bottle.

She sighed softly. "I know you watch me dig." I opened my mouth to apologise but she quickly rushed on. "It's alright, I don't blame you for being curious. Fifteen years ago I lost my dog, Fifi. She had been digging in the garden and when I looked again she was dead. Yes, it was late one Thursday afternoon." She smiled sadly and continued: "Ever since then I have continued to dig every Thursday, it used to help me feel closer to poor Fifi. It eased the pain to know that I could continue what Fifi started. Now it's just a habit." She wiped away her tears hurriedly.

I sat there in silence as she picked up her cloak and the spade. "I'll return the spade as soon as I've bought a new one dear."

I snapped out of my reverie and hastily said: "Oh, that's alright – you keep it." She thanked me and turned to go.

"Oh Mrs Meckelfetter, I'm sorry for your loss."
"Thank you dear, now I must go home." I walked her to the front door and waved goodbye.

I realised that the storm had subsided. I suddenly felt ashamed of my suspicions. I glanced at the clock, it was well after half past four. I ran up to my room and carefully glanced out of the window. A rainbow stretched across the sky. In the calm after the storm a single ray of sunlight burst through the clouds falling on Mrs Meckelfetter, digging her hole...

“Smooth Criminal” - Koue Moord

Die koue van die deur, verys my liggaam, my hart skeur in my borskas soos die haat in my kop opbou. Ek word forseer in ‘n klein kamertjie in. Dis swart met droë bloed. Die reuk van dood slaan by my neus uit. My kop gee al in en ek is nog nie dood nie.

Vir ‘n sekonde sukkel ek om te ontsnap, maar ‘n skerp vuur gryp my keel vas, die wapen glinster in die kerslig van die geeste.

Die voue in sy keel krimp op in ‘n glimlag, asof hy iets groots in sy lewe bereik het. Hy is niks minder as ‘n lae duiwel nie. Miskien is ek net jaloers op hom. Hy leef, ek gaan sterf.

Die vrees in my kop stop my hart, die vuur se lekkende vlamme strel die mes se dun lem. Vinniger as wat ek verwag het, draai hy om, kyk my reguit in die oë en stuur sy geweld deur my keel.

‘n Skerp pyn kriewel deur my nek. Dik rooi olie loop teen my keel af. Die bande om my arms val af, dus grond toe met my. Al wat nou oor is, is die geluid van sy asem, die bloedmerke, my bloed, oor die mat.

Dis “ok” Annie, jy was net jaloers op hom, jy het net in sy slaapkamer ingehardloop, hy het jou gevang, nou is daar bloed op die vloer, jou bloed. “I’ve been hit by; I’ve been struck by, a smooth criminal.”

Weke later is my liggaam eers gevind. As ek maar net gewet het; as ek hom maar net uitgelos het; as hy maar net nie ge drink het nie; as...

Tafelberg

Tafelberg is een van die bekendste en mees gefotografeerde tonele in die wêreld. Dit is gewoonlik die eerste plek wat besoekers aan Kaapstad wil besoek.

Hierdie pragtige foto is vanaf Bloubergstrand geneem, vroeg in die oggend. Daar is nie een wolkie in die lug nie. Die see lyk ook rustig en kalm. Die branders breek saggies op die strand. Ongelukkig is daar baie seebamboes op die strand, wat die strand en see baie vuil laat lyk. Dit gebeur nogal dikwels dat die strand so vol seebamboes lê. Die seewater hier is ongelukkig koud en dit is net dapper mense wat die yskoue branders aandurf.

Diepseeduikers en geharde vissermanne skrik nie vir die koue waters nie.

Op ‘n warm somerdag is die see gewoonlik vol rubbermotorbote, branderplankryers en veelkleurige seiljagte. Die toneel sal dan heelwat kleurvoller wees. Mense stap ook gereeld langs die lang strand met hul honde; soms sien mens selfs perde met hul ruiters wat in die vlak seewater gallop. Die strand lyk egter nou stil en verlate.

Op ‘n reënerige wintersdag is Tafelberg se pieke gewoonlik toe onder ‘n wolkekombers. Dit lyk dan spookagtig mooi. Dae wanneer die weer sleg is, mag toeriste nie met die kabelkarretjie na bo gaan nie.

Saans is die bekende ou berg verlig en is dit sprokiesmooi. Dit is vreeslik romanties as jy saans op die berg kan wees en daarvandaan oor die moederstad se liggies kan uitkyk veral met ‘n pragtige-ou aan jou sy.

Tafelberg se diep klowe en rotse is nie duidelik sigbaar nie, maar dit is ‘n gewilde bestemming vir dapper stappers en bergklimmers. Jy kan selfs tot bo waar die kabelspoor-kabelkarretjie is, klimmers duidelik teen die hoë bergwande sien. Die berg kan egter baie gevaarlik wees, mense het al daar na hul dood geval. Baie hawelose mense woon ook op die laer dele van die berg en word daarom “bergies” genoem. Tafelberg beteken vir hulle ‘n veilige hawe en is al huis wat hul ken.

Tafelberg beteken daarom baie dinge vir baie mense, maar oor die algemeen beteken dit vir ons ‘n trotse baken, sonder Tafelberg sou Kaapstad en Suid-Afrika baie armer gewees het.

Op 'n Wintersdag

Op 'n wintersdag skyn die son op die sneeu soos 'n warm vuur. Dit skitter in die lig soos duisende diamante.

Die dennebome staan dig teen mekaar, hulle praat saggies met mekaar as die yskoue wind deur die blare waai. Die ysvlokkies lê dig soos 'n baadjie op die blare. Hier en daar skarrel 'n akkedis op en af vinnig tussen die digte takke. Die bome ruik soet soos varsuitgedrukte sitrus.

Die wind is so koud dat as jy asemhaal, voel dit of dit jou asem met 'n tien-pond-hamer wegslaan. Die ysige wind beweeg stadig by jou keel af. Naderhand word jy benoud, want dit voel afskuwelik, asof jy nie kan asemhaal nie.

Jy stap stokstyf teen die kant van die berg af, elke tree is moeite. Jou voete sink diep in die sagte sneeu in en jou lyf is moeg en jy kan nie jou voete voel nie. Dit voel asof jy nie tone het nie.

As jy opkyk, sien jy niks nie, nie 'n enkele wolk nie. Die lug is skoon en hemelblou, hier en daar sien jy 'n voëltjie uit sy nes kruip en deur die koue lug vlieg.

Die son is soos 'n groot rooi bal en dit skitter in die daglig. Die skadus van die bome lê soos lyke in 'n graf. Een vir een beweeg hulle oor die sneeu soos die son oor die sneeu skuif. Hulle loop soos soldate van die oggend tot die aand.

Dit is doodstil hier en daar val 'n tak, kletter tot op die grond. 'n Mens hoor absoluut niks. Nie eers 'n voëltjie of dier nie. Daar bo hoor 'n mens die sagte gebrom van 'n sneeustorting. Jou hart klop vinniger want jy weet nie waarheen die sneeustorting op pad is nie.

Jy besef maar weerens dat die natuur nog 'n groot avontuur is.

Storm

Die storm is 'n onstuimige ou man : hy is altyd in 'n slegte bui, niemand weet hoekom nie. Elke kans wat hy kry, sodra die son agter sy wolke wegkruip, wys hy ons net wat hy kan doen, met sy aaklige donderstorms en reen. Partykeer kom hy in 'n droogtegebied, slegs om vernynig en wrokkig te wees. Hy sal 'n dag kies wanneer daar krieket is en net 'n sidderstraal uitstuur om ons te wys wie in beheer is. Maar, as hy wil, sal hy nie te kere gaan met sy malstreke nie en sal hy ons sy sagte kant wys wanneer hy re_n gee net waar dit nodig is. Partykeer gaan hy oorboord wanneer hy die re_n laat kom en kom tot die aarde haar dors geles het en net nie stop nie. Dan begin sy streke en die hele plek is oorvloei, net omdat hy so gevoel het!

Dit is hoekom ek 'n storm as 'n onstuimige ou man beskou.

We are waiting to hear from you.

For the second year running it was decided to take a group of cyclists to Cape Town to ride the largest timed one-day cycling event in the world – The Cape Argus Pick ‘n Pay Cycle Tour. It is a massive event that covers 109km, starting in the centre of town and winding its way along the Blue Route, around Cape Point, up Chapman’s Peak, through Camps Bay and finally on to Greenpoint Stadium where the race finishes. The 35 000 or so cyclists enjoy some of the most picturesque views in the world while putting their cycling skills to the test.

This year’s race was made particularly difficult by the presence of a 50km/h South Easter that managed to blow a couple of people off their bikes and ensured that the cyclists even had to pedal downhill! It meant that it was very hard to rest and recover the legs after the big climbs, and saw everyone’s times being about 20 minutes slower than expected. This certainly did not dampen the spirits of the massive crowd that lined the route and cheered every cyclist on to the finish.

Once again we were lucky enough to be staying at Camps Bay High School, which has possibly the best view in all of Cape Town. Judging by Mr Robinson’s comments after returning from the beach on Saturday afternoon, I am not only talking about the natural scenery of the Bay! He told us that he was going down to the beach to relax and read his book. That is definitely questionable!

Unfortunately, due to the complicated entry system, we had a very small group of cyclists from Bryanston competing in this year’s race, but we hope to create a lot of interest in cycling next year with a possible 5 day tour to Durban in April. If you fancy yourself as the next Lance Armstrong, why not dust off your bike, get training and become part of this exhilarating sport?

Golf Day

The 2005 Bryanston High School Golf Day was held at Parkview Golf Club on the 8th of September. A full field of 132 golfers, made up of sponsors, parents, teachers and pupils all teed off looking forward to a great round.

As a result of the efforts of the GMS, fantastic prizes and sponsorships were collected. It proved to be the most successful golf day Bryanston High School has had to date and fun was had by all.

Thanks to the GMS Golf Day Committee and all the teachers involved as this would not have been possible without their enthusiasm.

Masked Ball

Balle Masque

Taking on the responsibility of organising a ball on the 16th of April, Group 1 had no idea what lay ahead of us.

Term 2 began and the pressure was building – we could only think of one thing... The Ball.

Finally the day came and after sweat, blood and tears Group 1 pulled off something so amazing that will be remembered by us forever. We hope that everyone there enjoyed and loved the evening as much as we did.

Thank you to Group 1 for being such an amazing group of people.

Little Miss

This year the GMS introduced this new function. It was a bit unnerving at first as we were setting the standard for future GMS groups and working with the very young ladies from our neighbouring primary schools. It took a lot of organising and convincing but it turned out to be so much fun for us and the contestants.

Our event happened over two days and we worked with schools such as Bryanston Primary School, Bryneven Primary School, Rivonia Primary School, Bryndale Primary School, Montrose Primary School and IR Griffiths Primary School.

We had amazing prizes and the girls all looked gorgeous. We would like to thank everyone who gave up their weekend to support our group. We hope next year's GMS will carry on this function. We had so much fun with the girls and it was great welcoming possible future pupils to the school.

We would like to thank Mrs Fulcher for putting up with us and helping us through our function.

text, textText, text, text, textText, text, text, textText, text, text, textText, text, text, textText, text, text, textText, text, It was a night never to be forgotten. The dazzling girls and dashing gentlemen all breezed into the Indaba Hotel with great style and elegance. The room was superbly decorated by a dedicated Matric Dance Committee who gave up many hours to ensure that the 2005 Matric group were sent off in grand style.

The night was festive and delightful; the group was an example of good manners and great fun; the food was delicious and the music encouraged celebration.

The highlight was perhaps seeing a fire engine, vintage cars and limousines enter the forecourt – then the grand entrance of couples displaying great excitement and teachers trying to recognise these foreign apparitions who all looked so grown up.

Thanks must go to Mrs Stafford and the Matric Dance Committee who both gave up valuable hours to ensure the most perfect setting. A sincere and big thank you to Mrs Deacon for taking charge of everything and making sure the night ran smoothly.

Lastly a thank you to the 2005 Matric group for making this a special night full of celebration and good feelings.

Teachers-in-Charge

When I walked into this school for the first time in 2001, I was completely unaware of the impact it would have on my life today. I arrived as a naïve thirteen year old, who thought I knew everything and I now leave, a young adult who realises that that is impossible.

I have grown so much here. High school is a place of change; it embraces those awkward teen-age years where we realise just how big the world is and just how small we are. I have learnt that hard work does pay off, that true friends are not easy to come by and that life is totally unpredictable, so we must never be afraid to try, because you never know!

There is a passion and spirit within this school that will be with me forever, and I thank the pupils of the school for that. My memories of Bryanston High School will never ever fade. Being able to represent this school as President this year has been an honour and the highlight of my life, so far. It has been tough to serve 1057 people and that excludes the teachers but an incredible challenge that I have enjoyed.

My hockey team of 2005 played the best season of Hockey I have ever experienced in all my five years here and playing for that team has been a privilege.

Thank you Bryanston High School for all you have given me. Your worth to me is priceless.

No one realises how much change happens in these five years. High school is a metamorphosis because it is the time when you blossom, a time when a caterpillar turns into a beautiful butterfly. The butterfly does not necessarily know where it is flying to, but the point is, it can fly!

Bryanston High School gave me my wings and taught me how to fly.

Matric Farewell

Someone once asked God what surprises him most about humankind. God answered:
They get bored with childhood, rush to grow up and then long to be children again.
They lose their health to make money and then lose their money to restore their health.
They live as if they will never die and as if they have never lived.

He then asked God

what life lessons he would want His children to learn. He answered:

They must learn that they cannot make anyone love them. All they can do is let themselves be loved.

They must learn that it only takes seconds to open profound wounds in those they love, and it can take many years to heal them.

They must learn that a rich person is not one who has the most, but the one needs the least.

And, they must learn that it is not enough that they forgive one another, but they must

Also forgive themselves.

Good evening Mr Robinson, Mr Paige, Mr Azzie, staff, parents and my peers who have been with me for the past 5 years.

A valedictory service is something that one never forgets. We have been part of Bryanston for the past 5 years. We have learned many different formulae, definitions and facts, but more importantly, we have learned many of life's lessons.

Personally, I have had a year in which I have learned so many different things from so many different people. I have learned from Mr Azzie that if you have money to buy a car, a Mercedes is the only option and BMW is definitely out of the question. I've learned some jokes from Mr Quinn that I shall never forget. Life for me at Bryanston has been absolutely amazing and I could not have asked for anything more.

Last year on Leadership camp we spoke about so many different issues that we could address as matrics. I feel that the majority of us kept our word and behaved and co-operated in a manner that we can all be proud of.

For the previous 2 years no one has said anything to the newly appointed councillors who are sitting up in the gallery. I would like to say well done to you all. It will be tough, but with perseverance, I am confident that you will do a good job. To the presidents, Jillian Williamson and Grant Wilesmith: Dale Carnegie once said that there is only one way to get anybody to do anything and that is by making the other person want to do it. Good luck for next year, I wish you all the best.

We had a long, tough year, but it is not over yet. As matrics, and I know this is rich coming from me, we need to push for the next month and a half to achieve the best results that we can possibly achieve. I know I'm going to regret saying that because my parents will quote me for the next month – but that is fine.

To Mom and Dad, I suppose I could say what a man named Dick Corlett once said. "If you never had children, chances are I won't have children either", but that is not quite right to me. You always said that I would thank you one day. Well today is that day.

I have been lucky enough to have things that many other children dream of. Sports equipment, support, or whatever it may be, you have done it all for me and there is no possible way that I can ever thank you enough. The opportunities that I have been given are endless and this is thanks to you. So, thank you both very much.

To my brother Sean, if it was not for you, I would probably have no co-ordination, I would be a rebel and I would not be standing here now saying this speech. You have been my role model for 18 years and you will continue to be my best man because that is what you truly are to me – my best man.

Mr Robinson has been with us since grade 8. Thank you for all your guidance and support for the last 4 years. You have such good intentions for this school and if you ever leave, the school will never be quite the same.

To Mrs Webb, "my school Mom" thanks you for all your guidance. I still don't know how you manage to stay so calm all the time, but it is something that I really admire.

Matrics, you have all been fantastic. I have so many memories that I shall always cherish. I would like to leave you with these words. "Too often we underestimate the power of a touch, a smile, a kind word, a listening ear, an honest compliment, or the smallest act of caring, all of which have the potential to turn a life around."

As You Travel Through Life....

As you travel through life there are always those times
When decisions just have to be made,
When the choices are hard, and solutions seem scarce,
And the rain seems to soak your parade.

There are some situations where all you can do
Is simply let go and move on,

Gather your courage and choose a direction

That carries you toward a new dawn.

So pack up your troubles and take a step forward -

The process of change can be tough,

But think about all the excitement ahead

There might be adventures you never imagined

Just waiting around the next bend,

And wishes and dreams just about to come true

In ways you can't yet comprehend!

So keep putting one foot in front of the other,

And taking your life day by day...

There's a brighter tomorrow that's just down the road -

Don't look back! You're not going that way!

Good evening Ladies and Gentlemen, staff and my fellow matrics.

When I woke up this morning, I realized today was the last day that I would be putting on this uniform - clothing that I have worn with pride for five years now. Five years that have just flown by. My experience at Bryanston High School has been unforgettable. I have made friends whom I love, I have made mistakes that I have learnt from, I've worked hard and achieved goals, I've been a part of a vibe that is contagious, But most of all I've been surrounded by such amazing individuals, who have inspired me and taught me that life is a series of lessons, that there is never nothing more to learn. I have grown so much here and it has been an honour.

On behalf of the matrics of 2005, I'd like to thank the staff behind me, a group of teachers who are so dedicated and unbelievably patient. You have prepared us and put up with us, but most of all you have helped us more than any of us realize. To Mrs Deacon and Mr Mollema, our grade controllers. Thank you for even attempting to control us. You have both stood by us through our ups and downs, suffered many headaches and stress over the years. Hopefully the good gives the bad a run for its money. Thank you for always being there for us. I'd like to thank my "partner in crime" this year, Dean. It has been an incredible experience leading this school and there is no one else I would have rather shared it with.

My parents have always taught me never to settle for anything less than what I deserve, never to give up, and always believe in myself. I'd like to thank them tonight, for guiding me and loving me the way they do. They are my strength and I am truly blessed to have them.

Matrics of 2005, my peers, my friends, we have come a long way together. We've shared memories that are going to last forever. Tonight marks the end of high school, but only the beginning of the rest of our lives.

There's one thing about our grade that has always amazed me, - our individuality and diversity. There is a spirit within this group that is undeniable. It has been a privilege to have been a part of it. Thank you all for filling my high school career with laughter, meaning and great memories. It is so hard to acknowledge that we no longer have this safety net, a place to linger while we put the future on hold. Now we have to look to the future and decide exactly what that entails. John M Richardson once said, "When it comes to future, there are three kinds of people: those who let it happen, those who make it happen and those who end up wondering, what happened?" Just remember that your future is entirely up to you.

High School . . . We came, we saw, we conquered!

SPORTSMAN OF THE YEAR

This young man has swum for the school over the years. He was captain of the First Cricket Team and received full colours. Full Colours were also received for Squash, Tennis and Hockey, where he also captained the team. He is an outstanding sportsman and leader and his next aim is to be a top golfer. Well done to Dean Crommelin.

SPORTSWOMAN OF THE YEAR

This young lady captained both the Hockey and Swimming teams. She also involved herself in Tennis. She has full colours for both Swimming and Hockey and represented the Province. Indoor Hockey was also one of the activities in which she excelled. Well done to Coral Coole.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATION

The National Colours award is a new one and is there to recognise excellence in any sport where National Colours are received. We are proud to present this award to two outstanding young sportswomen. Dale Peckover is a National Tumbler and Lauren Henry a National Ice Skater and they are worthy recipients of these medallions. Well done.

CULTURAL AWARD - BOY

The cultural award for the most talented matric boy is a joint award this year simply because a decision could not be made between these two deserving candidates.

These two gentlemen have been the backbone of drama for the past two years. Their energy, dedication and sheer talent is awe-inspiring. They have spent more hours on the stage than one would believe possible, especially considering the fact that they are in Matric and have had to also devote themselves to their studies.

Drama at Bryanston High is suffering a huge loss as we bid these two remarkable gentlemen farewell. Congratulations to Tristan Jacobs and Juvasi Dunn.

CULTURAL AWARD: GIRL

The acting ability of the young lady who is the recipient of the cultural award this evening is of the highest calibre. She has been on the sidelines of drama for a couple of years but this year she has shone. Her devotion to ensuring that her character was as life-like as possible in this year's Major Production, her ability to perfect a couple of very difficult solo songs, as well as her cheerful personality, made working with her an absolute pleasure. She will be sorely missed next year but is wished all the best for her future. Ladies and Gentlemen, please put your hands together for Hannah Bunger.

ROUND TABLE - SERVICE: GIRLS

This award goes to a young lady who has served Bryanston selflessly for the past five years. Her honesty and integrity has been recognised by both her peer group and her teachers. She has spent many hours after school on the sports field helping the injured. She gets on with her duties in a quiet yet diligent manner. Her commitment to the school is an example to her peer group. Well done to Motsi Ramoshaba.

LIONS INTERNATIONAL SERVICE: BOYS

This young gentleman has spent countless hours contributing to every committee possible at Bryanston High School. His commitment and dedication could never be doubted, for he was always willing to lend a hand, even before he was asked to. His hard work on the Matric Dance Committee made it a night to remember. It is with gratitude that we present this award for outstanding service to Bryanston High School to David Blaauw.

Wilke Prinsloo Trophy for Perseverance, Courage and Determination:

This young gentleman has shown that it doesn't matter how tough life gets and how down-and-out you may be, but you must stand up and get your life back on track. Being away from school, his studies and his friends for long periods during his high school career, could have had a negative impact on him, but judging from the way he has come through these torrid times, his excellent improvement academically, and to still have a smile on his face every day, shows that this young man is someone special. Please congratulate Jason Page.

SILVER MEDALLION - SERVICE: GIRLS:

The first service medallion goes to a young lady whose conduct and example have been outstanding. She was reliable, confident and always respectful towards fellow pupils. She was an inspiration to the junior students and performed her duties with enthusiasm and total commitment. Her contribution to student council meetings was considerable. Congratulations and thank you to Olivia Farinha.

The second medallion is presented to a young lady who has shown total commitment to the school. In her quiet unassuming manner she was responsible for the organisation of the weekly Councillor Duty Rosters. She herself performed her duties with dignity and dedication thus earning the respect of her peers. For loyalty and leadership we present this medallion to Keshani Pillay.

SILVER MEDALLION - SERVICE: BOYS:

The portfolio of Student Affairs was managed by a very able young gentleman who volunteered to be trained as a peer counsellor in order to fulfill his role adequately. He was approachable and always available to listen to students' problems, thus displaying one of the very necessary characteristics of a good leader. His passionate contribution to student council meetings was invaluable. Thank you for your dedication, commitment and loyalty Stefan Hansen.

The fourth medallion goes to a young man who was a superb role model and an excellent leader. His commitment to all his chosen school activities was outstanding, his loyalty and moral values are of the highest order and his integrity beyond reproach. He always went the extra mile when necessary in support of the school and never turned down a challenge. Thank you for your dedication and service Jerome Speechly.

WELSH CUP AND MEDALLION - DUX LEADERSHIP AWARD:

The highest awards for leadership are given to two young students who have excelled in the position of Student Council Presidents. Both are keen sportspeople who made a huge contribution on the sportsfield. They worked excellently together as a team in the organisation of the RCL and in the running of the Councillors and their duties, on many occasions to the detriment of their own academic progress. They worked on the improvement of pupil appearance as well as general discipline and student behaviour. For her sensitivity, understanding and empathy we present the Welsh Cup and a medallion to an outstanding leader and role model, Kirsten Rhoda.

The young gentleman who receives the Welsh Cup and a medallion is a remarkable young man. He was fearless in the performance of his duties and excelled as the School's President. For outstanding leadership, dedication and loyalty, we present the Welsh Cup and Medallion to Dean Crommelin.

HONOURS AWARDS

WHITE BLAZERS

This outstanding young lady has been a leader in the school for many years. She does so quietly and by example. This was recognised when she was chosen as a councillor. She has been the leading light in Athletics and not only captained the side in an exemplary fashion, but also received full colours. As an outstanding swimmer she was given full colours. Although being so involved extramurally, she still had time for the academic side of life and, once again, reached the criteria for full colours. A much deserving person of a white blazer. Well done Margot Johnson.

This remarkable young lady has been totally involved in school life. Her commitments have been such that in her younger days, when she dedicated her time to the demanding sport of gymnastics, she had no time for herself. Swopping Gymnastics for Tumbling gave her more flexibility and she has thus been able to involve herself totally in school sport as well. She has taken part in cheerleading, athletics and swimming and has excelled in all, thus receiving full colours for them. The tumbling achievements are outstanding as she represented South Africa overseas and came 8th in a field of 160 competitors from a total of 38 countries. Dale Peckover is a worthy recipient of a white blazer.
